

Mayor: Ending KyMEA contract will take time, money

By Ronica Shannon for the Citizen

Councilman Jerry Little got straight to the point Tuesday at the beginning of the Berea City Council meeting, by asking Berea Mayor Steve Connelly what the next steps should be since the council decided to sever ties with its transmission provider KyMEA (Kentucky Municipal Energy Agency) in a recent surprise vote.

"We will proceed with administration due diligence," Connelly said.

"Well, what does that mean?" asked councilman Ronnie Terrill.

"As I see it, the majority of the council voted to have no confidence in KyMEA, and recommended that the city terminate its transmission contract and drop out of the interlocal agreement (with the other municipalities that currently participate in KyMEA)," he said. "It has been translated that the interlocal agreement and the transmission contract exposes the city to unacceptable risks, costs and a danger of unreliable service." Connelly said.

He continued, "Before I can acknowledge the council's request to terminate the transmission contract and withdrawal, I will first conduct a due-diligence investigation and collect some information. First receive comments from AMP (which is to be Berea's source of power beginning in 2019 when its contract with KU expires) about its willingness to replace KyMEA as Berea's transmission agent, costs involved in the existing Berea/KyMEA contract, the preliminary actions that will be required to be entered into a new contract with them, including any required studies and the costs thereof."

'Success is Sweet' in area schools local students celebrate test scores

By Ronica Shannon for the Citizen

State KPREP (Kentucky Performance Rating for Educational Progress) test scores were released last week.

The staff at Shannon Johnson gathered students into the gym Thursday for a pep rally. The school received 86.1 achievement points on the KPREP test.

"At Shannon Johnson,

we focus on student growth, not scores," said Principal Glenna Carter. "We're very excited about our scores this year. We're focusing on student growth."

She told students that what she loves the most is when they each do their best.

"We're going to celebrate, and success is sweet," Carter told the County kicks off breast cancer awareness month

By Ronica Shannon for the Citizen

The color of the lawn Friday in front of the Madison County Courthouse made a clear statement as to what was happening.

A large group of pink-T-Shirt-wearing community members were getting ready to Paint The Town Pink in October, which is Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

October also is the month for Madison County's 17th Annual Women's Wellness Fun day, which will be Saturday, Oct. 28, in the Perkins Building on Eastern Kentucky University's campus. This year's theme is "I Can, You Can, We Can," and is hosted by the Madison County Breast Cancer Support Group and the Madison County Breast and Cervical Cancer Coalition.

Although the Paint The Town Pink kickoff was held in Richmond, there is no Richmond/Berea divide among the group, said Arlayne Francis of the Madison County Breast Cancer Support Group. Francis co-chairs the support group with Nola Newman.

"We are Madison County," Francis said. "We're not Richmond, we're not Berea, we are

Rethink Your Ride

Event highlights danger of distracted driving

By Ronica Shannon for the Citizen

Berea Community students gathered Tuesday to learn the dangers of being distracted while driving.

"We often say 'This isn't going to happen to me,'" said KSP Trooper Robert Purdy. "The decisions we make matter. You are special to a lot of people. I worked a collision where on the side of the road was a 21-year-old young lady. She was dead, and I knew she was going home. Her cell phone was on the ground next to her car. It kept ringing, and every time it rang, the screen said 'Daddy.'" I had not had a chance to tell her dad that she wasn't coming home.

The Eastern Kentucky University nursing students teamed up with Berea Community High School to present the "Rethink Your Ride" event Tuesday, where students were given a brief presentation, then taken outside to try some exercises while using "drunk" goggles, which are made to distort vision as if someone were drunk.

"One of the leading deaths for teenagers is from accidental injury," said Jenna Eby, EKV nursing student. "When you drink and drive or use your cell phone, you're not going to be paying close attention. What we're here to teach them today is the importance of not drinking and driving and to not use their cell phone when they drive."

EKV Professor Shonda Rose showed students a picture from her cheerleading years at Madison Southern High School. There were three girls in the picture.

Then, she showed another picture with only two girls.

"As you see, one is missing," she said, speaking of her high school friend who was killed in an accident where she was not wearing her seat belt.

Eby gave student statis-

POLICE REPORTS

Police Reports from 9/22/17 - 9/27/17

Sept. 22

•Officers stopped a car on Interstate 75 Southbound in reference to a reckless driving complaint on a Budget Rental Truck. Officers detected a strong odor of alcohol coming from the driver. The diver had to use the truck for balance while exiting the vehicle, according to the police report. The suspect failed several sobriety tests and was arrested and charged with driving under the influence. Kevin Edward Piotrowicz of Florida was arrested for driving under the influence and was taken to the Madison County Detention Center.

Sept. 23

•Officers responded to McDonald's on Brenwood Drive to report a subject tampering with a car located at Knights Inn. The suspect was found by police at McDonald's. When confronted by the officer, it was obvious the subject was unsteady in balance and smelled strongly of alcohol. The person eventually admitted to police that he had been drinking alcohol. Mark Morris of Nicholasville was charged with public intoxication, arrested and taken to the Madison County detention Center.

•Officers were called to a scene at Circle K on Chestnut Street where a suspect was found passed out inside a running motor vehicle. A loaded syringe, a spoon containing residue, a lighter, and a filter in a bottle cap were found in the car's console, the report declared.

The accused stated that the drug was heroin. The officer transported Kaitlyn M. Hicks of Lancaster to the Madison County Detention Center where she faces charges of first-degree possession of a controlled substance, possession of drug paraphernalia and giving false identifying information to a police officer.

Sept. 24

•Police responded to the intersection of White Station Road and Potts Mill Road where a person riding a motorcycle wrecked and landed in a ditch. The driver, Lisa A. Smith, of Richmond, showed several signs of intoxication, according to police. Smith was taken to the Madison County Detention Center and charged with driving under the influence.

•A Paint Lick Road man driving on US 25 was stopped for passing another vehicle while speeding. Upon observing the driver, the officer noticed he was under the influence. The driver, Gary Wayne Pingleton, admitted to being under the influence of heroin, and said he had taken the drug earlier in the day and was not in possession. The suspect was taken to the Madison County Detention Center where he faces charges of driving under the influence of alcohol/drugs/etc. and operating on a suspended or revoked operator's license.

In a separate incident Pingleton was charged after he fled from police in his vehicle. Pingleton was traveling South on Richmond Road when he passed a police officer and another motor vehicle at a high rate of speed. He was operating a motorcycle, according to the police report. The motorcycle turned on to White Station Road and accelerated its speed even more. Police lost sight of the motorcycle until a call came in that it was seen on the side of the road, the report states. While at the hospital, the suspect admitted to police to using heroin, a syringe was found in the suspect's belongings and appeared to have been used, the report states. Pingleton was then charged with first-degree fleeing/evading police.

•A Berea woman was arrested for domestic violence after police arrived at the 200 block of Vanhook Court. Priscilla Barnett was charged with fourth-degree assault (domestic violence) after punching her husband in the mouth until it began to bleed, the report states. Both parties were intoxicated at the time.

Sept. 26

A Berea man was found with several bank cards, Kentucky identification cards and Social Security Cards after Berea Library staff called the police to report a person who was acting strange, as if they were on drugs, the report states. After a search of the suspect, police also found a 9mm Smith & Wesson. Jason Carpenter was charged with receiving stolen property under $500.

Sept. 27

•Police responded to the 700 block of Chestnut Street where a search warrant was executed on Brandon D. Long of Berea. Among items found were heroin (a separate person was charged for the possession), an $843 laptop and an iPad valued at $100. Both the laptop and iPad belonged to Berea College. After a search of the suspect's vehicle, a stolen Ukulele in a black case valued at $100 was found. Officers also found numerous syringes and digital scales. Long was charged with receiving stolen property under $10,000 and possession of paraphernalia.

•Police responded to the 700 block of Chestnut Street and executed a search warrant on Christopher R. Terrell of Berea. Police found a small baggie containing approximately 1.2 grams of suspected heroin, along with an $843 laptop and an iPad valued at $100. Both the laptop and iPad belonged to Berea College. The subject was charged with first-degree possession of a controlled substance, possession of drug paraphernalia and receiving stolen property under $10,000

•Police responded to the 3000 block of Queensborough where a mother and her son, Dakota Scott Douglas of Berea, reportedly had an altercation about a car. The mother had told Douglas he could not use her EBT card until he started making payments on the car, according to the police report. Douglas then reportedly pushed her to the ground, causing her back pain. He was charged with fourth-degree assault and taken to the Madison County Detention Center.

CITY OF BEREA FALL CLEAN-UP

October 16th - 21st, 2017

RESIDENTS OF THE CITY OF BEREA

The City of Berea and Poff Carting will hold FALL CLEAN-UP within the city limits of Berea, the week of October 16-21 2017. The clean-up will coincide with your normal garbage pickup. The collection crews will remove a normal pick-up truck load on your scheduled day. Items for collection must be placed at curbside by 6:00 am on the day of your pickup. If you have bulk items other than bagged waste or boxed items to be collected, you will need to call the Poff Carting office to schedule a pickup date.

If you should require a pickup other than your scheduled day and time, that service will be provided at the rate of $25.00 per request, not to exceed a legal pick-up load. All refuse must be placed in plastic bags or containers. Compost materials (wood, grass clipping, etc.) must be kept separate from normal garbage or trash. Larger limbs must be stacked in neat piles at the curb with all limbs facing the same direction. Small limbs and twigs must be placed in securely tied bundles or in plastic bags. Used appliances and furniture will be collected and charged at Poff Carting's scheduled rates as listed below:

|--------------------------------|------------------|
| Appliances (White Goods) | $14.00 |
| Stuffed Chairs | $8.50 |
| Couches and Love Seats | $14.00 |
| Non-Stuffed Chairs | $7.00 |
| Carpeting | $12.00 per room |
| Fencing and Wire | $2.25 per foot |

ALL APPLIANCES THAT USE FREON must have a certificate that this liquid has been removed by a certified technician or Poff Carting will charge $50.00 for the following items: Refrigerators, Dehumidifiers, Air Conditioners, and Freezers. All bulky items will be picked up the same day as your normal pickup. These items must be placed at the curb at the same time as all other materials.

If you have any questions, please call 1-877-288-2981 or 606-877-7760. THIS IS ALSO BRUSH PICK-UP WEEK

Happy Birthday Dad

Below is a picture of my father, Ronald Lee Brandenburg, and his mother, Verna, and father, Arco.

This picture was taken the night my dad returned from the Vietnam War where he served in Germany.

Brandenburg and his family are natives of Owsley County.

The poem was written in 1999.

*He tells me I'm made of iron.
He sees my strengths through my weaknesses, every time.*

*I have been quick to disappoint this man with sandpaper hands, which have worked so hard for my happiness.
But when I reach out for his hand to break my fall, his hands are the softest sandpaper.*

*Learning by his honest and humble ways,
I will be a better person.*

*He has shed the light on change, and now I can see my future:
bright, hopeful, and successful.*

No one knows the confidence he's given me to make me carry on.

I could save money for a thousand years, and still not be able to pay back the love and understanding he has shown.

Polishing my dreams to a smooth, comforting finish is the man with the softest sandpaper hands, in which I love.

-Love, Your Daughter

KyMEA: Council made the right choice

Dear Editor,

Let me speak to an issue I have with the use of KyMEA as an electrical energy partner with Berea.

Mr. Fortner of Berea Municipal Utilities has been a board member of KyMEA for about 2 years. That began a year before Berea chose to enter into a contractual obligation with KyMEA.

As a board member of KyMEA, Mr. Fortner is bound by a confidentiality agreement with KyMEA. KyMEA reserves the right to choose what information Mr. Fortner may reveal to the citizens of Berea.

It is also common practice for KyMEA to redact (hide) information coming from potential power producers. This information could be useful to customers in determining risks for rate increases in coming years.

I am a person who values good results. I know that getting good results can depend upon making good decisions. I know that making good decisions can depend upon having the best information available to guide those decisions.

Now, from that I understand that a lack of facts can seriously hinder Berea's ability to make the best decision for the selection of electric power.

In the case of KyMEA, we know that we can not count upon knowing why they would choose to make the contractual agreements they do.

We also know that we may be limited in our ability to challenge those agreements in the best interests of Berea.

Independent evaluation of KyMEA's contracts have concluded that KyMEA is not a "risk warehouse". This means that future cost increases that come to our power suppliers are and will be our responsibility. Berea can not know now what our power will cost as our contract matures.

Berea City Council just chose to end all ties with KyMEA. Unless and until more transparency is available to potential customers of KyMEA, I believe our City Council has acted in our best interests.

Ed LaFontaine

Common denominator in mass killings

Dear Editor,

In the wake of yet another horrific incident of mass killings in the US (Las Vegas, Oct 1, 2017), we are faced once again with grappling with the senselessness of such a violent act. In looking back at many years of similar atrocities - the Sandy Hook elementary school massacre, the Orlando nightclub shooting, the Virginia Tech campus massacre, the Charleston church killings, and on and on..., we try to find ways to prevent them, to understand what motivations might lie behind them. And we realize there is no common cause.

Each incident is unique in terms of its perpetrator, the victims, the motivation, and the circumstances. There is only one common denominator running through all these incidents: the easy availability of military grade weaponry in civil society.

*Thank you,
David Zurick*

done legally and financially, Connelly said.

"We will seek out an opinion from the city's independent auditor on the financial risks involved in the contracts with KyMEA for power and transmission, and a legal opinion from an independent law firm to find any legal risks involved in the contracts with KyMEA for power and transmission," he said.

In other business:
• The council passed a resolution that will allow the maintenance of the current structure and benefits of the County Employees Retirement System, separating it from the Kentucky Retirement system.

"The Kentucky Employees Retirement System is the worst funded system in the U.S.," the resolution reads. "Administrative costs for the Kentucky Retirement System have increased 245 percent since 2000, and the County Employees Retirement System pays 63 percent of those costs... the separation of the County Employees Retirement System would result in the creation of a new 9-member board whose sole responsibility would be the management of the County Employees Retirement System."

The separation would allow local control of local pensions and would ensure the needs of the CERS are met so it can continue its current growth, City Attorney Jerry Gilbert read.

The resolution will allow a nine-member board whose sole responsibility would be the management of the County Employees Retirement System. The current board overseeing retirement of county employees is comprised of 17 members, and only six of those people are CERS representatives, according to the resolution.

"Is this going to make the retirement system better for our employee?" Little asked.

"Yes," Stone said without hesitation.

The resolution was agreed upon unanimously.

• Councilwoman Cora Jane Wilson asked for the agenda to be amended to reflect an executive session pertaining to a personnel issue. The session lasted for about 15-20 minutes.

Connelly announced the purpose for the executive session was to discuss a complaint from a city worker without causing embarrassment or negative publicity to that employee.

"No actions were taken (during the executive session)," Connelly said.

At the previous Berea City Council meeting, Wilson addressed her concerns about city employees not feeling comfortable to make his or her complaints known out of fear of retaliation.

• Berea Municipal Utilities Director Ed Fortner began Tuesday's meeting of the Berea City Council by recognizing Linemen Dustin Barnett and Adrian Isaacs who helped Florida hurricane victims.

"I'm here tonight to give some special attention to these two gentleman who worked very diligently a couple of weeks in Florida," Fortner said. "They were down there September 10th through the 22nd, and they worked in two different cities. We worked with Florida Utilities Association, and again I'm very proud of these guys. They worked long, 16-hour days while they were down there, they've been in some pretty crude living circumstances, they covered 1,200 to 1,500 customers during their time there. The linemen were met with a round of applause from the audience before taking their seats."

"We appreciate your willingness to go, and the services you provide," Connelly said.

• Connelly signed a proclamation highlighting Berea industries during the month of October, which is National Industry Appreciation Month.

• A Proclamation was signed Tuesday night deeming October National Disability Employment

Awareness Month.

"Workplaces welcoming of the talents of all people, including people with disabilities, are a critical part of our efforts to build an inclusive community and strong economy," the proclamation states. "The City of Berea is recognizing National Disability Employment Awareness Month this October to raise awareness about disability employment issues and celebrate the many and varied contributions of people with disabilities."

• The council voted to accept the lowest bidder for self-contained breathing equipment for the Berea Fire Department. The bid was awarded to Adam Bales of Mt. Vernon in the amount of $30,510.

• Denise Hagen-Rubin was re-appointed to the Berea Board of Adjustments.

• City Administrator Randy Stone pointed out that the city government was in its 10th month "... and there's a lot of things going on in each department," he said. "When you look at each department, they're very busy every day for our citizens."

The next meeting of the Berea City Council is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., Tuesday Oct. 17 at the Berea Police and Municipal Building.

statistics before they went outside for activities.

"Every day, 16 to 19

teens die from motor vehicle crashes," she said.

She gave some examples of distracted driving, which included talking on the telephone, eating, drinking, putting on make-up, reaching for items in your car, and more.

"Even if you're using Bluetooth, you may still have both hands on the wheel, but you're not paying attention to all of your surroundings," she said.

"Just so much as changing the channels on your radio stations can distract you long enough to be in an accident."

"The decisions we make when we drive, they matter," Purdy said.

ABSOLUTE ONSITE Auction

OF 49.75 ACRES IN TRACTS
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 2017 @ 10 A.M.
9433 BATTLEFIELD MEMORIAL HWY., BEREA, KY

DIRECTIONS: From Berea, take Highway 21 (Beside Boone Tavern) approx. 4.6 miles to Hwy 421. Turn left onto Hwy. 421 and proceed to the property. Watch for signs.

Tract 1 contains 31.20 acres with 362.04 ft. of road frontage along Battlefield Memorial Hwy. (421). Property is improved with 2 barns and lots of good cleared land for pastures.

Tract 2 contains 11.55 acres with 302.32 ft. of road frontage along Highway 421.

Tract 3 contains 7 acres with 425.37 ft. of road frontage along Highway 421.

AUCTIONEERS NOTE: When combined there is a total of 49.75 acres. Each tract offers several great home sites, and all have creek access. Property is improved with two barns and has 1.195 ft. of road frontage along Battlefield Memorial Highway.

BUYER'S PREMIUM: A 10% buyer's premium will be added to the winning bid to determine the final sales price.

TERMS: 20% down due day of sale with balance in 30 days.

MULTI-PARCEL AUCTION: The property will be offered in tracts utilizing the multi-parcel method and selling in the manner that reflects the best returns for the sellers. This concept gives each and every prospective buyer the ability to purchase his or her individual tract or combination.

BEREA COMMUNITY SCHOOL

OCTOBER 5, 2017

Berea Elementary School hosts Fall Festival

By Mikaela Morgan
Pirate Staff Reporter

On Friday, September 22, Berea Community Elementary School hosted its annual Fall Festival. The Fall Festival consists of multiple booths and events designed for the elementary students. The activities such as balloon popping, bobbing for apples, inflatables, and snow cones were spread out around the car rider loop in front of the school. Various booths, and a cake walk, were stationed inside the gymnasium. Elementary students and their parents were invited to come out and enjoy the sunshine and activities.

"If I had to pick [a favorite booth], I think I would go for the balloon popping," said third grader Genevieve Freeman while taking a break from the excitement. "I actually kinda do look forward to it," she continued, "because it's really fun and it has all these bounce houses." "I think it does [benefit the community]," said Genevieve's mother Tiffany Camp, "because it brings us all out; most of the time we don't have time to sit with the people that we know. Usually we're all really busy so when we come and do stuff like this we get to see each other again."

While the Fall Festival is truly exciting for both elementary students and their parents, the festival takes months of planning and countless volunteers to pull it off. The Berea Community Elementary School Compass Team (parent teacher organization), begins to prepare for the festival in the summer, and spend a lot of their own time outside of school and work hours, to make sure that all the events and booths are prepared.

The festival is mainly run by the teachers and staff of Berea Community Elementary School, and it's a great way for parents to meet teachers. Jenny Hobson, Berea's Family Engagement Coordinator, stated that it's also important for the kids to "have a fun evening and know that they are surrounded by those caring adults that are here during the day."

In addition to teacher and parent volunteers, middle and high schools students were invited to volunteer their time and energy into the event. For many students, the Fall Festival is a great way to obtain community service hours for clubs, as well as scholarship and college applications. Hobson explained, "I absolutely think it brings the two sides of the school together; I love how hard the high schoolers and middle schoolers work at the Fall Festival. We could not make it happen without the high schoolers. It's encouraging for all of the adults in the building to see kids who started off going to a Fall Festival, becoming the people who are running a Fall Festival. It's good to see high schoolers taking that responsibility, but also still having fun."

Overall the Elementary Fall Festival was a success for both the students and the faculty members of Berea Community School. The festival is a great way to bring out parents and students, and provide fun and safe entertainment for the kiddos. Parents, teachers, and students can't wait for next year's Fall Festival to come around.

State budget cuts affect BCS

By Constance Wright
Pirate Managing Editor

In the beginning of September, the Kentucky Commissioner of Education contacted superintendents across the state and announced a 17.5% cut from the state budget, causing Berea Community to evaluate and adjust its budget this year.

Kentucky overestimated the amount of revenue it was to earn by an estimated 300 million dollars. As a result of the overestimation, the governor was prompted to contact the cabinet heads and discuss how a cut was needed to make up for the money that isn't coming in.

Berea Community Independent Schools is one of the establishments to be directly affected by this cut. When superintendent Mike Hogg was informed of the cut, he immediately called in Berea Independent school officials and others into a meeting to discuss what actions the school should take in response to the cut.

The Berea Community "flex focus" fund, given to the school from the state, is where the money is going to be cut. The fund pays for a variety of programs, including: Extended School Services (ESS), where high schoolers can stay after school for additional help; Instructional Materials and Supplies, such as textbooks; Professional Development, which allows teachers to go to conferences and learn how to be better educators; the Safe Schools Program, which pays the school's resource officer paycheck; and Preschool.

Hogg's solution was to freeze all nonessential spending within the flex focus programs including ESS, Instructional Material, and Professional Development. "What we're really trying hard to do is to make sure that we impact the classroom as little as we can," he explained. Preschool and the school's resource officer's pay are the things Hogg and others agreed are the top priority with what is left within the funds after the cut. "There's no option about how the way we run preschool, that's something we cannot cut funds from. It must happen," stated Hogg.

Although the budget was cut this year, plans are to bring in the other flex focus funded programs as soon as possible. "I know there are kiddos who benefit from ESS, there are kids who benefit obviously from us buying instructional materials, and professional development of our teachers... I really hope we get the funding to bring it back," commented Hogg. Until then, Berea Community Independent Schools plans to adjust as best it can, making sure students are impacted as little as possible.

Halloween Scary Story Contest

The Pirate is inviting Berea Community students to enter submissions to the annual Halloween short story writing contest. The winning story will be published in the November 2 edition of The Pirate. Students are asked to finish the following story within 500 words or less, including the prompt, and turn in finished works to Mrs. Emily Doak (emily.doak@berea.kyschools.us) in the high school balcony by October 26. The story starter is as follows (You must start your story with this and count this section in your total word count):

It was a stormy October night; dark clouds blocked the moonlight over the Scottsdale Public Library. This was no ordinary library. It was decrepit, abandoned, and most of all, haunted. The old building had many stories as to why it was abandoned. If someone asked Aaron whether he believed these tales or not, Aaron would swiftly reject them claiming they were nothing but rumours. On this dreary night, Aaron's long time friend, Thomas, had dared Aaron to spend the night in the library by himself. Aaron accepted Thomas's dare and now found himself face to face with the old oak doors of the forgotten library. A strong feeling of regret and danger loomed over Aaron as he placed his hand on the brass knob and slowly opened the creaky doors.

New fall fashion trends for 2017

By Emily Traw
Pirate Staff Reporter

As colder weather begins to creep in and the leaves begin to change color, outfit choices at Berea Community High School are changing too. Whether for comfort or style, people are beginning to adjust the clothes they wear. This year, the autumn season has brought with it flannel shirts, sweaters, and stylish boots. These new fashionable pieces are expressed in a variety of colors such as shades of red, brown, green, purple and orange. Maroon and Olive green have become frequent in the clothing choices of students who walk the hallways.

For senior Taiza Alexander, the cooler weather of autumn is the perfect opportunity to wear cardigans. "[Cardigans] are comfy and they go with anything," she shared. Junior Sylvia Johnson thinks fall is a great time to start wearing warmer clothing: "I have a skeleton sweater, it's Halloweeny, and a sweater, it's great," she commented. Both Taiza and Sylvia find many of their fall looks at TJ-Maxx.

Senior Wade Bradford prefers to wear flannel shirts during the fall season. "Flannels are warm, comfy, stylish, and you can never go wrong with a pair of jeans," he stated. Wade has noticed that flannels are a common style choice this fall. "I usually wear red black or yellow," said Wade of his color choices. Like Taiza and Sylvia, the colors he chooses for the fall season reflect the bright colors of the changing leaves.

Regardless of what your autumn style is, fall is a great time to admire the style choices of others and take note of the trends taking over this season. With the cooler weather and a variety of beautiful colors in the changing leaves, autumn is the perfect time to try out new looks.

Berea Invitational cross country meet is a success

By Elliot Sandberg
Pirate Managing Editor

On Saturday, September 24, the Berea Community High School cross country team hosted 785 runners from across the state, ranging in ages from elementary to high school. This event is the largest event that the Berea Cross Country program has ever held.

Teams traveled to Berea from across the state, with teams joining from Pulaski County, Green County, and Montgomery County, among others. Over 22 high school teams participated in the event, with middle school and elementary affiliates from the schools competing as well.

With a high of 87°F, the temperature was a major obstacle to the runners. However, Berea runners pushed through. The Berea middle school girls team placed second overall, with seventh grader Chesney Lovins placing second individually. Several runners, including sophomore Julian Clavere, set new personal records by several minutes.

Wendy Satterthwaite, the cross country head coach, was inspired by the heart the team showed during the race. "This is not a glamour sport and there is a lot of sweat and determination that goes into competing as a runner," she said. "I am extremely proud of how they support each other and make a point to cheer each other on and boost each other up when there is a disappointment."

Satterthwaite has seen increased numbers every year the cross country invitational is held; this year was the largest that she had seen.

The course at Berea College is one of the best in the state. Coach Satterthwaite also shared, "Coaches and runners have told me that they love the course. It is a real cross country course, on fields, through a creek and the woods."

Assistant Coach Lynn McCollum was most satisfied with the lack of injuries on a day that was so hot. "No injuries is always the most exciting part of a race," she said.

The goal of the Berea cross country team is to constantly improve their times throughout the year, and the Berea Invitational was a great step for the team. Berea's next meet is the Lexington Catholic Invitational on Saturday, October 7.

Berea soccer wins 5-4; Wallhausser breaks state scoring record

By Suraya Smith
Pirate Managing Editor

With hard work, dedication, and motivation, the Berea Lady Pirates brought in a 5-4 win over Somerset on Monday, September 25.

The Lady Pirates have had an outstanding season this year. Senior Hannah Wallhausser not only leads the school record for all-time goals but on Monday she also set a new record for the state (which was previously 199 career goals). "I'm ecstatic about breaking the record..." Wallhausser shared. "I feel like breaking the record will boost the team's morale going into districts, which is crucial."

Somerset's Audrey Anderson, described by Coach Wideman as both incredibly fast and hard to handle, proved to be no match for Lady Pirates Emily Nigro and Evi Stefan. Throughout the game, Nigro and Stefan worked hard to keep her out of the middle area in front of the net.

Coach Craig Wideman believes that teamwork has played a major role in Berea's overall outcome this year. "These ladies, for the most part, operate as a team. They help each other during practices and games, giving advice and pointing things out to each other."

A limited roster presents a variety of challenges. "We do not have a large pool of highly skilled soccer players, so we struggle with the willingness to get your body in front of a flying soccer ball," shared Wideman. "It's a hard and sometimes painful lesson to learn, but we are working on it."

Not content to rest on the new record, Wallhausser confided that she's allowing herself to become, "a little more defense-oriented as we become closer to districts... I'm dropping back into the midfield to help defensively while also pushing up to help with the attack."

As the regular season draws to a close, fans of Lady Pirate Soccer can look forward to seeing the small but dedicated team advance to district competition on Monday, October 9.

On September 28 the Berea Varsity Volleyball Team played against Madison Central's varsity team, losing 25-8, 25-6, 25-10. Junior Haleigh Burrows felt the team played well. "I feel as a team we tried our hardest to have fun and enjoy the game against a hard competitor," she stated. "Central is a huge school compared to Berea, the odds were not in our favor, but we played our game." The Pirates left the game with a total of 35 digs - 9 from Kendra Shearer, 8 from Malyah Penn, 4 from Abby Ambrose, 4 from Kierstin Shaffer, 3 from Haleigh Burrows, and 3 from Taelor Alexander. The Pirates also left the court with 2 blocks, 4 kills and 1 ace.

Using the game as a reflection on the season's atmosphere and progression, Haleigh said, "I feel we have things to work on, but when it comes to being a team, we are a lot more connected this season." Alyssa Carter, one of the team captains, agreed: "I feel like we could have done a lot better [this season] than what we have done. We had a bunch of ups and downs but we started to come back together later on in the season."

Homecoming is approaching fast! On October 13 the Berea Pirates will face off against the Bracken County Polar Bears in Berea's annual Homecoming football game. Berea Community's annual Homecoming dance will be held on Saturday, October 14.

Dunkirk movie review

By MacGregor Lakes
Pirate Staff Reporter

Dunkirk, Christopher Nolan's latest film, is a World War II era piece released on August 4. It is one of the best war films of the decade, and a major highlight of Nolan's career. The combination of nonlinear storytelling, historical accuracy, masterful cinematography, interesting perspective, and talented ensemble cast makes this movie a shining star in film history.

The movie is told in three interconnected stories surrounding the historic evacuation of Dunkirk, France: The Mole, which showcases the perspective of the stranded soldiers over the course of the week, surviving air bombings and failed evacuations; The Sea, taking place around the civilian vessels en route to save the soldiers in a day, adding the sense of psychological horror with the interactions between the civilians and soldiers; and The Air, which displays three RAF fighters attempting to protect the ships and soldiers in an hour, adding suspense with dramatic fights as onlooking evacuees hope to survive. All three of the stories intertwine throughout the film and all come together for the climax, delivering a fulfilling narrative.

Dunkirk from the very beginning delivers a blitzkrieg of cinematic mastery. The camera work and composition never fails to deliver the needed emotions of every scene. The sound editing is remarkable - the film knows exactly when to make something like an explosion the only sound, or have an absence of all sound. Hans Zimmer's soundtrack is powerful and suspenseful, carried heavily by the use of a ticking pocket watch to exemplify the time constraints of the evacuation. The performances given by every cast member are marvellous. Veterans like Peter Branagh do not fail to impress, while rookies like Harry Styles and Fionn Whitehead deliver performances above expectations thanks to the guidance of Christopher Nolan.

Dunkirk is the perfect example of hard work and artistry in all aspects of a film. Every element of the film is unique and elegant; one wouldn't be sure which best complements each scene. The plethora of talent isn't too overwhelming though. With Nolan's direction, the talent on hand was able to come together to deliver something coherent without sacrificing much personal achievement.

A student voice in the superintendent search

By Emy Lovell
Pirate Lead Photographer

For the past six years Berea Community has known Mike Hogg as our Superintendent. In December Mr. Hogg will retire from this position, and our board will select a new person to lead our district. While the Superintendent selection process is well defined, it does not have a place for students to have a voice in the selection.

After speaking to our principal, who happens to be my mother, I developed a letter to the board with two specific requests for them to consider. The requests would allow students to play a part in the selection process, or at least have their voices be heard. On Tuesday, September 5, I addressed the board at a special called board meeting.

My first request was to allow a diverse group of students to host a reception for each of the candidates that the board would be interviewing for the position of Superintendent. By having these receptions, our initial thought was to have a time where students, parents and even teachers would be able to come in, meet the candidate, and ask questions. This opportunity would give the students a chance to express their feelings and impressions of each candidate and communicate with the board.

to bring together a diverse group of students who would work together to develop a presentation to the board of what qualities our student body wants to see in a Superintendent. I felt it was important that all kids in our school felt safe, welcome, and at home by the continuation of certain programs, policies and procedures. As well as the students being able to show what we would like to keep in our school, the presentation would also suggest what we would like to see change in the future to broaden student opportunities. I suggested to the board that this diverse group of students be lead by our guidance counselor, Mr. Eef Fontanez, to make sure we stayed on task and were focused on our presentation.

After speaking to the board, I was allowed to form a group to present to the board, while our first idea remained under consideration, due to several conflicts. One of these conflicts was an issue with not having enough time for each of the receptions, as well as some of the candidates not wanting their districts to know they've applied for our position.

With permission to present to the board, we left the meeting with smiles and went straight to the student body the next day. I addressed the students, grades 9-12, about talking to the board, and the ideas that I expressed. Each student was to nominate themselves, or a student they thought would add something to our diverse group of students. The high school was excited to get an opportunity to have a say in the process, and got to work immediately. Over the next few days, Mr. Fontanez, Mrs. Lovell, and I received nominations from students and created our student lead group.

The students who were nominated and chosen to be on the committee for the presentation came together and created a survey that was given to students in grades 8-12 later in the week. As soon as we got our results back, we spent a day piecing together what was truly important to our students.

On Monday, September 18, senior Savannah Gabbard, junior Shane Wilcher, sophomore Noah Prentice, freshman Coleman Reed and I presented our results to the board. From the survey, we found that our students felt that it was important that our new Superintendent should not only be supportive of all our schools, but also supportive of student ideas, opportunities and diverse needs. Our students want our diversity to be embraced and supported; we want our Superintendent to respect us all, no matter who we are and what we stand for. We want our Superintendent to be involved with the student body, and to be accessible whenever needed. We want our Superintendent to be Berea Proud, and to be a Pirate.

together like a family. Together, we can do anything. I can do something, but together, we can do a lot."

More than 20 local sponsors unite to make the event possible each year, and one of those sponsors is the Berea Fire Department.

The Berea firefighters will be wearing the new Breast Cancer Awareness T-Shirts they are selling as part of their work uniform.

"We have to wear the T-Shirts the whole month. We've done this for several years," said Berea firefighter Steve Bryant. "A few years back we decided to work on breast cancer. It's us trying to make a difference and help people."

Short-sleeved shirts start at $15.00 and long-sleeved shirts start at $18.

"They give us a fund that helps us do the conference," Francis said. "We are Berea and Richmond. We're Madison County and I think that's really neat that they sponsor us. We love the Berea Fire Department."

Tammy Scribner, of Richmond, is a 12-year breast cancer survivor who attended Friday's Breast Cancer Awareness Month kickoff. "We need to get awareness out there for people," she said. "My daughter is a three-year survivor right now, so it means a lot to my family."

The Madison County Breast Cancer Support Group hosts monthly meetings, and is a time for those who have survived breast cancer, along with those battling breast cancer, to come together and help one another.

"A lady came to our meeting about a month ago, and she was told by a doctor that she had breast cancer," Francis said. "She was having to decide whether to have a double mastectomy or reconstruction surgery. We all sat there and talked with her, not telling her medical information, but just telling her what we experienced and went through. We're just there for each other."

The idea for Women's Wellness Fun Day stemmed from a mission to make events much closer to home for breast cancer survivors.

"We do this here for the women of Madison and surrounding counties, because going to Lexington to a conference can be a big deal," she said. "Here, we meet at ECU. Everyone knows where it is and there's plenty of parking. We started this in 1989, and breast cancer wasn't talked about a whole lot, so people didn't have anybody to talk to. There were about three carloads of us who went to Lexington every month, and then they started building the Interstate."

The traffic on the Interstate made the ladies start thinking of ways to bring the idea of breast cancer awareness to Madison County.

"We have about 50 members on our roll now, (for the Madison County Breast Cancer Support Group)," Francis said. "We have an average of 28 or so who come to the monthly meetings."

Women's Wellness Fun Day will feature a variety of speakers, including

Dr. Janice Blythe of Berea College. Additional event speakers include Dr. Jessica Pennington, and feature speaker Dr. Connie Gayle White.

Other highlights will include a style show hosted by Cato's and Belk, and will feature breast cancer survivors as models. A continental breakfast and buffet lunch will be provided at no cost, however it is suggested that all attendees bring non-perishable food items to be donated to local charity groups. Monetary donations also are appreciated, but not required to attend the event. Those wanting to make a charitable donation should make checks payable to "MADCO BCSG."

Those who plan to attend the event should register before Oct.20. Registration can be done online at www.madisoncountyhealthdept.org/wwfd.html or by calling (859) 228-2042.

KSP Investigates Fatal Collision

The Kentucky State Police, Richmond Post is investigating a fatal collision that occurred just before 6:40 pm on Monday.

The initial investigation indicates that Amanda Mays, 31 years old of Berea, was driving a 2001 Silver Subaru Forester south on US-25 near the US-421 intersection, and collided with a pedestrian that was walking in the area. As a result of the collision, Christopher Lamb, 40 years old of Richmond, was fatally injured and pronounced deceased at the scene by the Madison County Coroner.

The ongoing investigation is being conducted by KSP Trooper David Hobbs. He was assisted at the scene by KSP Personnel, Madison County Sheriff's Office, Madison County Fire & Rescue, Madison County EMS, and the Madison County Coroner.

More than nine-hundred fourth grade students Walk with the Arts

Word From Berea Streets

"How's business since your recent opening?"

Tim Wade: Cabin of Old Town-Woodcraft and Brooms - "We've been well received by the neighbors here in Old Town and by the whole city. And we look forward to building our business."

Ridge Jackson: Smokin' Jax BBQ Shack and Catering - "The people of Berea have been more than gracious in welcoming us to town."

Lynn Ellis: Wings Etc. - "We've been open for 3 months and business keeps getting better every day."

Last Friday more than 930 Madison County fourth-grade students attended the Berea Arts Council's Annual 'Walk with the Arts' at Indian Fort Theater. The event featured 20 artist stations. The Arts Council extended thanks for the generosity of community sponsors and the 100 volunteers who made the day a success.

Snyder announces plans to retire, cites state pension issues

By Ronica Shannon for the Citizen
 Madison County Circuit Court Clerk Darlene

Grant Snyder will be retiring Oct. 31. Snyder is the county's second elected official to retire from office since the news of state pension plan changes surfaced.

"I had actually thought about retirement for a while, but earlier this year, I decided I wanted to run again for office because I loved it and it's a job where I can help people. Then, the talk of the pension crisis scared me a little. I made an appointment with the retirement board, and in the meantime, nothing really eased my mind about the changes that were going to happen. When I found out what my (retirement) status was, I just decided it was time to go. I didn't feel like I should gamble with it."

Snyder worked under

Linda Spurlock Cates as chief deputy clerk for 24 years and called her role as Circuit Court Clerk "... an extension of that job."

Helping families or individuals in his or her time of need is what Snyder takes most pride in.

"I have people who contact me, whether it be for jury duty, or family members of people in jail," she said. "I can't give out legal advice, but I can recommend what direction they should go in. It was satisfying for me to be able to meet with people."

Snyder said it was not uncommon for her to give out her cell phone number.

"I have five different offices," she said. "I'm here in family court today and my staff is in district court. If someone who needed me couldn't locate me, then I would just have my staff give them my cell phone number."

Snyder has been a key supporter for the Kentucky Circuit Court Clerk Trust for Life, which encourages people to become organ donors.

"When I came here (to the Circuit Court Clerk position) Madison County was at 25 percent (for those who were organ donors.) Now, it's at almost 50 percent. I became more passionate about getting people on the registry

Library has 'How To' information

Shelf Notes

Ruthie Maslin, Madison Co. Library

We live in a DIY society. Do It Yourself. Among my friends and family in the past year, people have replaced their own brake pads, repaired appliances, created outfits, laid tile, made furniture, built fences, written books, fixed toilets, and grown amazing gardens. But do it yourself is nothing new in the library world. In fact, "how to" has long been part of the library lexicon, whether it is asking a librarian how to do something, attending a workshop to learn a new skill, or checking out a how-to book. For instance, this month at the Berea location of the Madison County Public Library, located at 319 Chestnut Street, you can learn how to do yoga, how to ferment, how to speak Spanish, how to get into genealogy, and how to cook, color, and paint.

Through our website, you can access databases full of how-to information. You can learn dozens of languages using the Mango and Rocket language programs. The Auto Repair Reference Center gives concise information with photos and videos on how to fix just about anything on your car. And Universal Class offers more than 500 different courses on subjects ranging from calculus to conflict resolution, making Powerpoint presentations to floral arranging, anger management to smart investing and money management.

MCPL even offers help on how to use these how-to resources. You can ask one of our friendly library staff members, sign up for a one-on-one technology help session with our Digital Services Coordinator Mark Greene, or even visit our Madison County Public Library YouTube channel to watch a video on how to use these services.

At the Berea location, you can browse books on how to live, love, relax, weld, cook, crochet, how to have style, speak Zombie, how to be idle, and even how to be bored. We've even been building collections of items for you to check out with your library card so you can do it yourself, too. Garden tools, wifi hotspots, and musical instruments are among the things you can check out. And we've recently added some necessities like phone charging cords, umbrellas, and bike locks.

But the single biggest how-to event of the year at the library happens this Saturday as Madison County Public Library presents the 5th Annual Know-It-All Festival.

On Saturday, October 7, from 11 AM to 4 PM, you can drop by either MCPL location (or even both!), and in a few short hours, you, too, can become a Know-It-All. That's because Saturday will be a day filled with dozens of 20-minute sessions on how to do a huge variety of things.

Just in Berea, you can learn how to play the didgeridoo, draw a tattoo, bird watch, raise goats, prune trees, embroider, give a foot massage, perform a monologue, write a story, outline your next book, and even it get it ready to publish on Createspace. You can learn how to stay in shape, how to grow heirloom flowers and make Civil War era shoes.

Ever wondered about how to do parkour so you can become an urban Ninja? How to get a celebrity signature, become a foster parent, meditate, make bread, sprout a garden in your kitchen, or spot Big-foot? Then the 5th Annual MCPL Know-It-All Festival is the place to be.

There will be sessions on safely navigating online banking, metal detecting, painting, gardening, tidying up, creating photographic treasures, healing through EFT "tapping," creating abundance in your life, promoting yourself on a zero budget, and getting away from dangerous situations.

You can even learn how to hula hoop, yo-yo, make game calls or a DIY Cat Scratcher, how to draw using shapes, do zombie makeup, ease aches and pains through proper alignment, share shoes for Africa, slap and toss pizza dough, paint a silk scarf, and spark community building through potlucks.

The sessions are led by local professionals, hobbyists, teachers, practitioners, library staff and volunteers, and even folks in our community who have a special skill or interest to share. You can even pick up a free book! The Friends of the Madison County Public Library will have tables set up in both libraries filled with free books for festival attendees.

It's all free and open to everyone. You don't have to pre-register, and you can come and go throughout the day. You can still enjoy the festival even if you can't attend. We will be live-streaming sessions on our YouTube channel throughout the day.

I hope you will stop by the library Saturday and embrace your own inner Know-It-All. I'll see you here soon!

| More Exposure | More Business | More Connections | More Information |
|----------------------|----------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|

Exposure comes naturally when you are a member of the Berea Chamber of Commerce. Take full advantage of free publicity most businesses cannot afford.

We offer new member recognition, FREE ribbon cutting services, website links and numerous networking events.

Join the Chamber Today!

Apply on-line at www.BereaChamber.com or call 859-986-9760 to request an application.

Through the telephone, walk-in and internet inquiries, the Berea Chamber of Commerce takes great pride in referring our members. Much like the Better Business Bureau's logo, prospective customers seek out the Chamber logos / window clings that are placed on the doors and windows of our Chamber members as a sign of a reputable business.

We offer referral services, an on-line business directory, member to member discounts and advertising opportunities for all budgets.

Our Chamber members have a better connection to the community because they are connected to each other. In addition to our monthly newsletter and membership meetings, our Chamber members receive timely communications through our email distribution lists two and three times per week.

Your circle of influence is 275 businesses strong. Collectively we can accomplish things that we could not consider as a small business owner.

Join us for New Member Orientation Sessions, Speed Networking, committee work and monthly membership meetings.

As a business owner, you do not have time to attend all of the public meetings and follow local, state and federal issues. Chamber membership allows you to focus on your business while we work with local governments to represent the needs of our business community.

Our website provides information to the world 24/7. We conduct annual Legislative Trips to Frankfort to meet with our legislators and demonstrate how our state government works. We also promote regional workshops and seminars to allow you and your employees to learn about specific topics and issues.

and I think it's one of the most important things I've done." The people who surround her each day are the main reason she loves coming to work. "I have great people. I love, love, love my employees," she said. "We started a personnel committee, and we plan activities, we started having summer picnics, pool parties, we went to Renfro Valley. These things were not work related at all, but they were to help build friendship." Her employees always had a say in how the office operated. "They can come to me any time, they can come anonymously and say they didn't like a decision that was made," she said. The person to replace Snyder will be appointed by Chief Circuit Judge Jean Chenault Logue. "She will decide who she wants to have, and they will have to take a test in Frankfort before they can be appointed," she said. The person who fills Snyder's vacant position should be willing to do the same things they ask their employees to do. "Be open to help anyone with anything," she said. "It doesn't cost anything to smile and to be nice. Just be willing to listen."

BEREA WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS TWO EXCITING FALL EVENTS

Submitted to The Citizen

GFWC Berea Woman's Club began its new club year with exciting plans for hosting a GFWC District Conference and two new fund raisers: Tinsel & Treasures Vendor Market, and Berea Uncorked Kidz Edition. On October 14, the Berea club will welcome clubwomen from central and northern Kentucky to the Baird Lounge on the beautiful Berea College campus. The day will be filled with officer and club reports and will be highlighted by guest speaker, Suzette Redwine, GFWC Kentucky President. On November 4, the club will sponsor a new holiday shopping event in Berea. Tinsel & Treasures Vendor Market will be held in the Conkin gym at Berea Community School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Vendors interested in a booth should contact Bridgett Craig-Leeds at bcraigleeds@gmail.com. Shoppers will have the opportunity to find great items from many direct sales, arts and crafts, and retail vendors all while shopping local. Look for flyers and information on Facebook and mark your calendar today!

In December and just in time for Christmas the Berea club will partner with Berea Parks and Recreation to host Berea Uncorked Kidz Edition. The opportunity to paint with your kid or watch while they create their own masterpiece will be an affordable, family-friendly morning complete with bite-sized desserts and "messy fun!" This event will be held Saturday, December 9 from 10:00 a.m. to noon at the Russel Acton Folk Center. Cost for each painter is $25. To reserve a spot, simply email bereauncorked@gmail.com.

Fund raising efforts provide donations for the local schools, scholarships, New Opportunity School for Women, Hospice, Habitat, Hope's Wings Domestic Violence Shelter, and many other local, state, and national organizations.

The GFWC Berea Woman's Club is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC) and GFWC Kentucky, both of which are united by a dedication to community improvement through volunteer service. Look for them on Facebook or email gfwcbereaawc@gmail.com for more information.

Director, Ruthie Maslin, and Mark Green, Digital Services Coordinator, of the Madison County Public Library spoke recently to the Berea Lions Club.

Submitted to The Citizen

Madison County Library Director, Ruthie Maslin, and Mark Green, Digital Services Coordinator were the guest speakers at the Berea Lions Club meeting, September 25, at the Smokehouse Grill in Berea.

Maslin described a $5.76 million expansion project taking place at the Richmond Library facility. Among the improvement will be new meeting rooms and conference centers for community board meetings and civic clubs. The project timeline runs from September 2017 to December 2018.

The two speakers described a wide variety of services available at both Richmond and Berea. Library services including, introduction to 3D printing, Video production, assistance for anyone wishing to become an author, computer technical assistance, and a wide variety of programs for library patrons of all ages. The library system hosts a large schedule of outreach events happening in Berea and Richmond.

$400,000 needed to meet inmate medical needs

By Ronica Shannon

Judge Executive Reagan Taylor.

"What the jail would like to do is go ahead and approve this contract," Taylor said. "They (jail administration) are in the process of getting quotes back (from other companies), but there's just not that many companies to choose from. Until we get those quotes back, we obviously have to have medical care (for county inmates)."

County Treasurer Glenna Baker said there had been an increase in the amount every year.

"Years ago, we had a doctor who came in and did it, but the insurance got so expensive and that's why we had to start using these companies," Baker said.

"It seems like we should have some bargaining power," said Magistrate Tom Botkin. "Four-hundred thousand dollars per year is a lot of money and we should have some negotiating power with that."

In other business:
• Taylor recognized

Kentucky's retired teachers by announcing that the third week in October was Kentucky Retired Teacher Appreciation Week.

"Most of us wouldn't be where we are today if it wasn't for good teachers," Taylor said.

Steve Gillespie of the Kentucky Retired Teacher Association wanted the court to know that retired teachers are still very active in the community.

"I appreciate your time and your consideration," Gillespie said.

• The court recognized Madison County Sheriff Mike Coyle with a plaque for being named Sheriff of the Year.

"This is to recognize your outstanding achievement and for serving honorably and faithfully in Madison County," Taylor said. "I appreciate that."

"This is definitely a team effort," Coyle said. "We have the best employees, we make it

Hurricane relief BMU workers, Kentucky National Guard work to help the millions devastated

BMU workers Barnett, Isaacs honored for their service

Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

When those at Berea Municipal Utilities (BMU) received an email from Florida Municipal Electric Association asking for assistance with hurricane disaster relief, two BMU employees answered the call.

Dustin Barnett and Adrian Isaacs traveled to Clewiston and Homestead, Fla. where they stayed from Sept. 10th through Sept. 22nd. "The type of work performed was repairing broken primary, and secondary lines," Isaacs said. "We also replaced transformers, straightened poles, reframed poles and transferred lines and equipment over to new poles."

Isaacs and Barnett help recover power to 1,200-1,500 customers.

The two worked 16-hour days, but were treated with much hospitality during their stay.

"We were fed and placed in hotels by the City of Clewiston and the City of Homestead," he said. "Both cities fed us three meals a day. We want to thank the linemen who remained in Berea who kept everything running smoothly here. We appreciate the

Concert to 'bridge' community, college

By Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

Those affiliated with Berea College's radio station, WBER, are sponsoring a free event showcasing their willingness to give back to the Berea community, according to radio station founder and Berea College Professor Billy Wooten.

The doors of the Phelps Stokes Auditorium will open at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 20, and the show will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will feature the Berea College Bluegrass Ensemble as the opening act, with the main attraction being an up-and-coming band out of Nashville called Roanoke. The band Roanoke makes music that is categorized as Folk-roots/Americana.

"We (the radio station) have been looking for a signature event," Wooten said. "We had someone here with a connection to the band. We called them and they agreed to serve as our signature event."

The bluegrass ensemble will play for about an hour and Roanoke will play for around two hours, Wooten said.

"It will be like a traditional music concert," he said. "People are encouraged to stand up, dance, clap, or whatever they'd like as long as there's room."

Wooten started the radio station about four years ago and those running the radio station "... have been looking for something big to do on campus. They're constantly wanting to get their name out in the community," he said.

Promoting the college radio station is not the only motive behind the event.

"We want to open the event to the broader community as a way to help bridge the divide between the College and the town," Wooten said. "There are some Berea citizens who feel the college is a drain on the town. I'm offering something to those who aren't a part of Berea College. Hopefully it's a way to show those in the community that the students want to give back and that they want to work in the community, and that's what this event is meant to do."

Glenn Ray Griffin, 63

Glenn Ray Griffin, 63, husband of Dianna Lakes Griffin, died Friday, Oct. 6, 2017 in Hamilton, OH. Glenn was born July 13, 1954, to the late Brady Griffin and Nanna Cope Griffin. Kevin Sean Burke, 63

Kevin S. Burke, 63, passed away suddenly the evening of October 6, 2017.

Though a long time resident of Berea, Kevin was born and raised in Pocatello, ID, to Vernon and Mary (McCune) Burke, both now deceased. He entered the navy at a young age, eventually serving more than 20 years and retiring as Chief Petty Officer. During his service he specialized in nuclear propulsion systems and saw duty on the USS Enterprise, at the US Nuclear Submarine Base in Dunoon, Scotland, and as an instructor at the Nuclear Propulsion Training Unit, Ballston Spa, NY. Retiring from military service in 1992, he also completed his Bachelor of Arts degree in History from The State University of New York in 1992.

Upon his return to Pocatello, Kevin became an active member of First Congregational United Church of Christ. There he helped found a Transitional Housing ministry and served in many board positions. He also became a certified Licensed Minister in the United Church of Christ. It was there he met the Rev. Carla Gilbert. Brought together by their love of books, theology, social justice, and service to others, they married in 1998 and moved to Odgen, Utah, where Kevin helped manage the power plant of the Hill Air Force base and Carla pastored the Ogden UCC.

The couple retired to Berea in 2006 where Kevin took to his adopted city with gusto. He loved the community spirit and the artistic offerings of all kinds. He especially loved the dancing at Christmas Country Dance School during the holidays, the music program at Berea College and the many Bluegrass bands in the area. He was a beloved volunteer for countless organizations including Union Church, Sustainable Berea, Habitat for Humanity, Friends of the Library, The Berea Arts Council, the Berea College Community Friendship Program for international students, and White House Clinic. During the last 10 years, Kevin had several community jobs he loved, which included working at the Berea College Child Development Lab, for Dr. Mary Oldfield and most recently as a much beloved driver for Kentucky River Foothills Express. Whether driving the Berea trolley or taking his beloved senior patients to appointments, Kevin's hospitality and infectious joy were legendary.

Kevin's faith was strong and he was an active member of Union Church where his quiet, loving service, was the bastion of so many projects. He was serving as the chair of the Community Life and Growth board at the time of his death, as well as playing in the Union Church Handbell Ensemble. He loved his Celtic heritage and reveled in the religious wisdom of mystics from the isles and

He delighted to help outsiders feel welcomed, loved, and included. An avid writer, his many cards and letters sent to others in times of their crises or celebrations were greatly prized and will be dearly missed. Through his service and friendship of so many, he was the very kindness so needed in this world, treating others with a care and love rarely seen.

Kevin is survived by a number of family and a cloud of friends who were his beloved beyond blood. In Berea, his wife of 19 years, the Rev. Carla Gilbert and his stepson and daughter-in-law, the Rev. Kent Gilbert and the Rev. Diana Hultgren; in addition he leaves behind many dear and kind friends for whom he was so very grateful. In Denver, his stepson Craig (Lisa) Gilbert and two grandsons, Jonas and Felix Gilbert. Of his Idaho family Kevin leaves behind siblings: Vern, Kathleen, MaryEllen, Monica, Patt, Kathy and friend Mike Rowe of Pocatello and a daughter Melissa. There are also many nieces, nephews and dear friends from all over the globe who are all beloved and remembered here for their love of Kevin.

Visitation will be Friday, Nov. 3, from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Union Church (200 Prospect Street) Berea, and the Memorial Service will be at 11a.m., Saturday, Nov. 4. In lieu of flowers, the family request that contributions be made to Union Church (CPO 2105, Berea, KY 40404), Kitty Inc. 421 Christmas Ridge Rd. Berea, KY 40403, or a charity of their choice.

Elizabeth Jane Cornelius (Wallace)

Elizabeth Jane Cornelius (Wallace) died Thursday, Oct. 5, 2017, in Fredericksburg, VA.

The daughter of Dr. Albert Cornelius "Dr. Bert" and Hazel Emerson Cornelius, Elizabeth was born in Arkansas in 1923 and brought to Berea at an early age. She spent her childhood and teenage years in Berea.

In 1946, Elizabeth received a BA from University of Maryland in early childhood education and it was during her college years that she came to live in the Washington D.C. area. She eventually changed occupations, finding dental hygiene more satisfying than child daycare. Elizabeth received her dental hygiene training at Howard University. It was also at this time she joined the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in whose fellowship she found something that had been missing previously in her life.

Elizabeth worked as a hygienist for several private practitioners in the D.C. area, finally becoming the hygienist at the Martinsburg West Virginia VA Center. It was there that she met her future husband, Dr. John K. Wallace.

They married in 2000 and she moved to Fredericksburg, becoming an active homemaker, until two serious leg fractures from falls confined her to a wheelchair. She always harbored warm thoughts and memories about Berea and its people.

Elizabeth is survived by her husband, Dr. John Wallace; three nephews; one niece; and two cousins and their families.

Funeral services were Oct. 10th at Fredericksburg Seventh-Day Adventist Church where Pastor José Vázquez officiated. Burial will be in Berea Cemetery on Oct. 17.

POLICE REPORTS

Sept. 30

- Police arrested Gwenivere L. Hart on a warrant, but later found out she had knowledge of a stolen vehicle. A vehicle reported stolen was found by police near the 100 block of Cherry Road after having discovered contents from the vehicle in the woods off of Mt. Vernon Road. Upon investigation, a witness advised that Hart and Randall P. Powell had been in the vehicle and left. The witness stated that Hart told him that they borrowed the vehicle from a friend, and Powell agreed. Hart later admitted to police that she had removed the license plate and covered the vehicle's VIN number. Hart was charged with receiving stolen property under $10,000 and taken to the Madison County Detention Center.

Oct. 1

- Police arrested Ty Embry at Clarks BP gas station where he was charged with public intoxication-controlled substance (excludes alcohol). Embry had been sitting in his vehicle in front of the gas station for more than an hour, police say. After coming into contact with police, it was noticed that Embry's eyes were glassy, also having slurred speech. "(Embry) appeared to be under the influence of drugs, and I felt that (he) was a danger to himself and others," the police report states.

Oct. 3

- Virgil Leon Janeway was arrested on Main Street and charged with alcohol intoxication in a public place, first and second offense. Police were called to the area of Center St. and Main St. in reference to a male causing a disturbance. Police detected a strong odor of alcohol on his breath and he was unsteady on his feet and had slurred speech.

Janeway was arrested and taken to the Madison County Detention Center.

Oct. 4

- Police arrested Randall S. Hayes on several charges after EMS workers on the 300 block of Hotel Court treated him. Hayes is charged with public intoxication-controlled substance (excludes alcohol), possession/buying drug paraphernalia, first-degree trafficking in a controlled substance (methamphetamine), third-degree trafficking in a controlled substance (drug unspecified), possession of marijuana, illegal possession of a legend drug, first-degree possession of a controlled substance (heroin), possession of a legend drug and tampering with physical evidence.

According to police, Hayes was found slumped over in a blue pickup truck in a parking lot. Police say Hayes was unsteady on his feet, had constricted pupils and slurred speech.

While searching, the police found several baggies containing a crystal-like substance suspected to be methamphetamine, 18 grams of marijuana, a large amount of cash, and another large amount of methamphetamine was located in a black, magnetic box commonly used to transport drugs, the police report states.

"The accused became ill and was transported to the Berea Hospital," the report states. "The accused stated he ingested several clonazepam tablets he had hidden on his person."

- Kandy Elise McNew was arrested at Saint Joseph Berea and charged with public intoxication-controlled substance (excludes alcohol), illegal possession of a legend drug and first-degree possession of a controlled substance (methamphetamine). Hospital staff told police that McNew had been brought in for an overdose, left, but then returned onto hospital property. Police found McNew passed out on a bench, and she also passed out while talking to police. After a search, police found what was believed to be methamphetamine.

"The subject was involved in an earlier incident in reference to trafficking marijuana at the Red Roof Inn in Berea," the police report states.

Oct. 6

- Gregory Seney was arrested on Center Street and charged with second-degree fleeing or evading police (on foot). A police officer was traveling west on Center Street when a pedestrian started to flag the officer down by pointing at a residence in the 400 block of Center Street. "As I started to stop at the residence, (Seney) was walking to a white vehicle that was parked in front of the house and then got into the passenger side of that vehicle," the report states. "At that time, Joseph Scott (the victim) approached my unit with his shirt up. I could see blood running down his stomach and he then indicated Seney had stabbed him."

Police approached Seney and asked him to exit the passenger side of the vehicle. Police asked Seney to turn around so that he could be detained, and that is when he began to run, police say. Seney was later found in the tree line off Fairway Drive. He was arrested and taken back to the scene of the crime for further investigation and the victim was taken to Saint Joseph Berea to get his wound evaluated. An investigation determined that it indeed was Seney who stabbed the victim, and he was also charged with second-degree assault, first-degree wanton endangerment and tampering with physical evidence.

- Police arrested Devon Blanton and charged him with alcohol intoxication in a public place, first and second offense. Police responded to the 100 block of Logston Lane in reference to a fight complaint. A man advised police that the above had arrived to his residence under the influence of alcohol and was beating on his front door around 2:20 a.m. The man told police that Blanton began arguing and took a suitcase, striking himself in the head. When police arrived, Blanton was said to be unsteady on his feet, blood shot eyes, and had the odor of alcohol on his person. Blanton was arrested and taken to the Madison County Detention Center.

Oct. 7

- Curtis Sparks was arrested and charged with public intoxication-controlled substance (excludes alcohol). Police responded to Haiti Road East where they found Sparks stumbling in the roadway, according to the police report. After police awakened him, Sparks was slurring his words and was very unsteady on his feet, police say.

- Cammie A. Neeley was arrested at Walmart and charged with theft by unlawful taking under $500 and second-degree fleeing/evading police (on foot). On the way to Walmart, police were told that loss prevention employees had detained Neeley. "While in route, dispatch advised (Neeley) had ran out of the store and was running in the direction of the Dollar Tree," the police report states.

Police told Neeley to stop, but he started running faster. That is when the officer got back into his vehicle to follow him. He eventually was captured and detained. A search revealed a sex toy that Neeley said his friends dared him to steal. After arriving at the Madison County Detention Center, another search revealed two condoms, a pack of vapor rub and a metal tin of a rubbing compound. The total estimated loss was $93.00.

Oct. 8

- Johnny F. Meadows was arrested on Brenwood Drive and charged with public intoxication-controlled substance (excludes alcohol). Police were called to McDonald's in reference to a male who was unresponsive. Meadows continued to pass out while speaking with police. He told police he was 22 and no longer did any drugs, according to the police report. Meadows had slurred speech and was unsteady on his feet.

Oct. 9

- Police arrested Tristen Robinson of Williamsburg on Paint Lick Road, and charged him with public intoxication-controlled substance (excludes alcohol). Police found him unsteady on his feet, along with slurring speech. Robinson was unable to identify himself, his birthday, or his Social Security number, according to the police report.

Berea Parks and Recreation is seeking local businesses to participate in their 16th annual Halloween at the Park event.

It will be held on Tuesday, October 31st from 6-8pm. This is such a great opportunity for businesses to advertise to thousands of people while participating in a long standing community event.

All booths will be set up around the lighted portion of the paved walking trail. Businesses will be supplied with one 8 foot table, two chairs & access to 1-110 electrical outlet. (NO registration fee, it's FREE to participate)

Pop up tents & other supplies/decorations are the responsibility of the vendor. We do encourage you to decorate your booth for a chance to win the "Best Decorated Booth Contest"

Participating businesses and organizations are asked to provide & hand out prepackaged candy and/or small toys (expected attendance: (1,000-1,500). Participants may also hand out small promotional items. Again, participation is free.

You are encouraged to dress up for a more festive environment. If you would like to participate, please contact Berea Parks and Rec. 986-9402. The deadline to register is Friday, October 27th.

CITY OF BEREA FALL CLEAN-UP

and so on. There are so many layers that comprise a well-balanced school.

Some schools had increases and others schools' scores decreased, and I am sure there were reasons for both. It is easy for the public to point fingers at teachers and principals, but let's face it - the KPREP is only one test out of the many the students take all year long. The test is given over a week span, and I was asked to substitute at Silver Creek Elementary during testing. I saw the pattern - the school's faculty and staff tried everything they possibly could to get the students ready for the material on the test, and when students walked in the school on the first day of the KPREP, they were met with cheering teachers and staff who had lined the hallways.

As the long days went on, I started to see the wear and tear on some students' faces as I met them in the hallway. They were beginning to fizzle, and who wouldn't? Although Silver Creek's scores were great, my point is that you cannot judge the quality of a school based on the scores of one test.

As a parent looking for a school for my child, I would certainly want to know the school's history of annual, state testing. But then I would want to look deeper. What is the student to teacher ratio? How easy is it to communicate with my child's teacher? Is he or she even open to personal communication with parents? Will the staff take care of my child if there's a problem, which could include a skinned knee, or being bullied in the lunchroom? Are they going to care, take action, and make my daughter feel safe, or will they turn a blind eye? The answer to all these questions mean so much more to me than one test score.

I've always had a saying about tests, whether it be KPREP or the ACT - All it reflects is what kind of day/week you're having. That's it. I'm not saying that we should not track progress, because we should. Patterns are very revealing in showing where more emphasis could be placed, but we shouldn't base an entire school's worth on those numbers. And more importantly, we should not judge a student's overall ability by their scores.

Let's take time out to talk about academic scoring. Scores for annual public school testing, also known as the KPREP, recently were released and I am proud of all Berea schools!

When watching a basketball game, scores do not just magically appear on the scoreboard. No, it takes well-trained, highly skilled players to make those scores, and that's how I feel about Madison County's schoolchildren after seeing the achievement points earned by each school. They were obviously well-trained and highly skilled. The players win the game, and the students win the rank, because without them, there would be no scores.

Before I took on the position as reporter at The Berea Citizen, I worked as a substitute teacher for Madison County. I saw firsthand the caring attitude and good spirits of the teachers, paraeducators, counselors, janitors,

"Let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not."

Thank you for a great Open House

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank all of those who attended the Senior Citizen's Center Open House on October 6.

I also thank those who volunteered their time, and to all those who donated.

It was a very successful fundraiser for our organization.

In response to letter from last week

Dear Editor,

One may not even dream of owning "military grade" firearms in much of the Western world. Such a fact is cold reassurance to the families of the 130 souls whose lives were snuffed out with Kalashnikov rifles at Paris in November 2015. Of course, the families of scores of Europeans mowed down by jihadist piloted trucks grieve just the same.

Logic would therefore demand if some new restriction were the most effective means of defense against evil, then simply banning murder would be the obvious solution, would it not?

As to there being only a single commonality in recent American mass murders, the facts do not support such a relativistic position. The overwhelming majority of mass murders in this country have been committed by fanatics be they Islamists or Antifa-type communists; and individuals who in more pragmatic times would have already been institutionalized.

Other commonalities are the suicides of the perpetrators at the first sign of armed resistance, and a complete lack of mass murderers who were patriotic members of the National Rifle Association.

The Democrat hack Rahm Emanuel's maxim of never letting a crisis go to waste has worn thin. As a matter of fact, the demagoguery of splattering one's self in the blood of innocents to further an agenda of denying fellow citizens' of their basic human right to self-defense has grown repugnant, and deserves to be called out as such.

Robinson awarded scholarship

Dear Editor,

Kentucky Blood Center has awarded Berea Community School graduate Ty Robinson, of Berea, a $500 Power of Life Scholarship. Ty Robinson is attending Western Kentucky University this fall.

Since 2010, Kentucky Blood Center has granted nearly 600 scholarships to Kentucky high schools that host blood drives. The school earns the award based on the number of donations at those blood drives. The high school then selects the scholarship winner(s).

This academic year, 109 high schools hosted more than 300 blood drives and received more than $75,500 in scholarships to present to students for their continued education.

Power of Life Scholarships are awarded each school year based on the units of blood donated at blood drives hosted by each high school or vocational school.

Depending on the blood drive results, a school can receive a scholarship award of up to $3,000. The school has the option to present the scholarship in total to one student or divide it up among several students.

Each school determines the scholarship recipient(s), and KBC pays the scholarship directly to the establishment of higher education.

mayor and the Berea City Council for allowing us to provide the help to assist the cities who had lost power from the hurricane."

Berea Municipal Utilities Director Ed Fortner began last week's meeting of the Berea City Council by recognizing Barnett and Isaacs for helping Florida hurricane victims.

"I'm here tonight to give some special attention to these two gentlemen who worked very diligently a couple of weeks in Florida," Fortner said. "I'm very proud of these guys. They worked long days while they were down there and they were in some pretty crude circumstances during their time there."

The linemen were met with a round of applause from the audience before taking their seats.

"We appreciate your willingness to go, and the services you provide," said Berea Mayor Steve Connelly.

Approximately 120 Soldiers from the Kentucky Army National Guard's 940th Military Police Company deployed this week to the U.S. Virgin Islands where they will assist with support to civil authorities in the wake of Hurricanes Irma and Maria.

Overall, nearly 300 Kentucky Guardsmen have assisted with relief operations since Hurricane Harvey.

Lt. Col. John Blackburn, commander of the 198th Military Police Battalion said the unit has been prepared to go and is more than ready to lend a helping hand. "We are so very proud of every Soldier of the 940th and the job they do. They are always there to answer the call, regardless of the mission," Blackburn said. "We're glad things are coming together for us to be able to help the people of the Virgin Islands. Being a part of the team providing support is a proud moment for the 940th and the Kentucky National Guard."

A small icon, known as "The Citizen," is hidden in the newspaper each week. If a reader finds "The Citizen," in the newspaper, they should call us at 986-0959, give their name and phone number, and they will be placed in a drawing. The person who is drawn from the list of names receives $25 cash and an "I Found The Citizen" T-Shirt.

Keeley Rader, The Berea Citizen office manager, is presenting Almjeld with her cash award.

LT COLONEL (RET) AMY McGRATH CONGRESS

When I was a young girl growing up in Kentucky, I dreamed of being a fighter pilot. Women couldn't do that then, so I wrote my Congressman and he explained women were not allowed in combat roles. So I wrote every member of the armed services committee, and asked them to change the law. Thankfully, society changed, laws changed, and I was privileged to attend the Naval Academy. Four long, tough years later I was commissioned as an officer in the United States Marine Corps, and my dream to serve as an F/A-18 fighter pilot came true. But the Academy and the Corps did more than teach me to fly, they instilled values, a desire to serve my country and a code of conduct I will never forget: honor, courage, and commitment. I have lived that code for more than 24 years.

Now I've come back home, to Kentucky - to my roots. Kentucky has always been my home. During the first year at the Academy .. the infamous "Plebe summer" .. new Midshipmen have to memorize where everyone in their class is from. I was always so proud when my fellow midshipmen knew me as being from Kentucky, and that pride stayed with me no matter where in the world my country ordered me to go.

Now, my military service has ended and I'm excited to be home, this time with my husband Erik and three young children (Teddy, George, and Eleanor). However, I'm still driven to serve my country. As a wife and a mother, I care deeply about protecting the character of the country inherited by our future generations. I owe it to my own children, and yours, to take a stand when I feel I can make a difference.

The world we face is growing increasingly complex. In order to actually confront any of the long-term issues our country faces such as healthcare, immigration, rising social and income inequality, or world credibility, we must have leaders who are committed to working on this mission together. Our Founders set up a constitutional system that has endured more than two centuries. It was based on the idea that nothing gets done without citizen-leaders who can work with their fellow Americans of all political stripes. We have to get back to that. We have to start putting political dogma aside and tackle the issues of today. Access to healthcare, for example, affects every American. Lives are at stake and we have to have the courage to do what's best for all citizens.

As a Marine combat veteran, I know how to focus on the mission at hand. I've spent my entire adult life serving with other Americans, each of us wrestling with the sacrifices of war and being away from our family and home. But while my fellow Marines made sacrifices abroad, American families have made sacrifices here at home. Jobs are hard to come by, and jobs that pay enough to raise a family are even rarer. And while the military gave me opportunity, the same opportunity to get ahead are becoming elusive for way too many hard working Americans.

In the military I worked shoulder to shoulder with fellow Americans from all walks of life. It didn't matter if we shared a political philosophy or religion or ethnicity or sexual orientation. We were all just Marines and we were successful as a team because we were patriots who wanted to serve our nation, we were people who put getting things done first. These values cannot be taken for granted. Things like honor and courage have to be earned every single day, and these qualities are desperately needed in our political system today.

We must have leaders who have more experience in actually serving the people rather than serving themselves, their party and the special interests. We must have citizen-leaders of courage, who look at public office as a service, not as a prize to be won or a stepping-stone to personal wealth. We need leaders who are brave enough to tell people the truth, instead of misleading them into thinking that a quick fix is right around the corner. We must have members of Congress — and an administration — that does not accept or promote the trampling of deeply held American values by enabling misogyny, racism, incivility and intolerance, even when it is politically expedient to do so. We must have members of Congress willing to buck the modern trend of divisiveness, and meet the challenge with leadership. The path of my life shows my commitment to those ideals. And I have the experience to go with it. I am someone who is not afraid of sacrifice and speaking truth to power. I've put my life on the line for this country, and I have fought for the American values of freedom, human rights, and equality abroad, and I will not hesitate.

That's why I'm running for Congress.

ABSOLUTE ONSITE Auction

OF 49.75 ACRES IN TRACTS
 SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 2017 @ 10 A.M.
 9433 BATTLEFIELD MEMORIAL HWY., BERA, KY

DIRECTIONS: From Berea, take Highway 21 (Beside Boone Tavern) approx. 4.6 miles to Hwy 421. Turn left onto Hwy. 421 and proceed to the property. Watch for signs.

Tract 1 contains 31.20 acres with 362.04 ft. of road frontage along Battlefield Memorial Hwy. (421). Property is improved with 2 barns and lots of good cleared land for pastures.

Tract 2 contains 11.55 acres with 408.32 ft. of road frontage along Highway 421.

Tract 3 contains 7 acres with 425.37 ft. of road frontage along Highway 421.

AUCTIONEERS NOTE: When combined there is a total of 49.75 acres. Each tract offers several great home sites, and all have creek access. Property is improved with two barns and has 1,195 ft. of road frontage along Battlefield Memorial Highway.

BUYER'S PREMIUM: A 10% buyer's premium will be added to the winning bid to determine the final sales price.

TERMS: 20% down due day of sale with balance in 30 days.

MULTI-PARCEL AUCTION: The property will be offered in tracts utilizing the multi-parcel method and selling in the manner that reflects the best returns for the sellers. This concept gives each and every prospective buyer the ability to purchase his or her individual tract or combination.

AUCTIONEER/BROKER/SELLER DISCLAIMER: The information contained herein is believed to be correct to the best of the auctioneer's knowledge. The information is being provided for the bidder's convenience and it is the bidder's responsibility to determine the information contained herein is accurate and complete. The property is selling in its "as-is" condition with no warranties express or implied.

For additional information or plat copy, contact the auctioneers at 800-435-5454.

Announcements made the day of the auction take precedence over printed material.

Most inquiries about Berea's business community begin with the Berea Chamber of Commerce, 275 businesses strong and growing.

Our Chamber members enjoy:

More Exposure

More Business

More Connections

More Information

Exposure comes naturally when you are a member of the Berea Chamber of Commerce. Take full advantage of free publicity most businesses cannot afford.

We offer new member recognition, FREE ribbon cutting services, website links and numerous networking events.

Join the Chamber Today!

Apply on-line at www.BereaChamber.com or call 859-986-9760 to request an application.

Through the telephone, walk-in and internet inquiries, the Berea Chamber of Commerce takes great pride in referring our members. Much like the Better Business Bureau's logo, prospective customers seek out the Chamber logos / window clings that are placed on the doors and windows of our Chamber members as a sign of a reputable business.

We offer referral services, an on-line business directory, member to member discounts and advertising opportunities for all budgets.

Our Chamber members have a better connection to the community because they are connected to each other. In addition to our monthly newsletter and membership meetings, our Chamber members receive timely communications through our email distribution lists two and three times per week.

Your circle of influence is 275 businesses strong. Collectively we can accomplish things that we could not consider as a small business owner.

Join us for New Member Orientation Sessions, Speed Networking, committee work and monthly membership meetings.

As a business owner, you do not have time to attend all of the public meetings and follow local, state and federal issues. Chamber membership allows you to focus on your business while we work with local governments to represent the needs of our business community.

Our website provides information to the world 24/7. We conduct annual Legislative Trips to Frankfort to meet with our legislators and demonstrate how our state government works. We also promote regional workshops and seminars to allow you and your employees to learn about specific topics and issues.

Tax bills payable at several locations

Submitted by Andy McDonald

The City of Berea sent out tax bills on Friday, Sept. 29, and with the temporary relocation of city offices, residents can pay their bills a couple of different ways.

Those wishing to mail their tax payment can still send it to the former City Hall address at 212 Chestnut Street, Berea, KY 40403.

Residents wishing to pay their bills in person can go to the city's municipal building at 200 Harrison Road, or they can leave payment in the building's utility drop box after hours. City offices at the municipal building are closed on November 23, 24, December 25, 26, and January 1. Those wanting a tax receipt should include a self-addressed, stamped envelope with their bill.

There are advantages to paying early or on time. Those paying before November 30 receive a two percent discount. After November 30, property owners pay face value, while those paying after December 31 will accrue a penalty of 10 percent, plus 10 percent interest per Annum if the bill is paid after the 31st. If a payment is postmarked by the appropriate deadline, residents will receive the applicable rate.

Residents who have questions about their property assessments can contact Property Valuation Administrator Billy Ackerman at (859) 623-5410 or by email billyackermanpva@gmail.com.

Those wishing to see if their mortgage company has paid their property tax, or to view outstanding Berea property taxes can go to the Finance Department page at bereaky.gov.

George Oberst to be honored at Oct. 15 dedication

Submitted by Andy McDonald

The late community leader George Oberst will be remembered by friends, family and colleagues at the dedication of a memorial stone bench on October 15. The ceremony will begin at 2 p.m. in Old Town, Berea.

Berea Mayor Steve Connelly will be among the speakers at the gathering, recalling Oberst's years of service on the Berea Planning and Zoning Commission and the Berea Board of Adjustments. On Monday, workers constructed the stone artisan bench and plaque on the Artisan green in front of the Berea Welcome Center.

The bench is in the style of the stone wall near the top of North Broadway Street, which Oberst helped build.

An avid cyclist, Oberst was also an advocate for bicycle lanes and green space when building projects were reviewed by the planning commission. Recalling that legacy, the plaque on the bench reads:

"In memory of George Savage Oberst, a life-long advocate and enthusiast who worked tirelessly to make Berea safer and more accessible for bicyclists and pedestrians." Speaking on behalf of cyclists in Berea and Madison County, Dave McFarland is slated to offer a few remarks. Mr. Oberst's fondness for dance will also be remembered at the gathering, and the remembrance will conclude with a few words from his wife, Wendy Satterthwaite.

Oberst, who died in March 2016, left a positive and lasting impact on his community, said Mayor Connelly. "He was an avid advocate for sidewalks and some would say that he was an early, lone voice in Berea's planning history, who cried out for sidewalks in subdivisions, not just on one side, but on both sides of the road. He played a large role in institutionalizing that rule, and now we think about sidewalks as routine and not as luxuries," Connelly said.

Refreshments will be served at the event.

- The court has applied for a Community Development Block Grant for the construction of low-income housing in the county. If the county is awarded the money, "... there will be no displacement (of current residents) as a direct result of project activities," Taylor said.

- An application has been made to the Kentucky Department of Transportation for funds to assist with the repairs and needs of the Valley View Ferry.

"We've been working with the state on this grant for over a year now," said Magistrate Roger Barger, chairman of the Valley View Ferry Board. "We've jumped through hoops, but we're on the right track now. I appreciate the court's help."

- The annual approval of the Madison County Detention Center's policies and procedures were accepted by the fiscal court. The document is almost the same each year, however, Botkin said he had suggested minor changes to the document last year that still had not been corrected.

"Just make sure that we get those simple things fixed," he said.

- Myron Fisher was appointed to the Central Kentucky Regional Airport Board.

- Madison County Fireman Josh Kenney was promoted from Firefighter 1 to Firefighter 2.

- The court went into an Executive Session to discuss a personnel matter and also a litigation matter. When the session was complete, Taylor announced that no action was taken on the litigation matter, and that it was decided Kenneth Agee should be terminated from the Madison County Road Department.

- During Magistrates Comments toward the end of Tuesday's meeting, Botkin gave an update on blacktopping.

"We have blacktop scattered in the fourth district," he said. "Our roads with the most damage are the ones getting blacktopped this year. We have asked for additional money and hope to do more blacktopping in the Spring.

The next meeting of the Madison Fiscal Court is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 24 at the Madison County Courthouse in Richmond.

Fair takes over forest

Indian Fort Theatre was taken over by artists and admirers this weekend during the 2017 Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen Fall Fair.

At left, Army veteran Kevin Toney demonstrates frame-loom weaving, a Colonial artform that has roots spreading from Europe to Appalachia. Below, Thomas Porter explains Raku pottery to the visitors at his booth. Raku is a Japanese method of firing pottery, Porter said.

Craftsman take over Indian Fort during Berea's annual 'Fall Fair'

By Ronica Shannon

What Army veteran Kevin Toney finds therapeutic, others find fashionable. Toney was demonstrating his art of frame-loom weaving Saturday at the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen. A coat tree draped with colorful scarves stood in front of his large loom that he used for demonstration.

"It's an old, lost art form that traces back to Colonial days," he explained. "In Europe, it was known as a 'Peasant's Weave.'"

The practice faded from history after the introduction of more modern looms, "... then there was a resurgence here in Appalachia during the Depression," said Toney, who lives on Silver Run Ranch in Philpot, KY. There, he raises alpacas, and their excess fur is used to make the yarn he uses for his weavings.

The atmosphere in the woods behind Indian Fort Theatre is just one of the attractions of the Fall fair that keeps Toney coming back each year.

Berea Community High School graduate Gerald Koschoreck and his wife Liz own LeGrand Metal-smithing, and they showcased more than 100 pieces of handmade jewelry during this weekend's fair.

"This (venue) is my favorite show," he said. "Every single piece is 100-percent handmade. We start out with flat pieces of sheet metal and everything starts of scratch. It's handled and looked over every step of the way."

Steps to be taken before judge appoints new circuit court clerk

Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

An appointee for the position of Circuit Court Clerk has surfaced, but nothing has been made official.

Chief Deputy Clerk Allee Combs Whicker stands in line to replace Circuit Court Clerk Darlene Grant Snyder, who announced earlier this month she would be retiring as of Oct. 31. Whicker now must take an exam that is required for all those who serve in a Kentucky Circuit Court Clerk position.

"She can't do anything until I'm gone and the test is taken," Snyder said.

The role of Circuit Court Clerk is a 6-year, elected position, but if it is left vacant during the span of the term, the new person is to be appointed by the Chief Circuit Judge, which in Madison County is Judge Jean Chenault Logue.

Whicker said she has only known about her potential appointment for a few days, and did not want to comment further because she had yet to take the test and nothing had been made official.

The Administrative Office of the Courts must schedule the qualifying exam, and prospective candidates can register to take the exam between now and Nov. 8, according to information found at courts.ky.gov.

Whicker must score a 70-percent or better in order to pass the exam. "The examination shall include questions pertaining to the materials included in the Circuit Clerk's Manual, the Circuit Clerk's Accounting Manual, and the Personnel Policies of

AMP-Ohio presents to council a lesson, justification for votes

Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

Tuesday's presentation meant to inform new council members about the city's AMP-Ohio power purchase may have served a dual purpose: to educate and validate.

Several council members who voted to split from the city's future transmission provider KyMEA (Kentucky Municipal Energy Agency) left the two-hour meeting with a sense of vindication.

"I was a little hesitant to sever ties with KyMEA, but after tonight's meeting, I feel so much better about that vote," said councilman Billy Wooten, who began his term on the council in January, along with several others. "When I realized tonight that we're going to get reimbursed anyway if we go over capacity, we don't need to buy 10 more megawatts. We were going to have to pay $240,000 for that 10-megawatt capacity (from KyMEA). Now that we don't have to buy that, we save $240,000. We still have to pay (Kentucky Utilities) a $30,000 study fee, but we're still saving $210,000 for 10 megawatts we don't even need."

The AMP power purchase was an action taken in August 2016 by the previous city council. The current Berea City Council began operating in January of this year.

Berea Utilities Director Ed Fortner recommended joining KyMEA to be its transmission provider after the City of Berea cancelled its contract with KU (Kentucky Utilities) several years ago. The official contract the city has with KU will end in 2019. AMP will take over as the city's electric provider at that time.

Wooten was not the only new council member to be relieved about the September vote to break the contract with KyMEA.

"It helped me understand our vote that we had a few weeks ago," said councilwoman Cora Jane Wilson, who retired from the city's utility company. "In three years, KyMEA could do a cost-of-living increase, and we don't know what that's going to be. We were told it would be a certain amount, and it's already exceeded that far beyond just the fees we're paying now."

Having KyMEA-related questions answered by AMP representatives put her mind at ease, she said.

Tuesday's meeting began with an informative presentation about AMP led by Harry Phillips, AMP's director of marketing/member relations, and AMP's Vice President of Power Supply, Mike Migliore.

Phillips helped explain

Ruth Rice Kennedy, 92

Ruth Rice Kennedy, 92, widow of Jesse Kennedy, died Wednesday Oct. 11 at Saint Joseph Berea. Mrs. Kennedy was born in Berea on Jan. 20, 1925, to the late Luther and Nannie Ballard Rice. Mrs. Kennedy was a very active member of the First Baptist Church of Berea-Middletown where she was the pianist, Sunday school teacher and active with the Women's Missionary and the Women in White. She was also very active in the Berea community, she was awarded Volunteer of the Year in 2015 for the Berea Food Bank, and in the mid 1960's she was very active with the civil rights movement. She retired from a long career in cosmetology, and earlier in life had worked for Berea College Candy Kitchen and the Dresser Company.

Other than her parents and husband she was preceded in death by three brothers, John, Alfred and Richard Rice.

Mrs. Kennedy leaves to cherish her memory two sons, Anthony Wayne (Noreen) Kennedy of Louisville, Gregory Lane (Denise) Kennedy of Berea, four grandchildren, Eric Lane Kennedy, Brian Kennedy, Angela Kennedy and Deron Kennedy, two great grandchildren, Jada Decker and Mya Sumpter, family friend Aladya Henneman and a host of nieces, nephews and friends also survive.

Funeral services were Sunday, Oct. 15 at First Baptist Church of Berea-Middletown with Rev. J.K. Cunningham officiating. Pallbearers were Greg Kennedy, Eric Kennedy, Brian Kennedy, Lamont Cornelison, Danny Farris and Roger Hinton. Visitation was Saturday from 5-7 p.m. at the Davis & Powell Funeral Home.

Joe J. Higgins, age 91, died June 30, 2017, at his home in Cupertino, California, he will be buried in Berea Cemetery on Saturday, October 21, 2017.

Mr. Higgins was born December 21, 1925, in Magoffin County, to the late Troy and Bonnie Lindon Higgins. He attended high school in Berea, and then joined the Army and was sent to Europe during the final year of WW II. On his return to the United States, Mr. Higgins joined the U.S. Air Force where he served for the next twenty years. He spent time in Southeast Asia during both the Korean and Vietnam Wars. In 1968, Mr. Higgins retired from the Air Force and went to work in the developing computer technology industry where he worked for some 25 years, before finally retiring in the 1990s.

Mr. Higgins devoted his life to service to his country and to his family. He was a beloved brother, father and grandfather, a gifted craftsman, and a warm, gregarious companion and raconteur. Mr. Higgins was preceded in death by his parents; by his daughter Bonnie; and by seven brothers and two sisters - John David, Chandler, Ishmael, Lindon, Seldon, Byron, and Ray Higgins, Fannye Bowman and Dorothy Enfield. Another brother, Melvin Higgins, died in September 2017.

Mr. Higgins is survived by his son, Michael Higgins, of Oakland, California, by his grandsons David Higgins and Patrick Higgins, and by his former wife, Alice Higgins. Two brothers - Glen Higgins and his wife Dolores, of Murfreesboro, TN, and Julian Higgins, of Shalimar, FL - and one sister, Thelma Powers, of New Haven, CT, also survive Mr. Higgins.

Inurnment will be in the Berea Cemetery at 2 p.m., October 21, 2017. Davis & Powell Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. www.davisandpowellfuneralhome.com

Clarence G. Pingleton, 87

Clarence G. Pingleton, 87, of Berea, passed Oct. 11 at Pruitt Health, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

He was born in Rockcastle County, on Jan. 24, 1930, to the late John and Nannie Wilmot Pingleton. He served in the Korean War and retired from Parker Seal after 34 years. He was of the Baptist faith.

He is survived by his wife of 67 years Evelyn Rucker Pingleton; a son James and (Donna) Pingleton of Berea; a daughter Gail and (James) Clayton of Tunnel Hill, Ga.; a grandson Jason (Kelly) Azbill of Tunnel Hill Ga.; a granddaughter Melissa Pingleton of Berea; a great granddaughter Kaitlyne Azbill of Tunnel Hill Ga.; and a step granddaughter Stephanie Clayton of Tunnel Hill, Ga.

He is also survived by a brother Arnold (Ruth)

Pingleton of Crab Orchard, a sister Lula Jenkins of Pensacola, FL; six nieces; and one nephew. In addition to his parents a sister Ruby Pauline Pingleton and a brother-in-law Carl Jenkins preceded him in death.

Funeral Services for Mr. Pingleton were conducted at Lakes Funeral Home Berea on Monday, Oct. 16 with Greg Lakes officiating. Burial took place in Madison Memorial Gardens.

Pallbearers were Mike Moberly, Glen Roberts, Larry Kidwell, Bobby Blanton, Carl Pingleton and Shawn Pingleton.

Tonya Marie Lowery Smith, 40

Tonya Marie Lowery Smith, 40, wife of Anthony Smith, died Tuesday, Oct. 10 at the Compassionate Care Center in Richmond. She was born in Vicksburg, MS., on Dec. 31, 1976 to Elmer and Debbie Leach Lowery. Tonya was of the Baptist faith, liked to scrapbook and had a heart to help others.

Other than her husband and parents, she is survived by her children; Lyberti Fayth Smith, and Anthony Jaidyn Smith, both of Berea, two sisters, Nancy Pettway and Natasha Hartley both of Mississippi. Two special friends, Molly Wice and Lena Gardner, also survive.

Funeral services were Saturday, Oct. 14 at Davis & Powell Funeral Home with the Rev. Mitchell Ball officiating. Burial followed in the Pilot Knob Cemetery.

Lorain Wilds Lisenby, 83

Lorain Wilds Lisenby, 83, was called home Wednesday morning, Oct. 4 at Randolph Nursing Home in Winchester, IN. She was born June 24, 1934, near Three Links, KY (Jackson County) to George Milas and Lillie Eversole Wilds, the fifth of six children. She came to Richmond at 14 where she lived until recently. She held various jobs but made many life-long friends at Decca Records and Huff. She was married to her husband George for over 52 years and shared many hobbies with him. She loved to travel across the U.S. hunting for adventure, sometimes with her brother Junior. She was always up to visiting her mother while living. She loved playing Bingo and going to Casino's with friends.

She was preceded in death by her father Milas in 1939, mother Lillie in 1999, a brother Lawrence ("Sonny") Wilds, of Paris and George Milas Jr. ("Junior") Wilds, also of Paris, a sister Elizabeth Wilds Abrams of Berea and Margie Wilds White of McKee. She is survived by her brother John ("JD") Wilds, of McKee, daughters Marilyn Tevis of Galt, CA, Fonda Wild of Richmond, IN, Tami Mullins-Blalock of Shoals, NC and son Blaine (Linda)

Van Winkle of Richmond, IN. She also had 11 grandchildren, numerous great and great great grandchildren, along with several nieces and nephews. She had three brothers-in-law, Charles Lisenby of Richmond, Vanna Lisenby of West Monroe, LA and Joseph ("Jake") Lisenby of Palmer, Alaska.

Friends and family may call for visitation Friday Oct. 20 from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Stegall Berheide Orr in Richmond, IN and funeral services will be Saturday, Oct. 21 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Lakes Funeral Home in Berea, with burial following in Wilds Cemetery, McKee.

THINK PINK

It could just save your life

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, a good time to discuss your risk of the disease with your doctor. These Berea businesses and organizations encourage you to set up an appointment to explore your family's medical history and see if you are at risk. If so, consider having annual screenings. While the debate on mammography is ongoing, the fact remains: Mammograms save lives. Discuss the pros and cons with your doctor and consider scheduling a mammogram. Early detection is key to survival.

Use of Narcan for overdoses continues to increase

According to Madison County EMS, the number of opioid overdose patients requiring Narcan administration continues to increase in Madison County.

They report that in the first three quarters of 2017 (Jan.-Sept.) opioid overdose patients requiring the administration of Narcan has increased 22% over the same period last year. Madison County EMS responded to 267 patients that required Narcan administration. A total of 376 doses were administered.

The first nine months of 2016 numbers were 220 patients and 343 doses.

The responses that require administering Narcan are only a fraction of the total number of overdose calls the Madison County EMS receives.

theft, assaults, and so on.

Maybe if I weren't the mother of a 6-year-old girl, I wouldn't think as deeply on this subject, but right now, it's at the forefront of my mind. What kind of world will she be a part of? What things will she see that she shouldn't? What if she just goes along with the "cool" kids who do bad things but never seem to get into trouble?

In producing the weekly list of inmates in the Detention Center, I see 20 year olds who appear to be at least 45, aged by repeated drug use. I see 19-year-old felons. I see countless charges of domestic violence, theft, assault, and so on.

Used syringes are often found in the parking lot in front of The Berea Citizen, and when I walk over to Circle K to get a drink, I always stare at the ground because I do not want to step on one. That is so sad.

Let me ask the questions that no one wants to answer: Why is this happening so early in people's lives? Why does it seem that almost everyone is on one drug or another? Why is it?

Well, since this is the "Opinion Page," here you go: Why is it, you ask? I think most of it comes from the lack of parenting. Parents today seem to let their children do anything and everything with anybody. Drugs do not seem to be a big deal to kids these days, because most of their friends are already addicted or have at least tried something, and a large number of those children grew up in homes with at least one addicted parent.

Please keep in mind that I am NOT talking about all parents. If you are a good parent, then you know you are a good parent. But it seems that some have created a life for their child (ren) where they are not held accountable for anything, they are never punished and actually believe that going to a keg party or smoking a joint is the same as just hanging out with friends.

It is no surprise that a child who grew up in such an environment would eventually become an adult and think they can do whatever they want. When I was in high school, the two big party drugs were alcohol and marijuana. We had never even heard of methamphetamine, ecstasy (MDMA), Lortab, Percocet, Morphine, synthetic marijuana, etc.

Another answer for "Why is it?" is simple: Monkey see, monkey do. You would not believe the stories I've written where the parents were using, making, or selling drugs with their children present. Why work for a living when you can go to a doctor, get a bottle of 30 Lortabs and make $300 cash? I am afraid it is going to turn into a generational curse.

I have narrowed it down to two things that will prevent my child from being just another police report: Have a strong sense of self worth, and obey the law. It's that simple. I remember being a teenager. I wasn't the cheerleader type, I wasn't the academic team type, I was just, well, me. It was tough, because the "artsy" people I found myself being drawn to were some of the ones experimenting with drugs.

I still feel out of place sometimes, but that's ok. I'm not passed out with a needle in my arm, or passing out while talking to a police officer. I think parents should encourage children to be themselves and to NEVER try to fit into a certain clique. When a person is determined to fit in, he or she will do anything. Therein lies the problem. Back to my two key traits- these children are lacking self worth because they are trying to identify with another group, and doing anything to fit in could get a child into trouble.

That child will no doubt turn into an adult who will go wherever the wind takes them. Then that adult will have children, and the pattern repeats.

Drugs and crime are becoming the focal point for the entire state. People are looking for an easy way to make a living, and they're doing it. I watched a Diane Sawyer documentary about the pain pill epidemic in Kentucky. The part I will never forget is when a little girl walked up to the refrigerator in her home and opened the door - The only thing in there was a bottle of ketchup. In the next clip, the girl's mother went to a lock box in her bedroom and said, "I've got about $900 worth of pills in here." Unfortunately, that precious little girl is highly likely to grow up and live the same kind of life.

We are afraid to spank our kids, often out of fear that someone will see us and call the police. One day during the summer, me, my mom and my daughter went to the pool. I told my child to get out of the water because it was time to go. She did not obey. I told her again, sternly, and she sticks out her tongue. I proceeded to get into the water, take her hand and lead her out of the pool and then swatted her bottom. My mom said "Don't spank her here, someone will see you!" I told her that if anyone wanted to call me in, I'd spank them too! I'm just trying to do what's best for my child, and that is showing her discipline and teaching her the value of respect.

I do have hope for this generation, but we as a society will have to try to be better people, try to do what is right, try to value ourselves and try to live by the law. The key word here is "try." I often say that if everyone tried to be the best person he or she could be, this world would have no trouble.

HRC encourages disability employment

Dear Editor,

October is National Disability Employment Awareness Month (NDEAM). The history of NDEAM dates back to 1945 when Congress enacted a law declaring the first week in October each year "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." In 1962 the word "physically" was removed to acknowledge the employment needs and contributions of individuals with all types of disabilities. In 1988, Congress expanded the week to a month and changed the name to "National Disability Employment Awareness Month." The NDEAM theme for 2017 is "Inclusion Drives Innovation." As U.S. Secretary of Labor Alexander Acosta states, "Smart employers know that including different perspectives in problem-solving situations leads to better solutions. Hiring employees with diverse abilities strengthens their business, increases competition and drives innovation."

Unfortunately, employment among people with disabilities is extremely low. While the national unemployment rate is approximately 5%, unemployment among the 30 million Americans with disabilities of working age is 80%. This represents a huge waste of talent. Contrary to commonly held stigmas, hiring people with disabilities can have numerous benefits for employers. A 2012 study by Walgreens found that workers with disabilities had a 48% lower turnover rate than the non disabled employee population, 67% lower medical costs, and equal rates of accuracy and productivity. Also, there are some great tax incentives for employers who hire people with disabilities.

In my 38 years of experience in advocating for people with disabilities I have become acutely aware of the positive benefits of meaningful employment. Working helps to foster in the individual a sense of pride, belonging, self-esteem, and dignity. Employing people with disabilities creates a win-win situation.

The Berea Human Rights Commission recognizes the unique gifts and talents that people with disabilities have to offer and encourages employers to seek out and hire these vital, yet often overlooked individuals.

Fair visitors Joe and Phyllis Kuehn of Virginia, used the event as a location for an annual reunion.

"We have three other couples that we met three years ago in Nova Scotia, and every year, we have a reunion," Joe said. "We went to Nashville last year and Niagara Falls the year before that. We try to pick a place somewhere in the Fall. We've never been to Berea. It's very nice and we're glad we came."

Phyllis was admiring handmade jewelry, picking out a bronze bracelet to purchase.

"The event is amazing," she said. "All of the booths are so unique. They're so talented, and I am in awe at everything."

Thomas Porter of Philpot, KY, explained the process of Raku pottery to visitors at his booth.

"It's a Japanese method of firing pottery," he said.

Porter has been practicing Raku for almost 36 years, and has been a vendor at the annual craft fair since the late 1980s.

"What I like about the fair is that a lot of the people who come here have a good respect for the artists," he said. "They like handmade things and they love to support the arts. Secondly, this is just a nice place to be. I love the atmosphere of it all. It's relaxing for the vendors and relaxing for the people who are purchasing."

Amongst the artisan booths, in between two trees sat musician Timothy Baker of Hazard, along with his girlfriend Lyndsey Miller of Lexington and their dog, Lucy.

Baker was playing music from his CD "Let Me Drive," that he produced in Nashville three years ago.

"I think this place is awesome," he said. "It's in such a good location and it's a great place to showcase the talent in this area."

"Thomas has become a catalyst for change through her active participation in a variety of community organizations focusing on efforts that provide hope and empowerment to help others overcome challenging circumstances and achieve their dreams," said chairwoman and founding member Joyce Green.

Another Lexington native, Kaelyn Query, will share her journey to success through her passion for event planning and management. Query is the founder and president of LexEffect, started her own business at the age of 14 and now produces events of all types across the country with a focus on supporting non-profit organizations.

"Business Babes Society offers women entrepreneurs an important forum by providing networking and professional growth opportunities," Green said. "We are active throughout the year offering informative and entertaining programs that build business skills and nurture new relationships. We are also very proud of the indelible impact we have had at the community level, contributing to many local programs, charities and non-profits, as well as providing educational scholarships for young women seeking to pursue a business career."

Business Babes is a group meant to incorporate women all over Madison County, Green said.

"We're not just Richmond and we're not just Berea," she said. "I'm all about bringing Madison County together."

Berea resident Linda Dulicai is the owner of Healthy Zone, and works as an alternative health practitioner. She heard about the Business Babes Society while looking for various forums of networking in the area.

"I went to a couple of their meetings and decided that it was exactly what I needed," she said. "I'm making some very good friends there. Personal relationships are important and a sense of community is important. I like being able to give back to the community."

the Court of Justice," the website states. "In the event of a vacancy in the office of circuit clerk, a special examination shall be prepared by the Administrative Office of the Courts to be administered to such person or persons designated by the chief circuit judge responsible for filling the vacancy by appointment, and to be administered to prospective candidates for election to fill the unexpired term."

Whicker has served as a deputy clerk for 15 years.

Snyder will be retiring Oct. 31, and is the county's second elected official to retire from office since the news of state pension plan changes surfaced.

"I had actually thought about retirement for a while, but earlier this year, I decided I wanted to run again for office because I loved it and it's a job where I can help people," she said in an interview earlier this month. "Then, the talk of the pension crisis scared me a little. I made an appointment with the retirement board, and in the meantime, nothing really eased my mind about the changes that were going to happen. When I found out what my (retirement) status was, I just decided it was time to go. I didn't feel like I should gamble with it."

Snyder worked under Linda Spurlock Cates as chief deputy clerk for 24 years and called her role as Circuit Court Clerk "... an extension of that job."

"Circuit court clerks play an important role within the state court system," according to the Administrative Office of the Courts. "Circuit clerks are responsible for managing the records of Circuit Court and District Court, Kentucky's trial courts. Circuit clerks file lawsuits and court documents, record legal forms, provide legal documents and other legal materials, are present during trials, schedule juries, receive and disburse money, maintain the jury system, administer oaths, handle affidavits, and issue driver licenses and non-driver identification cards."

Berea College Communication Professor and city council member Billy Wooten. "Our research has found that many Berea College students are unaware of the many businesses in Berea, yet they would like to shop and stay local. So, we think this will be a perfect opportunity to bridge the gap between the city and the college."

The event is being modeled after Richmond's City Fest, he said.

Participants who attend the event will be provided a space with a rectangular table and two chairs, and can begin setting up at 9 a.m. on the day of the event.

"We encourage every vendor to provide some sort of signage to brand your table," Wooten said. The college will provide posters to those businesses unable to produce one.

"We also require each vendor to have some sort of giveaway at the event." This could be anything from free food to coupons, pens, pads, tumblers, etc.

Those interested, or anyone who has a question, should call Wooten at 985-3762 or email him at wootenb@bereda.edu.

ABSOLUTE LIVE Auction

of 100 ACRES M/L
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 2017 @ 10:30 A.M.
POOSEY RIDGE SECTION OF MADISON COUNTY
1416 POOSEY RIDGE RD., RICHMOND, KY

DIRECTIONS: From I-75, exit 87, take Hwy 876 West/Barnes Mill Rd. approximately 7 8/10 miles to the property. Auctions signs are posted.

MULTI-PARCEL AUCTION: The property will be offered in tracts utilizing the multi-parcel method and selling in the manner that reflects the best returns for the sellers. This concept gives each and every prospective buyer the ability to purchase his or her individual tract or combination.

TRACT 1: consists of 73 acres more or less by boundary. This tract has land for hay, pasture land and woodland. It has blacktop road frontage along Turner Ridge Rd., as well as frontage on Dry Branch Rd. There is city water available and has 2 ponds for stock water. This tract is improved w/ a frame house that is presently rented. The house has a living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and a bath. In addition to the house, this tract has 2 older barns. This tract offers several nice home sites and would make an ideal cattle farm.

TRACT 2: consists of 27 acres more or less by the boundary. This tract also offers hay and pasture land, as well as some woodland. It has blacktop frontage on Poosey Ridge Road, Dry Branch Road and Turner Ridge Road. This tract has city water available and stock water is supplied by 1 pond. This tract is improved w/ an older house in need of repairs. It has a living room, 2 bedrooms, and a bath.

NOTE: The purchaser of a single-family residence built before 1978 has a maximum of 10 days to inspect the property of lead-based paint. The period for inspection begins October 18th through October 27th. The successful bidder must sign a waiver of the 10-day post sale inspection period.

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE: When combined, there is a total of 100 acres by the boundary with an abundance of road frontage. Only minutes from Richmond, here is an opportunity to purchase that tract of land you always wanted at your own price.

BUYER'S PREMIUM: A 10% Buyer's Premium will be added to the winning bid to determine the final sales price.

TERMS: 20% down due day of sale with balance in 30 days.

Announcements made day of sale take precedence over printed material.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA)
Class 3 Permit Modification Request
Blue Grass Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant (BGCAPP)
431 Battlefield Memorial Highway, Richmond, KY 40475
EPA I.D. NUMBER: KY8-213-820-105

NOTICE OF PROPOSED SUBMITTAL OF A U.S. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY (EPA) RCRA CLASS 3 PART B PERMIT MODIFICATION REQUEST FOR STORAGE AND TREATMENT REGARDING ORGANIC AIR EMISSIONS UNDER RCRA SUBPARTS BB (AIR EMISSION STANDARDS FOR EQUIPMENT LEAKS) AND SUBPARTS CC (AIR EMISSION STANDARDS FOR TANKS, SURFACE IMPOUNDMENTS AND CONTAINERS). KENTUCKY DEPARTMENT FOR ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION (KDEP) DOES NOT CURRENTLY POSSESS THE REQUIRED AUTHORITY TO ISSUE PERMITS FOR THESE SUBPARTS OF THE RCRA REGULATIONS.

The United States Department of the Army owns and Bechtel Parsons Blue Grass (BPBG) operates a chemical weapons demilitarization facility known as the Blue Grass Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant located at 431 Battlefield Memorial Highway in Richmond, Kentucky (the facility). BPBG is submitting a RCRA Class 3 Permit Modification Request on behalf of the Army to the U.S. EPA seeking a Part B storage and treatment permit regarding Organic Air Emissions generated as a result of the treatment and destruction of GB and VX chemical agents and munitions at the facility. The facility is currently permitted under a RCRA Research, Development and Demonstration permit by KDEP.

Persons wishing to comment on the permit modification request are invited to submit comments by letter or email during the public comment period beginning Oct. 18, 2017, and ending Dec. 17, 2017. A copy of the permit modification request is available for review at the locations listed below. All written comments must be submitted by Dec. 17, 2017, to Ms. Terri Crosby-Vega at the EPA address below or via email at Crosby-Vega.Terri@epa.gov.

The RCRA Organic Air Emissions Class 3 permit modification request is being placed before the public for a sixty-day comment period. Hard copies of the permit modification request are available for review at the prescribed locations:

| Berea College Hutchins Library 100 Campus Drive Berea, KY 40404 | Estill County Public Library 246 Main Street Irvine, KY 40336 |

In order to give area residents an opportunity to meet and discuss the permit modification request, BGCAPP will hold a public meeting at 6 p.m., Nov. 2, 2017, at the Blue Grass Chemical Stockpile Outreach Office (address listed above). The public meeting will start with a brief presentation to provide an overview of the RCRA permit modification request and the need for a RCRA Part B permit. Following the presentation, an informal session will be held to provide opportunities to discuss the permit modification request and ask questions. Once the EPA has reviewed the modification, another public notice will be conducted for the draft permit.

how AMP is governed and what it provides, while Migliore spoke about AMP's specific supply to Berea.

AMP is owned and governed by 135 municipal electric systems, or "members," in nine states: Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana, totaling more than 650,000 customers. The entity is governed by a board of trustees consisting of 21 AMP members, and prides itself on being a "project-based organization" offering "financial strength" by allowing members access to a $600 million line of credit for things like project development.

Phillips pointed out that some of the benefits of being an AMP member are having legal/regulatory/legislative assistance, access to mutual aid, AMP scholarships, OSHA compliance programs and technical/engineering services.

Migliore began his part of the presentation with outlining how many megawatt hours were used in Berea during years past. In 2016, 129,502 hours were used, with the winter peak being in January and summer peak being in August. In 2015, the city used 127,494 megawatt hours, peaking in February and July. In 2014, 133,258 hours were used with peaks in January and July, and 2013 showed a usage of 129,557 total megawatt hours used, also peaking in January and July.

AMP is offering the city a rate of $58.03 per megawatt hour, locked in for five years. The contract with AMP will begin in 2019 and last through 2024, and is said to save the city about $1.7 million each year over the course of the five-year contract.

Questions from the council pertaining to KyMEA'S contract surfaced when Migliore began to speak about the availability of a reserve power supply for winter. "We have 25 megawatts reserved for Berea, and that's on an annual basis," he said. "On top of that, we have a deal that we entered into with KyMEA for an additional 10 megawatt capacity for the winter months."

"KyMEA said 'We'll sell you just a three-month capacity,' so that AMP won't have to buy another nine months," he explained.

Council members were presented with a packet prior to Tuesday's meeting, which contained documentation of past correspondence between the city and AMP. Wooten pointed out a letter from AMP urging the city to enter into a contract with KyMEA for transmission use "... because of the additional 10 megawatt capacity," Wooten said. "Based on your analysis of our energy transmission, do you think we need that 10 megawatts? If so, is it purchasable through AMP?"

The answer from Migliore was "Yes" to both questions. "It's not that we can't do it," he said about AMP's ability to provide the same insurance as KyMEA. "It's not something we can't do."

Councilman Jerry Little noted that KyMEA already had increased its capacity rates by 40 percent, "...and we haven't even got anything from them," he said. "Who knows what that's (the future cost is) going to be? And, we don't know how much the administration costs are going to be."

Councilman Bruce Fraley asked a question that, when answered, helped clarify the purpose, or a potential lack of purpose, for the KyMEA contract.

He simply asked if AMP would be able to get power to Berea without using KyMEA.

"Yes," Migliore replied.

"Basically, we can cut out a third party without any additional costs," Fraley affirmed.

"So, even if we pay for year-round capacity through AMP (instead of KyMEA), we will still be saving $1.7 million?" Fraley asked Migliore.

"Yes," he replied.

Berea Mayor Steve Connelly commended the AMP representatives for tackling a topic that is complex, to say the least.

"It's a complicated issue," Connelly said after Tuesday's meeting. "They (Phillips and Migliore) worked hard to present a lot of information."

The next meeting of the Berea City Council is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 7, at the Berea Police and Municipal Building.

Traditional Irish music at Berea Center for the Arts

Turlach Boylan, born in Belfast, Northern Ireland and a fabulous flute and mandolin player, and Davey Mathias of Columbia, SC, a master guitarist are on a four-week tour of the south-east. Sunday, October 22 at 5:00 PM they will perform superb traditional Irish music at Berea Center for the Arts, 315 Chestnut Street.

Both musicians have participated in numerous celtic festival events in Berea over the years and have almost become inventory. Their support of the festival is admired, and it is a delight to see them back in Berea.

This concert will also serve as a tribute to late Kevin Burke, who since the beginning of the Berea Celtic Festivals has offered his volunteer help and been a strong and valuable supporter. Kevin Burke is also known for his fascination of Scottish poet Robert Burns. He often mentioned his time in the US Navy when he was stationed in Scotland. Admission is $15 for adults and $5 for students. Tickets at the door. Further info at 248-0690.

NOVELIS GIFTS SUPPORT STEM CAMP, RECYCLING INITIATIVES AT ECU

Submitted to the Citizen

Novelis Aluminum Corporation recently donated $7,000 to support a science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) summer camp in the College of Science at Eastern Kentucky University. The camp, a new initiative of the college that targets high school students, will be launched in the summer of 2018.

"STEM is everywhere and shapes our everyday experiences," said Dr. Tom Otieno, dean of the College of Science. "It is imperative for the College of Science to help prepare our youth for the highly technological society in which we live. We will be doing that through a STEM summer camp for high school students."

Novelis made an additional donation of $5,000 to support recycling initiatives at ECU.

"As a result of Novelis' generous gift to ECU's recycling program, we will be able to further improve our recycling infrastructure on campus so that we can recover even more recyclables," said Patrick McKee, sustainability manager at Eastern.

The Novelis plant in nearby Berea, Kentucky, is one of the world's largest plants dedicated to aluminum can recycling.

The check presentation ceremony was held in the New Science Building on ECU's campus on Sept. 14, and was attended by faculty and staff of the College of Science, as well as students from Madison Southern High School, who were on campus to participate in the celebration of Science and Mathematics Week activities. Representing Novelis from the Berea location were Monica Johnson, human resources leader, and Tammy Peyton, environmental health and safety assistant.

"It is befitting that the check presentation was part of the celebration of Science and Mathematics Week activities since the donation is for the support STEM education," Otieno said.

Peyton explained that the gifts reflect Novelis' commitment to the Madison County community.

"The goal of our STEM donation is to invest in future generations by encouraging the development of engineers and scientists through supporting math and science education," she said, "whereas the goal of our recycling initiative contribution is to continue to support sustainability in the community and support ECU in its efforts to improve its recycling program."

The presentation of the checks was followed by a tour of the state-of-the-art Science Building.

Novelis, whose global headquarters is located in Atlanta, Georgia, is the leading producer of flat-rolled aluminum products and the world's largest recycler of aluminum.

Social Security recipients to get increase in benefits

Monthly Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits for more than 60 million Americans will increase 2 percent in 2018, the Social Security Administration announced today.

The 2-percent cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) will begin with benefits payable to more than 61 million Social Security beneficiaries in January 2018. Increased payments to more than 8 million SSI beneficiaries will begin on Dec. 29, 2017. The Social Security Administration finds it important to note that some people receive both Social Security and SSI benefits.

The Social Security Act ties the annual COLA to the increase in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Some other adjustments taking effect in January of each year are based on the increase in average wages. Of the estimated 175 million workers who will pay Social Security taxes in 2018, about 12 million will pay more because of the increase in the taxable maximum, according to the Social Security Administration.

Information about Medicare changes for 2018, when announced, will be available at www.medicare.gov.

Visit www.socialsecurity.gov/cola to learn how the COLA is determined.

Despite the loss to Bracken County, spirits were high at the annual Homecoming game, as Berea crowned its Fall Homecoming King and Queen. Unlike Spring Homecoming, the Fall Homecoming Court nominations are limited to Seniors only. This year, the middle school was also represented - unlike previous years where candidates only represented the Freshman through Senior classes.

Each class voted for several Senior candidates to represent them. Those nominated were: Senior Class Representatives Savannah Gabbard, Sierra Lurty, Hannah Wallhauser, Dakota Baker, Elliot Sandberg, and Michael Sievers; Junior Class Representatives Taiza Alexander, Mikaela Morgan, Crystal Williams, Wade Bradford, David Gadd, and Kane Stacey; Sophomore Class Representatives Taylor Baugh, Cassidy Clowers, Carmen Hazelwood, Moira Wideman, Donavyn Ceesay, Dante Clavere, and Ben Maynard; Freshman Class Representatives Bailey Alexander, Estefania Correa, Kendra Shearer, Meghan Winkler, Koty Alexander, Derrick Downs, and Jose Rico; and BCMS Representtatives Brooklyn McFadden, Alaina Milam, Amber Stewart, Hudson Campbell, Joseph Caudill, and Nathan Crutcher.

While the majority of the candidates agreed that the annual parade was their favorite part of Homecoming, Donavyn Ceesay shared that the candidate assembly was his favorite tradition. About who they would take to Homecoming, living or dead, Wade Bradford stated that his choice was between George Clooney and high school counselor Eef Fontanez. Donavyn Ceesay said that he believed Taylor Swift would make Homecoming "very interesting," while Savannah Gabbard said her pick was the rapper Drake.

Once the votes were tallied, the 2017 Fall Homecoming Royalty were King David Gadd and Queen Hannah Wallhauser. Both David and Hannah were ecstatic with their wins.

The remainder of the Court consisted of First Runners Up Mikaela Morgan and Elliot Sandberg, Second Runners Up Sierra Lurty and Hudson Campbell, and Third Runners Up Estefania Correa and Donavyn Ceesay. Memories of Homecoming will last a lifetime. Congratulations to all of our winners and those who were nominated!

Annual homecoming parade is a success

By Mikaela Morgan
Pirate Staff Reporter

On Thursday, October 5, Berea Community High School hosted its annual Homecoming parade. The parade consisted of floats from each grade and one from the elementary school, as well as many of the school's sports teams and clubs. The BCHS homecoming theme this year is "The Magic of Disney", and the floats created sported vibrant colors and creative structures to bring in the magical elements of that theme.

Each high school grade had the opportunity to meet the week before the parade to pick an idea for their float that matched with the homecoming theme. The Seniors chose Finding Nemo, the Juniors picked The Pirates of the Caribbean, the Sophomores selected Peter Pan, and the Freshman decided on Up. All of the ideas chosen were movies that have been created by Disney. The classes then were tasked with finding a location and materials to build their float, and the race was on. Each class was allowed the Sunday through Wednesday before the parade to build and prepare their float. And before the parade began on Thursday, several judges voted on the winning class float. The winning float was announced at the Homecoming game, and this year's winner was the Senior class float. The float consisted of a giant fish tank with many of the characters from Finding Nemo swimming around inside.

on the back of trucks and on trailers. The 2017 Fall Homecoming King and Queen candidates had the opportunity to join the fun by riding in convertibles in the parade and throwing candy to the crowds of people watching. The 2017 parade grand marshals were retired Berea Community band director Evan Smith, and his wife, the Berea Community School Family Resource Center director, Diane Smith. Following them were the Berea Community Middle School homecoming prince and princess, Mati Stepp and Markese Hatcher.

The parade went over well with students and teach-

The class of 2018 even dressed up the school's pirate statue, Alfonso, as the dentist from the movie. The seniors finished of their float by attaching a sign that read "Tank the Polar Bears" to the back of the trailer to display their pirate pride (Berea played the Bracken County Polar Bears in its annual Homecoming football game).

In addition to the class floats, the Berea Community Elementary School designed a float based on the movie Inside Out. Also, many middle and high school fall sports teams rode in the parade ers, as well as members of the community. After riding in the parade with the high school football team, junior Zane Brown shared, "It was really fun in all honesty. I had a lot of fun riding with my new teammates and...throwing candy and getting to see people happy with a lot of joy.... It was a lot of fun with a lot of laughs and a lot of smiles." The parade truly went off without a hitch this year, and a great number of students were able to participate in the annual tradition of the Fall Homecoming parade.

Longer spirit week showcases student creativity

By Elias Bolton
Pirate Staff Reporter

With a Disney themed spirit week, Berea Community High School celebrated its 2017 Fall Homecoming in seven days of school spirit. The spirit days included Mickey Mouse Monday, where students dressed as their favorite Disney character; Hero vs. Villain Tuesday, where students dressed as their favorite Disney superhero or supervillain; Royalty Wednesday, where the students dressed as their favorite Disney prince or princess; Dress Up Thursday, where students dressed nicely for picture day; Way back Wednesday, where they dressed as their favorite decade; Twin Thursday, where students matched with a friend; and finally, "It's a Pirate's Life for Me" at the homecoming football game Friday night. Senior Crystal Williams, Student Council President, stated, "I think the theme is pretty fun this year! Some of the days [were] a little harder to dress for, but it allowed people to get creative."

Unlike in the past, this year's homecoming week was split into two weeks, October 2 through October 12, due to Berea's fall break on October 6-10. According to senior Amber Stewart, "Homecoming week should be on a full week; breaking it up kills the buildup for the homecoming game." But not all reactions to this logistical change were negative; many students were happy that there were more themed spirit days than usual, giving them the opportunity to find a day that they would enjoy dressing up on.

On Friday October 13 the Pirates' football team played Bracken County, leading Berea Community High School into its homecoming dance the following day.

Pirate football program is revived by new members

By Constance Wright
Pirate Managing Editor

After six days of dressing up for Spirit Week, Berea Community Students were excited to attend their 2017 Fall Homecoming football game on Friday, October 13. The Pirates (0-8) lost against Bracken County (7-2) by a score of 52-0 at Farristown Middle School. Despite the loss, the game was still a success for the Pirates as they were able to put on their uniforms and play with an additional 12 new players.

Spirits were high amongst the Pirates, as the student section cheered on their fellow friends on the field, many of whom were playing their first football game that night. Many had feared that the football team would be unable to play, just a few weeks prior to the game. Due to injuries, there weren't enough players to fill the field thus making the Pirates ineligible to compete for the rest of the season. The team had to forfeit against district rival Nicholas County two weeks before Homecoming due to their lack of players.

Then, a miracle happened. A collection of Berea Community High School soccer, basketball, and baseball team players joined together and began to train with the football team, joining the team halfway through the season to continue on the Pirate spirit. Junior Zane Brown, a basketball and baseball player who joined the team, commented about his thoughts on football: "I think it's honestly a little under-appreciated. Going out here and playing now is like a lot harder than people think."

After two weeks of training with their new members, the Pirates were ready to compete against Bracken County for their homecoming game. With help from the student section, cheers were heard throughout the stadium all night in support of the team, despite the lack of points. Not only did many athletes play in their first football game that night, but Berea Community Homecoming candidates were also crowned during halftime, accompanied by the high school band.

Overall, the night was an exciting time for Berea Community students as they enjoyed seeing their friends participate in the 2017 Fall Homecoming game.

On Thursday, October 5, the Berea boys high school soccer team took on Estill County at Berea's Skate Park soccer field for their senior night game. The Pirates won 4-1 against Estill, with goals from Tare Wilson, Jose Rico, Emil Lazrak, and Hudson Campbell. "The Estill players were treating us kind of poorly and they weren't being very sportsmanlike, but all our boys showed a lot of maturity," said junior Aubrey Smith, making note of the night. "It was kind of rough, especially toward the end, 'cause the Estill players were getting frustrated so they were fouling us a lot. But we pushed back a little bit, just kept on playing."

The Pirates stayed determined and the fans cheered loudly Thursday night. The team played a great game, making not only the fans, but their fellow senior teammates proud. The team had a rough year, with few wins during the season, but they all worked together to make their senior night a success.

Several of the seniors have played together since middle school, and during halftime, all of the senior members were recognized for their commitment to the team. This year, the seniors on the team were Wade Bradford, Elliot Sandberg, Donavyn Ceesay, Hudson Campbell and Jose Rico.

"Being a senior, I get to actually be a leader on the team. Up until sophomore year, I had zero experience with that, so that was nice," said senior Donavyn Ceesay, as he reflected on the season. The seniors all had a chance to show their leadership skills for the team by being there for their teammates this year.

Although the Pirates will miss the seniors, and are sad to see the 2017 soccer season end, the boys have shown a lot of progress this season and will continue to work hard in preparation for the 2018 season.

Berea soccer competes at district tournament

By Gabriel Abaunza

On October 9, the Berea Pirates and Lady Pirates soccer teams traveled to Madison Southern to compete in the first rounds of the Madison County district tournament. The boys team competed against Madison Central; the girls team played against Madison Southern.

The first game of the tournament was the Lady Pirate soccer team's, in which they lost to Southern 0 to 2. Berea's coach, Craig Wideman, was proud of his team's performance, stating, "Overall, I am pleased with my players' performances during the game. Southern is a tough team to beat and we knew that going into that game. The ladies played a tough game, but southern proved to be the winning team that night."

With this being the end of the Lady Pirates' season, it is important for the team to keep looking forward, and continue learning from games and adapting for the next season; coach Wideman stated, "We need to work on speed and quickness. We struggle when playing against faster teams, and this is something we could really use some work in." As for things coach Wideman plans on changing up next season, he stated, "As with every season, things change — formations, player positions, and in some cases players. We work with the players we have to help them understand the game and what is expected of them, as well as try to help make them better people." After the girls match against Southern, the boys soccer team played against Madison Central, suffering a 0 to 6 loss. Junior Kijyane Santiago, a member of the boys soccer team, however, looks to learn from this loss and improve moving forward. "[In the] first half of the game we played excellently working as a team but after the first two goals, we started to put our heads down," he said. "We gave it our all, however; we couldn't have changed anything. We hope to improve upon everything we can for next season."

Kijyane isn't the only member of the boys soccer team to share this view. He is joined by fellow junior Aubrey Smith who stated, "We did pretty well considering how little experience we have had playing with each other. Next year, I hope to have a team that's more disciplined, physically capable and cohesive."

As this amazing season for the soccer program, filled with great victories and even broken records such as most high school career goals in Kentucky set by Lady Pirate Hannah Wallhausser, winds to a close, both teams look forward to next season and hope to improve greatly during off-season training.

The hunt for Alfonso: A Berea tradition

By Elliot Sandberg
Pirate Managing Editor

Every year during Homecoming festivities, Berea Community High School becomes overrun with the search for one pirate mannequin: Alfonso. During every other week of the year, he stands guard over the entrance to the high school. During Homecoming, however, he is hidden from the students somewhere in the school. For the Homecoming parade, each class desires to have the 6-foot tall pirate in their float, as he provides a valuable baseline on which to build a theme. In the past Alfonso has been dressed up as a variety of things, including a wizard, a football player, and even Spider-Man. This year the seniors dressed Alfonso as the dentist from Finding Nemo.

The school acquired the statue at some point during retired principal Mr. John Masters' term. The school purchased him at the cost of $500 from Ballard's in Richmond. Alfonso's popularity rose at the school after a senior prank where the statue was taken around town and pictures of him were taken at various landmarks around Berea.

Seniors typically were the recipients of the statue until recently. Joshua Woodward, a Berea Community high school science teacher, stole the statue for use on the junior float and hid the statue in a back room. Principal Donna Lovell then joined in on the activity. She said, "The last three years the administration has made a game out of it, hiding the statue first."

Senior Joseph Caudill recounted his own experience with the chase for Alfonso: "[My fellow classmates] stole Alfonso and loaded him into the back of my truck."

Throughout the week leading up to float building every year, pictures of Alfonso are posted on Instagram to give students hints on the location where he is stored. When the statue is found, the seniors and juniors race to be the first to claim him for their own.

In any other high school, the kidnapping and ransom of property may be cause for concern. At Berea, the search for Alfonso is just another way for students to show their Pirate Pride.

Berea Community alumnus speaks to middle school basketball team

By Emily Traw
Pirate Staff Reporter

On October 4th, Berea Community High School was honored to have Rachel Newman-Baker, a member of Berea's class of 1995, speak with its young athletes. Rachel has worked for the National Collegiate Athletic Association and currently works with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. Rachel was a well-liked member of the community and is remembered for her many achievements. During Rachel's time at Berea she was a dedicated member of the basketball team. After graduating she returned as the High School Girls Basketball Coach for a few years. Kerry Cummins, coach of the Berea Middle School boys basketball team, remembers Rachel fondly: "One of the most memorable things about Rachel's time at Berea had to be the success they had on the court when she was a player, and then as a coach," he said. After her graduation, Rachel attended Berea College and Ohio State University.

Coach Cummins invited Rachel to speak to his team knowing she would have valuable experiences to share with them. "[Rachel] has a lot of pride in Berea Community and the role it played in her life. It just made sense that she would have a lot to offer my guys," he explained. With years of experience behind her, Rachel was able to explain to the athletes just how important it is to do well both in school and in athletics. Kobe Combs, a freshman at Berea and a member of the basketball team, learned, "Grades are really important if you [plan] to play college sports...you have to work hard, keep your head up." Kobe plans to use "hard work [and] dedication" to achieve his goals for the future.

Rachel told Berea's athletes, "I'm not always the smartest person in the room, but I'm always the hardest worker." This message is one that stuck with many of the students who were able to talk to Rachel. Berea High School Freshman Jaylen Dorsey learned from Rachel that, "You really need to focus on what you do in school and how you present yourself as a character, and make sure you [give] your all in everything you do in order to be successful." Having Rachel speak with Berea athletes was a great opportunity. Seeing what can come of a good attitude, effort and dedication gives these young athletes a model they can aspire to be like. Rachel clearly made a big impression on those who had the opportunity to listen to her speak.

Silver Creek Homemakers enjoy October meeting

Submitted by Leveta McClellan

What a wonderful time we had at Silver Creek Homemakers this month, and most of us came in costume. We had plenty of laughter among friends.

There were 26 people present with two visitors, Tonya Hubbard and Karen Ratliff. Marian Abbott gave a devotional from the song "If We Could See Beyond Today."

We are still selling raffle tickets on a beautiful, king-size quilt for $1 a ticket. Contact the Extension Homemakers for more information.

Before I tell you about our leader lesson, I wanted you to know that if you have a Kroger Plus card, you can enroll in a community rewards program for our Madison County 4H. You can mention to your cashier that you want to add 4H to your rewards card, or you may go to Kroger.com/community rewards, and use our organization code of 11908, or search for Madison County 4H.

Our leader lesson was about toaster ovens, and was given by Celeste McAfee. Toaster ovens come in handy if there are just one or two people in the household.

It works just like a regular oven, but doesn't heat the whole house up in the process. The ovens use less energy than a big oven, heat up faster and can hold up to a 9X13 dish. Some feature broiling and roasting settings and others include rotisserie mechanisms. Toaster ovens also are convenient to use if you are in a limited space. If you would like to purchase a toaster oven, then consider the size of your space by measuring the width, depth and height of the area.

The price of toaster ovens can range from $30 to $200, and before you buy, think of what you would use you appliance for the most. Did you know that you should not line your toaster ovens with aluminum foil? While it may make for easier clean up, it can also cause the appliance to improperly heat or overheat, creating a fire hazard. Choosing a toaster oven that meets your needs is essential for your convenience and overall satisfaction.

Come join us at 10 a.m., Nov. 2 at the Madison County Extension Office. Call the Extension Office at (859) 623-4072 for more information.

Lawson graduates

U.S. Air Force Airman 1st Class Joseph S. Lawson graduated from basic military training at Joint Base San Antonio-Lackland, San Antonio, Texas.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training also earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

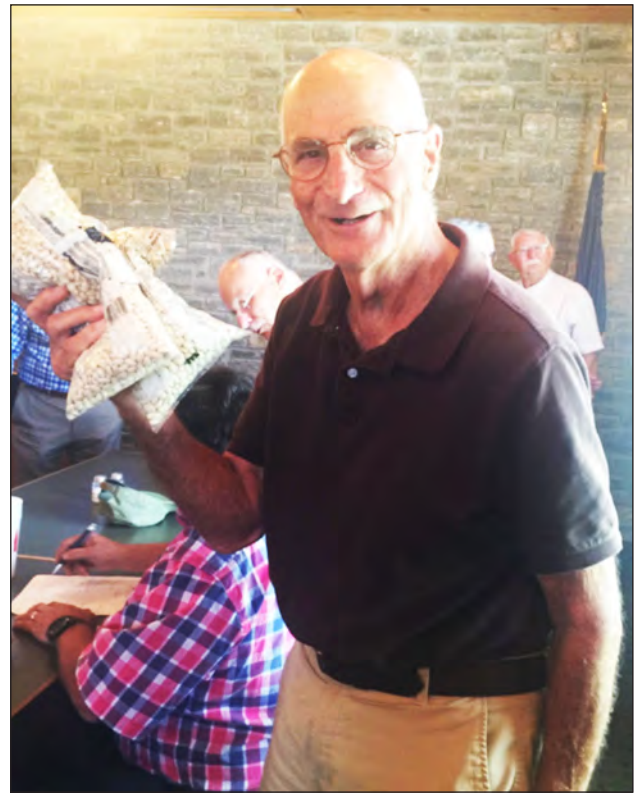

He is a 2017 graduate of Madison Southern High School, Berea, Ky.

BEAN CORNBREAD FUNDRAISER IS NEW EVENT FOR BEREA ROTARY

Over the past seven years the primary recipients of Berea Rotary fundraisers have been graduating seniors from Berea Community and Madison Southern High Schools. In those seven years, 79 students have cumulatively received $39,500. Much of those funds came from an annual Fish Fry.

Due to a one year leave of a significant benefactor-worker the club has a new event. On Friday, October 20th at 5pm the group is hosting its first Soup Bean & Cornbread Tailgate Dinner. This will be held in the tailgate parking area at Madison Southern High School prior to the final home football game against Anderson County.

Members of Rotary and their Rotary partners will be preparing and serving the food. There will be both brown and white beans, cornbread, homemade desserts, and assorted drinks. Tickets can be purchased from Rotarians or at the gate.

Scam being used to sell ads, MSHS sends out warning

By Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

Madison Southern High School's Assistant Principal and Athletic Director Calvin Creech is warning the community about a scam asking for advertising sales. An email sent from a Savannah Coleman reads: "... I am working on this with Coach Buttry (correct spelling is Buttry) and Athletic Director Calvin Creech. The posters will be distributed throughout the community, as well as given out at the home games. Your name will appear on 750-1,000 posters."

The ads are being fraudulently sold to appear on a poster for Madison Southern's boys and girls basketball teams, and range from $75 to $350 in price. Neither the production of the poster, nor the ad sales were approved by Creech, Buttry or the school itself.

"It's a mess," Creech said. "Apparently, they've hit everybody in the county from Richmond to Berea."

Creech first warned the Berea Citizen on Friday

via email stating, "This is not a legitimate fundraising activity," he wrote. "Madison Southern did not give permission for these people to use our name or solicit funds on our behalf. Proper protocol was not followed and this will only serve to harm Madison Southern Athletics."

If someone wants to sell advertising for an athletic-program-related poster, all of the money collected is to go directly to the school, then the ad sales representative(s) gets 20 percent of that money, Creech explained.

Those circulating the scam are telling people to make checks payable to Madison Southern High School, but yet the school has not seen any of that money, Creech said.

"This was out of the blue and I bet you I've had 15 people contact me about this, because it just doesn't sound right," he said.

During his investigation of this scam, Creech has noted that those who have contacted him about doing this poster have gotten names wrong and produced fraudulent invoices, one in which spelled "Glades Road" with a Z, Creech said.

"This is nothing but an opportunity for somebody to take money from the community, which hurts the athletic program," he said. "It's just a mess, and I feel bad for the people out there who support us already. Now, they're going to give money to someone who is going to take it and run."

TILLERS OF THE LAND

Davis: Farmers should take pride in what they do

"And of all the tools that I've ever known, these hands hold my spirit in wonder. Oh, they're calloused and stained and they show the time - not the future, but the past."
- "Blessed Hands" by Della Mae

The two hardest-working farm tools Kenton Davis ever used were folded casually across his chest as he spoke of a time when a man's worth could be seen in his work.

"We turned these woodlands into farm land, mostly with our own hands," Davis said. "We used manpower and horsepower. That was it."

Davis remembers harnessing mules for his father when he was about 6 years old. "We had jobs to do," he said. "There wasn't electricity or any running water. We had a water cistern and had to pump it by hand. We didn't have electricity until 1954, and we ran a dairy milked by hand."

A simple, yet beautiful memory came to his mind while speaking about his childhood in Davis Hollow.

"Do you know what a pine knot is?" he asked. "At canning time, my mother would send me with a little red wagon into the woods to pick up pine knots. They were used to get that fire up going fast when she was canning. There wasn't no playtime. At dark, you went to bed."

Davis, who will turn 80 in February, was brought into this world on the same land he holds pride in today.

Mules were used as Davis' main source of power while farming, but he had to stop last year after injuring his shoulder.

In past years, Davis farmed mostly tobacco. Today, he enjoys tending to his horses and cultivating hay.

When he had cattle, his late wife Carolyn was a big help in moving the cattle, he said.

"After she passed away, I couldn't handle them. We had 50-something cows and I had to move them."

World Diabetes Day declared by Fiscal Court

By Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

Madison Judge Executive Reagan Taylor proclaimed Oct. 24 as World Diabetes Day at the start of the fiscal court's meeting Tuesday.

Melanie Adams-Johnson from Eastern Kentucky University's Department of Baccalaureate and Graduate Nursing spoke during the meeting about an upcoming event to help Diabetics, those who are Pre-Diabetic or those who are genetically susceptible to the disease.

The Annual Diabetes Day will be Saturday, Nov. 11 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church on the corner of Lancaster and Main Street in Richmond.

Those who attend the event will be able to meet with certified diabetes educators and other health professionals who specialize in diabetes care. All health screenings for diabetes will be provided free of charge during the Diabetes Day event. There also will be door prizes and other free tools to help those with Diabetes manage their disease.

The Madison County Diabetes Coalition can help those who may have trouble paying for their medications or trouble finding reliable

Concerns surface about city dog park proposal

Submitted by Andy McDonald

Berea residents near Harrison Court and Harrison Road have expressed opposition to a proposed recreational facility and dog park. The plan was presented at a meeting of the city's Parks and Recreation Committee on Thursday.

During the discussion, Berea City Administrator Randy Stone unveiled a schematic of the tentative plan, which includes a dog park, a playground for children, restrooms, as well as a pavilion. The cost of the project has yet to be determined, city officials said.

The building site is located at what once was a wastewater treatment plant, located next to the Berea Country Club. Currently, the city has shared-use paths running along the property, stretching from Harrison Road to Short Line Pike. Stone noted developing that property would be very difficult, since the soil beneath the decommissioned plant is strewn with sewer pipes and other infrastructure.

Neighborhood residents questioned the need for the dog park, noting the property is already a de facto dog park, with several residents letting their dogs run without a leash. That is technically against the law, according to city ordinance.

Edward William Joseph FitzGerald Jr., 72

On October 21, surrounded by family and enveloped in their love, Edward William Joseph FitzGerald, Jr. left this world for the next. Loving father, devoted husband, amazing brother, fascinating uncle, faithful friend, mentor and stand-in parent to many Berea College students, beat poet, political and cultural commentator, shadow puppet creator, fossil hunter, collector of plants and animals, singer of many Irish ballads, and aficionado of port wine, Ed will live on in the hearts of all who knew him.

Born to Edward and Ruth FitzGerald on March 27, 1945, Ed's childhood years were lived in Bayside, Queens, New York. After college, Ed became International Student Advisor at St. Michaels College in Colchester, Vermont, where he created a spoken-word coffeehouse in Burlington known as "The Loft." Moving to Thailand to teach English at Krirk College and Thammasat University, Ed courted and married the love of his life, Nuchanas (Noi) Supmamak on January 9, 1972. Ed and Noi relocated to Berea in 1977, where he began a 20-year career as International Student Advisor and Head Resident of Dana Dormitory and Danforth Dormitory.

After retiring due to the increased physical impacts of multiple sclerosis, Ed and Noi relocated to Lexington, where they lived with daughter Marisa Aull (Chad), and granddaughter Isabella and infant grandson William, and near son Eamonn FitzGerald (Kate) and granddaughter Blythe. With the support and assistance of Chad, Eamonn, Marisa and Kate, and particularly the loving and devoted attention of Noi, Ed was able to stay at home during his final months. Ed lived to celebrate Noi becoming a naturalized U.S. Citizen in September, 2017, and to welcome his grandson William to this world. While the disease took his mobility and much of his breath, his whispered words remained pithy and wise to the end.

Ed is survived by his wife, Noi, daughter Marisa (Chad), son Eamonn (Kate), grandchildren Isabella and William Aull, Blythe FitzGerald (and soon to arrive baby boy FitzGerald), brothers Rick and Tom, and sisters Maureen and Jane, his best friend Ralph Thompson and many nephews, nieces, and friends who will hold his memory dear. Ed will be greatly missed.

The FitzGerald and Aull families wish to thank Hospice of Lexington (especially Tony) for their assistance during the final months of Ed's life.

A funeral mass will take place on Friday, October 27th at 10 a.m. at St. Clare's Catholic Church in Berea with a celebration of his life immediately following mass. In lieu of flowers, the family has suggested contributions be made to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society or Hospice of the Bluegrass.

Nancy Lamb VanWinkle, 80

loved camping, traveling to the beach and birdwatching. But most of all she loved being with Elwin and the boys and their families. Nancy was a member of the Providence Baptist Church in Irvine.

Other than her husband and parents she was preceded in death by a son, Darrell VanWinkle, a brother, Mason Glenmore Lamb, and two sisters, Janie Isaacs, and Cynthia Lamb.

Nancy is survived by her sons, Dale VanWinkle and his wife Reva, Jeff VanWinkle and his wife Janet both of Berea, and Billy VanWinkle and his wife Teri of Irvine, a brother Michael Lamb of Richmond, six grandchildren, April, Melissa, Amy, Barkley, Kara, and Matt.

Five great grandchildren, Andrew, Taylor, Caleb, Brent, and Chloe. A host of nieces, nephews, and friends also survive.

The family would like to express their sincere appreciation to Berea Health & Rehab for the care they provided Nancy.

Funeral services were Monday, October 23, 2017 at Davis & Powell Funeral Home with Rev. Wayne Miller officiating. Burial followed in the Berea Cemetery, pallbearers: Barkley VanWinkle, Matt VanWinkle, Andrew Miller, Caleb Abney, Jeremy Abney, and Lester Sparks. Honorary Pallbearers: April Abney, Melissa Sparks, Amy Abney, Kara VanWinkle, Taylor Alen, Brent Sparks, and Chloe Abney.

Gail Marie Cotter, 68

Gail "Gay" Marie Cotter, 68, ascended into Heaven on Friday, Oct. 20 at Hospice Compassionate Care Center in Richmond.

She was a successful businesswoman, but found her greatest joys in spending time and caring for her family. For decades, Gay showed deep compassion for others by providing hand-knitted clothes, blankets and winter wear, as well as food and necessities, to hundreds of people in need. She was especially drawn to caring for infants and children; most of her charitable works were donated anonymously.

Gay was preceded in death by her father, Michael Calderaro, Sr.

Eager to reunite with Gay are her husband, Robert "Bob", of 46 years; two daughters, Heather-Anne Simpson and Erin (Jim) Frost; and two handsome grandsons, Andrew (Maggie) Simpson and River Patrick Frost. Gay is also survived by a brother, Michael Calderaro, and mother, Jean, as well as numerous out of state relatives.

Visitation and Funeral Mass were Wednesday, October 25, 2017 at St. Mark Roman Catholic Church, Richmond with Fr. Tom Farrell officiating. Burial followed in the Berea Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the Galilean Children's Home of Liberty, Kentucky, GalileanHome.org, or to the Mercy Home for Boys and Girls of Chicago Illinois, MercyHome.org.

Pallbearers were: Glenn Kelly, Rollie Marshall, Mike Fitzsimmons, Brad O'Donnell, Dylan O'Donnell and John Robinson. Honorary Pallbearers: Andrew Simpson, Jim Frost, River Patrick Frost, Victor Calderaro, Zacarina Childers and Joe Poelstra.

Shakespeare said, "Though she be but little, she is fierce."

Combs, Parsons & Collins Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Glenna Charlotte Hayes, 69

Glenna Charlotte Hayes, 69, of Stamping Ground, died at her home Sunday, October 22, 2017 surrounded by her family following a long illness. She was a Wildie (Rockcastle County) native born August 22, 1948, daughter of the late Coleman and Shirley Mullins Burdette. Charlotte was a cook and bus driver for Roundstone School in Rockcastle County for many years. She enjoyed being outside, enjoying nature, riding ATV's with their son, helping to build their house in Stamping Ground, and making her home beautiful.

Charlotte is survived by her loving husband of 50 years, Thomas D. Hayes; son Shannon Hayes (Billie); siblings, Jack Burdette (Teri) and Ted Burdette; Coleman and Shirley Mullins Burdette. Charlotte was a cook and bus driver for Roundstone School in Rockcastle County for many years. She enjoyed being outside, enjoying nature, riding ATV's with their son, helping to build their house in Stamping Ground, and making her home beautiful.

Funeral Service was Wednesday, October 25, 2017 at Reppert Funeral Home and Cremation Service. Burial will follow in Maret Cemetery.

WE ARE IN THE TOP 10% IN THE NATION FOR PATIENT SAFETY AND THAT BEGINS WITH YOU.

Here are a few of the ways we implement best practices to make care safe:

-  YOU TELL US about your health, medicines you take, and what you need for continued healing after going home. We use this plan to provide the care you need and want.
-  We CLEAN HANDS to prevent infection in the hospital. Remind your caregivers and visitors—it's everyone's job.
-  WE DOUBLE CHECK IMPORTANT INFORMATION WITH YOU, like your name and date of birth. If you're having an operation, we ask you to participate in a "TIME OUT," a process to ensure everything is right: the right patient, the right procedure, and the right site!
-  We want you to FEEL COMFORTABLE SPEAKING UP if you have a question or concern about your care or any medicines you take. You are part of the team.
-  Your care team is happy to ANSWER YOUR QUESTIONS. When we don't know the answer, we find out and get back to you. We don't guess.

Known for hospitality and recognized for patient safety.

It's not just our focus on exceptional care that makes Baptist Health Richmond so unique. It's the confidence that comes from knowing that we are among the top 10% in the nation for our commitment to patient safety. When you or someone you love needs care, you can feel good knowing that Baptist Health Richmond has received the 2017 Healthgrades Excellence Award™ for Patient Safety. Proof that here, great patient care and safety go hand in hand.

That's care centered on you.

Americans are losing their roots

Dear Editor,

Americans are getting too far away from their roots and losing track of why we became an independent country in the first place.

Too many of them simply do not know, or care about their history.

All empires collapse. Even though technically the United States is not an empire, it is approaching the point where its demise might be near. The infighting that is going on nowadays among our citizens is not healthy.

We need to right the ship and get back to our roots, lest we go the way of the Greek, Roman, British and other empires.

Berea College students host vigil

Dear Editor,

Thursday, October 19, students from Berea College hosted a vigil as part of a National Day of Action. Survivors, parents, students, and allies gathered to oppose Sec. DeVos' rollback on civil rights enforcement and her unjust efforts to tip the scales of campus sexual assault adjudications in favor of perpetrators. The vigil is one of the many across the country as part of a National Vigil organized by End Rape on Campus, Women's March, It's On Us, PAVE and SurvJustice.

For months, students across the country have been writing open letters, posting online, and holding demonstrations to #StopBetsy. And over the last week, countless survivors spoke out online and in the media against sexual violence and harassment. Yet, at a time when we should be doubling down against campus sexual assault, Betsy DeVos and the Department of Education have rolled back protections for survivors. Because the highest levels of our government refuse to protect survivors, we are calling on Berea College to uphold previously issued best practices and to protect survivors on campus.

Concerned about pension reform

Dear Editor,

I am deeply concerned about the pension reform framework recently made public.

These proposals challenge the contract rights of members, lower the standard of living of employees now and in retirement, and will worsen the cash-flow crisis in the state employee pension plan.

A state Supreme Court justice recently questioned the legality of freezing participation in the judicial pension plan at 27 years. We share the same concern for Kentucky Retirement Systems members whose benefits also are covered by an inviolable contract. The framework imposes a new 3 percent employee contribution to help fund health insurance expenses. State workers already are underpaid and losing ground every year. Moreover, the KRS health insurance trust funds are a fiscal bright spot with improving cash flow and dramatically increasing funding ratios.

Finally, the conversion to a 401(k)-style plan will divert contributions from new employees from KRS to Wall Street. The legacy plans will still have to pay down the existing unfunded liabilities even as they are closed.

Yes, pensions must be addressed. The legislature failed in its duty to adequately fund pensions, with an inevitable result. We look forward to a vigorous discussion of revenue sources that address pension funding without betraying the promise to workers and retirees.

Jim Carroll
President, Kentucky
Government Retirees

Also concerned about pension reform

Dear Editor,

"Keeping the Promise," our plan to save Kentucky's pension systems, keeps the promise made to Kentucky's current employees while also meeting the legal and moral obligations we owe to those who have already retired. Promises made are promises kept.

Make no mistake: there will be no changes, clawbacks or reductions to the paychecks of current retirees, and there will be protections for healthcare benefits. That is a promise you can literally take to the bank.

This legislature is committed to solving the pension crisis, and is ready to lead by example. Our pension legislation immediately stops the defined benefits plan for all legislators, moving them into the same plan as other state employees under the jurisdiction of the KRS Board. Future elected officials will be required by law to pay the full ARC amount, creating a new funding formula that mandates hundreds of millions more every year into every retirement plan, until they are fully funded.

Looking to the future, the defined benefit plans of current employees and teachers will continue until they reach the promised level of service for their pension, with no increase to the retirement age. As new non-hazardous employees and teachers enter the workforce, they will be enrolled in a defined contribution retirement plan that provides comparable or better retirement benefits. Hazardous employees will continue in the same plan they are in now. We are also closing the loophole that has prevented the payment of death benefits for the families of hazardous employees.

"Keeping the Promise" will improve the Commonwealth's rating with credit agencies. These ratings have steadily declined in recent years specifically due to our unfunded pension burdens.

The right thing to do is often difficult, but we are determined to fix the pension problem. We are doing it in a way that will be of the most benefit to all Kentuckians. This is the most comprehensive and fiscally responsible pension reform plan in the history of the United States. We are confident that the rest of the country will pay close attention to this solution and that it will serve as a prudent model for others to follow.

For those retired, for those working, and for those yet to be hired: we are truly fixing our broken pension systems.

United we stand.
Divided we fall.

Gov. Matt Bevin,
Senate President Robert Stivers, and Speaker of the House Jeff Hoover

William Lindsay Rose, 82

41st TAC Recon Squadron, and a retired employee of Ajax Magnathermic. He was a faithful and dedicated church member and had served as Deacon, Trustee, Sunday School Superintendent, Sunday School teacher and choir member. He was currently a member of Knob Lick Baptist Church. Lindsay was a farmer, property owner and had been a resident of Estill County most his life. He is dearly missed by his family and friends.

Survivors include his loving and devoted wife of 58 years Norma Rhea Deaton Rose; 3 daughters, Patricia Ann Cox (Rick), Pamela Lynn Harris (Scott), Paula Rhea Floyd (Glenn); 5 grandchildren, Ashleigh Perry (Dale), Ryan Cox (Bethany), Kyle Cox, John Michael King (Kayla) and Alex Harris; 2 great-grandchildren, Declan Perry, Blakely King; one sister, Lillie Rose Todd. Lindsay is preceded in death by his parents and 9 siblings, Leonard Rose, Cynthia Adams, Roy Rose, Christine Harris, Chester Rose, Elva Rose, Herbert Rose, Rufus Rose and Freda Ramsey.

Funeral Service was Monday, October 23, 2017 with Dale Perry and Paul Bicknell officiating. Burial followed in Berea Cemetery with full Military Honors. Pallbearers were Ashleigh Perry, Michael Deaton, Kyle Cox, Ryan Cox, Michael King, Alex Harris. Honorary Pallbearer was Bruce Chrisman.

Reppert Funeral Home and Cremation Service entrusted with arrangements.

Gloria Faye Eden, 66

Ms. Gloria Faye Eden, 66, of Berea, died Friday, Oct. 20, 2017 at her home. She was born in Berea on Jan. 12, 1951 the daughter of William Carlos and Hazel Marie Wells Eden. She was a homemaker and was of the Holiness Faith. She was an avid Elvis Presley fan and enjoyed spending time with her grandchildren and watching westerns on television.

She is survived by three sons, Thomas and Laura Kidwell of Berea, Carlos and Lorna Kidwell of Greensburg, IN, and Kenneth and Loretta Kidwell of Waco; a daughter, Donna Rogers of Berea; five sisters, Brenda Foster, Judy Wells, Shirley Todd, Teresa Bowman, and Patricia Ramos, all of Berea; eleven grandchildren, T.J. Kidwell, Ethan Kidwell, Carlos Kidwell, Jr., Muncie Kidwell, Katie Kidwell, Megan Kidwell, Josh Kidwell, Lauren Kidwell, Andrew Rogers, James Rogers, and Misty Rogers; and four great grandchildren, Evelyn Cullen, Iris Kidwell, Andrew Rogers, and John Edward Dale Richards, Jr. She was preceded in death by two brothers, William Orvil Eden and Douglas Bradford Wells; and a half-brother, Billy Ray Eden.

Funeral services for Ms. Eden were conducted at noon on Monday, October 23, 2017 at the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home Chapel. Burial followed in the Creech Cemetery in Berea.

Pallbearers were Charles Foster, John Gibson, Bill McKinney, Calvin McQueen, Thomas Todd and Elden Powell.

Honorary Pallbearers were Billy Short, Natasha McQueen and Ethan Kidwell.

Please visit www.DowellMartin.com or Dowell & Martin Funeral Home's Facebook® page to view Ms. Eden's online obituary.

under the current plan, animals would not be admitted to the dog park unless the owner could provide proof their dog was vaccinated and that their animal was spayed or neutered, according to Berea City Councilman Billy Wooten. Additionally, Councilman Tom Schultz said a dog waste ordinance will be crafted, requiring pet owners to clean up after their dogs. Schultz said council members would pursue that ordinance whether or not there is a dog park.

Residents remained unconvinced, however, questioning how the city can enforce new regulations when the leash law is routinely unenforced. At that point, however, Wooten stated that the construction of a dog park would be dependent on finding workable enforcement solutions. "If we can't find an enforcement mechanism, we won't build a park," Wooten said.

Other residents raised the possibility of city liability. Robert Johnson, speaking on behalf of the Berea Country Club, said golf balls from the course's 4th hole are often hit on to the property where the proposed dog park site would be situated. Unless the city erects a tall mesh fence, the risk of people or animals being struck by golf balls would remain, according to Johnson.

Both Wooten and Schultz asked residents what kind of project they would find acceptable, since none so far had met with approval from residents. Wooten said, for example, that by just leaving the space undeveloped, nearby homeowners are benefiting from a taxpayer subsidized green space, which is essentially an extension of their back yards. He followed up by asking whether residents would be interested in buying the property if the city designated it as surplus property. "We'd buy it if the price wasn't stupid," replied Berea resident Muse Watson.

Work on the dog park concept began in January in a class taught by Wooten at Berea College. Both Wooten and Schultz asserted that voters expressed a strong desire for a dog park during the 2016 city council campaign.

healthcare.

"We can help those folks and make them able to afford their medications and/or get them into a healthcare provider and keep them out of the emergency rooms," Johnson said.

Diabetes affects 81.4 million Americans and can lead to things such as blindness, amputation and kidney failure to name a few.

"Help us spread the word about World Diabetes Day and what we're doing for the Madison County Diabetes Coalition," she said.

In other business:

- Madison County's Emergency 911 Dispatch Office was one of only 12 in the state to receive the Kentucky Law Enforcement E911 Accreditation Award from the Kentucky Police Chief Association.

E911 Director Wendy Lynch accepted the certificate of accreditation, and thanked all of her supervisors and staff for helping achieve the goal.

- The court voted to approve the land-use change of 2.06 acres at 4102 Simpson Lane from Urban Corridor Interstate Commercial to Urban Corridor Residential.

- A land-use change of 1.776 acres at 156 Skyline Drive was approved, changing from Urban Corridor Industrial to Urban Corridor General Commercial.

- Information Technology Agreements were made between the county and its EMS department, as well as with the Madison County Utility District, the Southern Madison County Water District, the Madison County Sheriff's Office and the Property Valuation Administrator.

- The court approved three hires for the Madison County Fire Department: Eric Kurn and Charles Moore, both having the rank of Firefighter I and starting at $7.25 an hour, and Ricky George was hired to serve as Firefighter II at $7.50 an hour.

- Dwayne Bogie of the Madison County Road Department was promoted to the position of assistant foreman.

- Phillip Seyfrit, parks and historic properties director, announced the beginning of Operation Stars and Stripes. Community members are being asked to simply buy a box of Christmas cards, write a "Thank You" to U.S. troops, and return the cards to Seyfrit.

"Last year, we sent out 1,500 Christmas cards," Seyfrit said. Those wishing to participate can call 624-0013 for more information.

Seyfrit also announced there will be a memorial unveiling of the 1972 plane crash that killed 11 men. The unveiling will be at noon Friday, Nov. 17, which is the 45th anniversary of the crash that killed

Charles C. Shackelford, Ben Robinson, Roy R. Watson, James A. House, David Gooslin, Joe Hunter, Hugh F. Robbins, J.D. Frankenberger, Maurice Mundy, George Vernon and pilot Larry McDermott of Elizabethtown. The chartered plane crashed shortly after taking off to far western Kentucky for a Madison High School football game against Trigg County.

Lastly, Santa Claus will return to the Battlefield Park from 2-4 p.m. Nov. 19. This will be an opportunity for children and families to get their picture taken with Santa early enough so that the picture can be used on Christmas cards, he said.

The next meeting of the Madison Fiscal Court is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on Nov. 14 at the Berea Police and Municipal Building.

The Parks and Recreation Committee of Berea City Council would like to gauge whether the City of Berea could sustain a movie theater, by running a pilot program where we offer movie screenings throughout the year.

The following survey link asks six quick questions. We will use the results to determine if we have support to start the pilot program.

If the pilot program occurs, we will turn the data from the screenings over to the Economic Development Committee to share with potential theater companies.

DIRECTIONS: From I-75, exit 87, take Hwy 876 West/Barnes Mill Rd. approximately 7 8/10 miles to the property. Auctions signs are posted.

MULTI-PARCEL AUCTION: The property will be offered in tracts utilizing the multi-parcel method and selling in the manner that reflects the best returns for the sellers. This concept gives each and every prospective buyer the ability to purchase his or her individual tract or combination.

TRACT 1: consists of 73 acres more or less by boundary. This tract has land for hay, pasture land and woodland. It has blacktop road frontage along Turner Ridge Rd., as well as frontage on Dry Branch Rd. There is city water available and has 2 ponds for stock water. This tract is improved w/ a frame house that is presently rented. The house has a living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and a bath. In addition to the house, this tract has 2 older barns. This tract offers several nice home sites and would make an ideal cattle farm.

TRACT 2: consists of 27 acres more or less by the boundary. This tract also offers hay and pasture land, as well as some woodland. It has blacktop frontage on Poosey Ridge Road, Dry Branch Road and Turner Ridge Road. This tract has city water available and stock water is supplied by 1 pond. This tract is improved w/ an older house in need of repairs. It has a living room, 2 bedrooms, and a bath.

NOTE: The purchaser of a single-family residence built before 1978 has a maximum of 10 days to inspect the property of lead-based paint. The period for inspection begins October 18th through October 27th. The successful bidder must sign a waiver of the 10-day post sale inspection period.

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE: When combined, there is a total of 100 acres by the boundary with an abundance of road frontage. Only minutes from Richmond, here is an opportunity to purchase that tract of land you always wanted at your own price.

BUYER'S PREMIUM: A 10% Buyer's Premium will be added to the winning bid to determine the final sales price.

TERMS: 20% down due day of sale with balance in 30 days.

Announcements made day of sale take precedence over printed material.

Contact Number: (858)986-8446

To the Kentucky Board of Education, Frankfort, KY:

In Compliance with Kentucky Revised Statutes and the regulations of the Kentucky Board of Education, we, the board of education of the above named school district, hereby submit for your approval the following tax rates levied on 08/22/2017.

For rates that exceeded compensating and HB 940 tax rates, the notice and hearing requirements of KRS 160.470(7)(b) "...published at least twice for two (2) consecutive weeks, in the newspaper of largest circulation in the county...the public hearing which shall be held not less than seven (7) days nor more than ten (10) days after the day that the second advertisement is published;" have been met.

An advertisement was placed in the Richmond Register newspaper on 08/07/2017 (date of first advertisement) and 08/13/2017 (date of second advertisement).

The public hearing was held on 08/21/2017.

For rates subject to recall, an additional advertisement was made on within 7 days of the hearing as required by KRS 160.470(8). Once the forty-five (45) days have passed since the rate was levied, we will send notification of whether a valid petition was presented. If a valid petition was presented, we will indicate whether we intend to place the issue before the voters for approval.

If advertisement was required, the rates levied do not exceed the proposed rates advertised.

Kenton Davis often used mules and horses to plow. "I treated them like they were people. They were my friends," he said.

and Lisa, would help him when they were not working, but eventually, Davis let go of the cattle.

"I missed them and I still miss them, but you have to do what you have to do. When I had cattle, I treated them like they were people. They were my friends."

Prior to the modernization of farming, the philosophy of "whatever works" was mostly used.

"We would stick tobacco on a hook and a man at the barn would have a rope with a ring on it, and he would catch it as it ran down to the barn to keep from bruising (the tobacco leaves) and knocking the leaves off."

The idea of farming to make a profit was mostly unheard of during Davis' childhood.

"Either you did it, or you went hungry," he said. "After I got my own family, I had to provide for them. I had good help. My wife was right there with me every step of the way."

Even though Davis cherishes the culture of primitive farming, he has nothing against modern-day ways, but says they may cause some farmers to lose sight of what it truly means to be a farmer.

"With all of this modern equipment, people just run the fire out of it and when it tears up, they run out and get a new piece of equipment. We just patched things up and made do with what we had."

His advice to new farmers is simple - "They need to love what they do, and put their whole being into it," he said.

Another aspect of farming that may be lost, according to Davis, is the importance of work ethic and pride.

"You can't hardly hire anybody who takes any pride in what they do on the farm," he said. "When I grew up, and when my boys grew up, there wasn't any trouble getting help. Now, people will laugh at you if you try to get them to work on a farm."

The primitive way of farming was rich in character and life-lessons, he said.

"It made me independent and you had to make your own decisions. Most of the time, when you went out to plow, there wouldn't be anybody with you but yourself and a mule or a horse, and you had to figure out how to do things yourself. I think it made me enjoy nature and the things the Lord put on this earth. I don't think you can be taught a work ethic. I think you have to just grow up with it. I know you have to have money to survive, but I think you also should enjoy what you do and be satisfied with your lot in life."

MACED Director speaks to Berea Rotary Club

Peter Hille, Executive Director of MACED, spoke to the Berea Rotary concerning the functions and strategies of the organization. MACED, is an acronym for Mountain Association of Community Economic Development.

Hille explained the global shift in the economy as well as the effect of the coal industries being replaced by natural gas. Such changes call for a transition model, which he shared as a model with gears. These gears represent the dynamic relationship between an entrepreneurial ecosystem, enterprises, and markets. Each one should help stimulate and support the other.

To engage the members he asked questions concerning the nature of assets regarding money coming into a community and money leaving a community. He mentioned the economic revival of Tupelo, Mississippi due to the development of a strong tourism and hospitality sector. The seed of that success was in the strategy of the townspeople who sat down together and worked together.

Hille showed the club the Tupelo model which is a pyramid of realization from human development building up through leadership, organizational and community to economic development.

MACED specializes in loans to enterprises that create jobs, diversify local economics, or provide critical community services in Central Appalachia. The funding for this is derived from various commissions, partnerships, and alliances, such as Appalachian Regional Commission.

Rotary is a non-profit service organization that meets at noon each Tuesday at The Artisan Center.

BCES Students show their appreciation to bus drivers

By Ronica Shannon
for the Citizen

Students at Berea Community Elementary School greeted bus driver Vernon Abney with high fives and handmade signs for Bus Driver Appreciation Day. The bus drivers were treated to a special breakfast at the school.

Abney has been a bus driver for three years and loves having daily interaction with the kids, he said.

"I enjoy seeing their smiling faces every morning," said Frank Lindsey, who has been a bus driver for four years. "I love to watch them grow and learn. I have one that was in kindergarten when I started, and now he's in fourth grade."

Bus driver and trainer David Mathis has been driving since 2006 and training since 2008. He said one of the biggest safety hazards is when drivers refuse to yield to the STOP arm.

"It happens every day," he said. He asked that all drivers look out for buses with STOP arms out, and watch for the children getting on and off the bus.

Word From Berea Streets

"What is the best thing about attending a local family reunion?"

Barbara Coffey, Concord, N.C. - "I get to visit with family, I'm getting all these hugs, and I get good food to enjoy."

Debbie Banks, Berea - "I get to see family I haven't seen in years and meet some I've never met before. I'm having to remember and learn new names."

Ray Banks - "Getting to see all the family and friends, and I like all this food, too."
