Adopt Some Ducks

Win up to $25,000 Bucks at the First MadRock Duck Derby

By Marisa Hempel
Citizen Reporter

The cities of Berea and Livingston have come together to create an event that promises to make quite a splash. As many as 1500 rubber duckies will race to the finish in the first ever MadRock Duck Derby which will take place on Saturday.

The economic partnership between the Berea Chamber of Commerce and the nearby city of Livingston, Kentucky began as a mere brainstorm back in the spring. President of the Chamber of Commerce Jennifer Napier was dreaming up ways to fund the annual geocaching event in Berea, which is best described as a GPS-driven scavenger hunt. The idea came to mind to drop a bunch of rubber ducks into a flowing body of water and the owner of the first duck (each marked with numbers) to cross the finish line would win a prize. But where to dump the ducks?

"My first thought was Silver Creek in Berea," explains Jennifer. "I did a trial run, throwing a bunch of ducks in the water, and they seemed to be ready to race. We made up the fliers, launched some press for the event, everything was set. I did one last test in July, but the ducks didn't budge! There was clearly not enough water in the creek. So I had to look for a guaranteed source of water in Berea."

Jennifer was unable to find a large enough water source in Madison County, so she looked to the south. Rockcastle County and the city of Livingston offered viable options, and the town had even done a mini duck derby themselves in earlier years. Livingston needed tourism and revenue even more so than Berea, so Jennifer delivered her marketing know-how to combine with Livingston's previous experience. The goal was to begin a unique annual event as a combined effort between the two cities. The ducks are sure to race down the Rockcastle River, paving a way to fund future events for both areas.

"Not only will this benefit Berea as we do not have the extra reve-

Linda Wendt and Jennifer Napier (members of the Duck Derby Committee) are entering duck adoptions into a computer and numbering ducks for Saturday's race. Napier says ducks are still available although they are going fast, "Steve Carter of Lee's has purchased ducks for each of his employees and has issued a challenge for others to do the same." City Exploring Fuel Options

City Administrator Randy Stone, reported to Council Tuesday evening that the city is exploring options for moving its fueling station which is currently located at Fire Station 2 on Glades Road. City employees, the Berea Volunteer Fire Department and the ambulance service all use it. The Ambulance service pays for the cost of the fuel they use. Stone indicated that the fueling station needs to be moved to the city facility on Harrison Road. He said now is a good time to look at a move since the card readers and dispensers are not working well and will have to be replaced soon. The city is currently in negotiations with Riley Oil, their fuel supplier. Councilman Jerry Little asked if there would be a bidding process and Stone said he was looking at costs.

Stone also reported that Pricilla Bloom, Berea Parks

Gay-Stevens Precinct Goes Wetter

Tuesday's special local option election in the Gay-Stevens precinct did not generate much interest from electorate. Amy Gregory from the Madison County Clerk's office said the turnout was only 4.6 percent. Of the 1730 registered voters 79 showed up at the polling place in the Russel Acton Folk Center.

The question on the ballot was, "Are you in favor of the sale of alcoholic beverages by the drink at qualified historic sites in the Gay-Stevens precinct?" The option passed with 57 votes yes and 22 no.

KGAC 55TH ANNUAL FALL FAIR THIS WEEKEND

By Marisa Hempel
Citizen Reporter

A time-honored tradition will continue this weekend as the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen holds their annual fall fair. The 55th continuous year of the event promises to be an extraordinary anniversary celebration since the inception of the guild in 1961. Guild members and guest artists from across the state will have demonstrations constantly going at all times during the fest, showcasing all types of the visual arts.

Jeannette Rowlett, the Executive Director of the KGAC, is proud to announce the special anniversary year of the festival. "The Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen was the first state-wide art organization in Kentucky. What was once a movement inside two train cars to push art all over the state has grown into something so much greater," she describes. "With the fair, we provide a platform for all those artists to come together to produce art on the spot for everyone to watch as well as sell their creations."

Rowlett explains that this festival will continue at the beautiful Indian Fort Theater in Berea. Witnessing the location with the turning trees alone, the fair is a sight to behold. Combined with the live music from artists such as Steve Johnson and Timothy Baker from Lexington, as well as some hometown favorites, there

County Seeks Public Input

Sixty-five residents from Berea, Richmond and Madison County attended the first of two strategic planning sessions designed to get public input on the direction of the county's future on Monday at the Madison County EOC. A second meeting is scheduled to take place in Berea at the Russel Acton Folk Center next Tuesday evening, October 11. The meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m.,

According to Deputy Judge Executive Colleen Chaney, Judge Taylor and the Madison County Fiscal Court want the Comprehensive Plan to be an active working document and not just facts and figures to satisfy state law.

In Loving Memory of
March 3, 1961
to September 7, 2016

We would like to thank all our friends and family for their support in this time of sadness.

James and Barbara McNew

The son of James and Barbara McNew, Claude was a Berea, Kentucky native who graduated from Berea Community School and Eastern Kentucky University. He was a resident of Escondido, California. He was married to the former Pamela Wooten.

A decorated U.S. Navy veteran and pilot of an F-14 Tomcat Fighter Jet, Claude received his Navy "Wings of Gold" in 1987. At that time his Commander wrote to his parents, "The history of Naval Aviation is a glorious one. Its honored place in the service of this great country is a source of great pride to all Americans. The designation ceremony for each Naval Aviator represents a formal certification that he is fully qualified to continue this proud heritage in the new horizons of our ever-changing Navy. Naval aviation membership by the very nature of its demanding skill, has been limited to an elite group of the finest young men and women of our country. We are justifiably proud of your son, for in addition to meeting the highest physical, mental and moral standards, he has demonstrated the determination, competitiveness, motivation and leadership qualities so necessary for a Naval Aviator."

After his Navy career Claude went to work for United Airlines as Captain of a Boeing 767 passenger jet. He will be forever missed.

BEREA POLICE REPORTS

Fugitive from Another State

On September 28 officers were called to the Red Roof Inn in reference to a suspicious person in the parking lot. They located the subject and discovered that he was a wanted person out of Indiana. Officers arrested 36 year old Curtis Jackson of Berea and charged him with Fugitive from Another State.

Drug Arrest

On September 30 officers were called to Circle K on Chestnut Street in reference to possible drug activity. They located a male subject passed out in a vehicle and a female standing near the vehicle. The male subject was in possession of a spoon and a small amount of suspected Heroin. The female had several needles, one of which was loaded with suspected Heroin. Officers arrested 26 year old Mary Clemmons of Berea KY and 38 year old Asa Johnson of Berea Ky. They were both charged with Possession of Controlled Substance 1st Degree (Heroin) and Drug Paraphernalia Possession. Johnson was also charged with Public Intoxication.

DUI Arrests

On September 30 officers were called to Walgreen in reference to a possible impaired driver that pulled in the parking lot. As the officer pulled in the parking lot, the vehicle rear ended another vehicle in the drive thru. The driver of the vehicle showed signs of impairment and was placed under arrest. Officers charged 50 year old Kevin Locker of Berea KY with Operating a Motor Vehicle Under the Influence 1st Offense.

On October 2 officers were called to Trevor Drive in reference to a motor vehicle collision. The driver of the vehicle showed several signs of impairment after the officers made contact with him. Officers arrested 29 year old Benny Biggs of Richmond KY and charged him with Operating a Motor Vehicle Under the Influence 1st Offense.

Man Arrested After Holding Berea Resident at Gunpoint

James Allen Slone was arrested by the Madison County Sheriff's Department on Sunday morning after police say he held a homeowner off Slate Lick Road at gunpoint.

According to the arrest record from the Madison County Detention Center Slone is facing felony charges of 1st Degree burglary, 1st Degree robbery, kidnapping of an adult and 2 counts of 1st Degree wanton endangerment.

Reports say Slone broke into the home on Slate Lick Road in the wee hours of Sunday morning and stole several firearms. The homeowners reported that when they arrived home they noticed the firearms were missing. They subsequently discovered Slone had been hiding in the house. When he came out armed, two of the residents were able to escape and call for help while another person was left inside with Slone. He is being held in the Madison County Detention Center.

Berea's Fall Clean-Up Set for October 17-21

The City of Berea and Poff Carting will be conducting the annual fall clean-up event during the week of October 17-21. For residents living within Berea city limits, crews will collect a pick-up truck sized load of trash that is bagged or boxed, and it must be at the curbside by 6 a.m. on your normal garbage collection day.

Those who have bulk items for pick-up but are unsure if it is eligible for the fall clean-up event should call Poff Carting in advance at (877) 288-2981 or (606) 877-7760 to schedule a pick-up date. Collection of those items is free as long as it occurs on your regular trash pick-up day, however, there is a $25 charge to schedule an alternate date.

For a small fee, crews will pick up appliances and furniture including:
 Appliances (white goods)$14;
 Stuffed Chairs.....$8.50;
 Couches and Loveseats.....$14;
 Non-Stuffed Chairs.....$7;
 Carpeting.....$12 per room;
 Fencing and Wire.....$2.25 per foot.
 All appliances that use Freon must include a certificate that the Freon has been removed by a certified technician. This includes refrigerators, dehumidifiers, air conditioners and freezers. If Freon-using appliances are left for pick-up without a Freon removal certificate, the customer will be charged $50.

The fall clean-up event will coincide with the Berea Public Works Department's brush pick up, which occurs the third week of every month. Limbs and brush should be stacked off of sidewalks alongside the street, while compost materials, such as grass clippings or wood, should be kept separate from normal garbage or trash.

Residents needing to discard tires should contact the Madison County Solid Waste Department at (859) 624-4709.

Public Works Director Dwayne Brumley notes that participating in the fall clean-up and brush collection is an important way residents can keep their neighborhoods looking good while helping to protect the environment.

We Urge You to View Film

Dear Editor,

We recently viewed the excellent documentary by Ben Evans, "Nerve: How a Small Kentucky Town Led the Fight to Safely Dismantle the World's Chemical Weapons." In just under an hour, the film reminds us of the incredible dedication and courage of local leaders, elected representatives, and ordinary citizens who carried on for over 30 years to safeguard our community from the risks of incineration of chemical agents stored at the Blue Grass Depot.

Our hats are off to Craig Williams in particular, but also to all the folks who spent hours educating themselves and our political leaders about why a better solution had to be found. They made an incredible difference to the future of our county and our children.

Copies of the DVD may be purchased at the Kentucky Environmental Foundation here in town. We urge all residents of Madison County to view the film and share it with others.

Consider the Issues Before You Vote

Dear Editor,

Well, Berea, we own at least 57+ pieces of property, of which about 17 lie undeveloped in the industrial park. We have retention ponds, dozens of acres of "park" land that is undeveloped, unused lots, and utility farms. There may be more than that—we just got tired of looking for them all.

Berea has subsidized "efforts" like the rental of the lot at the corner of Adams and Grant Streets, that cost taxpayers $42,000+ to purchase & improve, but it is rented to the Berea Urban Farm for $1 year. That's a sweet deal!

Perhaps you didn't know Berea Tourism has 5 artists hired at Gallery 123 (the Artists Accelerator Program) & Berea Tourism pays them $1200 a month each, & furnishes for them the building rent & their utilities. In return, a portion of their sales goes to help offset costs. But, the program has made a profit in only two months in its almost 3 years of existence & it has cost Berea Tourism about $900,000 or more since its inception. That's your 3% restaurant taxes and the hotel tax at work, Berea.

Plans are, If the upcoming vote in the Gay-Stephens precinct goes wet, that Berea Tourism will be paying to renovate the L & N Depot Building, again, (2nd time since 2007) & rent it out for pennies on the dollar to a "Farm to Fork" restaurant. Interestingly enough, there are three restaurants just a few blocks away who have ponied up their own funds and have only been open a few months. They didn't get a sweet rent deal, and will now have to compete with the Depot restaurant for patrons at a disadvantage. That's some nice economic development planning there—and a stab in the back to the three other businesses.

Maybe you aren't aware that Berea missed recruiting a sizable factory (about 400 jobs when in full swing) locating here to build auto parts in the 2014-15 time frame. And we missed out because our industrial park looks like and is actually—a working farm. 400 Bereans missed out on having the American Dream, we lost the tax revenue, and not one thing has changed out there.

I'll bet you don't know that we have a 12+ acre "park" with a pond full of fish lying undeveloped, along with another spot designated a "park" of 3+ acres in a midtown neighborhood that could be a great spot for tennis & basketball courts or a dog park. We mow it, but we don't use it!

Maybe you've had trouble negotiating the revamped Forest Street/Estill Street intersection—all narrowed up, convoluted and another failure. Traffic can barely negotiate that corner now—again, your tax $$$ at work.

We vote on a new city council in 4 weeks. Please study the "Voters Guide" published by the Berea Moderates in the Berea Citizen in the 2 editions prior to the election. And consider the issues I have discussed before you vote.

Thanks,
Randy Coffey

Disagree Without Being Disagreeable

Dear Editor,

During the past few weeks several letters have been written which were directed at the Mayor, the City Manager and the commissioners. Some letters were tongue-in-cheek at the best or sarcastic and demeaning at the worst. I am very uncomfortable with this attitude. It does not speak well of the citizens of Berea. We do not have to agree with our leaders but we also do not have to be disagreeable. I believe we, as citizens, have every right to disagree and to ask that our disagreements be addressed, perhaps not to our satisfaction but we have the right to ask that it happen. It is my fervent hope that I have not cast sarcastic or demeaning remarks toward Mr. Connelly or Mr. Rowlette. If I have I am extremely sorry.

However, I personally do not agree with what happened between the Mayor and Mr. David Rowlette and the Chamber of Commerce. I disagree strongly with the resulting canceling of the Spoonbread Festival and have said as much in this paper more than once. BUT I still like and respect Mr. Connelly and Mr. Rowlette. And since I do not agree with the decision to cancel the festival, I plan to continue to write letters to the editor expressing my expectation that the Mayor and the Chamber sit down and negotiate a compromise that will bring the Spoonbread Festival back to Berea in 2017. Nothing less will be acceptable to me.

Sincerely,
Will Bondurant

Berea Poets To Present "Balance of Five: Moments We Wait For" on Oct. 12

In a program titled "Balance of Five: Moments We Wait For," five Berea poets will read and discuss their poems from their recently-published poetry collection, Balance of Five. The reading will take place Wednesday, Oct. 12, noon-1 p.m. at the Loyal Jones Appalachian Center on the Berea College campus.

The event is part of the Dinner on the Grounds series sponsored by LJAC. A light lunch will be provided.

Poets who will read include Vicky Hayes, Libby Falk Jones, Tina Parker, Dorothy Hopkins Schnare, and Barbara Wade. Ranging in age across four decades, these women mine inner and outer landscapes, singing of family, place, loving life, living with loss.

"Elegantly exploring the tension between the mystical and practical, the imaginative space between contradictions, the poems in this collection Balance of Five are a collective meditation," writes author bell hooks in the book's foreword.

Of her work, Vicky Hayes remarks, "I am a fiction writer and poet who loves visual art; my writing is influenced by film and painting." Libby Falk Jones says that her poems are strongly of family, of words and wordplay, and of place, especially the mountains and lakes, woods and roads of Ap-palachia. Tina Parker notes that her poetry explores what it means to be a woman in all its aspects. Dorothy Hopkins Schnare says about her poems, "I am moved by myth, my own moodiness and music." Barbara Wade remarks that she is drawn to lyrical poetry and that her writing is a form of contemplation, a reminder to be awake, a source of joy.

Books will be available for purchase and signing by the poets. The program is sponsored by the Loyal Jones Appalachian Center and the English Program.

BOOK/MEDIA SALE

- Book/Media Sale Drop Off - CPO area, Woods-Penn
- Book/Media Sale Drop Off - Saturday, October 8, 9:00 a.m. - noon
- Book/Media Sale - Tuesday, October 11, 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. & Wednesday, October 12, 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

AAUW is collecting books: fiction, non-fiction, CDs, DVDs, board games, magazines and videos to be sold Tuesday, October 11 and Wednesday, October 12.

Collect any media materials that you wish to donate to AAUW for sale to students and citizens of Berea and surrounding areas and bring them for drop off on Saturday, October 8.

All proceeds from the BOOK SALE go towards women's scholarships. In February 2017, AAUW will inform high schools of the availability of scholarships for graduating high school seniors and a non-traditional Berea College student.

AAUW advances equity for women and girls through advocacy, education and research. For information about becoming a member of AAUW or the BOOK/MEDIA SALE, call (859) 623-5832, or email cecilel@roadrunner.com.

CITY OF BEREA FALL CLEAN-UP

RESIDENTS OF THE CITY OF BEREA

The City of Berea and Poff Carting will hold FALL CLEAN-UP within the city limits of Berea, the week of October 17-21 2015. The clean-up will coincide with your normal garbage pickup. The collection crews will remove a normal pick-up truck load on your scheduled day. Items for collection must be placed at curbside by 6:00 am on the day of your pickup. If you have bulk items other than bagged waste or boxed items to be collected, you will need to call the Poff Carting office to schedule a pickup date.

If you should require a pickup other than your scheduled day and time, that service will be provided at the rate of $25.00 per request, not to exceed a legal pick-up load. All refuse must be placed in plastic bags or containers. Compost materials (wood, grass clipping, etc.) must be kept separate from normal garbage or trash. Larger limbs must be stacked in neat piles at the curb with all limbs facing the same direction. Small limbs and twigs must be placed in securely tied bundles or in plastic bags. Used appliances and furniture will be collected and charged at Poff Carting's scheduled rates as listed below:

Appliances (White Goods)	$12.81
Stuffed Chairs	$7.69
Couches and Love Seats	$12.81
Non-Stuffed Chairs	$6.41
Carpeting	$10.00 per room
Fencing and Wire	$2.00 per foot

ALL APPLIANCES THAT USE FREON must have a certificate that this liquid has been removed by a certified technician or Poff Carting will charge $45.00 for the following items: Refrigerators, Dehumidifiers, Air Conditioners, and Freezers. All bulky items will be picked up the same day as your normal pickup. These items must be placed at the curb at the same time as all other materials.

If you have any questions, please call 1-877-288-2981 or 606-877-7760.

ESTATE AUCTION

SAT OCT. 8, 2016 10:00 A.M.

227 +/- acre Farm with 2 bedroom, brick home
Will be sold in 2 Tracts, Reserving the right to group & Hand Tools

Open House

Sunday
Oct 2, 2016
2:00-4:00 pm

262 Lost Fork Road, Madison Co., KY

Directions from Richmond, Kentucky, take Red House Road (HWY 388) approx. 4 to Red House; turn left onto Lost Fork Road, travel .5 mile, the farm will be on your right, signs will be posted.

We will be offering this nice farm and home for auction on the above date and time. This nice farm will be sold in 2 tracts, and reserving the right to group as a whole.

Very seldom do you have a chance to purchase a large farm at your own price. The farm was divided into adjoining tracts years ago. Tract 1 containing 124.22 +/- acres, has a large pond, with an entrance off of Black Road. Tract 2 containing 103 3/4 +/- acres has a nice brick home that was built in 2005, along with other improvements including a 112 x 54 barn, small tool shed, and 3 ponds.

This lovely home has an open floor plan, on the first floor there is 2 bedrooms; 1 bath; living room; kitchen with appliances and island; utility room with washer & dryer hookup; and sun room. Downstairs is a walkout basement; 1 bath; and 3 rooms that are mostly finished. The home has tile and carpet throughout, central vacuum system and central heat & air.

Outside of the house is a large fenced in yard with lots of shade trees, a nice concrete patio outside the basement with a gorgeous view of the farm.

This is a cattle or horseman's dream to have an opportunity to purchase a farm of this caliber, with good fencing and in good grasses. The farm has been well cared for and a farm that for the most part can be driven all over in your car or truck.

Don't miss this opportunity to purchase a large farm or both tracts. Keep in mind this is an Absolute Auction. We will be auctioning some hand tools as well. Additional photos are posted on our website www.hershellmillerauction.com venue from the Spoonbread festival this year, but it will do wonders for the little town of Livingston," says Jennifer. "It used to be a booming railroad town, but now there is not much left. Having this event there will hopefully bring people to Rockcastle County and the beautiful river."

There will be much more than fowl-play at the MadRock Duck Derby. Gospel and bluegrass music will be heard live beginning at 10 am. Food, vendor booths, and entertainment will be offered as well until 4 pm. The ducks will officially drop into the river at 2 pm.

Jennifer explains the process: "We have 1,500 ducks up for adoption. They are $5 each, and you can adopt as many as you'd like. They each come with an adoption certificate, and a number to correspond. The first three ducks to cross the finish line guarantee a cash prize for the owner." There is also an extra drawing for a chance to win $25,000 if a chosen number matches one of the first five ducks across the finish line.

To see if the first annual rubber ducky race is all it's quacked up to be, visit www.madrockduckderby.com. There is also a Facebook page that links to adoption forms and additional information. The first ever MadRock Duck Derby will take place on October 8th in Livingston, and will hopefully start a yearly tradition of racing rubber water fowl that can win you money.

These tee shirts are on sale by The Berea Chamber of Commerce to commemorate the inaugural running of the MadRock Duck Derby.

President of the Vietnam Veterans of America local chapter, Emerson McAfee, who lives at Red Lick, spoke to council about plans to honor the seven soldiers from the 40403 zip code who lost their lives in that war. The chapter, which encompasses 7 counties in central Kentucky, will be working toward finding information from friends and family members of those soldiers with the goal of erecting signs to honor each of the fallen. If anyone has information on, Sgt. Kenneth Allen, SP4 Robert Glenn Galloway, PFC. David Eugene Buttry, PFC. Charles Howard Richie, Cpt. Hugh McNeil Byrd Jr., SP4 Marcus Delmar White or Henry Gish they should contact McAfee at 859 986-4362 or email him at emcafee@windstream.net.

Jennifer Napier, Berea Chamber of Commerce President, reported to Council on two upcoming Chamber events, the MadRock Duck Derby scheduled for this Saturday and the third annual GeoCaching Weekend on October 14 to 16.

Chairman of the Public Works Committee, Councilman Chester Powell reported that the city will be picking up leaves from November 1 through January 1. Residents should rake the leaves to the sidewalk, not to the curb or into the street. They will be adding two new streetlights. One at Hwy. 595 and US 25, diagonally across from the Fireside Gallery, and another on Hwy. 21 East, between Moore's Grocery and Bratcher Lane.

The action items on the agenda, which included an ordinance declaring a 2008 Ford Crown Victoria surplus and authorizing its donation to the Madison County Coroner and a resolution regarding an agreement with Windstream, all passed unanimously.

Next council meeting will be on Tuesday, October 18.

south along the railroad tracks along the 81/89 legislative house district line to the intersection of Main Street and Prospect Street. And following Main Street turning into Walnut Meadow Road north to point of beginning.

Mayor Steven Connelly successfully solicited residents of the precinct by letter earlier this year, in April, requesting their signatures on a petition for the local option election.

The City of Berea, is considering converting the train depot into a farm to fork restaurant or space that could host receptions and corporate events.

Because of the results of last year's local option election, alcohol can be sold by the drink in qualified restaurants within the city limits of Berea. However, the historic option has greater flexibility, and drinks can be sold without the sale of food, and a stand-alone bar would be allowed.

City Administrator Randy Stone, told The Citizen in April that the historical option would allow the City of Berea to maximize the options for the train depot.

With the option of a bar, and drinks sold without food, the restaurant in the train depot could host receptions without worrying that 70 percent of their sales must be allocated to food.

Currently, there are two historic sites in the Gay-Stephens precinct – the Welcome Center train depot and the Tate Building.

is much to see and experience. Food is also a staple of the annual gathering, where Kentucky Proud favorites spanning from Amish fried apple pies to artisan cheeses and kettle corn will be sold.

Talented artists from all over the Commonwealth flock to this fair every year, but this year in particular, Rowlett excitedly explains that a new group will be visiting Berea for the first time. "The Hindman artist collaboration is coming up from southern Kentucky to present their artistry that has put them on the map," says Rowlett. "A portable forge will be set up to display the art of blacksmithing. In addition, they will be showcasing luthiery, which is the skill of making stringed instruments."

The Hindman artists are known for these two trades in particular, and were recently noticed statewide for keeping those arts that are not encountered as often alive. These Appalachian artists said by some to be the foremost authorities left in a small pocket of enthusiasm for visual arts such as the making of stringed instruments like guitars.

Experiencing an instrument being created firsthand, or a blacksmith working at their forge is something that should not be missed. Adding these special guests to the long list of returning artists makes this year of the fall festival stand out.

The other visual arts on display and being exhibited include: wood turning, pottery, weaving, ironwork, photography, and many more. Jeannette Rowlett of the Guild gives further reasons to attend besides the live music, food, and a myriad of artisans. "We invite everyone to come out and be a part of something that is a long-standing tradition. Berea was named the art capital of the country this year, so there is so much to see that proves we are deserving of that title. Plus, we have an exciting raffle for beautiful pieces of art that begins during the festival!" she adds.

The fair will take place at Indian Fort Theater this weekend, October 8th and 9th, beginning at 10 a.m. both days. The fun continues until 6 p.m. on Saturday and 5 p.m. Sunday. No matter what time you attend, there is a guarantee that art will be on display and there will be some type of demonstration or education provided by the dozens of artists who set up shop for the weekend festival. Mayor Connelly to Meet with Secretary Vilsack

On Thu. Oct. 5, Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack will travel to Berea, with Under Secretary for Rural Development Lisa Mensah to make an announcement regarding creating rural opportunity in Kentucky and throughout the United States. Vilsack and Mensah will be joined by Steven Connelly, Mayor of Berea as they participate in a roundtable discussion focused on strategies to reduce rural poverty at Berea College and will then hold a media availability.

As President Obama has stated, "A child's course in life should be determined not by the ZIP code she's born in, but by the strength of her work ethic and the scope of her dreams." In many rural places, that ZIP code equates to decreased access to critical services, fewer educational opportunities, and limited job choices.

In April of 2015, the White House Rural Council launched "Rural Impact", a cross-agency effort to combat poverty and improve upward mobility in rural and tribal places. Partners for Education at Berea College was chosen to participate in the Rural IMPACT Demonstration. Berea College received USDA funding to help businesses become more energy efficient. Earlier this year, the city was awarded a $10 million USDA loan to renovate and expand the city hall and public safety facilities. Thursday's announcement will build on these strategies.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Thursday, October 6, 2016 Page B1

9th Annual Second Sunday at the Battlefield

Dubbed the "healthiest weekend in Madison County," Second Sunday Weekend will take place on October 9, 2016 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Battlefield Park. The park is located near Kingston at 1546 Battlefield Memorial Highway.

This is the ninth consecutive year for the event coordinated by the Madison County Extension Service.

The long list of activities includes, walking, biking, running and skating. There will be information booths and healthy snacks and a not-to-be-missed baby buggy / tyke trike parade.

Attendees can visit historic Mt. Zion Church, or participate in Zumba, Phat and Yoga.

Children's games and cornhole as well as Pokemon stops, kite flying and a tug-of-war will ensure something fun to do for everyone.

Murphy's food truck will be on hand and there will be prizes and gifts given.

Word From Berea Streets

"What is your favorite season of the year and why?"

Kevin Canterbury and Locke said, "Fall, because my family is able to enjoy the outdoors more. It cools off and the leaves change."

Logan Chandler and Aiden Thomas said, "We love winter—because its not as hot and we can go snow sledding."

Jason Thomas said, "I like spring because of the renewal. It gives purpose to the new beginning of each year."

Saint Joseph Berea to Open Outpatient Infusion Center

New center will offer convenient infusion treatments with no hospital admission required

Saint Joseph Berea, part of KentuckyOne Health, will open an outpatient infusion center on the first floor of the hospital, located at 305 Estill Street in Berea. This new center, scheduled to open on Wednesday, October 19, will expand Saint Joseph Berea's current infusion options for both patients and providers.

The outpatient infusion center will provide intravenous infusions of fluids, medications and therapeutic injections, in an accessible outpatient environment. Infusion therapy is particularly beneficial for patients that cannot take medications by mouth.

"The outpatient infusion center will offer patients a quick and convenient way to receive certain medications in a comfortable, outpatient environment," said Eric Gilliam, president, Saint Joseph Berea. "Receiving outpatient services allows patients to live at home, attend school, or remain on the job, without disrupting their daily routine. By offering these services in a non-hospital environment, we can also provide them at a lower cost to the patient, and can work around the patient's schedule for appointments."

"We are focused on patient safety and comfort, and the outpatient infusion center is another way that our patients will benefit from services we offer," said Sandra Rose, director of ancillary and support services, Saint Joseph Berea. "Outpatient infusion therapy can save patients thousands of dollars in out-of-pocket medical expenses, and also save them time and travel expenses. We are thrilled to offer patients this welcoming environment that is also close to home."

The new center will offer a full-scale of infusion services for patients with conditions such as:

- Anemia
- Crohn's Disease
- CIDP
- Immune deficiency
- Multiple sclerosis
- Neuropathy
- Polymyositis
- Rheumatoid arthritis
- Ulcerative colitis

Saint Joseph Berea will celebrate the opening of the new outpatient infusion center with a ribbon cutting and open house on Wednesday, October 19 from 4-6 p.m. The ribbon cutting will take place at 4 p.m. The public is invited to tour the new center, and meet the staff and providers. Refreshments will be served.

The outpatient infusion center at Saint Joseph Berea will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For more information or to make an appointment, call 859.497.5865.

October Meeting Scheduled

The next NAMI meeting will be on Tuesday, October 11th at KentuckyOne Health Saint Joseph Berea from 5-6:30pm in the boardroom. The topic will be "Mental and Emotional Health: Laughter is the Best Medicine" and meetings are free to attend and refreshments are provided. For any questions, please call 859-986-6301.

Baptist Health Plan Withdraws from Kentucky's Individual Insurance Market

Baptist Health Plan, Kentucky's fourth largest health insurance provider, has informed the Kentucky Department of Insurance (DOI) that it will withdraw entirely from the individual health insurance market for the 2017 plan year. Approximately 7,000 Kentuckians will have to find a new insurance provider.

In a letter to Insurance Commissioner Brian Maynard, Baptist Health Plan president James S. Fritz indicated that Baptist enrolled more members in the individual market than anticipated in 2016, but "the federal risk assessments placed upon the organization under the Affordable Care Act is unsustainable by a corporation the size of Baptist Health Plan."

Baptist Health Plan is the latest in a string of insurers exiting this market due to the growth of burdensome regulations and the financial death spiral created by Obamacare, which has caused insurance companies to lose hundreds of millions of dollars under extremely volatile markets with high risk.

Prior to the withdrawal, Baptist Health Plan had products available in 20 counties on the insurance exchange and 38 counties off the insurance exchange for the 2017 plan year. On the exchange, Kentucky will now have 59 counties with only one health insurance option in 2017. Off the exchange, most Kentucky counties will have only 2 options. The diminishing competition in Kentucky's markets further highlights the failure of Obamacare to make insurance more affordable and accessible.

Members impacted by the discontinuation will be allowed to continue coverage with Baptist through December 31, 2016 (on exchange) and March 31, 2017 (off exchange). Baptist will provide notice of its withdrawal to all members. The notice will include information on the upcoming open enrollment period which begins November 1.

The decision by Baptist Health comes just one month after Aetna announced that it will pull out of the state exchange in 2017 for financial reasons.

Jefferson Street Homemakers Meet

The first meeting of the Jefferson Street Friends Homemakers was held on Sept. 22. The group meets on the third Monday of the month at the Berea Seniors Center at 12:30 p.m.

In conjunction with the Madison County Co-op Extension, a member learns about a subject every month, and presents it to the rest of us. This month our lesson was, "Eating Smart and Healthy; The Mediterranean Way." Eating the delicious salad was a definite plus.

Members were congratulated who won ribbons for items submitted for judging at the annual county-wide meeting. Joanne Grunwald won for sewing his and her pants with embroidered pockets and machine embroidered towels, and Clara Vanderoef won for an acrylic painting. Two members, Opell Lefler and Jean Harding, had entries in the KEHA creative writing contest and in the poetry and short story categories.

The Homemakers meetings cover discussions that are helpful in both day-to-day lives and future planning. Topics cover a wide range of topics including health, finances, cultural arts, and cooking. Members volunteer in community events and visit with those who were unable to attend.

Please join this group of people who wish to learn and share their knowledge with others. Call President Jeress Cash at 859-661-3625 if interested.

Mitch Barnhart, University of Kentucky Director of Athletics, will be speaking at Berea United Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 9 at the 11 a.m. service.

Barnhart has served as UK's director of athletics since 2002, and while UK is well known for national prominence in basketball, Barnhart seems to spend as much time promoting all 22 UK sports teams and the importance of faith in those programs.

When asked about the role of faith in his professional life, Mitch Barnhart said he wants to be known as a proud follower of Jesus Christ.

UK Athletics Director to Speak at Berea United Methodist

"I hope that faith plays a major role in my life, not just in my job," he said. "If I get that right, it permeates everything I do in my life."

Because he has placed his focus on serving God and living for Him, Barnhart said that he shies away from focusing on his personal accomplishments, which is difficult in a position that largely is judged by wins and losses and revenue generated.

House will be reading from Eli the Good at the Berea Library

The weather is getting cooler, the days are getting shorter, and the Madison County Public Library is getting revved up for an exciting Fall lineup of activities.

Throughout the month of October, we are featuring Silas House's novel, Eli the Good, as our One Book Community Reading Project selection. MCPL has joined with public libraries in 8 other counties in our region to read and discuss this poignant coming-of-age young adult novel written by one of Kentucky's most beloved authors.

House will be reading from his work on Thursday, October 27, at 6:30 PM in front of the fireplace at the MCPL Berea location, 319 Chestnut Street. The event is free and open to the public, and it will be a great time to connect with the author and continue the discussion about Eli the Good.

The MCPL book clubs are reading Eli the Good as the October book selection. The Tuesday Night Book Group will meet Tuesday, October 25, at 6:30 PM in Berea, and the Thursday Night Book Group (which usually meets in Richmond) will gather at the reading in Berea on October 27 for this month's meeting. I am hosting a brown bag discussion at the Berea branch on Thursday, October 20, from noon to 1 PM. And our Outreach Coordinator is hosting other discussions with youth and seniors in the community as well.

Check out all the events going on throughout the region on our One Book - Community Reading Project Facebook page. We'll have several live chats with the author throughout October on the Facebook event page. For all you book lovers out there who also love physical activity and making music, MCPL has a great October planned for you as well.

This Saturday, October 8, the library joins with Second Sunday to host the Pink Boa 5k. The 5k run and 2.5k Fun Walk start at 10 AM at Battlefield Park, 1546 Battlefield Memorial Highway (located between Richmond and Berea). The race is free, and participants are encouraged to wear their favorite pink attire in honor of breast cancer awareness. The MCPL 2016 Couch to 5k team will be running in the race, and walk-up registrations are open the day of the race. You can also register online at www.madisonlibrary.org/pinkboa.html.

Since October is about all things pink, you can even check out a pink ukulele at the library. Our ukulele check-out program has been so popular that we are expanding it. Tom "The Mailman" Schultz, while attending my intro to the uke session at the Know-It-All Festival this past weekend, urged me to add a couple of ukes strung for left-handers to our collection. It was a great idea, and we have two coming in this week, one of which is pink!

But it's not just about the ukes anymore. Based on several customer requests, including a suggestion from our great musician library friend Jeff Richey (from the Jeff Richey Experience), we're adding guitars to our circulating instrument library. Within the next couple of weeks, you will be able to check out an acoustic guitar from the Madison County Public Library.

Speaking of library friends, the Friends of the Madison County Public Library also have a busy October planned. The Third Annual Little Quilt Show & Auction opened this past weekend and runs through December 10. Fifty-six amazing little quilts inspired by favorite books have been created for and donated to this unique fundraiser by quilters - both novice and professional - of all ages. The youngest quilt artist in the show is 10 years old.

The quilts are split half-and-half between the two library locations, and they will switch locations on November 9, so that everyone will get a chance to see the whole show in each library. Silent auction bidding on the quilts runs through 4 PM on December 10. Money raised by the Friends from the show supports many library activities, most notably, the annual Summer Reading program.

The Friends host another popular fundraiser this month. The Fall Sidewalk Book Sale takes place Saturday and Sunday, October 15 and 16 during regular library hours in both Richmond and Berea. The rain dates for the sale are the following weekend - October 22 and 23.

And with the election just around the corner, the Friends are hosting their Annual Legislative Meet & Greet on Saturday morning, October 15, from 9:30 to 10:30 AM in Berea. Close to 100 candidates and elected officials have been invited to the informal gathering where they have a chance to meet and chat with community members while enjoying some tasty fall treats from Friends members.

As you can see, this October will be an exciting one at the Madison County Public Library. I hope to see you here soon!

TULIPS BROUGHT A FORTUNE

When tulips were first introduced to Holland, the mania for these flowers was so great the following list of items were given in barter for a single bulb:

4,000 pounds of wheat, 8,000 pounds of rye, four fat oxen, three fat swine, twelve fat sheep, two hogheads of wine, 1,000 gallons of beer, two tons of butter, one thousand pounds of cheese, a complete bed, a suit of clothes and a silver beaker—all this being worth at the time around $1,200.

Flowers today are most reasonable in their prices, even the flowers that were at one time considered out of reach, through cultivation, hothouses and other means of production all are a good buy at our shop.

Around 40 people attend the public forum at the Russel Acton Folk Center on Tuesday, to give feedback for Madison County's strategic plan. This was the second meeting that the county held, with the first one taking place in Richmond at the EOC (Emergency Operations Center). Counties in Kentucky are required to update their strategic plan every five years, and Assistant Judge Executive Colleen Chaney said they wanted to take this opportunity to gather feedback and make the strategic plan a dynamic, working document.

Madison County Gathers Feedback for Future Planning

By Beth Myers
Citizen Editor

Around 40 people attended the Madison County public forum in Berea on Tuesday, an event designed to gather feedback for the strategic planning that the county will be embarking on soon.

Several local leaders were present at the session, including Berea Community Superintendent Mike Hogg, Cheyenne Olson of Sustainable Berea, former council member and Berea College Vice-President Virgil Burnside, Tourism Director Kerri Hensley, Mayor Steve Connolly, Rep. Rita Smart, and a few candidates for Berea City Council. Stefanie Ashley from the Facilitation Center at ECU facilitated the discussion.

The session divided the participants into four groups, and asked them to list, strengths, weaknesses, threats and opportunities.

The discussion started off with Ashley asking the four groups to answer the question, "If the boundaries of Madison County could talk, what would they say?"

This was the second and final public forum for the strategic planning of Madison County, with the first one held at the EOC (Emergency Operations Center) in Richmond. Madison County is required to update their strategic plan every five years, and this year they decided to solicit feedback from the community. Around 65 people at-

Schools, Gov'ts, Cities, Chambers, Pursue Funding for Vocational School

By Beth Myers
Citizen Editor

Several organizations in Madison County, including the schools and governments, are partnering together to apply for a $20 million work ready grant to build a new vocational center.

Superintendent Elmer Thomas of Madison County Schools spoke to the county fiscal court on Tuesday about the program, and asked for a resolution to send the grant to the next step in assessment.

"This could be something huge for the community," Thomas said. "It includes so many groups and so many partnerships."

Madison County and the Madison County

Schools have been working with both the Richmond and Berea Chambers of Commerce as well as ECU, the City of Berea, and Kentucky Community and Technical College System to put together this work force grant. Elmer stated that the grant would be used to "get our entire community ready and skills ready."

If Madison County is successful in getting the grant, a vocational technical center will be built on Duncannon Lane to serve high school students during the day. Different proposed trainings include aviation mechanics, certified medical assistants, certified drivers license training, and more. After 4 p.m., the center

Halloween 5K This Saturday

By Kim Kobersmith
Citizen Reporter

A new community event on Saturday, October 15, will include a 5K run, a kickball tournament, a cornhole tourney, and carnival games.

The 1st ever Halloween 5K is presented by the Berea Youth League for softball and baseball and the Matt Ross Fund. While it is a fundraiser for both organizations, president of the Berea Youth League board Jeanette Aispuro emphasized their desire to plan a community event.

"People from here go to Lexington and Richmond and elsewhere for activities and festivals, and the BYL board wanted to plan an event in Berea for Bereans," said Aispuro. The 5K kicks off at 8 a.m. and the family-friendly events will start at 10 a.m. and go all day. Events will take place at the baseball fields at Berea Community Park.

Those wanting to sign up to compete in the 5K can do so at Walmart from noon until 3 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday this weekend or at the Matt Ross Fund website, www.sothatallmayplay.com. The cost is $25.

Berea Police and Firefighters will be on hand to play kickball and cornhole and help coach other community members who come to play. Entrance into the kickball tournament is $5/person. The cost of the cornhole tournament is $20 per group. Anyone can show

The Annual Meeting for the Friends of Boone Trace was held in Berea on October 11 from 7 - 8:30 p.m. at the Alumni Building of Berea College. The public was invited. A short business meeting was followed by a meet and greet with several key players in the quest to make the Trace a multi-use trail.

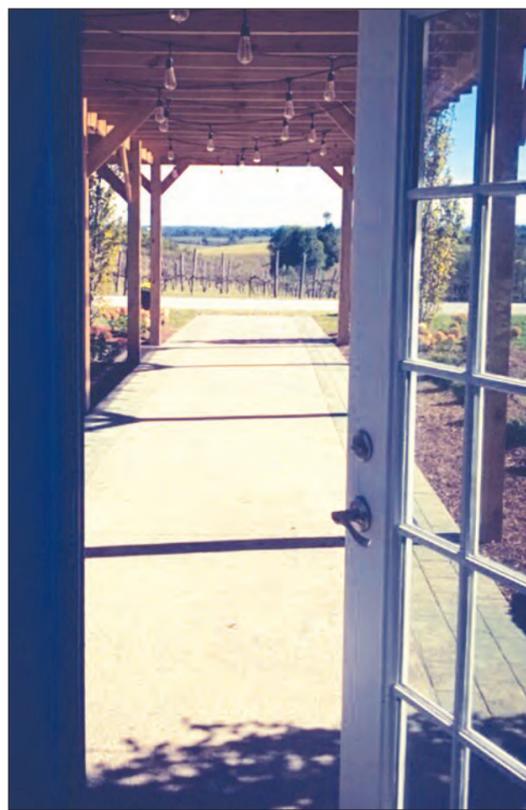

The guests for the meet and greet included Russ Clark from the National Park Service, Troy Hearn with the Kentucky Bike-Pedestrian Program, Jackie Jones with the Kentucky Scenic Byway Program, and Kimberly Clay with Kentucky Heritage Tourism.

The goals of the Friends of Boone Trace include preservation and education for this historic road

John L. Allen

John L. Allen of Richmond, and formerly of Cartersville, died on Saturday, Oct. 8, 2016.

John was born in Dayton, Ohio to Ruth Harris Allen and the late John E. Allen. He attended the White Lick Baptist Church and lived with his parents in Cartersville for many years.

John is survived by his mother, Ruth Harris Allen of Richmond; his sisters, Linda Curtis of Miamisburg, Ohio and Rita (Douglas) Goins of Richmond; his nephew, Robert Goins; his niece, Stacey Curtis; great nephew, Tristen; and many aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Services were on Wednesday, Oct. 12, 2016 at 2 p.m. at Lakes Funeral Home. Burial was in the Cartersville Cemetery. Online condolences at www.lakesfuneralhome.com.

Linda Gail Roberts

Linda Gail Roberts, 65, wife of Robert Roberts, passed away on Sunday, Oct. 9, 2016 in Lexington.

Linda was born in Cutshin to the late Willis and Polly Asher Blevins. She was a homemaker, and member of the Blackmont Baptist Church and the Red Hat Society.

Linda was preceded in death by her parents and her first husband, Red Runion-Hulen; her brother, Willis Blevins; and sisters, Glenda Blevins and Mary Blevins.

Linda is survived by her husband, Robert Lee Roberts; her stepchildren, Christopher Lee Roberts, Samantha Leann Roberts, Danny Runion, and John Runion; her siblings, Wilma (Mike) Barnett of Richmond, Tim (Freesia) Blevins of St. Charles, Va., Wanda Blevins of Pennington Gap, Va., Jenny (Doug) Caldwell of Hulen, William Blevins of Hulen, Paula Blevins of Sutton, Ark., and Cyndi (Shane) Howard of Hulen; and grandchildren, Wesley Runion and Danielle Runion.

Visitation will be Thursday, Oct. 13, 2016 from 6-8 p.m. with a memorial service at 8 p.m. at Lakes Funeral Home. A memorial service will take place at a later date in Bell County. Online condolences can be made at www.lakesfuneralhome.com.

Nola Beatrice "Bea" French

Nola Beatrice "Bea" French passed away from this life peacefully at her residence on Tuesday, Oct. 11, 2016.

Bea was born on December 20, 1939 in Climax to the late Claude and Georgia Abney. She was a devoted wife and mother, and a member of West Side Baptist Church. She retired from Parker Seal after 38 years of service.

She was preceded in death by her loving husband of 31 years, James Ellis (Pretty) French; a brother, Donnie Abney; and two sisters, Marie Abney Peters and Tressa Abney George. She is survived by her three children, James Earl French, Donald (Ginger) Edward French, and Randall (Judy) "Tubby" French; seven siblings, Jerry Abney, Blaine Abney, Glenn Abney, Ronnie Abney, Jean Kidd, Shirley Kidwell, and Geneva Thomas; seven grandchildren, Karen (Robert) Foster, Tena French, Travis (Amy) French, Sharon (Janson) Hurt, Kristy (Brent) Centers, Lisa (Kevin) Middleton, and Monica (Ronnie) Hughes; 13 great grandchildren; and one great-great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at Lakes Funeral Home with Pastor Jon Burdette officiating. The burial will follow the service at the Berea Cemetery. Visitation services will be held at the funeral home. Service and visitation times are pending.

Pallbearers will be Travis French, Robert Foster, Ronnie Hughes, Brent Centers, Janson Hurt, and Kevin Middleton. Honorary pallbearers will be Noah Hughes and Blake Foster.

Zurick to Speak at Berea Arts Council

David Zurick will be speaking at the Berea Arts Council gallery on Tuesday, October 25, from 7-8 p.m. to discuss Did you manipulate that picture? An Illustrated Journey from Film to Digital Photography. The BAC gallery is located at 139 N. Broadway.

Zurick will talk about what film versus digital means for fine art photography. For most of his career David Zurick used a large format camera and sheet film to make black and white negatives, which he processed and printed in a wet-chemical darkroom using traditional techniques. Three years ago, he switched from film to digital, black-and-white to color, and large camera to tiny camera. This shift coincided with conceptual changes in his work as well as technological advances in the field.

Zurick will use illustrations from his past and ongoing work to explore this question in terms of both film- and digital-based photography, and to consider the consequences of moving from film to digital spheres.

Successful Mountain Folk Festival Held in Berea

For the first time in approximately 60 years, the Fall Mountain Folk Festival was held in Berea.

The Festival, originally put on by Berea College, was hosted by Levi Jackson State Park in London for the past several decades, though the Folk Circle Association of Berea organized the event for the past 20 years. After several years of declining numbers of participants, challenging finances and a worn-out facility, the FCA board decided to move the event to Berea instead of closing down for good.

The Fall Mountain Folk Festival was held at Russel Acton Folk Center the last week of September, and almost everything exceeded expectations. Many young and very skillful dancers showed up, and new workshops were added.

Musicians such as Al and Alice White continued to support the Festival as well as other musicians such as Kendall Rogers, Andrew and Becca Taylor. Workshop leaders and Fall Mountain Folk Festival veterans Frank Jenkins, Phyllis Rogers, Peter Rogers, Hazel White Jodock, and dance composer Cary Ravitz all participated.

The Fall Festival coincided with Contraire Dance Ass'n, which had already scheduled a contra dance Saturday night with Darlene Underwood and The Ripples. Com-binning the two events raised the quality of the dance, and some stated it was the best dance in recent history.

Learn more about FCA at www.berea-folk-circle.org, or join on FB.

Hazel White Jodock led the family dance Saturday morning at the Fall Mountain Folk Festival, with a little help from parents Al and Alice White and friend Kendall Rogers.

Mixed Results for Berea's State Assessments

While Berea Community Elementary and High School's K-PREP state assessment scores increased this past year, they decreased slightly for the middle school.

"While we are pleased with the increases in student achievement, we have more work to do to meet the needs of all students," Superintendent Mike Hogg of Berea Community said. "We are committed to all students accessing opportunity by graduation and the 2015-2016 K-PREP state assessment results show that two of our three schools, and the majority of our students, are making progress."

Students in grades 3-11 took the K-PREP state tests last spring in the areas of reading, writing, math, English, science, and social studies. The tests consist of multiple choice and open-ended questions.

Berea Community High School's overall score increased from 72.0 to 73.7. BCHS's graduation rate increased to 100 percent, surpassing the state average by a wide margin. Additionally, ACT, a college preparatory assessment administered to all juniors, showed that BCHS students performed above the state averages in English, reading, math, science, and the composite score.

"We are proud of our growth in students meeting benchmarks on the ACT and in graduation rate, but we have to move more of our students out of the apprentice level of performance and fully into the proficient category," said BCHS principal Donna Lovell.

Berea Community Middle School's overall score decreased from 60.9 to 54.1. The decrease could be attributed to an increase in students scoring at the lowest level of novice. Work started during the summer and has continued through the start of school to provide supports to lower achieving students.

This work has included revising a "seminar" period to ensure students who are not meeting benchmarks receive additional instructional support during the school day. "The middle school staff and I have recognized areas for improvement, including curricular rigor, and are implementing strategies to better meet the needs of our students," Lovell said.

Berea Community Elementary School's assessment scores increased from 60.7 in 2014-15 to 63.3 for this past year. The increase in scores continues a three-year steady increase in student achievement.

"We are scouring over the scores to develop a full understanding of our results," said BCES principal Paula Gordon. "We are looking closely at our curriculum and learning targets to make sure we are delivering a rigorous, viable curriculum to provide every student with the opportunity to be successful."

The district score, which is derived from the school scores, decreased from 64.5 in 2014-15 to 63.7 in 2015-16.

"I have great faith in the abilities of our students, staff, and administration, and we will work with tremendous focus and energy to ensure the success of our students," Hogg said.

Happy Birthday Tony!

BEREA POLICE REPORTS

Police Reports from 10/2/16 - 10/9/16

Shoplifting Arrest

On October 2, officers were called to the Family Dollar because of a shoplifter who had just left the store. Employees saw the person remove items from the packaging before leaving the store without paying for the items. Officers located Billy Gadd III, 27, of Berea across the street and placed him under arrest. He was charged with theft by unlawful taking -- shoplifting.

Fraudulent Use of a Credit Card

On October 4, officers located Jeffery Tarter, 22, of Berea walking on Lester Street. Tarter showed several signs of impairment and was placed under arrest. He was also charged in connection with an earlier investigation where he used a stolen credit card to make purchases.

Tarter was charged with public intoxication, receiving stolen property under $500, and fraudulent use of a credit card under $500 within a six month period.

Theft of Motor Vehicle Registration Plate

On October 5, officers arrested Jeremy Miller, 36, of Berea. An investigation revealed that Miller was in possession of a stolen license plate that was stolen from Scaffold Cane Road. Miller was charged with theft of motor vehicle registration plate and lodged in the Madison County Detention Center.

Burglary

On October 5, officers arrested Christopher Turner, 18, of Berea. An investigation revealed that Turner unlawfully entered New Energy Fitness back in September and took several items from inside valued at $200. Turner was charged with third degree burglary and lodged in the Madison County Detention Center.

Stalking Arrest

On October 9, officers were called to an address on Elizabeth Street because of an assault. The victim reported that the door to the residence was forced open, which caused an injury to the victim's head.

A man was located, hiding in the home, and he was identified as Dennis Thompson, 38, of Richmond. There was damage to the door and an active protective order was in place between the two parties. An investigation revealed that Thompson had called the victim numerous times and was staying in the woods outside of the residence.

Thompson was placed under arrest and charged with third degree criminal mischief, first degree burglary, violation of a Kentucky EPO/DVO, fourth degree assault, and first degree stalking.

Berea Rotary Hosts Retired Judge

Berea Rotary hosted the Honorable Judge James S. Chenault at their past meeting, to hear of his longtime career on the bench.

Judge Chenault was the chief circuit judge for the 25th Judicial Circuit comprising Madison and Clark counties. He was the chief regional judge for the Bluegrass Region.

The 93-year old retired judge entertained the Rotary members with both information and stories, interspersed with salty recollections. The focus of his talk involved a major change in the court reporting process for which he receives credit—the use of videotaping as a process of collecting court records. This technology is taken for granted in today's world as it has expanded to include videos on cell phones.

Circuit courts are trial courts with original jurisdiction in cases involving capital offenses and other felonies and disputes, contested probates of wills, and certain civil lawsuits. Judge Chenault as an efficiency proponent of both time and resources, and recognized that videotaping was the wave of the future.

He pioneered the testing of such a system in 1979, making Madison County the first place in the world to collect court records without a court reporter.

Those interested in learning more about this can hear the judge speak on YouTube under Kentucky Circuit Court Records, Judge James S. Chenault by JAVS.com. The August 1986 issue of The Advocate contains an article by the Judge discussing the advantages of videotape technology over traditional transcribed records.

Rotary is a service organization which meets each Tuesday noon at the Artisan Center and sponsors the Interact Club of Madison Southern High School.

Public Meeting Scheduled to Discuss Owsley Fork Dam, Water Shortage

On Thursday, Oct. 20, a public information meeting will be held at 5 p.m. at the Russel Acton Folk Center to discuss the draft supplemental watershed plan and environmental assessment of the Red Lick Creek Multiple Purpose Structure, or Owsley Fork Dam.

There will be information given of the analysis of alternatives and water efficiency measures. This meeting is being conducted to meet public participation requirements and to garner input from interested parties.

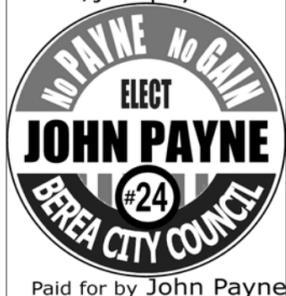

This project is sponsored locally by the Red Lick Creek Watershed Conservancy District and the City of Berea, with cooperation from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. The meeting is open to all. If you have any questions, please contact Michael Lile or Ron McMaine with Bell Engineering at 859-278-5412.

Because of downstream development, the hazard classification for the Red Lick Creek MPS No. 1 has changed. Though the safety and performance of the dam are not in question, the reclassification requires rehabilitation to meet applicable State and Federal standards. Additionally, population growth in southern Madison County has led to increased water demands creating a need for supplementary water supply. This project addresses the need for rehabilitation while also providing increased water supply.

Living Body

Mother Earth: once flourishing,
Sparkling and bright,
With clean, clear air, water, earth,
Huge diversity
And balance of life.
Now, the body: once healthy and full of life, Ravaged.
The upheaval of inner mass
And depletion of life
Bespeak disease, sickness.
The water: once clear,
Filth filled,
Sluggishly flows.
The banks, garbage strewn
Shout contempt.
The air: once crystal,
Poison laden,
Chokingly gags.
Coughing, wheezing
Signal disease.
The green forest: once vast,
Toothpicks made,

Runaway mudslides,
Oxygen depleted,
Carbon-dioxide rich.
The flora, fauna, fowl and fish: once plentiful,
Adorning mantels, attire
And medicine cabinets.
Polluted, gobbled up habitat,
Mass extinction.
The people: red, black, white, yellow and blue...once few,
Mass explosion
Hubris, egocentric demands:
'Give up your space... and lives for me'.
With peoples' demands,
Caused losses,
Pillaged, polluted masses,
The whole tilts,
Mother Earth wilts.
Don't you hear her cry?
Feel her pain?
Be one with her suffering

Or the world
Will ne'er be the same.
Mother Earth calls:
Know our inter-existence,
Live our Oneness,
With her sphere
...before it's too late.
Listen: Hearts' tears for her,
and the interwoven life
She struggles to sustain,
Gives heads' directions.
Awaken!
Mother Earth may still flourish
With sparkling and bright,
Clean, clear air, water, earth,
With huge diversity and balance of life.

Berea Moderates' name doesn't reflect their beliefs

Dear Editor,

Berea citizens should be fully aware that the group calling itself the Berea Moderates is using a name that doesn't reflect their true beliefs or values.

To judge from the actions and words of their most frequent spokespeople, their extremely conservative political and social views line up perfectly with the so-called tea party wing of the Republican Party and the Libertarian Party. They have not displayed the slightest tendency toward moderation in word or deed.

The term moderate is correctly used to describe persons whose views are civil, balanced, considerate of views other than their own, open to seeing the values expressed by those of different persuasions but preferring a slower approach to change than persons of liberal bent. Senator Susan Collins, R, of Maine is widely considered to be a moderate. So is Robert Gates, the former Secretary of Defense and Director of the CIA.

While the members of this group have every right to espouse the very conservative and in some cases extreme views they have expressed in numerous public venues including the Berea Citizen, to call themselves moderates is like dressing wolves in sheep's clothing.

Please vote on November 8

Dear Citizens of Berea,

I am asking you to all go out and vote on Tuesday, Nov. 8, 2016. I know you are all probably tired of hearing about the election, but it is almost over...

This is a very important election for not only the good of our country in the national election, but most importantly our local election. We need every vote we can get in the Berea City Council Vote. If you are not happy with the status quo the only way you can do anything about it is to vote.

You can vote for a total of eight candidates. But you do not have to vote for all eight. If you do not feel strongly for eight candidates, please only vote for those you feel strongly about. Your vote will count for more if you only vote for the ones you feel strongly about. Voting for eight just because you can will only thin out the votes and make for a less strong vote for each individual running.

If you are not sure what each candidate runs on or believes in please go to their Facebook pages and read up on them. Most all of them have a page. We really need to pick people who are not yes people. We need people who make decisions based on what is best for the citizens of Berea and surrounding areas, not what the mayor or city hall wants.

We need to get the a city government who will bring us more jobs into our beautiful town. Get us a more abundant water supply for our ever growing town. Design things to better entertain our youth and keep them off the streets and out of trouble. We need more money in our pockets & less government in our lives.

Please everyone it is so important. This is our last and best chance to secure the future of our town. It is for sure on a down hill slide if things keep going as they are now.

Remember to vote Tuesday, November 8, 2016

How Urban Farm benefits City of Berea

To the Editor:

It is my pleasure in response to the letter in last week's paper to address the value of the Berea Urban Farm to the city. In only its third year of development, BUF produced this summer more than 1,000 pounds of food for local residents and restaurants.

As an educational market garden, BUF held in collaboration with the Madison County Library 13 workshops on topics from beekeeping to vegetable growing to controlling invasive species. We also hosted three college interns and worked with groups from several local schools.

BUF hosted several large community gatherings, and welcomed more than 400 individual visitors who stopped at the urban farm to learn about urban agriculture. Many of these visitors were from out of town and spent money in Old Town and elsewhere in Berea.

This contribution to the tourism economy is the primary reason that the Tourism Commission supported the creation of the urban farm. BUF provides one full-time job, several part-time workers, and supports local businesses through its purchases of soil, tools, lumber, and other agricultural inputs.

As an added bonus, several adjacent home owners have commented that the value of their property has increased as beautiful gardens and orchards replaced slum housing formerly on the property.

The lot that the city leases to BUF is less than one-fourth of the farm's land. The remainder of the land was purchased and improved with about $150,000 of private money. This privately owned land is also leased to the Berea Urban Farm for $1 per year. This is a "sweet deal" for the community, and a wise investment by the city in leveraging its funds many times over.

In the KFTC voters guide, many of the candidates for city council have expressed support for local food and agriculture. The Berea Urban Farm is a model of how the city in partnership with several organizations and literally hundreds of individual citizens -- can successfully and efficiently translate talk into action.

We invite anyone in the community to visit the Berea Urban Farm on Adams Street to see what we are doing and join our efforts to be an important and significant part of the community. You can help us realize our mission: To grow food, teach urban agriculture, restore the land, create jobs, and strengthen the neighborhood. We welcome you.

Michelle Flannery
Production Manager, Berea Urban Farm

Elect Republican Wes Morgan

Dear Editor,

For generations, Kentucky Democrat politicians have played a shell game by portraying themselves as "different" from the national party they unexplainably remain a part of. For all their lip service, when it comes down to choosing between protecting innocent unborn children or preserving your family's right to an armed self-defense and the national Democrat Party's extremist agenda, the agenda always wins out.

An old sage once said, "When the end of time comes I hope I'm in Kentucky, because everything happens there ten years late."

The Kentucky State House of Representatives is the last legislative body held by Democrats in the South. In recent years Madison Countians have increasingly rejected the party of Obama and Clinton. By electing conservative Republican Wes Morgan on November 8, voters in Madison County's 81st State House District can do their part to finally bring our state into line with the rest of our liberty loving region of the country.

would be open to adults to receive their GEDs, and other technical skills training.

Elmer said that the vote-center would also be open to inmates from the local detention center, to teach them job skills so they could be employed upon release. That piece of the grant, Elmer said, "sets our grant application apart from the other 90." The vocational center would have a local impact that could be broadened regionally.

"This allows us to have an internal workforce," Madison County Judge Executive Reagan Taylor said.

Both Taylor and the county magistrates expressed support for the proposed vocational center.

The Madison County Sheriff's Department was recognized at fiscal court for recently receiving their accreditation. Becoming accredited is a voluntary program for sheriff's departments, and only 16 other counties have become accredited.

"I'm very proud and very humbled to be the sheriff of Madison County," Sheriff Mike Coyle said before receiving the certificate. "One of our goals over two years was to become an accredited office, and today we are one of the 17 out of 120."

The presenter of the certificate stated that the process of becoming accredited was difficult, with 169 standards and many sub-standards. Coyle and his department received a five-year certificate of accreditation.

In other business:

- Joshua King, Ethan Jones, and Bryant Rolands were all hired as new firefighters.
- The Madison County Calendar 2017 was approved, with the following holidays -- New Year's Day, Martin Luther King Jr., President's Day, Good Friday -- closing at noon, Memorial Day, Independent Day, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Thanksgiving -- Thursday and Friday, Christmas for Dec. 25 26, and New Year's Day.

- Berea Community's Homecoming Parade will take place on Thursday, Oct. 20 at 4 p.m. The Homecoming game will be played at Farristown.

tended the session in Richmond.

Assistant Judge Executive Colleen Chaney reported that even though the law requires a five-year plan, Madison County will be working toward a 20-year plan. The county would like the strategic plan to be a dynamic document, and not just facts and figures to satisfy state law.

Many people reported the same strengths of the county, including the relatively low cost of living, parks, large variety of farms, natural beauty, and the two hospitals and colleges. The weakness included homelessness, the drug problem, the lack of cooperation between Richmond and Berea, lack of workers, affordable housing, and lack of services for the aging population.

There was discussion over the question of diversity within Madison County, and whether the communities were welcoming of all people.

CITY OF BEREA

FALL CLEAN-UP

RESIDENTS OF THE CITY OF BEREA

The City of Berea and Poff Carting will hold FALL CLEAN-UP within the city limits of Berea, the week of October 17-21 2015. The clean-up will coincide with your normal garbage pickup. The collection crews will remove a normal pick-up truck load on your scheduled day. Items for collection must be placed at curbside by 6:00 am on the day of your pickup. If you have bulk items other than bagged waste or boxed items to be collected, you will need to call the Poff Carting office to schedule a pickup date.

If you should require a pickup other than your scheduled day and time, that service will be provided at the rate of $25.00 per request, not to exceed a legal pick-up load. All refuse must be placed in plastic bags or containers. Compost materials (wood, grass clipping, etc.) must be kept separate from normal garbage or trash. Larger limbs must be stacked in neat piles at the curb with all limbs facing the same direction. Small limbs and twigs must be placed in securely tied bundles or in plastic bags. Used appliances and furniture will be collected and charged at Poff Carting's scheduled rates as listed below:

Appliances (White Goods)	$12.81
Stuffed Chairs	$7.69
Couches and Love Seats	$12.81
Non-Stuffed Chairs	$6.41
Carpeting	$10.00 per room
Fencing and Wire	$2.00 per foot

ALL APPLIANCES THAT USE FREON must have a certificate that this liquid has been removed by a certified technician or Poff Carting will charge $45.00 for the following items: Refrigerators, Dehumidifiers, Air Conditioners, and Freezers. All bulky items will be picked up the same day as your normal pickup. These items must be placed at the curb at the same time as all other materials.

If you have any questions, please call 1-877-288-2981 or 606-877-7760.

Berea CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

“Working Together for a Better Berea”

Most inquiries about Berea’s business community begin with the Berea Chamber of Commerce, 275 businesses strong and growing.

Our Chamber members enjoy:

- More Exposure
- More Business
- More Connections
- More Information

Exposure comes naturally when you are a member of the Berea Chamber of Commerce. Take full advantage of free publicity most businesses cannot afford.

We offer new member recognition, FREE ribbon cutting services, website links and numerous networking events.

Join the Chamber Today!

Through the telephone, walk-in and internet inquiries, the Berea Chamber of Commerce takes great pride in referring our members. Much like the Better Business Bureau's logo, prospective customers seek out the Chamber logos / window clings that are placed on the doors and windows of our Chamber members as a sign of a reputable business.

We offer referral services, an on-line business directory, member to member discounts and advertising opportunities for all budgets.

Our Chamber members have a better connection to the community because they are connected to each other. In addition to our monthly newsletter and membership meetings, our Chamber members receive timely communications through our email distribution lists two and three times per week.

As a business owner, you do not have time to attend all of the public meetings and follow local, state and federal issues. Chamber membership allows you to focus on your business while we work with local governments to represent the needs of our business community.

Your circle of influence is 275 businesses strong. Collectively we can accomplish things that we could not consider as a small business owner.

Our website provides information to the world 24/7. We conduct annual Legislative Trips to Frankfort to meet with our legislators and demonstrate how our state government works. We also promote regional workshops and seminars to allow you and your employees to learn about specific topics and issues.

Join us for New Member Orientation Sessions, Speed Networking, committee work and monthly membership meetings.

Business Babes Annual Membership and Sponsorship Drive Spotlights Accomplishments, Opportunities and Entertainment

Business Babes Society will holds its 6th Annual Chocolate Soiree on October 18th at the Appalachian College Association. The event offers women business owners and contractors the opportunity to learn about Business Babes Society and the many benefits that come with membership.

Author, entrepreneur and Women Leading Kentucky founder Janet Holloway is the featured speaker for the evening. The award winning Kentucky author's accomplishments include her early years as an English/Spanish high school educator, a community organizer, and a substance abuse educator. A former state director of the New Jersey Small Business Development Center Network and the Kentucky Small Business Development Center Network, Holloway is also an accomplished author. In 2012, she published A Willful Child. Her next book is expected later this year.

In addition to networking and professional growth, Business Babes offers informative and entertaining programs that build business skills and nurture new relationships. The organization has become a community mainstay contributing to many local programs, charities and non-profits as well as providing educational scholarships for young women seeking to pursue a business career.

This year's Chocolate Soiree will include many opportunities to explore Business Babes Society's numerous unique benefits. While sampling an array of chocolate treats from Cakes by Ellie and JHF Catering, attendees will hear about the organization's accomplishments and the many ways prospective members and sponsors can realize innumerable gains. Adding to the fun and informative evening, that runs from six to nine p.m., will be door prizes and giveaways. Sponsors of the event include PNC Bank, Central Bank and Startup Productions in addition to numerous other local business establishments. The $5 registration fee is payable online or at the door. Attendees are encouraged to RSVP at www.businessbabesociety.org/event-2110510. Prior registration is encouraged, but not mandatory.

ABSOLUTE AUCTION

SAT OCT 29, 2016 10:00 A.M.

166 +/- Acre Farm

Garrard Co., KY

Directions from Lancaster, Kentucky, take KY Highway 52 East approx. 2.5 miles, turn left onto KY HWY 1295, travel approx. 1 mile, bare right onto Hurt Lane, travel approx. 1.5 miles to auction site, signs will be posted. Located approx. 40 miles south of Lexington, KY, approx. 4 miles South East of Lancaster, KY and approx. 17 miles west of Richmond, KY.

We have been employed by the owners of this nice farm to sell at Absolute Auction on the above date and time.

This 166 +/- acre farm has an older home, outbuildings, and 3 barns, it is located in a quiet neighborhood. The farm lays level to rolling along the waters of Back Creek with lots of beautiful bottom land. The property has been well maintained, with lush pastures in good grasses. The farm has an abundant water supply with the constant running water provided by the creek, springs, and city water is also available.

The owners are currently using the farm for raising cattle and for a hay operation. This farm would also make a nice horse farm or could be used for raising produce. An abundance of wildlife such as deer and turkey can be found on the property.

Very seldom do you have the opportunity to purchase a farm like this one at your own price. If you have been in the market for that special place to live and farm, or just retire to, don't overlook this Absolute Auction.

wilderness from Cumberland Gap to Boonesborough. He and 30 ax men (actually 28 axe men and 2 axe women) worked from March to April in 1775 connecting buffalo trails and creeks to create a small bridle path. It is estimated that from 70,000 to 200,000 new settlers traveled on Boone Trace to enter Kentucky.

One of the keepers of "that little road" is John Fox, who has worked tirelessly for seven years to get the Trace recognized for its important historical significance. Fox remembers as a kid swinging on Daniel Boone's rifle on the statue in Louisville's Cherokee Park. As an adult he moved to Boone Station and became interested in Boone's role in Kentucky history.

He shares, "According to the National Park Service, 48 million Americans can trace their ancestry to someone who traveled through the Cumberland Gap. Boone Trace was the very first road west of the mountains and truly opened westward movement for settlers. It is as significant in our history as Neil Armstrong walking on the moon."

The Boone Trace came through Berea along the shores of Brushy Fork Creek. Travelers on the Stephenson Memorial Trail between the Berea Municipal Building and Short Line Pike might have noticed a QR code on the bridge. Scanning it will access a wealth of information about Boone Trace. Fox also hopes to develop a Boone Trace Health Walk with local leaders, coming up 25 from Boone Gap and through town along Brushy Fork.

Fox clarifies that the Trace project will actually encompass two trails – a dirt trail for hiking, mountain biking, and horseback riding, and a road based trail for cars, motorcycles and bicycles.

Many partners are collaborating on identifying and marking the Trace. The National Park Service Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program approved the Trace last year for a consultation, and this year it has been approved as a Project. The Kentucky representative, Russ Clark, serves as a resource to aid in the planning and strategizing of the process.

Bereans can participate with the meetings of the Friends of Boone Trace, learn a little about times past, and explore what is in the works for this piece of local – and national - history.

Kentucky Artisan Center Offers Clay Demonstrations in October

In October the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea offers "Feats of Clay," a series of clay demonstrations by Kentucky potters. From hand built jugs to wheel thrown pottery, visitors will have the chance to watch the magic as potters turn lumps of clay into dinnerware, vessels and sculptures.

Ceramic artist Robert Brigl of Bowling Green will create pottery face jugs at the center on Saturday, Oct. 22, from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Drawn to the traditional forms of American folk pottery, Brigl makes both functional and sculptural ceramic jugs and bottles on the potter's wheel. He sculpts these thrown forms with faces and figures by adding coils and pieces of clay to their surfaces. He often makes the eyes from white porcelain clay.

On Saturday, Oct. 29, Alice Lloyd College art professor Mike Ware will throw pots on the wheel and demonstrate his unique carved decorating technique from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the center.

Ware creates his pottery on a potter's wheel from stoneware clays. He often decorates his forms with images such as dogwood flowers, influenced by the woods near his home. He decorates his pottery using an incising tool that cuts away clay and leaves intricate texture and openings in the form.

Alley Cat Pottery artist Kristal Gilkey of Berea demonstrated pottery on the wheel last Saturday, Oct. 8, from 10:30 to 3:30 at the Center. With amazing speed, Gilkey creates a wide range of functional kitchen wares on the potter's wheel.

Gilkey makes a line of functional kitchen wares such as apple bakers, batter bowls, egg separators and cream-and-sugar sets. She fires her work in an electric kiln and uses smooth dishwasher-safe and oven-proof glazes. Gilkey's pie dishes and apple bakers are very useful for baking and the choice of glaze colors available make them perfect for presentation at the table.

On Saturday, Oct. 15, three members of the Berea Welcome Center Carvers will demonstrate woodcarving from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Center. This group regularly demonstrates on the third Saturday of every month at the center.

given new life to what is now Chenault Vineyards, which will open its doors officially Thursday, October 13. The scenery is enough reason to go visit the property, but there is also a wine bar, gift shop, as well as sandwiches and soups offered to those who visit. Local crafts and gifts are available for purchase and all wine is Kentucky Proud, under the Chenault winery name.

Big plans are in store for the compound, according to owner Becky Chenault.

"We had originally wanted this property for farmland for our families to live on when it came up for sale. However, it is so beautiful we wanted to make sure the community could enjoy it," Chenault said.

With the fall foliage already coming in, the beauty is apparent in the acreage that had been closed to the public for two years.

Chenault explains that the welcome center where the restaurant was in preceding years has been remodeled to house a wine bar offering both Chenault red and white varietals.

"We want people to come in, grab a bottle of wine, and enjoy some laid back food: all Kentucky Proud. Then they can take a walk through the winery or sit on our many rocking chairs by the fire pit to enjoy the view," Chenault said excitedly.

There are six different venues to choose from if interested in booking an event at the vineyard. Each barn or pavilion has a different style that can be customized to accommodate guests. Event Coordinator at the winery Becky Coyle is excited to get groups booked at the vineyards.

"It is a beautiful place, with so many options and availability. However, we had to do a lot of upgrades so the place is fresh and updated, with a lot of little extras to make your event special," Coyle says.

Although a visit to the sprawling grounds may inspire one to get married on the spot, Chenault Vineyards hosts events of all sizes and types. Coyle says she has already been showing the winery off for people interested in retirement parties, corporate get-togethers, banquets, even family and class reunions.

"The quaint cottage venue is also ideal for girls' weekends or couple's get-aways," Coyle said.

The history of the vineyard dates back to when

Kentucky farmers were urged to grow grapes in favor of the popular crop of tobacco. The vines are still standing in a big section of the vineyard, and the goal is to produce wine on the spot with the family name. Owner Chenault stated that it takes 20 years to get a Kentucky wine grown and done right. The family is currently learning what it takes to grow grapes.

There is a lot more in store for this plot of land, and Chenault said they are in the beginning stages of getting the place up and running. It is now ready to host events and have people come out to visit the Welcome Center and grab a bite.

Chenault said, "The biggest question we get is, 'Will the restaurant [previously Acres of Land] re-open?' and I tell them, 'it's baby steps'. We are opening the Chenault Vineyard Welcome Center for October and November and will return in spring. Come March, we are revisiting the idea of having a full service restaurant on the property like there once was."

Until then, a visit to the new and improved vineyard is possible. Those at the winery say they have big ideas to get groups from all over the Commonwealth coming to visit what may be one of the oldest vineyards in the state as a tourist destination. During the winter season, the winery will continue to accommodate groups, with some dates around Christmas already booking up. The Welcome Center and bar will open October 13 and will continue being operated on weekends through November. For more information on the grand opening, or the booking of events, visit <http://www.chenaultvineyards.com>.

New Heights Church appreciates our Pastor Bro. Jon Burdette, wife Amy, and their children Evan and Shaylynn for all they do for our church, our members, and our community. Bro. Jon listens, cares, and prays for our church and those who attend. He preaches, teaches, and reaches out to those in need of salvation. For Pastor Appreciation Month we want him and his family to know that we pray for God to continue to give him strength, empower his ministry, bless him abundantly, protect his ministry and his family, and for the joy, love for Christ, and the passion to reach the lost to never leave his heart. Thanks Bro. Jon and Mrs. Amy for blessing our church with your service.

Information Needed for Vietnam War Casualties

Emerson McAfee, President of Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA) Chapter 1066, will be working to get all of the Madison County Vietnam War casualties the recognition they deserve. "There were 18 who were residents of Madison County when they entered the military, and our intentions are to locate where these veterans grew up," McAfee said. Once the locations of the veterans are found, McAfee will be asking Richmond, Berea, or Madison County to erect signs in honor of their service. "We will need family or friends of these men to help us locate their home of record at the time of their entry into the military," McAfee said. So far, McAfee has located six of the seven Vietnam Veterans who lived in Berea at the time of their service, including Charles Richie, David Buttry, Hugh Byrd, Robert Galloway, Marcus White, and Henry Gish. He has not been able to find information about Kenneth Allen, and he would like more specific information regarding Galloway. Anyone interested in joining the VVA Chapter 1066 should contact McAfee at 986-4362 or emcafee@windstream.net.

"Where is the best place to visit in the fall?"

The Dracula Went Down to Kentucky...

By Beth Myers
 Citizen Editor

Spotlight Players in Berea decided to write a play of Dracula's re-location to Kentucky. "I've always been a big fan of Dracula," Hembree said, "and I've always wanted to write a play set in Appalachia, so I thought, 'why not put it together?'" After all, Hembree said, this area was once called the Transylvania colony, back in 1700s. In his script, Dracula picks the area because the Appalachian mountains remind him of the Carpathian Mountains back home. The results of combining the Dracula legend with the mountains of Kentucky will be shown at the end of the month, just before Halloween. The world premiere of Dracula: The New World will show at the Spotlight Playhouse on Friday, Oct.

28, at 8 p.m. Tickets will cost from $8 to $12, since a booking fee applies. "It will take place in all the locations around Madison County, and the edge of Jackson County," Hembree said. "It's a completely original script, with history of the region and of Dracula worked into the script." This is the first time that Hembree has written a play for the Spotlight

Players, a group he owns with his wife, Letha Hembree. "The response from the actors has been really positive," Hembree said. "I've been editing the script as we've been rehearsing it, and they are just gobbling it up. There's such a fine line between campy and scary, but this performance is leaning on the scary side."

Billy Hall said, "I like visiting Levi Jackson State Park in London."

Submitted Photo

Daniel Bryant and his grandson enjoy the book signing of Zan's Quest, the first book Bryant published from his Chandaran Chronicles series. This Saturday Bryant will be present for a book signing of his latest book, The Forbidden Quest at the Berea library. It is the final book of the Chandaran Chronicles.

The series began as a type of therapy for Bryant, and a way to deal with sleepless nights as a result of injuries received during his time in the military. By creating a new, fictional world, Bryant was able to focus on the creative aspects of bringing a new world to life, rather than dealing with the stresses of the past. Bryant decided to combine his love of animals and adventure and mystery into something with a positive message, after talking to middle school students, language arts teachers, and librarians. The first book of the series was Zan's Quest, and the second was titled Alta's Revenge. Meghan Smith designed the covers for the first two books, but was unable to work on the third book because of time limitations. Chasity Sylva Pacheco, a high school art teacher in California and the daughter of a close friend and colleague, designed the cover for The Forbidden Quest. "While writing this book I was able to come to grips with the loss of a great friend, Cliff Sylva," Bryant said. "He was a fellow Air Force Security Policeman and was Chasity's father. We served together at two different assignments and our families grew close. He passed away this past year and the third book is dedicated in his honor. Every time I look at the cover, I remember Cliff and his goofy grin." Robie Bookstore is open on Saturday until 7 p.m. during the book signing event, so stop by to pick up a copy of the latest book and then take a short walk down to the library to get the copy autographed by Bryant. All three of the books in the Chandaran Chronicles Trilogy are available at Amazon and Barnes and Noble, and Kindle. Interested readers can also visit Bryant's website www.Vulcanfiction.com to read sample chapters of all of his books or to order the books. There are also sample chapters and information for his new series, Gabriel Warlock, due in early 2017.

facing many of the same problems we do today on planet Earth. There is gender bias, prejudice and injustice interwoven into the story. The main characters are two teenage heroes and best friends, one a male human and the other a female giant panther. They are equally intelligent and together they are tasked with solving a mystery and saving the planet."

Daniel Bryant, a teacher at Farristown Middle and a retired US Air Force disabled veteran, has recently released The Forbidden Quest, the third and final book in his Chandaran Chronicles Trilogy. Bryant will be giving away 30 copies of the first book, Zan's Quest, during his upcoming book signing of The Forbidden Quest and meet and greet this Saturday, Oct 15, from 4-6 p.m. at the Berea Public Library. Bryant has partnered with Robie Bookstore in Berea to ensure copies of The Forbidden Quest are available. "To the casual reader, this series is a great adventure mystery as the two main characters try to follow a thousand year old prophecy," Bryant said. "However, the more discerning readers will identify with a world

Madison Democrats Hold Memorial Dinner

The Madison County Democratic Party along with the ECU Democrats and Madison County Young Democrats held a dinner honoring the memory of Presidents Franklin Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy at ECU's Keen Johnson Ballroom last week.

Dr. Darrin Wilson, Madison County Democratic Executive Committee Chair, welcomed the large gathering of Democrats to hear former Kentucky State Auditor Adam Edelen speak, and to introduce Democratic candidates running for office in November. Speakers included Representative Rita Smart, who is running for reelection for the District 81 Kentucky House of Representative seat, Nancy Jo Kemper, a pastor and former moderator of the Kentucky Council of Churches running for the 6th District US House of Representatives seat, and Reggie Thomas for Jim Gray, the Democratic candidate for US Senate from Kentucky.

The ECU Democrats presented Wilson with its Friend of ECU Democrats Award, and Ivan Cornelius received their ECU Democrat of the Year Award. The Young Democrat of the Year was awarded to Kenny Madden.

The county organization presented the A.B. Chandler Award to Bill Strong for his service to the community. Peggy Rice received the Forniss R. Park Lifetime Service Award for her service to the community and the Democratic Party of Madison County.

Silver Creek Homemakers Meet

Greetings from Silver Creek Homemakers. There were 19 members present at our last meeting, with a new member Darlene May.

She was welcomed, and more of our readers are invited to join us on the first Thursday of each month at the Madison County Extension Office at 230 Duncannon Lane in Richmond.

Mary Ann McCollum read a devotional called "give me your flowers" by visiting or calling on friends, especially if they are shut-ins. Let them know how much you care.

Silver Creek Homemakers' Secretary Patsy Taylor talked about October's Breast Cancer awareness month. This included how important it was to get a mammogram, and to save those bottle caps and pull tabs from pop cans. These can be turned in at the extension office, and the proceeds will help cancer charities and St. Jude Hospital for children. Readers are encouraged to save them and drive by and turn them in at the extension office anytime.

Kay Jones suggested taking a sister along for the mammogram, so someone wouldn't be alone. That sister could also be a friend's sister, a church member's sister, or even a neighbor sister's. That way both could get a mammogram at the same time.

Danella Tate spoke briefly on the Madison County 4-H. She gave some fun facts -- this past year 6,779 youth participated in a youth program; 1,331 gave a speech or demonstration; 333 went to 4-H camp; and there were 107 volunteers. There were more 4th graders than any other grade to attend, and 2,714 students hatched chickens.

4-H is a wonderful program for children. Call the extension office for more details. Darlene Luster gave the leader lesson titled "Is your piggy bank full." Handling financial affairs should start as early as high school to achieve independence, and to evaluate future financial needs with resources despite the life stage. Matters such as budget development, money management, wise credit use, consumer protection and savvy saving can contribute to a successful financial management. Create financial planning for life events from young adulthood through retirement years. Transitions between different stages of life can often be difficult, however, planning ahead financially can help for better preparation to meet the various obligations associated with the seasons of life.

Start with total income, then expenses, and balance between the two. Save when possible, use free parks or walk paths to do exercise, watch cash money flow, and never sign a contract with blank spaces -- put an N/A or draw a line through it.

For more information on this subject, call the extension office at 859-623-4072.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing as required by Section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code") will be held by the Kentucky Economic Development Finance Authority (the "Authority"), acting through its hearing officer, in the conference room on the 1st Floor of the Old Capitol Annex, 300 West Broadway, Frankfort, Kentucky, at 9:00 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time, on October 27, 2016, concerning the proposed issuance by the Authority, for the benefit of Baptist Healthcare System, Inc. ("Baptist Health"), a Kentucky not-for-profit corporation and an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code, of up to $459,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the Authority's Hospital Revenue and Refunding Bonds, Series 2016C (Baptist Healthcare System Obligated Group) (the "Bonds"), pursuant to a resolution or resolutions of the Authority.

The Bonds are proposed to be issued (a) to advance refund a portion of the Authority's Hospital Revenue Bonds, Series 2009A (Baptist Healthcare System Obligated Group), issued on February 19, 2009 in an original aggregate principal amount equal to $216,030,000 and now outstanding in an aggregate principal amount equal to $148,300,000 (the "Prior Bonds"); (b) to finance a portion of the costs of construction, acquisition and installation of new hospital, health care and health related properties and facilities for Baptist Health or certain of its affiliates as described below (the "2016 Projects"); (c) to fund a debt service reserve, if required; and (d) to pay all or a portion of the costs of issuance of the Bonds. The Prior Bonds financed and refinanced costs of certain hospital, health care and health related buildings, improvements, additions, expansions, fixtures, equipment and related facilities of Baptist Health or certain of its affiliates (the "Prior Projects").

Prior Projects. The proceeds of the Prior Bonds, to the extent expected to be advance refunded by the Bonds, were allocated on an approximate basis to hospital, health care and health related facilities as follows: Baptist Health Lexington, generally located at 1740 Nicholasville Road, Lexington, Fayette County, Kentucky, a 391-bed acute care hospital, health care and related health care facilities ($47,157,605); Baptist Health Louisville, generally located at 4000 Kresge Way, St. Matthews, Jefferson County, Kentucky, a 519-bed acute care hospital, health care and health related facilities ($10,410,008); Baptist Health Paducah, generally located at 2501 Kentucky Avenue, Paducah, McCracken County, Kentucky, a 373-bed acute care hospital, health care and health related facilities ($13,331,000); Baptist Health Corbin, generally located at 1 Trillium Way, Corbin, Whitley County, Kentucky, a 273-bed acute care hospital, health care and health related facilities ($11,462,388); Baptist Health LaGrange, generally located at 1025 New Moody Lane, LaGrange, Oldham County, Kentucky, a 120-bed acute care hospital, health care and health related facilities ($27,277,741); and Baptist Health Support Services, generally located at 4007 Kresge Way, St. Matthews, Jefferson County, Kentucky, an approximately 65,000 square foot (not including basement), three-story office building located on the campus of Baptist Health Louisville ($16,888,683). The maximum aggregate face amount of the Bonds allocated to the advance refunding of such Prior Projects shall not exceed the amount of proceeds of the Prior Bonds allocated to such Prior Projects.

2016 Projects. The proceeds of the Bonds in the respective maximum principal amounts set forth below will be used for the 2016 Projects by Baptist Health, to finance, or reimburse Baptist Health for, the costs of the purchase, acquisition, construction, enlargement, remodeling, renovation, improvement, furnishing or equipping of the hospitals, other health facilities and their related facilities, including land, owned or operated by Baptist Health or certain of its affiliates and generally located at the locations, all as described below:

1. Baptist Health Louisville, generally located at 4000 Kresge Way, St. Matthews, Jefferson County, Kentucky ($20,000,000 maximum principal amount).
 - a. Expansion, renovation and equipping of emergency room.
2. Baptist Health Lexington, generally located at 1740 Nicholasville Road, Lexington, Fayette County, Kentucky ($95,000,000 maximum principal amount).
 - a. Construction and equipping of a new seven-story bed tower, parking facilities and associated support systems;
 - b. Build out and equipping of the cancer center, seventh floor of bed tower, morgue, retail pharmacy, small café and construction of a pedway between the north parking garage and bed tower;
 - c. Renovation and equipping of medical telemetry unit;
 - d. Expansion and renovation of 3 Main nursing units; and
 - e. Expansion and renovation of orthopedic services department.
3. Baptist Health Paducah, generally located at 2501 Kentucky Avenue, Paducah, McCracken County, Kentucky ($25,000,000 maximum principal amount).
 - a. Construction and equipping of outpatient oncology and chemotherapy department; and
 - b. Construction and equipping costs associated with expansion of neonatal intensive care unit.
4. Baptist Health Corbin, generally located at 1 Trillium Way, Corbin, Whitley County, Kentucky ($20,000,000 maximum principal amount).
 - a. Construction and equipping of outpatient oncology and chemotherapy department; and
 - b. Repair, update and correct infrastructure and power systems.
5. Baptist Health Richmond, generally located at 801 Eastern Bypass, Richmond, Madison County, Kentucky ($25,000,000 maximum principal amount).
 - a. Campus improvement project, including expansion of the emergency department, and renovation and relocation projects for laboratory, women's care, operating rooms, outpatient diagnostic services, lobbies, corridors and facades, and purchase of equipment.
6. Berea, Kentucky, 13.96 acres of land, generally located at the intersection of Village Drive and Walnut Creek Drive, off Walnut Meadow Road, near Exit 77 off Interstate 75, in Berea, Madison County, Kentucky ($1,000,000 maximum principal amount).
7. Baptist Health LaGrange, generally located at 1025 New Moody Lane, LaGrange, Oldham County, Kentucky ($3,000,000 maximum principal amount).
 - a. Renovation, reconfiguring and equipping of women's service areas.

Foley Soccer Wins Bluegrass District Tournament

The Foley Middle School boys soccer team finished 21-0 on the season, winning the Bluegrass District Tournament and the Bluegrass Conference regular season title.

Foley won the Foley Cup earlier in the season.

The middle school team is coached by Head Coach James Shoopman, and assistant coaches Craig Williams and Reid Connelly. Connelly played for Shoopman while in middle school at Foley.

The championship game was a classic. Foley took a 1-0 lead when Pierce Meeks connected about seven minutes into the first half. Foley's defense held that lead until about seven minutes left in the game, when Model tied it at 1-1.

With about two minutes to go, Zack Sadler connected for the winning goal.

The defense held Model the final two minutes.

The win gave Foley a perfect season at 21-0. Foley's prior best season was 15-0-1 in 1994 when Shoopman and Steve Pennington co-coached Foley. The 1996 team featuring Connelly as goalkeeper went 15-1-1.

Foley is lead on offense by 8th graders Meeks, Alex Eckiveria, Andrew Mayo and Hayden Duerson. Other important offense players feature 7th grader Jarod Powell and 6th graders Jase Duerson and Hayden Jakubowski. 5th grader Avery Davidson also has contributed several goals.

The defense is led by Zach Sadler, Gregg Oh and Chase Hechemy. All are 8th graders and all are very fast. 7th graders Josh Tripp and Austin Shepherd and 6th graders Jakubowski and Kenton Helton have also contributed to the defense.

Goalkeeping has been done mostly by Alec Masters with Austin Shepherd and Josh Yoder filling in. Shepherd started the championship game.

Coach Shoopman said, "This team got better every game. They worked very hard to get better and they have improved as much as any team I ever coached. They passed the ball very well and stay in position to received the ball in open field. This has been a fun team to work with."

Model and Caudill finished second and third in the conference. Foley beat Model 4-3 first time they met and then 5-1 the second time. They beat Caudill 6-2 first time and then 9-0.

The candidates for Homecoming Queen at Berea Community High School in October 1976 were, back row, Rhonda Harrison, Patsy Marcum, Kara Pettibone, Ann LeGear, Lisa Hamilton, Tina Hallam, LeAnn Pullins, Cindy Jones, and Robyn Taylor; in the middle row were Tanya Baker, Miriam VanderHorst, Sonja Kerby, and Tina Cummins; and in the front row were Scharme Brunner, Heather Power, Eileen Ambrose, and Dawn Hembre. Not pictured was Debbie French. The candidates were presented at the parade, and the homecoming game was against Leslie County.

The Berea city council voted to sue Berea College in October 1976, for approximately $18,000 in unpaid street assessments. The council originally wanted to bargain for the payment, offering to pay $23,000 in fire hydrant rents in return for the settlement. Karl Warming, the business vice president at the college, said they would not agree to that plan. The council also voted to employ Billie R. Moseley as Berea police chief. Berea College's trustees voted to close the "Wilderness Show," feeling it was time for the college to "shift its energies and resources." The show had just operated at a deficit of $43,000, and had incurred deficits the previous four seasons. The Berea Hospital Candy Strippers held their meeting in October 1976, and elected Gail Gabbard as president, Janet Brewer as vice president, Marie Casteel as secretary, Cherrie Brock as treasurer, and Denise Long as historian. Members present at the meeting were Teresa King, Carla Conn, Gail Gabbard, Tammy Kendrick, Teresa Thomas, Marie Casteel, Cherrie Brock, Janet Brewer, and Denise Long. Four Berea ECU students started their student teaching -- Peter S. Armistead, Ruth Chestnut, Churl Morgan, and Ruby Jackson.

Grow Appalachia to Strengthen Year-Round Growing

Grow Appalachia will be leveraging private and federal funds, totaling nearly $1 million, to impact Southeastern Kentucky Promise Zone and Strike Force counties.

As a program of Berea College, Grow Appalachia will work with partners throughout the Southeastern Kentucky region to strengthen year-round growing efforts, agricultural economic development, and local food networks. Now that farmers markets and markets for local produce are expanding across the region, these initiatives are right on time.

Berea College's Grow Appalachia was awarded $375,000 by the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) for the Community Foods Project (CFP) grant. Grow Appalachia and CFP partners will match that amount dollar for dollar to support the creation of gardens and commercial processing space at five community nonprofits—Pine Mountain Settlement School, Red Bird Mission, Cowan Community Center, Lend-A-Hand Center, and Hindman Settlement School.

City Plans to Honor Local POW/MIA

By Beth Myers
Citizen Editor

The City of Berea was approached by Loretta Sherod about honoring a Vietnam War soldier, POW/MIA, from Berea, Capt. Hugh McNeil Bryd, Jr. in a ceremony scheduled for Sept. 15, 2017. Bryd was pronounced missing in action in 1969.

September 15 is the National POW/MIA Recognition Day. City council member Chester Powell, a Vietnam veteran, met with Sherod to discuss the ceremony.

Mayor Steve Connelly read from Sherod's email on the issue, "We will honor Berea's POW MIA. I will leave it to the American Legion to determine which heroes are POW MIA."

Connelly stated that the monument in Berea Memorial Park has the names of those killed from most, if not all, of the country's wars. There is no designation, however, as to whether they were POW MIA or just killed in action.

"After determining whether there is more than one missing in action, they will be marked with a star, and in addition a 16 by 10 inch bronze plaque will explain the star symbol for POW MIA," Connelly said.

Some suggestions concerning the ceremony included the POW MIA Flag Guard paying up to $600 for the plaque, and the City of Berea paying $200 for the program. Female relatives would receive flowers, and a special cancellation stamp would be created for use by the Berea Post Office.

Getting An Annual Mammogram

By Beth Myers
Citizen Editor

"Follow the pink ribbons down the hallway, to the left, and the room will be to the right, before the double doors," the woman from St. Joseph Berea Hospital told me, when directing me toward the suite for mammograms.

She could just as easily have told me to follow the pink - after I followed the pink ribbons attached to the walls, I found a door with a huge, dark pink wreath on it and a sign written in pink font, "Welcome to the Mammography Waiting Area." Once inside, the mammography technologist handed me a form to fill out, on a pink clipboard.

This was not my first mammogram at St. Joseph Hospital, but it was my first digital mammogram. I had written a few articles about the hospital fundraising to purchase the machine, and remembered when they were finally able to purchase it. The Merle M. Davis Digital Mammography Suite, named after a former nurse and supervisor of Berea College Hospital, was lovely, with a small, comfortable waiting room.

"I was surprised that a small hospital had this kind of suite," Erin Purvis said.

Purvis is the only mammography technologist at the hospital. She started at St. Joseph approximately eight months before, after nine years at the Lexington Clinic. She averages 15 mammograms a day; they usually only take 10 to 15 minutes.

"I time myself, to see how quick I can do one," Purvis said. "I'm at eight minutes for a mam-

Tourism Commission Delves Into New Endeavors

By Marisa Hempel
Citizen Editor

Last week's Berea Tourism Commission meeting delved into many new endeavors for the city.

Many of the items on the agenda showed the marketing power of what Berea has to offer, and will offer moving forward through the end of the year and into 2017. Tourism Director Kerrie Hensley had good news to report. The first piece of good news was a recap of this summer's Festival of Learnshops. The registration numbers were slightly lower than 2015's total enrollment for the art workshops.

"We depend on the educators as well as artists and tourists to attend the Learnshops. Many of them were unable to get the usual education credit for attending the seminars," explained Director Kerrie Hensley. "It's politics at the state level. But really, we came out on top because out of the 272 workshops, 57% were taught by Bereans, leaving $45,124 in growth that stays right here in Berea."

The director's report from Hensley also included the advancement the Tourism Commission has made with social media. This was made, in large part, to newly hired Tourism Communications Manager Dylan Bogard.

Hensley explained, "We had a good presence on Facebook, but after Dylan came on board in July the [Tourism] Commission also gained a YouTube account as well as Instagram and Twitter," Hensley said. "We also have a monthly newsletter that we provide subscriptions off of our website at Berea.com, so Dylan has been a great asset to our team."

The new addition to the tourism team had good things to say about the other presenters at the commission meeting. Bogard described the update on the Berea Farmer's Market, which was presented

Students Eating Breakfast, Lunch Increases at Berea Community

By Beth Myers
Citizen Editor

More children are eating breakfast and lunch at Berea Community School, Superintendent Mike Hogg announced at Monday night's school board meeting.

Hogg reported that since Berea Community went to the Community Eligibility Provision, where a school can offer free breakfast and lunch to all students, on average 50 more students are eating breakfast and 79 more are eating lunch.

"We're making sure that hunger is not a barrier to student learning," Hogg said. "I believe that children are getting fed now who may not have gotten fed earlier."

School can offer the community eligibility provision if a significant percentage of their students are eligible for free or reduced meals.

Hogg said that food service continues to operate in the black, though he thought they would gain more students eating breakfast and less eating lunch.

The school is also looking to offer Grab and Go options, where students can grab a brown bag for breakfast with juice or milk, a granola bar, and a piece of fruit. Hogg is also interested in offering an evening meal.

"It would be a bagged meal, where athletes such as basketball players who have to stay at school and catch a bus can still eat," Hogg said.

Geneva Todd Turns 90

By Beth Myers
Citizen Editor

Just a few weeks after her brother-in-law Carl Carpenter's 90th birthday, Geneva Todd celebrated her own transition to being a nonagenarian.

"I can't believe I'm 90," Geneva said. "I thank the Lord every day for all I have, and for this long life."

Geneva turned 90 on Friday, Oct. 7, and celebrated the following Sunday in Paint Lick where much of her family resides. Around 100 people celebrated with her. With the impish smile of a much younger woman, Geneva admitted that she "loves parties and visiting with people."

"She loved my dad's [Carl] birthday party," Wanda Hurt, Geneva's niece, said. "She probably had more fun than dad."

Geneva was born in Estill County, but moved to Garrard County when she was three. She attended school up to eighth grade, but then left to help her mom, who was sick. Like many

Bobby Carol Boggs White

Bobby Carol Boggs White, 80, wife of Alfonso White, died Friday, Oct. 14, 2016 at the Compassionate Care Center in Richmond. A native of Madison County, she was born to the late Author Boggs, Sr., and Nannie M. Herd Boggs.

She was retired from Parker Seal Company. She was a member of First Baptist Church of Berea at Middletown, and loved her church and loved to garden, but her passion was visiting and helping others.

Other than her parents, she was preceded in death by a brother, Elmer Davis Boggs, and a sister, Louise Bosley.

Other than her husband, she is survived by her children, Larry (Sharon) White, Cheryl (Rodney) Hinkle, and Denita (Keith) Davis; her brothers, Author (Annette) Boggs, Jr., of Berea and John (Mary) Boggs of Cincinnati, Ohio; her sisters, Odessa (Bernard) Denny of Berea and Mildred (Thomas) Turley of Richmond; her grandchildren, Jacqueline Hinkle, Hanna White, Lakeisha Davis, and Bryan

Funeral services will be 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 22, 2016 at First Baptist Church of Berea at Middletown with Rev. J.K. Cunningham officiating. Burial will follow in the Madison County Memorial Gardens. Visitation will be Friday from 6-9 p.m. Friday at the Church. Davis & Powell Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. www.davisandpowellfuneralhome.com.

James M. Carpenter

James M. Carpenter, 79, went to his heavenly home while surrounded by his loving family on Wednesday evening at Hospice Compassionate Care Center.

James was born in Madison County to the late Anderson and Annie B. Carpenter. He was a retired Berea College electrician, and member of the Cornerstone Baptist Church.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by six siblings, Glendon Carpenter, Hazel Carpenter, Mamie Powell, Allison Carpenter, Vinson Carpenter, and Coleman Carpenter.

He is survived by his loving wife, Etta Cox Carpenter; three sons, Ricky (Teresa) Marshall Carpenter, Randall (Laura) Lee Carpenter, and Ronnie Dale Carpenter; five siblings, Zada (O.P.) Naylor, Newt (Henrietta) Carpenter, Marie (Danny) Powell, Cron (Delores) Carpenter, and Luther (Wilma) Carpenter; four grandchildren, Heather (Todd) Wilson, Derek (Leikka) Carpenter, Leslie Carpenter, and Sarah (Ryan) Baker; two great grandchildren, Allie and Eli Wilson; one brother-in-law, Les Powell; and numerous nieces, nephews and extended family.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 17, 2016 at Lakes Funeral Home with Bro. Jeff Reed officiating. Burial followed in the Madison County Memorial Gardens. Pallbearers were Ricky Carpenter, David Carpenter, Derek Carpenter, Todd Wilson, Ryan Baker, and Logan Frazier. Honorary bearers were Ronnie Carpenter, Randy Carpenter, and all of his nephews.

BEREA POLICE REPORTS

Police Reports from 10/8/16 - 10/16/16

Public Intoxication

On October 8, officers were called to a residence on Center Street because of a possible crime in progress. After speaking to the caller and neighbors, they determined that no crime had been committed.

The caller showed several signs of impairment and appeared to be hallucinating. Officers arrested Treysean Prentice, 31, of Berea and charged him with public intoxication.

Alcohol Intoxication

On October 11, officers were called to the 200 block of Prospect Street because of someone causing a disturbance. When officers located the person in question, he showed several signs of intoxication. He was placed under arrest.

Officers charged Robert Renner, 20, of Showshoe, W.V. with alcohol intoxication in a public place.

Rape/Sodomy Arrest

On October 12, officers arrested Michael Walker, 23, of Berea after an investigation revealed that he had sexual contact with a minor. Walker also provided marijuana to the victim who was 15 years old.

Walker was charged with third degree rape, third degree sodomy, and third degree unlawful transaction with a minor.

DUI Arrest

On October 11, officers were called to the 600 block of Scaffold Cane Road because of a motor vehicle collision. They saw an alcohol container near one of the vehicles, and noticed that the driver appeared to be under the influence.

Officers arrested Christopher Ramsey, 37, of Berea and charged him with operating a motor vehicle under the influence -- third offense.

Drug Arrest

On October 11, officers were at Knight's Inn assisting probation and parole with locating a wanted person.

The person in question was located, along with two other people in a vehicle in the parking lot. One of them was in possession of a small amount of methamphetamine and a glass pipe.

Officers arrested Melissa Abner, 39, of Berea and charged her with first degree possession of controlled substance -- methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia possession.

On October 14, a traffic stop was conducted on Mary Street for a minor traffic offense. The driver was in possession of several different pills that she did not have a prescription for.

Officers arrested Katie Moore, 25, of Covington and charged her with several traffic offenses, as well as prescription of controlled substance not in proper container and illegal possession of a legend drug.

Shoplifting Arrest

On October 14, officers were called to Walmart because of a woman who was switching price tags on merchandise. The woman admitted that she was attempting to take the items, and had been in the store for several hours.

Officers arrested Valerie Gabbard, 39, of Berea and charged her with theft by unlawful taking -- shoplifting.

EPO/DVO Violation

On October 16, officers were called to the Holiday Motel because of a suspicious vehicle in the parking lot. Two people were located in the vehicle that had an active protection order in place.

Officers arrested Lonnie Ayers, 38, of Henderson and charged him with violation of a Ky EPO/DVO.

"I love Berea and want to keep its future bright for my grandchildren & yours!"

...Cora Jane

- ✿ I believe it's important to treat people like we want to be treated.
- ✿ I am a 4th generation Berean, born and raised here. My husband & I chose to raise our children in Berea and now they are raising our grandchildren here too.
- ✿ I retired from the City of Berea, where I was office manager for the utilities. My grandparents & my parents were Berea business owners and now my husband & children also have businesses in Berea. I understand the importance of government and business working together for the betterment of all of Berea's citizens.
- ✿ A transparent government is a must and would help to eliminate ill feelings between the council, mayor and citizens.
- ✿ We need to address the drug issue with our youth. Take some of the money we spend wastefully and invest in them.

Berea has been good to my family and me. Now it's time for me to give back. I seek your prayers and appreciate your support.

Hunger Hurts Food Drive Next Week

The 24rd Annual Hunger Hurts Food Drive, coordinated by Berea College's Center for Excellence in Learning through Service (CELS), will run from October 22 to 29, 2016.

On October 22, volunteers will distribute brown paper bags, donated by Kroger, to local households. Community members then fill the bags with non-perishable food and toiletry items, and place them near their front door by 9 a.m. on October 29, for volunteers to pick up.

CELS' goal is to surpass last year's collection of 7,500 pounds of food. This collection supports more than 700 families in Southern Madison County with putting food on their table throughout the winter.

"This year will make my fourth year volunteering with the Hunger Hurts Food Drive, and it is a great honor to have the opportunity to coordinate this event," Morgan Stacy, student associate for community service and coordinator of the Food Drive, said. "This event allows students and the community to work side-by-side to alleviate hunger within the Berea community."

All donated food will be delivered to the Berea Food Bank, which is sponsored by BFCO (Berea Faith Community Outreach). The volunteers of the Berea Food Bank appreciate all non-perishable food donations and toiletry items.

Jerry Workman, volunteer coordinator at the Berea Food Bank, said, "The most needed items are salmon, beef stew, tuna, peas, toilet tissue, facial soap, toothpaste, corn meal, hamburger helper, peaches, fruit cocktail, spaghetti, and spaghetti sauce."

Community members will have an opportunity to provide emergency assistance to families needing help with rent and utility bills this winter by supporting Bereans United for Utility and Rent Relief (BUURR), also sponsored by BFCO. More information and an envelope for donations will be attached to the grocery bag that is delivered to local residences.

Residents who have an emergency food need or would like to request assistance can call (859) 985-1903 for more information.

City council a complete failure

Dear Editor,

In a few weeks on Tuesday, Nov. 8, the people of Berea will be voting to elect eight city council members who will represent the people of Berea for the next two years. The present city council has been a complete failure.

The majority of them voted to put the present taxpayers, their children, and their grandchildren in debt to the tune of twenty million dollars for the next 40 years for a building that was not needed. They bought property that cost the taxpayers millions of hard-earned tax dollars that was not needed. They rented this property to the special interest people for as low as one dollar per year.

They voted to cancel the Spoonbread Festival that brought in over $600,000 which was much needed to boost our local economy over a piece of cloth that was being sold at the festival. How dumb can you get?

They made several blunders trying to negotiate a contract for electric service for the people that cost hundred of thousands of dollars in extra cost, that they people will have to pay. What a blunder!

These are just a few of the blunders that have been made. Council members Little, Powell, Farmer, Caudill, and Hembree must be replaced for their failures. Let's give someone else a chance. Let's elect people who will support a fully transparent government that represents all people equally, not just a few select groups.

A city budget that lessens the burden on the taxpayers by reducing spending is more industrial and business friendly and eliminates wasteful city government programming and etc.

Berea has great potential. We have Interstate 75 that runs through our city. Let's elect people who know how to take advantage of that. Berea should be one of the most prosperous city's in the country and the least taxed. We can make Berea a better place for all the people.

Remember you don't have to vote for eight people; you can vote for less.

ABSOLUTE AUCTION
SAT OCT 29, 2016 10:00 A.M.

166 +/- Acre Farm
Garrard Co., KY

Directions from Lancaster, Kentucky, take KY Highway 52 East approx. 2.5 miles, turn left onto KY HWY 1295, travel approx. 1 mile, bare right onto Hurt Lane, travel approx. 1.5 miles to auction site, signs will be posted. Located approx. 40 miles south of Lexington, KY, approx. 4 miles South East of Lancaster, KY and approx. 17 miles west of Richmond, KY.

We have been employed by the owners of this nice farm to sell at Absolute Auction on the above date and time.
This 166 +/- acre farm has an older home, outbuildings, and 3 barns, it is located in a quiet neighborhood. The farm lays level to rolling along the waters of Back Creek with lots of beautiful bottom land. The property has been well maintained, with lush pastures in good grasses. The farm has an abundant water supply with the constant running water provided by the creek, springs, and city water is also available.
The owners are currently using the farm for raising cattle and for a hay operation. This farm would also make a nice horse farm or could be used for raising produce. An abundance of wildlife such as deer and turkey can be found on the property.
Very seldom do you have the opportunity to purchase a farm like this one at your own price. If you have been in the market for that special place to live and farm, or just retire to, don't overlook this Absolute Auction.

Powell gave some information about Capt. Byrd, an aviator who was shot down in 1969. His remains have been found, but have not yet been recovered. Sherod would also like to know of any others from Berea who are POW/MIA's.

When asked why it was significant to make note of the POW/MIA's, Powell said, "People don't know where they are, whether they're still alive or in a POW camp still, or how they're being treated, or how their remains were treated."

Powell had traveled to Vietnam in the early 1980s to help locate some of the remains.

Connelly told the city council that they would have some decisions to make about funding the ceremony, and other programming questions. Council member Ronnie Terrill asked if other names could be added to the memorial, such as the son of the West family. Powell said they could add names for people who lived within Berea.

Emerson McAfee from the Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA) reported that he had been able to locate an address for all the Vietnam veteran casualties from Berea. The VVA would like for local governments to fund the placing of memorial signs for those residents who died in the Vietnam War.

McAfee handed out a map to the council, with suggested locations for all the signs. The City of Berea will be asked to provide funding for the signs. Connelly suggested that the three governments coordinate on the project, since McAfee will be checking on the Vietnam veteran casualties from Richmond and Madison County next.

When McAfee asked about the prospects of receiving funding from the City of Berea for the signage, Connelly replied that, "you didn't hear any objections."

Four community members stood up to complain about the Berea Human Rights Commission (HRC), including two who have spoken at previous city council meetings, Virginia Bland and Ed LaFontaine.

Jacqueline Bowling reported on an HRC meeting she attended, where she asked each member what demographic group they represented. She stated that almost all of the members could not report on the group they represented, and encouraged her to ask the mayor.

Bowling read from the ordinance creating the HRC, which stated that, "the commission shall consist of seven members, appointed by the mayor, on a nonpartisan basis, and shall broadly be representative of employers, proprietors, trade unions, human rights groups, general public."

Bowling asked Mayor Connelly to report on which groups each member of the HRC represented.

"Over the lifetime of the Human Rights Commission, there's probably been 20 people," Connelly said in reply. "During that time I've tried to pick people who were representative of Berea and who had some working awareness of employment, housing and public accommodations . . . if you were truly interested in the information, you could give me the question, I could prepare a response, and you would have accurate, complete lengthy information. Asking me to respond off the top of my head is probably going to get a fairly superficial, generic kind of response because I don't have that information off the top of my head."

Bowling replied that there were not representative demographics of the Berea population on the HRC.

Bland repeated her earlier concern on how she felt ignored and dismissed by the HRC when she brought forward a complaint of harassment because of disabilities in her family. She was concerned that there wasn't someone representing disability, and the fact that there was no outreach to the disabled community by the HRC. Bland asked the City of Berea to disband the HRC.

LaFontaine reported a concern about a voter registration event, which the HRC and the KFTC (Kentuckians for the Commonwealth) planned to partner on. The HRC had to pull out, LaFontaine said, because of the partisan nature of the event. Connelly told LaFontaine that he was wrong in his reporting of the event; the HRC hadn't gone through the proper protocols to use city money for the voter registration event, which is why they had to cancel.

LaFontaine stated that the HRC were not mediating as they were charged. Connelly replied that the HRC had no enforcement power, but existed only to educate and inform the public.

There is a current slot open on the HRC, with the resignation of David Shroyer. Connelly asked Bland, LaFonaine, and Bowling if they were willing to serve on the commission but they all replied that they weren't.

Ed Fortner, the director of the Berea Municipal Utilities, reported that when they were excavating for the new water line near Chestnut and Parkway on Monday, they encountered a 5,000 gallon fuel tank. The top was ripped open, so the construction crew had to deal with 600 gallons of fuel and water mix.

"We have plans, working with contractors, to deal with any and all soils that became contaminated, but we'll err on the conservative side," Fortner said, who reported on all remedial actions they were taking.

Council member Ronnie Terrill asked who would pay for the clean-up, and whether there would be a change order. Fortner replied that BMU would probably pay for it, but he didn't know about the change order. Since the clean-up was happening in house, council member Jerry Little said, the expense shouldn't be high. Fortner agreed, stating it shouldn't be more than a couple of thousand.

In other business:

- Mayor Connelly

signed a proclamation making the week of October 16 - 22 Retired Teachers' Appreciation Week. Several retired teachers were present to accept the proclamation. He also signed a proclamation making October Industry Appreciation Month. A luncheon for Industry Appreciation will take place on Tuesday, Oct. 25 at 11:30 a.m. at the Russel Acton Folk Center.

- Council member Chad Hembree announced that there were several positions open in Berea at Hitachi, Hyster-Yale, Berea College, Sodexo, Tractor Supply, and St. Joseph Berea Hospital. The economic development committee met with the owner of Papaleno's, and had a valuable discussion, council member Steve Caudill announced, about the challenges of a small business. Mayor Connelly asked the economic development committee to check on the statistics for employees in Berea, and where they worked.

- Jennifer Napier, the president of the Berea Chamber of Commerce, reported that the Duck Derby was a success for the Chamber. She said the 3rd Annual Geocaching Event this past weekend was also very successful. She said the goal is to make Berea the "Geocaching Capital of Kentucky."

- Executive Director David Rowlette of the Berea Chamber of Commerce reported that their office has moved to Chestnut Street to People's Bank. Rowlette also reported that the Spoonbread Festival had been voted the "Best of the Best" by the daily newspaper in Madison County, even though it did not occur this year. "We're already 30 days behind the planning for next year," Rowlette said, "so we need to address that right now. So be prepared for the board to be addressing that. The city will be asked to contribute."

- Brenda McKnight was hired as the new Tourism Office Coordinator. She will be starting next week.

- Little reported on the financial statement from Sept. and stated that the City of Berea was in good financial shape.

- An ordinance to surplus items from the old Dresser building was approved.

of her peers, she was needed at home to help with the various chores such as laundry, cleaning, and cooking for a big family.

"We'd do wash on a board," Geneva remembered.

Geneva was the oldest in her family, with her siblings, Sam, Hubert, Katherine, and Mary coming after her.

Geneva ended up moving to Berea in 1953 with her husband because it had become so difficult to survive on the farm. She ended up getting a job at Berea College in food service, where she worked for almost 15 years. She ended up as the supervisor of the evening crew, and one of her favorite parts of the job was working with the students.

"I adjusted to Berea real good," Geneva said. "I really liked the students."

Several decades later, Geneva still hears from some of the students who worked with her. They'll send her cards, and check in every once in a while. It was a special time for her, Geneva said, and she was able to work with the "sweetest kids."

During that time, Geneva overcame one major hurdle in her life - learning to drive. For many years, she walked to work at the college, but at 38 years old she finally received her driver's license. She remembers her co-workers laughing when she drove to work the first day, telling her she better not forget her car and walk home instead.

Driving is one of the things that Geneva misses the most. A social butterfly, she loved being independent, and driving to see people. Attending church at Church on the Rock was another one of her favorite activities, and she would often be seen when the church doors were open. Now, however, she doesn't feel good enough to attend, so she watches religious programs at home.

"I read my Bible every morning," Geneva said, "and if I don't read it in the morning, I'll read it in the evening."

Geneva has back troubles now, partly because of her past employment at Gibson Greeting Cards. She left Berea College to work there, making a little more than a dollar an hour. The work was physically demanding, however, and has taken a toll. She always uses her walker now.

Though Geneva regrets that she never had children, she does have multiple photos of one young man all around her living room. Wanda's son, Andy Hurt, was always a special great-nephew to Geneva, and more like a son.

"I would help Wanda with him, since he was six weeks old," Geneva said. "I was always with him. I remember he called me 'Nenaw.'"

Andy, who is 27-years-old and married, gets a call from his Nenaw every day or two.

Geneva still lives independently, in her own apartment, though she isn't able to get around like she used to. Her favorite thing, however, is to talk and visit with others.

"She never gets tired of having company," Wanda said, laughing. "For her, the more the merrier."

One of Geneva's favorite times is when it's nice outside, and her neighbors gather around on the porch in the evening and she'll sit out with them.

"I just thank the Lord for everything," Geneva said.

I had a vague expectation that the digital mammogram would be different than the film, perhaps with the technician waving a laser over by breast to see inside. I found out quickly that for the patient, at least, the mammogram experience is pretty similar.

"Women think that there won't have to be compression with the digital mammogram, but it's still pretty much the same," Purvis said.

The digital mammogram is different for the technician, however. The images immediately pop up on the computer, allowing Purvis to assess whether they are clear enough to send on to a radiologist in Lexington. With film, the technician would have to develop it first, which took much more time.

"With the digital, you have less call-backs," Pur-vis said, "because the images are so much better. There are also less false positives."

Women getting mammograms are usually seen right away at St. Joseph Berea, Purvis said. Unlike other x-rays, the patients are immediately sent back. Unless something unexpected happens, a woman won't wait more than five minutes.

For mammograms, you have to strip off the shirt and bra. You're then given a short gown which is, you guessed it, dark pink. Purvis then has to manipulate one breast at a time on top of a slide, then compress it with another slide. It's not comfortable for me to have my breasts manipulated like my arms or legs, but Purvis is very careful as well as professional, keeping the discomfort to a minimum.

"The age range that usually has the hardest time with mammograms are from 60 - 75 years old," Purvis said. "The part where they start to get touchy is during the compression - they really don't like the compression."

Of course, no one really likes it, Purvis said, but the younger women usually don't complain, expecting a certain amount of discomfort. This type of x-ray is much more physical than others, according to Purvis, since the technicians have to keep shifting women, moving their arms around and their trunks out of the way. When Purvis first started, she admitted that it was much more difficult for her.

"I barely wanted to touch a breast," Purvis said.

Purvis said she can sometimes tell when a woman has a tumor by looking at the digital images, but that is information she is not allowed to share. Patients only find out the results once the radiologist sends back the report from Lexington.

"I tell patients that we've gotten some good slides, so they're done. But that doesn't mean anything in terms of what the images actually show," Purvis said.

Purvis lets me see my own images, which is a bit surreal. She points out some solid white lines across the top of my breast.

"That's where the more dense tissue is," Purvis said. "When women have more dense tissue, it can be harder to see what's going on."

I, however, have much more "fatty tissue," which makes my breasts much easier to read.

Though Purvis is not yet 40, she had a mammogram done a few years ago because of a lump in her breast. A friend of hers did the mammogram, and it turned out fine. But she feels like having the mammogram has been helpful, so she knows what her patients go through.

"You have to get down on your patient's level," Purvis said. "There are technicians out there who can be really rough, and that's when women get a bad feeling about mammograms. A lot depends on the tech."

ry Principal Paula Gordon and Middle and High School Principal Donna Lovell. The school district's score decreased from 64.5 the previous year to 63.7. While both the high school and elementary school had slight gains, the middle school dropped six points.

Both Gordon and Lovell talked about the importance of professional learning teams, when teachers of the same grade or subject get together to plan. Gordon stated that there had been a systemic weakness with writing, and they were looking into a curriculum overhaul to improve that area.

"We had only one student in fifth grade score distinguished in writing," Gordon said.

at the assembly by Katie Startzman.

"Katie explained to us the history of the farmer's market, which is one of the oldest in the entire state. The news with the market is that they have been upping their marketing and using USDA grants for funding," Dylan clarifies.

However, the farmer's market is still in search of a winter location to move to when it gets extra chilly out.

"Until the end of November, the Farmer's Market will remain on Chestnut Street adjacent to the bank. They are still keeping their options open as they will need a large space to accommodate the vendors when winter is in full swing," says Dylan.

Kerrie Hensley added that the Farmer's Market was extremely successful this year, as reported in last week's meeting. The grant awarded by the USDA allowed them to perform marketing research, which showed gains for 2016.

"By July the Farmer's Market recorded 10,000 visitors, and by August they surpassed their total income for the entire year 2015, so they are ahead this year in revenue," Dylan reports.

Another possible grant-funded venture that was on the agenda was for a musical endeavor that would take place next year. Ali Blair of the Village Trough, in conjunction with the Arts Council, took the lead on the grant application, hoping to expand upon the city's music heritage with a ten-week concert series.

"The time for the grant filing is of the essence, so Ali presented to us to hopefully get a $25,000 cash-matching grant to help uphold the shows. We will not know if we receive the grant until the first of January, but this is an opportunity to really enhance the concerts that are already taking place in Berea and to build on that evening and weekend scene," Hensley states.

The majority of the commissioners present were in agreement that the grant could spell out a real advantage in advancing musical performances for the city, so they voted to go ahead with the filing.

Hensley described the Arts Accelerator Program, which has the goal of getting local artists on their feet with training and potential workshop or gallery space.

"We discussed the sixteen-month program, which had three new inductees: a jeweler, a woodworker, and a broom maker. Not only will the induction into the Guild look great on their resumes, but we can help these artists start their own businesses and get the technical training they need," says Hensley. The three additions to the program had their work on display at the recent Ky Guild of Artist and Craftsmen festival, and are already making their mark on Berea.

Lastly, recaps for what is in store for fall with Berea Tourism took place at the meeting. With the autumn leaves on full display already, there is a surge in tourism to the area. Kerrie and Dylan both explained that fall is a great time to be at the gateway to the Appalachians here in Berea. Teachers bring students to integrate art with their curriculums and witness the beautiful Berea scenery. For more information and updates on future Tourism Commission meetings, visit Berea.com.

Southern Scores Distinguished for Third Year

By Brandon Watkins
 Madison Southern High School Principal

Distinguished again! What a way to begin October, with teachers and students so excited as the new accountability scores were released earlier this month. For the third straight year, Madison Southern High School has been recognized as a Distinguished High School in the state of Kentucky. We were one of only 42 high schools in the state to achieve back to back-to-back Distinguished ratings. This year our overall index score of 80.8 was the highest we have achieved under Kentucky's Unbridled Learning accountability system for schools.

The entire accountability system encompasses a variety of data from schools including end of course exams, on demand writing scores, ACT scores, growth, college and career readiness, and the school's graduation rate for the year. One of the accomplishments that really stood out for Madison Southern is our success on college and career readiness.

For the last two years, we have achieved a 100% College and Career readiness score from the Kentucky Department of Education. This meant that the vast majority of our senior class met ACT college readiness benchmarks in math, reading, and English and/or completed one of our career pathway offerings and passed an industry certification or occupational skills assessment. This accomplishment showcases the hard work and commitment in which our students and teachers engage in over a student's academic career to prepare for life after high school. We want our students to have the skills and confidence to pursue their goals and be ready to change the world.

Yes, we have celebrated our accomplishments over the last three years, but now we are back to work and looking to climb even higher for the 2016-17 school year. We have an outstanding group of students and teachers this year who have their sleeves rolled up and are already hard at work. Stay tuned to see what we are capable of accomplishing this year, it's going to be exciting!

Future Famers of America (FFA) students will be attending the National FFA Convention in Indianapolis. During the Convention students participate in career development, attend leadership workshops, and college/career fairs. Out of the 60,000, two of those students will be Madison Southern student Ty Allen and 2015 Southern graduate Terry Napier. Twenty other FFA members from Madison

Southern FFA Members Honored at Nationals

Southern will also be attending. Ty was chosen for the FFA Band 2016-2017 for the second year in a row. He will be playing the baritone in the FFA Band. In addition to Ty's musical success, he is also secretary for his class at Madison Southern. Furthermore, Ty was the only one chosen from Southern for the National FFA Band from Kentucky. The band plays throughout the entire week as well as the convention and expo. Along with Ty's great accomplishment, Terry Napier has been chosen as an American Star in the Agribusinesses Finalist, along with three other members from the United States. Terry became eligible for this honor because of his successful completion of a supervised agriculture experience during his freshman year of high school. Terry's father had given him a lawn mower and told him to keep their properties trimmed. He told Terry what he did afterwards was up to him. Napier started his own business, Lawn Works, a total lawn care service in Berea. Napier received $2,000 for being chosen as a finalist. If Napier wins, he will receive another $2,000. FFA winners will be recognized from October 18-23.

Word From Berea Streets

"Do you think the University of Kentucky's football team will go to a bowl game?"

Jaylen Dorsey and Chris Sears said, "No, they are not good enough on offense or defense."

Teacher of the Month

Meet Rebecca Marcum, who teaches English IV and AP literature at Madison Southern High School. She has a son, Logan Marcum, who is a senior. How long have you been teaching? This is the 21st year. Why teach? I wanted to work with young adults. Degrees: Secondary teaching in psychology and English, masters in school counseling, and National Board Certified in young adult language arts. Favorite part of teaching: There is never a dull moment. Students keep me young. Hobbies: Spending time with my family and friends. School Activities: I love helping with senior activities and theater. Who has helped you most in your education? My parents have always encouraged me, whether pushing me while in school or furthering my degrees. Proudest Moment as a teacher: My proudest moments occur every year as I watch different students reach individual milestones. However, I look forward to seeing my son walk across the stage as he graduates this year. Favorites: Musician - Pearl Jam; holiday - Halloween and Christmas; school subject - English, but psychology should definitely be offered as an elective; book - too many to list; place to vacation - beach; place to visit - always in Kentucky.

Student of the Month

Meet Cherish Simpson, a 17-year-old senior at Berea Community High School. Her parents are Timothy and Johnna Simpson. Wants to Study: Dentistry Favorite part of school: Nurse Aid Class. Hobbies: Golf and basketball. School Activities: First Priority and Bass Fishing Club. Proudest Moment in school: Accomplishing things I didn't think I could.

What Does School Mean to You?: Getting an education, building relationships with others and sharing the love of Jesus Christ with others. Role Models: Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Welch. Favorites: Musician - For King and Country, because they are so awesome and inspiring; Movie - Miracles from Heaven because it's very touching and an amazing movie; holiday - Christmas, because not only do you get presents, but it signifies the birth of Jesus and it's a time to come together with your loved ones; school subject - Math, because it's one of the only things I'm actually good at; book - Bible, because it's honestly the only book I ever read and I love reading it; place to vacation - Florida, because I love the beach; place to live - Kentucky or Tennessee because I love the country feeling.

Honoring National School Bus Safety Week

From October 17 - 21 is National School Bus Safety Week. It's a good time to remind parents, students, and drivers about the important safety rules around school buses. Following are the guidelines students riding a school bus should follow.

- Check both ways for cars before stepping off the bus.
- Arrive at the bus stop five minutes early;
- Stand at least ten feet away from the edge of the road;
- Wait until the bus stops, the door opens, and the driver says it's okay before stepping onto the bus;
- Be careful that dangling objects do not get caught in the handrail or door when exiting the bus; and School buses are the safest form of highway transportation. The most dangerous part of the school bus ride is getting on and off the bus. Pedestrian fatalities, while loading and unloading school buses, account for around three times as many school bus-related fatalities when compared to school bus occupant fatalities. Young children are most likely to be struck because they 1) Hurry to get on and off the bus; 2) Act before they think; 3) Assume motorists will see them and wait for them to cross the street; 4) Don't always stay within the bus driver's sight.

Businesses Invited to Participate in Halloween in the Park

Businesses in Berea are invited to participate in the 15th Annual Halloween in the Park this year, at the Berea City Park. On Monday evening, Oct. 31, around 1,000 children will converge on the city park to trick-or-treat from businesses that are set up around the well-lit parts of the walking trail. It is a good time for local business owners to meet families from the community. They can pass out small promotional items along with the candy they give out. Interested business owners should call Priscille at 986-9402. Participation is free.

Cameron Ramey and Justin Booner said, "Yes--if they get 'mind stronger' and physically stronger!"

Bobby Allen and Isaiah Dorsey said, "No--they are simply not good enough."

Lung Cancer

Are you at risk?

- Are you between the age of 55 and 80 (Most commercial insurances; Medicare age 55-77)?
- Are you a heavy smoker or former smoker who quit less than 15 years ago?
- Do you have health insurance?

If you answered yes to the first two questions, you may be at risk. Early detection can increase your chances for survival by nearly 50%. Ask your physician about a low dose CT screening. It could save your life.

Installing Fire Alarms

On Saturday, Oct. 8, approximately 30 volunteers from the American Red Cross, Bechtel Parsons and the Berea Fire Department visited 247 homes in Berea and installed 114 smoke alarms in homes.

The purpose of this Red Cross program is to reduce the number of injuries and deaths resulting from home fires by 25 percent over the next five years.

“Installing smoke alarms cuts the risk of someone being injured or dying from a home fire in half,” said Steve Powell, the Red Cross Disaster Program Manager who coordinated the campaign.

"Were I called on to define, very briefly, the term Art, I should call it 'the reproduction of what the Senses perceive in Nature through the veil of the soul.' The mere imitation, however accurate, of what is in Nature, entitles no man to the sacred name of 'Artist'."

-- Edgar Allan Poe

Attorney Grefer Campaigns for Family Court Judge

Joan Deaton Grefer had planned to run for Madison and Clark Family Court Judge for years, but when a seat came open she almost didn't get the chance.

Grefer began her family law practice in Madison County 21 years ago under Domestic Relations Commissioner Paul Fagan. She was one of the first attorneys to practice in front of Judge Jean Chenault Logue when the Family Court pilot program launched in 1999. After years practicing family law and training other attorneys about divorce, adoption and custody through Continuing Legal Education courses, she felt she was ready to serve as judge.

The afternoon of Tuesday, August 9, 2016, Grefer learned there was a vacant seat, and also that she had less than two hours to get to Frankfort to file as a candidate. As reported by the Lexington Herald-Leader, Madison and Clark Family Court Judge Jeff Walson filed his retirement paperwork four days earlier, on Friday, August 5, 2016. He made his retirement effective on Sunday, August 7, 2016. The day he retired, his wife, attorney Kimberly Blair Walson of Winchester, filed to succeed him.

Walson announced his retirement to the members of the Madison County Bar Association via email on the afternoon of Tuesday, Aug. 9. The filing deadline was at 4 p.m. that same day and his wife was the lone candidate.

"I learned about the opening at 2:30 p.m. on the 9th, and quickly realized I only had an hour and a half to get the paperwork done and get from Richmond to Frankfort to file," said Grefer. "I managed to make it with twenty minutes to spare."

After getting in the race by a nose, Grefer quickly began campaigning.

"When they say you run for office, you really do run for office. We only had from August 9th until November 8th to mount a campaign, but I've had incredible support from family, friends, and colleagues," Grefer said.

Grefer has been married to her husband Jonathon Grefer for twenty years and they have a daughter, Meredith, who attends Madison Middle School and plays in the Madison Central Marching Band. Grefer herself is an alumna of Madison Central and the marching band program. She also attended Clark Moores Middle School.

Grefer's mother, Geraldine Deaton, worked for Mary Jane Ginter at the Madison County Clerk's Office for many years. Her father, Charlie Deaton, worked on the railroad before becoming a successful Madison County Realtor.

Grefer's law practice has been located in Richmond for all her 21 years as an attorney.

"Family law has always been my focus, but I practice other areas," she said. "Every family court judge we've had has had a diverse practice before taking the bench, and I think that's important. In addition to family law issues, family court judges sign search warrants, set bonds in criminal cases, deal with civil court issues, bankruptcy issues, juvenile law issues, you name it. You have to be prepared for all of it, and I am."

When asked the most important characteristic of a great family court judge, Grefer said, "Fairness. You have to be fair to everyone who comes in that courtroom door and decide cases only on the facts."

When asked what issue is most pressing in family court right now, Grefer pointed to drug abuse.

"It's destroying our families and hurting our children. We have to protect those children and try our best to repair the damage to families," Grefer said.

The family court election is Tuesday, Nov. 8, 2016, and it is a non-partisan race.

THINK PINK

It could just save your life

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, a good time to discuss your risk of the disease with your doctor. These Berea businesses and organizations encourage you to set up an appointment to explore your family's medical history and see if you are at risk. If so, consider having annual screenings. While the debate on mammography is ongoing, the fact remains: Mammograms save lives. Discuss the pros and cons with your doctor and consider scheduling a mammogram. Early detection is key to survival.

FROM THE BEREA CITIZEN ARCHIVES OCTOBER 1976

Tony Cornelison demonstrates his hog-calling technique during the 4-H assembly at Silver Creek Elementary School in October 1976.

Several 4-H awards were given at the Silver Creek Elementary assembly in October 1976. Students who won prizes for the National 4-H Week poster contest were Jennifer Jones and Tammie Brumfield in fourth grade; Melinda Held and Kathy Himes in fifth grade; Jerry Clark Jones, Becky Hayes, and Joyce Shelton in sixth grade; and Terri Eversole and Mary Ann Rose in seventh grade.

Principal Bill Hendren introduced the hog-calling contest at the end of the assembly. Children had to call a pig with "Whooy," and send it away with "Sooy." Tommy Lamb "whooyed" the best of 103 participants, according to judges Clyde Jones and Loren Kramer of the Kiwanis Club, so he won a female pig. As the winner, he was required to bring a female from his pig's litter for the following year's winner.

Mrs. Wilson Evans held a sandwich luncheon for the DAR chapter in Berea, to open the 1976-77 year. Mrs. Fay Hiatt opened the meeting by giving a memorial of two women who had recently died, Mrs. John Bengé and Mrs. William Chrisman. Hostesses appointed for the Duncan Tavern's Homecoming were Gladys Parrish and Frances Moore.

Madison County School Board members and administrators broke ground in October 1976 for the new Berea Middle School on Glades Road. Those who attended the groundbreaking were Mary Moore, Bill Hager, Russell Roberts, Orville Abner, Johnny Gilliam, Eddie Pullins, and Darrell Wells.

Several GoodYear employees graduated from a four-week machinist training. They were Jeff Deatherage, Ray Abrams, Danny Isaacs, James Wheat, Doug Miller, and Glen Whittemore.

After three unsuccessful attempts, there was a vote to start a union at

Gibson Greeting Cards, Inc. It passed by a vote of 171-156. Gibson started in Berea in 1969.

Berea Arts Council Solicits Nominations for Arts Awards

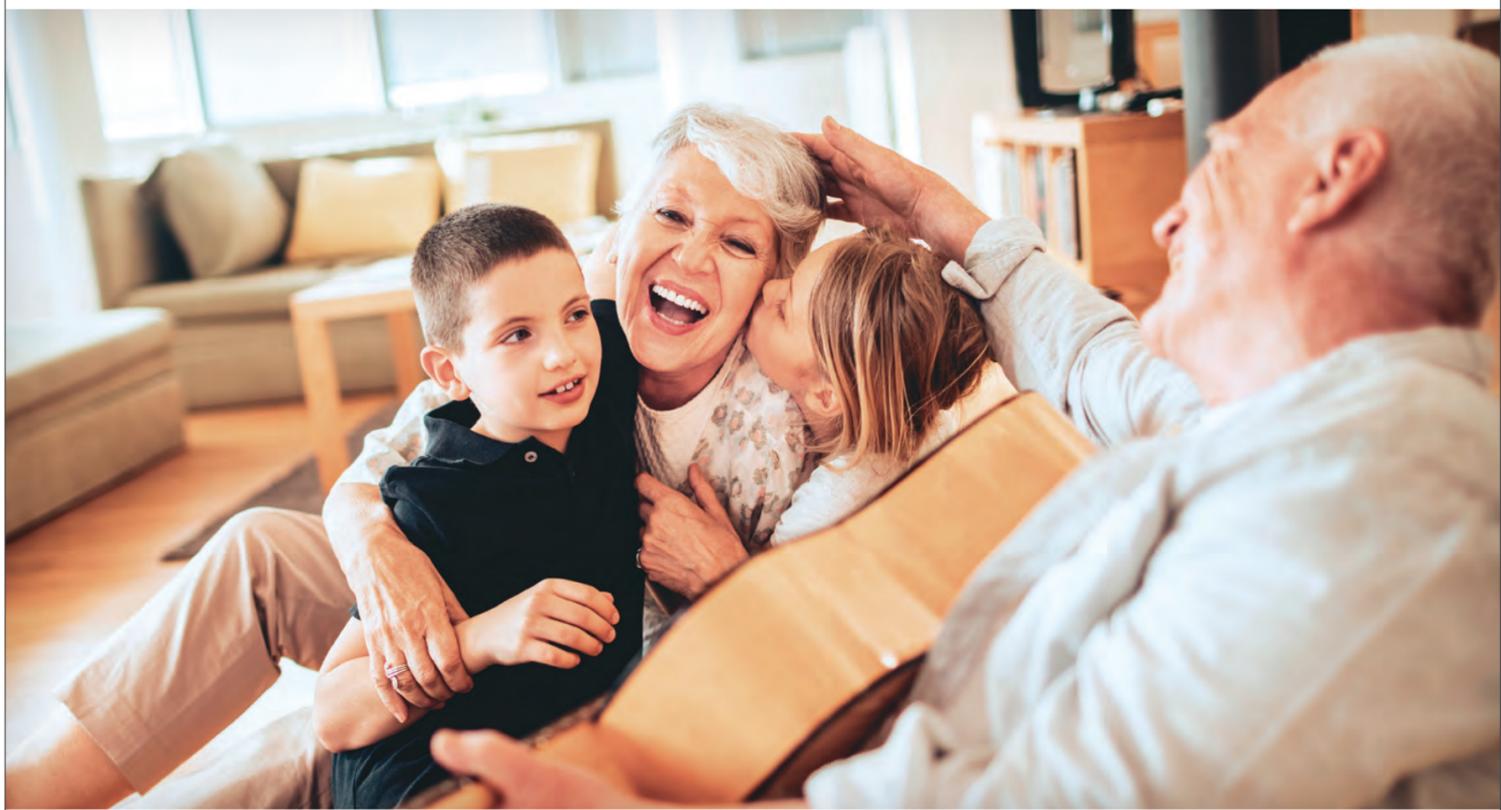

The Berea Arts Council is now soliciting nominations for the Second Annual Berea Art Awards.

Nominations for the awards open on October 20, 2016 and will be accepted until November 22, 2016. The awards will be presented on February 25, 2017 at the BAC's fundraising dinner/auction at Churchill's.

Each year the BAC recognizes an Artist of the Year, an individual artist who impacts the arts community, and a Community Arts Award to an individual or organization that champions the arts. This year the awards will also include a Young Artist of the Year award, given to a high school junior or senior with exceptional talent in the literary, visual, or performing arts.

To nominate a candidate, download the complete nomination form at www.BereaArtsCouncil.org Or you can stop in the BAC gallery at 139 N. Broadway, Old Town Artisan Village, or call 859-985-9317 for more information.

WE'VE MADE SOME MAJOR RENOVATIONS. AND THEY WERE DESIGNED AROUND YOU.

This community deserves an outstanding hospital, which is why we've invested in a major renovation of Baptist Health Richmond. Your hospital now has an ER that's three times larger, with all private rooms. The Women's Care area features spacious rooms, two new surgical suites and more. And the Outpatient Center is more convenient than ever. Everything we've done is centered on you, for greater comfort, more privacy and excellent care. Find out more and watch our new video at BaptistHealth.com/Richmond.

Robert C. Fortin

Robert C. Fortin went to be with the Lord on October 19, 2016. He died peacefully in his sleep at the Terrace Nursing Home in Berea.

Robert was born on October 28, 1920, just north of Fenn, Idaho, to Addie Melinda Lovelace Fortin and William Henry Fortin. His older sister, Doris Kildgore, and two younger brothers, Vern Fortin and Louis Fortin, are deceased.

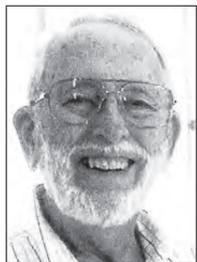

Robert grew up on a farm on Camas Prairie, milking cows, making hay, raising cattle, and mending fences. In June of 1942 he received the BSEE degree from the University of Idaho, married Lois Hazelbaker, moved to the east coast, and worked as an electrical engineer for RCA for 40 years. Some of his accomplishments were designing the proximity fuse, instrumental to the winning of the Battle of the Bulge in WWII, bomb guidance systems, and a variety of radar appliances. He later worked on the "moon shot" land and rendezvous radars.

He is survived by his first wife, Lois May Fortin of Grangeville, Idaho; his four children and their spouses, Glenn and Kathy Fortin of Downingtown, Pa., Lane and Wanda Fortin of Winnemucca, Nev., Louis and Elaine Fortin of Dayton, Ohio, and David and Nina Stoy of Crab Orchard; many grandchildren and great grandchildren; his second wife, Diana Fortin of Stamford, Conn.; and stepson, Mark Adler and children.

Robert was a kind, generous, loving father and grandfather with a fine sense of humor who will be greatly missed.

In closing his memoirs, he wrote "Should it please my Creator, I would join my mother in her dream of living her heavenly evenings resting under the Tree of Life on the banks of the River of Life with all her children and children's children about her. And I wish to be amazed by my Creator and His creation".

Donnie Avery Pigg

Donnie Avery Pigg, 70, of Jackson County, passed away suddenly on Saturday evening, Oct. 22, 2016, at the Clark Regional Medical Center.

Donnie was a husband to Sandra Pigg, and father to Lola Kay Pigg and Clara (Eli) Avery Pigg Powell. Also surviving him are two grandchildren, Dalton (Sarah) Robinson and Houston Arnold; one great granddaughter, Abigail Robinson; a sister, Erma (Jim) Miller; and a host of beloved nieces, nephews, and friends.

Donnie was preceded in death by his parents, William Hearld Pigg and Mary (Jackson) Pigg; siblings, Zullia May Pigg, J. Lee Arley Pigg, Travie Pigg, Starlion W. Pigg, Bernice Chasteen, Sylvania Robinson, and Jessie Pigg.

Donnie was a painter by trade, working 23 years for the Denham and Blythe Construction Company in addition to other employment in the construction industry. He enjoyed a great number of hobbies and activities such as hunting, fishing, archery, and horses. He was a faithful member of the NRA. Donnie influenced many young lives with his love of archery, and was affectionately and gratefully loved by anyone who had the opportunity to know him. He intended to be a friend to all and did a fine job of it. His devout friendship was woven with good-hearted pranks and an appetite for living life to the fullest. It can be said -- to know him was to love him.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 1 p.m. at Lakes Funeral Home. with Bro. Travis Jackson officiating. Burial was in the VanWinkle Cemetery in Rockcastle County. Condolences may be left at www.lakesfuneralhome.com

David Andrew Nixon

David Andrew Nixon, 32, of Berea, passed away peacefully at St. Joseph Hospital East in Lexington on Thursday, Oct. 20, 2016.

David was preceded in death by his paternal grandparents, John and Joyce Nixon.

He is survived by his parents, John Nixon and Shawna (Phil) Andrews Skidmore; one daughter, Amelia Marie Nixon; maternal grandparents, Hugh and Nova Skidmore, and Howard Andrews; great grandmother, Phyllis "Dee" Coulter; aunts, Mary (Jim) Pat Azbill and Julie Nixon; uncles, Rhea Ogelsby, Mike (Kif) Skidmore, and John (Joeie) Skidmore; numerous nieces, nephews and cousins; and a special companion who was near and dear to his heart, Angie Middleton.

Funeral services were at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 25, 2016 at Lakes Funeral Home with Rev. Kenny Davis and Rev. Darnell Hill officiating.

Mary Ann (Richey) Linder

Mary Ann (Richey) Linder, 69, passed from this life on October 20, 2016. She was the wife of the late Wilbur J. Linder, and mother of Sara (Hext) Morgan and Amy (Hext) Lainhart. She was the daughter of Charles and Margareta Richey of Bowling Green.

She worked for many years at Will Linder and Associates as the office manager. She loved chocolate, iced tea, and meeting new people, something she did often at local restaurants. She always had a special place in her heart for bullmastiffs, especially her beloved Bruno, Bosch, and Baxter.

In addition to her daughters, she is survived by her brother, William (Bill) Richey and his wife, Sarah; three grandchildren, Ashley Ballard, Kyra Morgan, and Quenten Morgan; and a great granddaughter, Addison Sikes.

A visitation and remembrance were held at Lakes Funeral Home in Berea on Sunday, Oct. 23 from 2-4 p.m. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donation be made in her name to the Hospice Compassionate Care Center in Richmond.

Lowell Murray called about the photo that was in the newspaper last week. He identified the time period as 1960. The man with the hat in front was the Berea fire chief from 1972-1980, Jay Stephenson. He was chief after the city took the fire department over. The man with the clipboard was the Kentucky State Fire Marshall. Behind Marshall was Richard Traylor, then moving counter-clockwise, it was student fire chief Conrad Huff, Tuck Ng, and Melvin Sutphin. They were college students working as firefighters.

What Do You Know?

Vote for Wesley Morgan

Dear Editor,

"Nothing in life comes easy." This is a lesson my father has instilled in me since I was a little girl. When I woke up, Dad was already at work because he had to open at 6 a.m. When I returned from school, Dad was still working because he had to cover a shift until midnight. Even on the weekends, he worked from home. Never in my life have I met someone with stronger work ethic than Wesley Morgan.

Dad grew up poor in rural eastern Kentucky, but he became the first person in our family to graduate from college. He made a better life for himself, despite the odds being stacked against him. And he passed that same work ethic and determination onto me. Because of my Dad, I can proudly say that I am the first female college graduate and first law school graduate in our family.

There is no one I admire more than my dad. I have watched him struggle and succeed time and time again. That is why I know he is the best person to represent us in Frankfort. Dad is a survivor. He works hard and expects nothing from no one. He rose above the circumstances of someone who grew up in poverty and exceeded expectations. He will do the same in the 81st District. He will work hard for you and exceed your expectations. On November 8, please vote Wesley Morgan for State Representative.

Observations from Governing Magazine

Dear Editor,

As a Berea citizen expecting to vote in our council elections, I am reminded of the old axiom that people tend to get the government they deserve. Given the divisiveness, animosity, and discord shown by our own citizens, voters, and incumbent leaders these last few years, I'm fearful that may happen again.

In the hope that we may choose our next leaders more wisely, I'd like to share some observations I came across in an article entitled What Elected Leaders Can Do. It appeared in GOVERNING magazine some time back and speaks to the role and influence of elected officials. Considering whom it was written for, I feel its observations bear repeating before we head to the polls.

GOVERNING magazine provides nonpartisan news, insight and analysis on such issues as public finance, transportation, economic development, health, energy, the environment and technology. Its readership consists mainly of elected, appointed and career officials in state and local government, including governors, mayors, county executives, city and county council members, state legislators, executives of state and local agencies, and those holding professional government positions.

The author of the article, a career public servant, asked colleagues across the country what they felt was needed from elected officials in order to better do their jobs. Their observations were most telling.

Whoever is elected, they say, sets the tone and culture of a community. Leaders can either pander or inspire. However, one thing they should never do is run from making a decision out of fear that the information they act upon might someday be used against them. To do so, staffs believe, often delay or postpone taking action, resulting in poor decisions being made and lessening the public's trust in their leadership to govern.

How then can our own leaders become more effective? The consensus of opinion is that leaders need to own the data they receive (good or bad), make it transparent and, most importantly, use it. They also need to hold regular and more frequent conversations and engage staff and community in ways that are less confrontational, more constructive and allow participants to feel welcome, heard, and empowered.

Public servants also believe that success depends on building relationships not only between elected leaders and staff, but also among other municipalities, nonprofits and business. They cite too, that elected officials must do a better job of knowing their community as well as each other; something that happens less in the heat of public meetings and more from the times in between.

Perhaps we should be asking those seeking reelection a different set of questions. What have they learned from their time in office that better prepares them to lead in the future? Are they more likely to learn and grow from their experience? Are they actively willing to listen to other voices, even though they may disagree? To do so can only lead to better government and common-ground solutions. That's what we as electorate expect. Vote wisely.

Pull back veil on rampant corruption in government

Dear Editor,

Last week Nick Storm of CN/2 interviewed Senate Budget Chairman Chris McDaniel regarding the status of our state pension system.

If you aren't familiar with what's been going on, Kentucky's state employee pension systems are the worst in the nation, except the one for legislators. They are in dire need of reform. Senator McDaniel discussed how the state pension system is currently even in worse shape than we are being told. During the last legislative session, the state Senate passed, almost unanimously, a bill to make the legislators' pensions more transparent. That bill made it through the House committee but was killed in session.

Our very own Rep. Rita Smart helped block the transparency needed to start real reform of our pension system. I guess she is proud of having the worst state pension plan in the country. Or maybe she just wants to hide how much her pension is growing while teachers, and city and county employees are losing money.

It's time to take our government back and get these leeches out. It is this type of elitist action that has permeated politics in our nation at every level. From Washington to Frankfort to Richmond and Berea City Hall, elected officials have developed an attitude of how dare we, the common citizenry, question them. Recently in Berea a local option election on the sale of alcohol in a historic building was held. Of approximately 1,700 registered voters in that precinct, 79 people turned out to vote. Is it any wonder, with this level of apathy, our government is out of control?

The Berea Human Rights Committee has come under a lot of fire lately. Though their budget is only $12,000, you can go online and see the archive of their meeting minutes, a list of their members, and other information. However, Berea Tourism, a city department with a budget 100x larger, operates in relative secrecy with zero information of their meetings on their web page. It is attitudes such as that of the tourism leadership that has caused the grassroots revolt we are hearing so much of in this election.

This year the 24/7 news cycle is dominated by the train wreck that is the presidential election. But the truth is, the races that will have the biggest impact on our lives are the local ones. Turn off the television and take a look at the Berea and Richmond city governments, at what is going in the KY State House, or our school board. You will be shocked at what you'll find.

It is time that we pull back the veil on the rampant corruption in our current government. It is only at the ballot box that we can once again demand our government is of the people, by the people and for the people. Become an informed voter, look for the candidates that reflect your values, who are willing to get out, meet the voters, and answer your questions, not the ones hiding behind a random yard sign or newspaper ad.

Apologies for flyers in mailboxes

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the Billy Wooten for City Council campaign, I would like to offer our sincerest apology for placing a flyer in some Berea mailboxes last weekend. As one of the campaign volunteers involved, we were worried that the high winds that day would blow the hangers across neighborhoods, so we tried to secure them in the best possible way, not knowing we were doing anything wrong.

Please know that we acted in good faith with no ill intent. Once we told Mr. Wooten what had happened, he immediately told us what we did was wrong, and he called the post office to rectify the situation. Again, please accept our sincerest apology.

My name is Tracy Prater. I originally moved to Berea in 2010 as a student at Berea College as an Agriculture and Natural Resources major. While a student I became active with the volunteer rescue department, my freshman year as just attending training and assisting with fundraiser events, then sophomore year on as an active member. I moved back to my hometown of Foxport, KY to take care of my family, but in July of 2015 I was hired as an officer for Berea College and subsequently moved back to Berea.

Berea is where I plan to get married, settle down and raise my family. This community is rich in so many ways, and I am very proud to be a part of it. While we do have our problems, I truly believe that Berea is the place for me, and I want to see this town of ours to grow and prosper as much as possible. I feel I am qualified for the position of city councilman because I do have a love for our community, and want the very best for the city of Berea. I have served as chair of different committees associated with the fire service, and have shown a dedication to giving of my time and talents for those around me, through service with two volunteer fire departments, organizations on Berea College campus, and activities with the FFA all throughout high school. I believe in camaraderie and working together, something that I feel is extremely needed on our city council.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I was initially interested to apply after reading an article published in the Citizen regarding the applicants for city council. After running the idea through a few close friends, I was encouraged to put in, being told that I would do a good job with it. I want to do everything I can to help those around me, and as a member of the city council, I would be able to further help my community in ways previously not possible.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

Current issues I feel we are facing are issues with the reoccurring drug problems. From speaking with former users I have heard the same concerns every time, that when they were trying to get clean they didn't have the support that they felt was needed to break from the cycle. I also believe that we need to work with increasing the good conversations between the various groups within the city, primarily between the chamber, mayor and council. To most efficiently manage our community we need to have good communication between all our members, and that is something that I plan to work on.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Economically I would like to see our entertainment industry grow. Right now most of our citizens go to Richmond or Lexington for entertainment, with those cities offering more to do such as bowling alleys, theaters, etc... I believe that growing our entertainment sector could keep more of our community members within the city, increase the number of visitors to the city, and would also help to bring in more business for our local eateries as well.

I think Berea has become so divided primarily because of the lack of communication between different groups within our city government. I believe that if one group has an issue with another group, that it should be handled between the two so that the outcome is the best possible decision that can be made. I feel that allowing for mature communication, instead of mud throwing and condescending speech, will help to mend the rifts that have formed between not only our city government members, but rifts that have developed within our community.

As city councilman, I would encourage civility and communication by example, by being that beacon for others to follow in hopes of mending ties and building up our community. I would encourage positive communication and problem solving, and discourage use of blaming others and passing guilt that has become commonplace within our society.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more camaraderie and less bickering.

BEREA POLICE REPORTS

Theft

• On October 19, officers were called to Walmart because of a theft. Store employees said a man entered the store two different times and pushed out several items in a shopping cart. The estimated loss was $329.77.

• On October 19, officers were called to Miller's Tire and Auto because of a theft. Store employees said two tires were stolen from the parking lot. The estimated loss was $80.

• On October 21, eight different residents on Holly Street and Chestnut Street reported items stolen from parked vehicles. Some vehicles had the windows broken out of them.

Shoplifting Arrest

• On October 21, officers were called to Walmart because of a shoplifter. Store employees saw a woman conceal items in her purse before exiting the store. She had previously been banned from the property.

Officers arrested Christina Williams, 42, of Berea and charged her with theft by unlawful taking -- shoplifting and third degree criminal trespassing.

• On October 22, officers were called to Walmart because of a shoplifter. Store employees saw a woman conceal items in her purse before attempting to leave without paying. Officers arrested Hailey Wilson, 18, of Richmond and charged her with theft by unlawful taking -- shoplifting.

Drug Arrest

• On October 22, officers were called to McDonalds on Brenwood Street because of someone passed out in the restroom. They located the person in a restroom stall and saw a needle cap on the floor under the stall door. The person in question showed several signs of impairment and was in possession of a small amount of suspected heroin.

Several items of paraphernalia were also located including syringes and a spoon. Officers arrested Michael Whitt, 28, of Berea and charged him with first degree possession of controlled substance, drug paraphernalia possession, and public intoxication.

Possession of a Defaced Firearm

• On October 23, officers arrested Joshua Parm, 25, of Richmond on Boone Street for an arrest warrant. Parm was in possession of a handgun that had the serial number scratched off. He was charged with possession of a handgun by a convicted felon, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, and possession of a defaced firearm.

Burglary Arrest

• On October 23, officers charged Kacey Neeley, 24, of Berea with second degree burglary. An investigation revealed that Neeley had been in possession of several stolen items that were taken from a home back in July. She was lodged in the Madison County Detention Center.

NOTICE TO ALL CUSTOMERS OF SOUTHERN MADISON WATER DISTRICT
Due to a rate increase from Berea Municipal Utilities, notice is hereby given that Southern Madison Water District will file an application for a Purchased Water Adjustment with the Kentucky Public Service Commission for the purpose of adjusting its water rates as reflected below. Customer rates will increase by $0.18 per 1,000 gallons of water used. The proposed change will be effective November 10, 2016.

Monthly Water Rates	RATES
GALLONAGE BLOCK
First 2,000	$13.086 Minimum Bill
Next 1,000 gallons	6.453 per 1,000 gallons
Next 3,000 gallons	6.043 per 1,000 gallons
Next 4,000 gallons	5.583 per 1,000 gallons
Next 15,000 gallons	4.703 per 1,000 gallons
Next 25,000 gallons	4.403 per 1,000 gallons
Next 50,000 gallons	3.853 per 1,000 gallons

Note: Average residential customer bill (3,700 gallons) will increase from $23.10 to $23.77 or 2.9 percent.
The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Southern Madison Water District. However, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be changed that differ from these proposed rates. Such action may result in rates for consumers other than the rates in this notice.
Southern Madison Water District has available for inspection at its office the application submitted to the Public Service Commission. The office is located at 207 N. Dogwood Dr., Berea, KY; (859) 986-9031. The information is also available at the offices of the Kentucky Public Services Commission, 211 Sower Blvd., Frankfort, KY; (502) 564-3940.

My name is Ronnie Terrill. I am a life long resident of Berea. I retired from IBM/Lexmark after nearly 40 years. I am also a retired volunteer fireman in Berea, and have now settled into the life of a farmer. I am seeking my third term on the Berea City Council. I feel that I am the conservative voice on the Council that the citizens of Berea can count on to raise the questions that need asked when it comes to wasteful spending and other matters that I believe to be wrong for the City of Berea.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

Like I stated above, I am seeking re-election for a third time. I think that our current administration still needs a considerable amount of conservative oversight. We as a City waste so much money and make decisions that I feel aren't necessarily for the good of the City.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea? I think there are two issues currently facing the City. First and foremost, we really need to get the contract with Amp Electric signed and in place. It's not everyday an entity such as the City of Berea can save $1,000,000 on a necessary commodity such as electric. Second, I think we should begin discussions about the position Mayor for the City of Berea becoming a full-time position.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically? I think we, as a City should spend more time, effort and/or maybe even tax dollars on economic development. The only real way for us to develop economically is with jobs, real jobs. We, as a City, have wasted way too much money on programs that aren't working and in my opinion, have no hope of creating jobs. I also think a vocational school would help in development for both the City and it's citizens. People could learn a skill, which I think could lead to more jobs with industries locating in Berea because of a pool of skilled workers.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divid- ed? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility? I think the current administration is to blame for "dividing" the City. When the Mayor tries to "bully" the Chamber of Commerce into preventing certain vendors at the Spoonbread Festival, instead of having meaningful discussions to try to work it out, we, as a city are divided. When we have to create Human Rights Commissions to push the agenda of a few, we as a city are divided. I think the administration should work with the City Council in a civil manner for the good of ALL citizens, not just a few selected groups. In my first two terms, I feel that I have been the voice of reason and have asked the questions of the administration that needed to be asked. I will continue to be that voice and raise those questions.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____. Berea needs more leadership and less wasteful spending.

Most inquiries about Berea's business community begin with the Berea Chamber of Commerce, 275 businesses strong and growing.

Our Chamber members enjoy:

More Exposure

Exposure comes naturally when you are a member of the Berea Chamber of Commerce. Take full advantage of free publicity most businesses cannot afford.

We offer new member recognition, FREE ribbon cutting services, website links and numerous networking events.

More Business

Through the telephone, walk-in and internet inquiries, the Berea Chamber of Commerce takes great pride in referring our members. Much like the Better Business Bureau's logo, prospective customers seek out the Chamber logos / window clings that are placed on the doors and windows of our Chamber members as a sign of a reputable business.

We offer referral services, an on-line business directory, member to member discounts and advertising opportunities for all budgets.

More Connections

Our Chamber members have a better connection to the community because they are connected to each other. In addition to our monthly newsletter and membership meetings, our Chamber members receive timely communications through our email distribution lists two and three times per week.

Your circle of influence is 275 businesses strong. Collectively we can accomplish things that we could not consider as a small business owner.

More Information

As a business owner, you do not have time to attend all of the public meetings and follow local, state and federal issues. Chamber membership allows you to focus on your business while we work with local governments to represent the needs of our business community.

Our website provides information to the world 24/7. We conduct annual Legislative Trips to Frankfort to meet with our legislators and demonstrate how our state government works. We also promote regional workshops and seminars to allow you and your employees to learn about specific topics and issues.

My name is Steve Caudill and like most people I born and raised in the City of Berea. While I lived away from Berea during college and shortly after for a year with my wife in Lexington, Berea was always our home. I am the proud father of two beautiful daughters Madeline and Meredith. I currently am the Business and Finance Operations Administrator for the Vice President of Finance and Administration at Eastern Kentucky University. I have studied Public Administration in grad school at ECU and did my undergraduate work in Economics at ECU.

My background in business affairs as well as education in public administration give me a very broad understanding on many of the challenges that Berea faces. Studying public administration has given me the knowledge of the role of a City Council and what exactly I can legally do and what I cannot do as an elected official. I have also served the last two years on the City Council and have showed that I am always present and prepared. I always make sure that I am invested in whatever issue the City is dealing with so that I can make the best possible decision for the Citizens.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

Two years ago I decided to run for City Council because I wanted to give back to my community and play a role in making sure that Berea remained the jewel of a city that she is. I was taught from a young age by my grandparents and parents that being actively involved in your community is something that you need to do if you can have a positive impact. I thought that I could have that positive impact and feel that I have done that. I want to continue the work that I have done on city council to make sure that we are moving forward as a city to retain all the great attributes of our city as well as working to fix the issues that we face as a community.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

The most pressing issue that we face in Berea is the drug problem that is sweeping not only our community, but the nation as a whole. We have to continue to invest in the task force that we work jointly with the county on to make sure that we are doing everything that we can to try and dam the tide of drugs that we are seeing enter our community. This is not just a current issue it is something that we are going to have to chip away at over the long-term as well because there is no silver bullet in dealing with this epidemic. It is imperative that we not only invest in our law enforcement, but also work with our health care partners in the community to work towards eradicating drugs in our community.

As a city we must continue to increase the resources that we devote to economic development as well. We currently have a very strong industrial park that has many wonderful businesses, but we cannot be complacent with that. We need to continue to devote ourselves towards bringing in more jobs so that we can remain fiscally strong over the next decade.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Economically Berea must take a two prong approach. We have to look at large industrial style development and also put focus on small business owners. Industrial growth is something that is very difficult to achieve, but that doesn't mean that it isn't something that we need to be working for. Sadly over the last decade we have not done what we need to do to remain competitive in the market of industrial growth. We have worked over the last two years to start to bring ourselves into a space that makes us attractive to new businesses. Our new Economic Development Director as worked to give us a better presence on the internet for people who are looking to bring factories to new areas, and we have begun to inventory all the available space that we have to offer.

We have to keep focus on the small businesses as well because those are the ones with the highest chance of succeeding in Berea. We need to continue to offer education courses for small business owners and be a resource for them to get the direction that they need. Perhaps it is as simple as connecting them to another business owner who has the property or services they need or as technical as teaching them to have a better presence on internet search engines. We must be an ongoing resource and advocate for small business owners.

ility?
I don't know that Berea has become so divided. What I think is that we have a lot of citizens who are passionate about our city and want to see it be the best that it can be. Sometimes that vision is different for various groups. I don't think that having people who are engaged and want to see Berea become better is a bad thing. What I think that I can do as a Council member is work with anyone who wants to see Berea improve and find ways to work with them to make Berea better. We may not always agree on the direction that Berea should go, but I can promise I will listen and explain where and why I stand on an issue. I think anyone who has approached me about an issue would attest to that.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

I have 20+ years of service experience. I enjoy the opportunity I have been given, to make everyone smile and enjoy their well spent money at PapaLeno's. I can see the problems that face our community, without shying away or turning my head from them. We have a drug problem, a poverty problem (30.1% according to the US census), a high rate of turn over for our first responders, BCHS was ranked 15th to last in the state last year, a lack of transparency in our government, a lack of accountability, a lack of engagement with the community, and for the sake of time and space I'll quit here. I realize it is gonna take a lot more than 8 city council members working part time to fix these problems. That is why I have been researching over the last two years to come up with solutions. First is Democracy OS, (please google it, watch the ted talk, or read some of the articles about it.) I think if we find ways to make our government more responsive by using the technologies of today we can improve its functions and reduce the cost to run it. Every single sector and business has upgraded with the technologies of today, except the government and politicians. I seek to fix this, and I need your help and your vote to do it.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

A little over two years ago, during the last election I broke my ankle. It gave me a lot of time off during the election cycle, none of which I wanted.

But, it got me into learning about our leadership here in Berea. One thing I never heard anyone talking about during that election cycle was dropping 18 million dollars over 40 years to buy a new city hall, and I don't think anyone would've been elected with that platform. What they did run on, they didn't do. This cycle will continue until we find ways to hold the politician accountable to us the voter, I am proposing to you the voter that we vote for people with a real plan to do this. I don't want to be a politician, I don't like politicians, and I'm doing a job that gives me joy today. But, no one running is bringing new ideas to the table, that is what I am doing. I'm not saying I stand for transparency, I'm saying we can make it happen, and get it in the Play Store and Apple store for you to download for free and take control of the politicians, and hold them accountable to represent us. I want Bereans to lead the rest of the U.S. In real effort to clean up corrupt politicians that don't work for us, but their corporate sponsors.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

A lack of transparency in government is of course my largest concern, Democracy OS fixes that though. After that, I'd say our inability to work with our neighbors. I attended the Magistrates open meeting in Richmond a couple weeks ago, and they echoed many of the same problems we did here in Berea. The drug problem being the one thing we all agree on as the #1 issue in Madison County. This is a huge problem for all of Madison county / Berea / Richmond. We need to coordinate with our neighbors in an attempt to help our people. We need to be able to find ways to use our combined resources to improve the quality of life for every resident of Madison county. We need to start thinking bigger than we ever have before, if we're going to have a fighting chance against the problems we face today.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

I don't feel it's the governments role to tamper in the affairs of the free market. And honestly the thing we need to do is help our people and improve infrastructure. I don't wanna go all field of dreams on ya but... if we just get our government back on track improving roads, improving signage, burying power lines, improving the drainage system, improving service of our municipal, and perhaps even taking a serious look at improving our internet service (as this is what the jobs of the future will require). All these things will start improving property values in our community, it will help raise our combined wealth and start to make a dent in poverty. With more wealth in our community we will attract more franchises, and if that isn't your thing everyone having more disposable income will make it more likely small start up business can actually survive in Berea.

ility?
Like most people in Berea, I don't feel our current administration is in touch with the needs or wants of the people. I have already mentioned it over and over, but one more time... Democracy OS. It will take the power away from the politician and make them a servant that does what the people want. While other people are gonna say transparency they are looking for ways to make the system more transparent, I'm going to be 100% transparent by using the technologies of today to maintain the highest level of service to the people of Berea. I have the ability and will to change the world, and I want your help to do it. We've gotta lot of work in front of us that has been neglected, but it's a task I'm up for, and I would like your vote so "We The People" can have a voice in the political arena again.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

My name is Jim Davis. I am a native of Berea and the son of the late George Davis, Jr. and Merle M. Davis. I am married to the former Patty Calico who is a retired elementary school teacher. I am a retired funeral director having co-owned funeral homes in Shelbyville and Berea. I served as secretary/treasurer of the Funeral Directors Association of Kentucky for 23 years and served as president of the Berea Rotary Club. Currently serving as Trustee and Deacon of First Christian Church, on the MEP-CO advisory board, and the Madison County Community Foundation Board.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

My professional life was one of service and I have always been involved in community organizations that serve. Running for city council is just another way to serve.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

The Mayor, City Council, and City Administrator need to work together with open, honest government. City officials need to work with the Chamber of Commerce, Tourism and Economic Development to bring business to and promote our community. Drugs are a big problem in our community. Long term, as we saw a few years ago, our water supply was not adequate during a drought. As Berea continues to grow, expanding our raw water supply should be a priority.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

As a former small business owner, I am a great supporter of buying local. In order for people to buy local, the City of Berea and Planning and Zoning has to become more "business friendly" and to cut some of the red tape and bureaucracy to encourage both small as well as large businesses to come to Berea. Another industry or two in the industrial park would be good in case one of the other industries there decides to close down or move. In order to attract any kind of business, we have to have a work force that can pass a drug test, is well trained, and is willing to work. As we know, the payroll tax is the main source of revenue for the city.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civ- ility?

I do not think we are so divided. Berea is a very diverse community. Always has been. Outside influences and individuals with agendas can create division.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

My wife Mary Chasteen and I have been married and have lived in Berea for the past 53 years. We raised two children, Robin and Rodney. I am a devoted Christian and have served as trustee, and care committee, pulpit committee and etc. in our church. I am a semi-retired building contractor and land developer. My construction company was rated as one of the top companies in Kentucky. I have vision and experience to help move Berea forward. I have the time to take care of the people's needs. The people who now serve on the city council and most of the people who are running for city council do not have the time or experience that is needed to take care of the people's needs. We need someone who knows how to lead.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

Anytime before I make a decision to do something I always look at the problem. The city of Berea is in decline. The present council has sat by and done nothing about the problems here in Berea. They allowed the moist vote to take place. They allowed the Spoonbread Festival to be cancelled. This event brought in around $600,000 that was much needed for our local businesses and our economy. They sat by and let the vote take place where the city could put in an open bar, and sell alcohol. Citizens of Berea, is this where you want the city to be? What about our youth? What kind of place do you want your children to grow up in? We are already over-run with out of control drugs. Wake up! Our all-American city is going to the dogs. It can be stopped! The sale and the use of alcohol don't solve any problems. It creates problems. The amount of alcohol anyone can buy needs to be controlled. With today's technology, this can be done. Let's keep the people who would abuse alcohol off of our highways and etc.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

One of the main issues the city faces is lack of leadership in city hall. Most of our present city council members have not spoken up on controversial issues. Instead they have let the mayor set the agenda. That the reason you see these events taking place. It is the city council's job to run the city. Our streets, curbs, storm water problems are in need of being upgraded, nothing is being done. Nothing is being done about our water shortage. We need more clean water. US 25 N should have already been constructed. It's not. The second phase of the bypass should have been completed. It's not. These are just a few of the problems that we face.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Berea is developing about the way it should considering the resources that we have. We could probably use another good restaurant that would not interfere with the ones that we already have. Our small businesses are doing pretty good and we need to trade locally if possible. The restaurant taxes are hurting our restaurants. It needs to be reformed. We need another factory that has good pay and benefits. We are in need of an indoor facility that can have year around events. The present city council has put borrowing power in jeopardy by building structures that are not needed. The money that is being used for the structures would have been better spent elsewhere. We needed a Senior Citizen Center, which we probably never got. Duerson Stadium needs to be rebuilt. Most of the present council seems to not be about the people's needs. We need new folks in city hall that has vision and answers for our problems. I am one of these people. The present city council didn't do anything to upgrade our industrial park so it would be showed ready to build on. That cost Berea a factory who wanted to locate here that would have employed around 400 people. We don't have any leadership in city hall.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

When you have a city council and its members don't have the experience or the knowhow to take care of the people's needs, this is what you get. Someone has to lead. The mayor is not up for reelection so he has taken the lead. That is not his job. He is only supposed to be the moderator, or he can vote if there is a tie. The present city council refuses to take the lead, that is why they allowed the mayor to push the agenda to allow the city to have the moist vote that was approved to serve alcohol by the drink. That is why the Spoonbread Festival was cancelled. The present city council did nothing to stop the vote that just got passed to allow an open alcohol bar in Old Town where you can drink alcohol and get so drunk that you couldn't hit the ground with your hat. Tha tis where the mayor is leading the city of Berea. He is going down the wrong road thanks to this inactive city council. We can do better and we must do better for the sake of our youth.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs people on the city council who has the experience and know-how to lead the City of Berea forward, who will stand up and go toe-to-toe with the bullies in city hall and stop the spread of alcohol, and Berea needs fresh blood and new faces in city hall who know how to lead.

My name is Bruce Fraley and I am a Berea native. I am entering the 34th year of my career with The Social Security Administration. For the past 25 years, I have served as a District Manager with broad experience in administration, management, customer service, personnel management, and budget management. Additionally, I earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Eastern Kentucky University, majoring in Political Science.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I decided to run for city council because I care deeply about the town I grew up in and want to play a positive role in keeping Berea a great place to live, work, raise a family and visit. I also see serving on our city council as a natural progression of my 33 year career in public service. I pledge to serve our citizens with integrity and honesty and to treat everyone I encounter with courtesy, dignity and respect.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the city of Berea?

While there are many issues facing our city, the top issues are: Creating an economic environment where entrepreneurship, business and job development are encouraged; actively managing growth and providing essential services (water, gas, electricity, sewer and roads) for our growing city; standing with our citizens and our police department by taking action to combat the proliferation of illegal drugs in our community; and building positive relationships among our elected officials, business and community leaders, and community organizations that will allow us to build upon the things that unite us and work together to overcome the things that can divide us.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

We need to work together to facilitate balanced economic growth where we encourage creation of small business, while attracting new industry, and traditional white collar businesses (such as the technology industry). We need to have a business friendly economic climate where new employers will want to locate in Berea. We also need to plan now to support and keep our current industry. To encourage economic development in Berea, I will be an advocate for marketing our city to prospective employers. I believe we have outstanding people serving on our Industrial Development Authority and employed in our city Business Development Department who can attract quality employers to our city.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

I see an increase in division at all levels, national, state, and local. My view is that we often take for granted the things we agree on, such as wanting to attract new good paying jobs and providing quality services, and we tend to focus more on the things we disagree on. One of my priorities is to respect and honor our State Motto: "United We Stand, Divided We Fall." We must come together and resolve our disagreements if we hope to move our city forward. We must work together to find common ground for the good of our city and its citizens.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more unity and less division.

Berea City Council

"I'll Work Hard for You, My Reputation is Your Guarantee"

My Goals

- ✔ Work on economic development, make sure we have sufficient infrastructure in place to help bring jobs to Berea.
- ✔ Work to help control flooding and power outages and to obtain another water source or larger reservoir for our water supply.
- ✔ Work on keeping utility rates and our taxes as low as possible.
- ✔ Have a good working relationship with Berea College. It's very important.
- ✔ Work to make sure our city services including police and fire are number 1.
- ✔ Work to make good sound decisions on spending the taxpayers' money. Use some good common sense.
- ✔ Work to make sure our city gets the best insurance rates by having them bid out every few years, to save money for our citizens.
- ✔ Finally, save money for a rainy day. Don't spend everything.

I sure would appreciate your vote. Thanks so much!

I was born and raised in Berea and am the son of Steven and Thana Connelly, the brother of Ethan Connelly, and the grandson of Helen and Ervin Connelly. I attended elementary school at Berea Community, Middle School at Foley, and graduated from Madison Southern High School in 2001. I attended college at Eastern Kentucky University graduating in 2005 with a Bachelor's Degree in Communications: Broadcasting, and in 2014 with a Master's Degree in Public Administration. I currently work at Eastern Kentucky University in the Human Resources Department.

In addition to my passion to continue to see Berea improve and develop, I believe my experiences serving on various committees at ECU help make me a qualified candidate. These include: Student Government Association, where I served as a senator and committee chair, Graduate Student Council, Employee Recognition Committee, FLSA Workgroup, and I have recently been invited to serve on the Equity Complaint Council. All are bodies that stress cooperation to accomplish goals.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I am running for City Council because I want to be a voice for cooperation, an advocate for proactive city initiatives, and continue Berea's history as a tolerant and accepting community. I love Berea and feel fortunate to have grown up here and I admire the men and women who have worked to build us up to where we are today. Now it's time for the next generation of Berea's to step up and continue to make this a great community to live and grow up in.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

- Fiscal Responsibility: Continue balanced annual budgets that provide essential services, maintain a reserve fund for emergencies, and include an equipment sinking fund.
- Illegal Drugs:

Berea should continue to crackdown on illegal drug use and related criminal activity by supporting the drug task force.

- Revive planning: Return to strategic planning and hire administrative staff if necessary to assist in research and organization.

- Economic Development: I will support continuing our ongoing recruitment and expansion of industry with new and innovative initiatives to support existing businesses and encourage new local entrepreneurship.

- Important Projects: Three projects should have priority over the next two years: 1) the Police, Fire and City Hall Reconstruction; 2) the widening of US 25 North; and 3) the completion of the Indian Fort - Artisan Center Shared - Use Trial.

- Transparency: Council should explore new ideas and invest in technology to improve access to public information and preserve open meetings and open records.

- Local Control: I believe Berea should retain its electric, water and sewer utilities and I passionately believe that Berea should preserve its independent local government.

- Citizen Action: Council should support citizen activism that allows the city to leverage its resources with volunteerism and visions from our neighborhoods and the many dedicated groups like the Foodbank and Berea Utility Advisory Board who already make Berea better.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Berea has benefitted for many years by focusing its economic development strategy on Industry and the Arts. While we should never ignore these areas, in order for Berea to continue to develop economically, we will need to focus on diversifying our economy and creating an environment that promotes entre-preneurism. This focus will not only allow us to attract new investment to Berea, but also encourage and support out current residents to undertake their own business passions.

A few ideas I would like to explore are: building a partnership with the Small Business Development Center at ECU, Co-op placement programs with our high schools, and creation of a municipal broadband network.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

When I look at Berea, I don't see a city that is divided, I see a city that is full of passionate people united by the drive to make our community better. I see people who want to ensure that our children benefit from excellent education and recreation facilities. I see people who have a passion for providing job opportunities through diverse economic development plans. I see people who want to make sure we continue to benefit from the fiscal stewardship that has helped us to weather the financial hardships many other communities suffered. And I see people who want to continue to make our community safer by supporting our police and firefighters.

As a city council member, I believe it is our duty not only to provide citizens with the opportunity to share their concerns but also to listen to them so that we can identify what unites us and make that the focus of our policies.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

I was raised in Berea by my parents Ellis and Jeanie Hogg. I attended BCHS, '98' and Berea College, '02'. I hold my Doctorate in Clinical Psychology and am a Licensed Clinical Psychologist with a business in Old Town.

I hold 16+ years mental health experience in working with Kentuckians in our schools, jails, hospitals, and outpatient settings. I understand families, substance abuse, and social connectedness. I have ran multiple businesses and served on non-profit boards providing my knowledge and leadership. I value research and collaboration with others. I look forward to providing my knowledge, decision making process and communication skills as a council member.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

Berea is special and is not just another small town in Kentucky. Berea needs reasonable, compassionate and knowledgeable adults to serve while crucial choices are made these next couple years so that social issues are overcome and economic development continues.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

Substance use disorders among youth and young adults, and associated criminal activity.

Parks and recreational opportunities

Services, housing & amenities for older adults

Civil rights protection for all citizens

Citizen involvement in government

Economic Development & Tourism

Poverty

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

We need to enhance and utilize our existing structures for locally owned/operated businesses. I would like to see an increase in options for job skill development. We need to be able to attract large employers that provide safe and living wage jobs. Provide incentives and resources to businesses to foster healthy development and long term success.

Our poverty rate is too high and we must target the contributing factors to this problem so that our families have more resources and education to overcome their challenges.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

Change is scary. This town has potential and many people here are speaking up for what they believe, support, and/or oppose. While on City Council I will model appropriate communication skills and advocate for the community to keep seeking out conversations with one another. We all have room to grow and can become better neighbors. Personal relationships and healthy interactions with those we disagree with are crucial to growth.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more collaboration and less decision making being done by just a few citizens.

"What do you stand for?"

I remember hearing that question being asked of candidates for public office often during my youth. The scene was usually in a local restaurant with business and community leaders talking about what is important to the City of Berea.

With that in mind, I thought carefully about what I stand for, what is important to me as City Council candidate, and what I would bring to the table.

Here is what I stand for:

- ❖ "Common sense leadership."
- ❖ Equal representation for all citizens of Berea.
Working for the common interest.
- ❖ Good stewardship of taxpayer dollars.
Making sure the city is spending your tax dollars wisely.
- ❖ Encouraging economic growth and job creation.
Creating an economic climate that encourages new businesses and entrepreneurship.
Encouraging planning to support and keep our current industry.
Encouraging full utilization of the talent of our Industrial Development Authority and Economic Development Department.
- ❖ Open communication with the Citizens of Berea.
Making sure city officials get input from the citizens on important issues.
Making efforts to keep the citizens informed of what is happening with their city government.
- ❖ Honoring our State motto: "United We Stand, Divided We Fall."
I will encourage focusing on the things that unite us, and working together to overcome the things that can divide us.
- ❖ Making support for our City Police Department, Fire Department, and all city departments a priority.
- ❖ Advocating for Anti-Drug programs to combat the proliferation of illegal drugs in our community.
- ❖ Working cooperatively with our County and State Representatives on issues of mutual concern to grow our economy, to improve our infrastructure, and to address the needs of our citizens.
- ❖ I pledge to treat everyone with courtesy, dignity, and respect.
- ❖ I pledge to serve you with integrity and honesty.

Please stand with me! Together we can make a difference.

I am from Garrard County. I have lived in Berea for 51 years. I have 5 children, 7 grandchildren, & 4 great grandchildren. I'm a graduate of Paint Lick High School and have a degree in Management from EKV. I worked at Dresser Industries for almost 39 years as a Buyer. I am a member of Emmanuel Baptist Church where I am Baptist Men's Director, Food Pantry Director, & currently on the renovation committee. I am not a politician. We have too many of those.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

In my years left on earth I have a desire to be more fruitful in a position where I can benefit mankind and my community. The church has its place in this, but also so does the local government.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, working, experienced, and responsible team member with a proven track record and a genuine concern and love for Berea. I give careful, thoughtful consideration to every vote I cast. I have no personal agenda and am not a single issue candidate. There are numerous on-going projects that are critical to the future of Berea including:

- Balanced budget with healthy surplus,
- Employment opportunities – JOBS
- Attract and cultivate small businesses, micro loans, partnerships, affordable space, marketing expertise,
- New or modified reservoir for adequate water supply – A MUST!
- Vocational/technical school in the Industrial Park (cooperative efforts)
- Completion of By-Pass Phase II
- Complete Indian Fort Trail
- City-wide storm water drainage
- Efficient, affordable energy services with attention to conservation and alternate energy sources (solar, wind, and hydro)
- Completion of Police and Fire Departments facility
- Continue streets/sidewalks/bikeways projects
- Provision of quality city services
- Possible retirement complex
- Possible community center.

These issues and many others require strong leadership and city officials that work together with all citizens to meet the challenges ahead. We can do it if we unite!

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

There are many on-going issues and challenges that are of great concern which require careful planning and dedicated leadership, such as: 1. Adequate water supply-reservoir expansion, 2. City wide storm water drainage system, 3. Re-build of U.S. 25 North, 4. Completion of much needed Police and Fire Departments Facility, 5. Provision of safe, efficient, affordable energy, 6. Vocational Technical School, 7. Recreational opportunities for all ages and abilities, 8. Continued maintenance and upgrade of streets, sidewalks, bikeways, trails, 9. Study of possible future southern bypass, 10. Responsive city government, sound financial management with strong surplus. I plan to continue working on these big projects

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I am seeking a seat on the council because I want to be a part of Berea's future! I consider myself a hard-that most concern you about the City of Berea?

The issues that concern me most are: drugs, youth, rehabilitation, taxes, water supply, streets, more industry, more small businesses (which are the backbone of the nation), event center, sports facilities, dog park, better use of revenue, accountability, transparency, integrity/honesty. The youth and drugs are very high on my list for immediate attention. Rome wasn't built in a day.

4. How would you like and new initiatives for Berea. Please allow me to represent you on Berea City Council.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Economic growth and development depends on employment opportunities – creation and retention of well-paying jobs. Another factor is the recruitment of new businesses and support for existing businesses and industries. Active support for education, training, and re-training of the work force will make Berea more competitive in today's economic climate. A new vocational/technical school in the Industrial Park would be such an asset to the city, the citizens, and a support for local manufacturers. Another goal would be the attraction and cultivation of small businesses with partnerships, affordable space, micro loans, and business and marketing support. Our local economy could be enhanced with more shopping choices – retail and commercial growth. Buy local and grow the local economy. The promotion of the tourism industry, as well as on-going support and expansion of Berea's arts and crafts programs, have a huge impact on the economy. Berea's Comprehensive Plan functions as a guide for future growth with objective for protection of our environment, reduced energy consumption, expanded sustainability practices, safe and affordable housing, careful planning and the attraction of diverse businesses that produce a wide range of goods and services in an environmentally responsible manner.

Division, discord, and polarization have invaded our very special town and I have consumed time and resources that could better have been focused elsewhere. That being said, differing opinions and views are healthy if they lead to frank, open discussions and eventual solutions to problems. An example of this was the lengthy and divisive struggle over the selection of an alternate supplier of electrical energy. After much study, many to see Berea develop economically?

I would like to see Berea develop economically with a variety of manufacturing, new small businesses, restaurants, events like the Spoonbread Festival plus others, arts and crafts, fairs, and just a good mix of all of these so if one industry fails there are others to pick up the slack.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

meetings, and a few disagreements, the best possible solution for the city and the utility customers was finally reached. Disagreements are a normal occurrence but that does not justify being hurtful or intolerant. We can do better! Let the different points of view come together to form a group consensus that everyone can live with comfortably. Berea is fortunate to have so many good people willing to serve on City Council. Each of the 8 elected council members will bring to every issue different experiences and areas of expertise. Teamwork is essential for blending these ideas and goals into a course of action. As a council member certain skills and attitudes encourage civility, such as

- Listening to all points of view with an open and receptive mind.
- Demonstrating cooperative efforts
- Acting always in a civil and polite manner
- Welcoming new and differing ideas
- Avoid playing the "blame" game
- Being inclusive and responsive to all citizens
- Treating others as you would want to be treated. So much can be accomplished if we all work together!

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more ____ and less ____.

Berea needs more retail

Berea like the country is very, very divided. Just look at the presidential election if you don't believe that. I'm not sure the country will ever heal, but I sure hope so! The ONLY way it will ever heal is to turn back to God, the Creator of the earth and heavens, and man and woman. If we could just get people to love, to care for, to be considerate, to be compassionate, to compromise, to agree to disagree, to have patience, to tolerate, and all the virtues of humans then it would be a better place to live.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more ____ and less ____.

WOW!!! How many ways could I answer this? Probably a dozen or more! But there is just one blank. Berea needs more understanding of what people want and less cramming things down the peoples' throat!

I would like to ask for the support of the citizens of Berea on November 8th.

I am proud of the track record that I have accumulated while presently serving on the Berea City Council. Over the past two years I have strived to do what is best for all of Berea.

In 2015, I presented an amendment to the tax ordinance that was passed and which prevented an increase in the tax rate for landowners. The decision was made because of that amendment to not approve the maximum increase, but instead pass the compensating rate for the taxes of Berea. I have also worked diligently to make a power supply decision that would benefit the Berea Municipal Customers over the next 5 years.

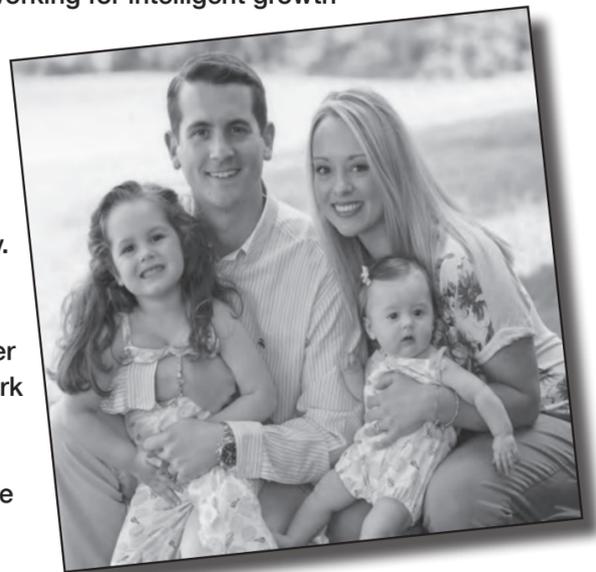

During my time on council I have only missed one scheduled Council meeting and that was due to the death of my beloved grandmother, Henrietta Pennington.

I have always made sure to dig deep into the issues of Berea and to be prepared to make the best decision that I knew how to make for the citizens of Berea.

I hope that I can continue the work that I have started with Economic Development and continue fighting for a vocational school in Berea. We are working for intelligent growth that will make Berea better while hanging onto the wonderful traits we all love about our city. So I ask you for your vote this November so that we can work together to make Berea the best city for people to live, raise families, and enjoy an unmatched quality of life.

I have been a citizen of Berea since 1963. I have been married to my wife, Helen Parker Powell, for 47 years. We have three children, and three grandchildren. We have lived on Glade Street in Berea for 47 years. I am a Vietnam combat veteran. I have been in business in Berea since 1971, for 45 years. I have served on the city council for 16 years. While on the city council, I have served 16 years on the personal committee, 16 years on the public works committee, and 12 years of that as chairman. I also served eight years on the Madison County Airport board, and eight years on the Citizens Advisory Board to dispose of the chemical weapons at the Bluegrass Army Depot.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

After being on the city council for 16 years, to continue to help keep Berea safe and moving forward in a positive direction. And complete the projects we have started, especially the Highway 25 expansion and the bypass.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

I believe storm water will be a bigger problem every year. The traffic problem will also get worse every year; we need to stay ahead of it. But I believe the drug problem is the worst thing that has ever happened to our city, or any other place. It leads to broken homes,

County and continue to seek out learning opportunities. In my current position, I am constantly driven to learn about emerging technologies. To properly perform my job, I must balance innovation with the library's needs while being financially responsible.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I have worked in service to the public most of my adult life. I have thought about offering to serve on city council for several years. My children are now in their teenage years and I feel that I can now devote the time necessary to fulfill these duties.

3. What are the issues, both current and long term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

Berea is a fantastic community with a wealth of resources. We must plan ahead to repair, maintain, and upgrade our aging infrastructure. Like Dueron stadium, many of our bridges, roads, sidewalks and storm drainage need attention. It is far better to plan ahead and allocate funds as appropriate than to be met with ultimatums by the state. Like most other communities, we must find solutions to reduce drug use and the issues that arise from them. We must also examine the needs of our children (our emerging workforce). In a society where the expense of college often outweigh its benefit, we should give interested students more options to develop skills useful in our local industry such as welding and CNC programming.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Like most, I want to see more new retail, restaurants, and industry. I will support ordinances that are attractive to them. We must continue to make improvements to utilities and other infrastructure, including our parks and pathways. If business owners wouldn't relocate their family here, we cannot expect them to move their business here.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

Much of the discourse has emerged out of a difficulty getting accurate information quickly. There is a legitimate need to continue to improve transparency in city government. If answers to community questions are not easily obtained, misinformation is politically correct, instead of trying to do what is best for all the citizens who don't have time to come to meetings and express their views. But the biggest of the people in Berea care about each other and try to watch out for their neighbors.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

More positive thinking and less negative talk and negative thinking.

more easily shared. City government should set goals for annual improvement in the timely sharing of information and create a mechanism for sharing frequently asked questions with its citizens. When information is accurate and easily shared, misinformation is minimized, and debate can be more civil.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more _____ partnerships and less _____ divisiveness

I am a 30-year resident of the Berea Community. I am a manager at the Madison County Public Library where I have served for 16 years. I worked for three years in the school system as well as time in hotel/restaurant management, retail and industry. I have worked on committees, boards and partnerships, expressing my passion about our community. I have graduated from Berea Community, Berea College, Leadership Madison in leadership roles my entire life. However, it was the Spoonbread Festival of 2015 when I decided to run. Change must occur and the things I saw there made me very disappointed in my town. But I believe that if we work together, not only will we make Berea a model town in Kentucky, but a place where everyone feels safe and valued.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the city of Berea?

The issues that most concern me, and ones that I will turn my immediate attention to are traffic issues, the heroin epidemic, improving our schools, protecting our green spaces and natural wonders, and fiscal responsibility coupled with complete government transparency.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Economic development is key to Berea's future and the city council and city administration must make it a top priority!

But what kind of economic development do I intend to work for?

For at least ten years, leading economic development experts have written about the changing conditions for economic development in smaller cities, noting that the positive cost/benefits of securing new manufacturing subsidiaries or affiliated suppliers to larger corporations via incentive programs have become questionable.

Berea has in the past focused on that approach and the results were quite impressive – until they weren't.

Fortunately, Berea's new Economic Development Director, Danny Isaacs, is charting a course that is attuned to the changes that have occurred. He (and we) are certainly not hostile to new externally-owned industries, but that isn't the best development approach today. A more productive course is one that promises to bring new business, new jobs, and new community development through locally-owned import-substituting businesses. While that is a mouthful, it is actually a simple concept:

Import-substituting businesses are locally-owned businesses that locally produce or supply goods and products that have previously been produced or supplied (or imported) from an externally-owned business that operates outside of our immediate area. Thus, with everything that is imported, all of the profits go elsewhere. On the other hand, with locally-owned import-substituting businesses, more or most of the profits are likely spent locally and contribute to the overall economy. Externally-owned businesses like WalMart, etc. take the profits away and the multiplier effect on the economy is nil.

One example of such a locally-owned community-serving business is Noodle Nirvana, the new Chestnut Street restaurant. All of its profits will remain locally. The owners live and work here. They pledge to support a local non-profit with a substantial percentage of their take on one Tuesday each month and already have made surprisingly large contributions to the New Opportunity School for Women. They are thus contributing to a stronger community. They are paying their workers no less than $10.00 per hour. They source as much of their food locally as they can, purchasing many of their vegetables from the Berea Urban Farm and other local growers, substituting local products for imports.

There are many other potential benefits to locally-owned import-substituting businesses:

1. Higher multipliers – the profits cascade throughout the economy, strengthening other businesses.

2. Greater reliability – locally-owned businesses feel a greater responsibility to their community.

3. Higher standards – such businesses tend to exercise higher quality standards because their customers are able to directly confront quality problems.

4. Such businesses have better social impacts through their contributions of money and goods to charitable groups, through volunteering, and through civic participation.

I could go on and on, but this is the kind of economic and community development I will emphasize and very actively encourage and support as a council member.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more stability?

I don't see Berea as divided as much as I see it as a reflection of our country as a whole. Berea is not unique in this problem. Division is fine, as long as the doors of communication are open and we can have a dialogue as a community on how to address issues. The Council race is supposed to be non-partisan, but there are definitely groups who are trying to make it otherwise. My greatest gift is the ability to bring people together, have productive conversations and come up with solutions that benefit the largest amount of citizens possible.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more, blank, and less blank.

Berea needs more compassion and less of a judgmental attitude. Only God has the right to judge another.

Born August 6, 1966, and hailing from Jackson, KY, I graduated after three years from Anderson University, Indiana in 1987, with a double major in Psychology and Religion. I spent the next few years in a variety of positions from youth pastor to school teacher: from Indiana to Carson City, Nevada; back to Kentucky for a spell; then Cincinnati to care for my ailing mother. Along the way I spent three years as a seminarian at Fuller Theological Seminary in California, and also earned an advanced teaching degree from the College of Mount Saint Joseph in Cincinnati. My wife, Pearl, and I returned to Kentucky in 2014 once I had retired from the entertainment industry in Los Angeles, CA.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

When my wife and I first moved to the community, we committed ourselves to serving what will be the last place we will ever live. I am a leader. I have been a family. That has changed. I see the increasing challenges that parents face in raising their children today. I want to work to restore the qualities which made Berea good for the development of children into responsible adults.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

I am concerned for the lack of transparency in the decisions made by the city of Berea. Those include property purchases, the length of time spent to get to a decision that was acted upon by the City Administrator for securing a future provider of electric power, failure to invest in the upkeep of Berea Community School stadium, the lack of oversight for Commissions and how public funds are spent by Tourism.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

The mayor and his administration have dismissed opportunities for Krogers, Lowes, a 400 employee factory and did not pursue available state funds for building a multi-purpose convention center. For Berea to develop economically will require an administration that will seize those opportunities and see them to completion.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

The mayor has a Berea Human Rights Commission which represents only those causes it deems important. As a result, BRHC discriminates against those it is called to serve. BHRC ignores opportunities to mediate social issues to arrive at mutually satisfactory solutions.

No explanation has been offered for the participation of a BHRC member in protests which disrupted the Spoonbread Festival of 2015. No explanation has been offered for acceptance of those protests by our police.

The focus of Berea College has always included an overriding concern for positive publicity. This has led to the sacrifice of student's rights to liberty and justice.

There have been instances where arrests should have been made but were not. These represent a loss of protection for the entire city that must be restored.

I am willing to work with anyone who expresses themselves openly with regard to their beliefs and why they feel the way they do. I am called by my Creator to treat everyone fairly. However, I do not feel it is government's role to tell others what fairness is.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more participation of its citizens and awareness in the affairs of the city and less attention going to special interests. The former will offset the latter.

I am a construction professional with 45 years of experience. I work in a results-driven world where plans and expectations are discussed and developed into actions to get things done on time and to the satisfaction of the recipient.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I know that Berea was once a good place to raise economic development and budgeting. I serve as the chair of the Economic Development committee. I am very proud of our city's economic state. We have more jobs than workers to fill them and millions of dollars in the bank. We are the envy of many cities in Kentucky.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I like to help people and I wanted to give back to the city that raised me. I have helped many people as a council member. Anyone can come to me for assistance with complete confidentiality and trust. Navigating government is a nasty business and most hard working people do not have the time nor resources to even find out where to start to deal with an issue. It is my goal to always be available.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

I believe that our water supply is still a major focus. We do not want to outgrow our source. The ongoing drug problems and economic diversity are also major concerns of mine.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

Manufacturing factories are great and I deeply appreciate our industrial base. I would like to see Berea diversify into more service and technology based enterprises while maintaining a steady growth of tourism and small businesses. I do not want all our eggs in the same financial basket.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

I am already trying to bridge the gap by listening, more than talking. People need to be heard. I take no pleasure in disagreeing with people, but I will stand my ground. I am finding that for every disagreement I have with someone, if I truly listen to them, I can find three ideas we have in common.

I'm a retired college administrator, with financial management experience which involved overseeing large public contracts. A single mom, I moved to Berea six years ago to work at Berea College and stay close to my son, who was attending University of Evansville. The past six years, I have been very committed to volunteering in Berea with nonprofits and accepting leadership positions. Retired from the college two years ago, I now serve on Berea's Planning and Zoning commission. I am proud to be a Ky. Guild juried digital photographer and a published author, whose family is originally from Shelbyville Ky.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I decided to seek a position on city council when a diverse group of Berea citizens from various nonprofits, neighbors, artists and writers, nature and dog lovers encouraged me to think about running. A perfect candidate they said: "A real nonpartisan - no financial interests, no grudges, no conflicting personal or family business interests. You love Berea's historical history, sense of Community, you know you serve best, when serving others." I asked for guidance and followed up on the confidence expressed. Here I am writing to all Berea Citizens, about what prompted me to run for City Council.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

As a new city council person I will be inheriting several issues and problems:

A heroin drug problem - It causes parents to be arrested, and children to be put in foster care. Out on bail, their addiction takes their jobs, lose their home.

Homeless on Berea streets: Increasing, being tracked by churches, businesses and Berea police. Time for a nonprofit mission?

Berea's water supply: Limited supply, increased usage, Repairs of the Dam.

An aging sewer system: How bad? Replacement costs? Budget plans?

New city hall costs: I expect it to finish on time, under or at budget.

Tourism: My concerns, the remodeling of the Tolle building, landscaping, parking lot? Traffic flow? Transparent of total costs. No surprises.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

It must first educate its community and business leaders, that right now:

1. Half of the America population is under 38 years old. This population, today's students will have 10-14 jobs by the time they reach 38.

2. 10,000 baby Boomers are retiring every day now, continuing for 19 years. In the next 10 years, Millennials (those born between 1981 and 2000) will make up 75% of the global workforce.

3. By 2020 an estimated 75 billion devices will be connected to the internet.

4. Berea needs a technical school that will train students for the "Service Industry." Aging baby boomers need help. Manufacturing will be looking for an employee who can work on the line, do robotic repairs, besides operate and troubleshoot a computer.

5. The expanding Madison County airport will need jet mechanics, computer and engine repair technicians. Commercial airline pilots are needed now.

6. The aging senior population in Berea needs more services, senior housing of all types. Retirees from other states want to retire in Berea.

7. I want Berea to look at recruiting non-traditional industries, Recruit head offices for new age businesses. Economically, be the city of the present and of the future. That being said, the businesses we have in Berea now are great. I eat locally, shop locally, use local contractors.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

A new level of Civility should start at the first council meeting of new members. I would encourage civility in by offering to start a community lunch table series, to discuss peace and conflict resolution and civility in Berea. Politeness is a necessary first step. To talk about disagreeing without disrespect, seeking common ground as a starting point for dialogue about differences, listening past one's preconceptions. Civility is the hard work of staying present even with those with whom we have deep-rooted and fierce disagreements. But it is political, too, in the sense that it is about negotiating interpersonal power such that everyone's voice is heard, and nobody's is ignored. I would invite the Mayor, the Chamber, and other city council members to be discussion leaders at each table. All Berea Citizens will be invited to the community lunches each month.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more affordable small homes in a planned community and less apartments here and there.

I'm a 4th generation Berean. Not only was I born and raised here, but also my husband & I chose to raise our children here and now they are raising our grandchildren here. I retired from the City of Berea, where I was office manager for the utilities (formerly Berea Sewer Commission).

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

Berea has been good to my family and me. My grandparents & my parents owned a business (Todd's Grocery on U.S. 25 South). My husband & children also own businesses in Berea. It's my time to give back.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

We need to be business friendly. We definitely need to have more transparency and I think in doing so it would eliminate some of the ill feelings between the council, mayor and citizens. We need to address the drug issue with our youth. Take some of the money we spend wastefully and invest in them.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

I would love to have more than one option when I need a dress, shoes, or something for my home. We need a training center for our youth and adults. Not all kids want to attend college. Give them a good alternative.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

I don't think it is divided as much as some people would like to lead others to believe. We need to try treating people like we want to be treated. What ever happened to being able to disagree with someone and still be friends?

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

The Terrace Names October 2016 Employee of the Month

The Terrace proudly presents its October Employee of the Month - Andrew Shoemaker. Andrew has worked at The Terrace for four years as a cook and recently trained to work as a security guard as needed. When asked what he likes most about his job, he replied, "I get to do what I love, which is cook. I love my co-workers and our residents. It's good to be recognized for all the extra time and effort I put into my job." Christina Saylor, Director of Dietary, stated, "Andrew is such an asset to the kitchen and the facility. He steps up when help is needed. We are thrilled to have him as part of our team." Beverly Satterfield, Director of Activities, stated, "Andrew is a team player. He is always willing to help with activities whether it be making a special treat for our residents or doing an activity with them.

He loves interacting with our residents and they enjoy him as well." Andrew credits his culinary skills to his parents and grandparents and states that he is very proud of his family, especially his three nephews. In his spare time, he enjoys teaching violin lessons and singing in the Berea Classic Chorale. Andrew also expressed that he has enjoyed the friends he has made in Berea. Congratulations, Andrew!

I have been a Berean since 1994, when I left Georgia to enroll in Berea College, a decision that would change my life in so many ways. I am not ashamed to say that I grew up poor; in fact, I embrace it and celebrate it because doing so taught me to be resolved, responsible, empathetic, and an advocate for social change. It seems these days that only the wealthy have the time and resources to serve in political office, and, as a result, often personal interests hinder common-sense policies and change.

Upon earning my B.A. in English from Berea College in 1998, I left Berea to spread what I learned about community and stewardship to other communities. My plan at the time was to attend law school and become an advocate for disenfranchised communities, but fate had other plans. The day I was to begin law school, my grandmother, who raised me, had a heart attack, and my family needed me to postpone my enrollment to help care for her. During my year at home, I accepted a position as a reporter at a local newspaper, a job that opened my eyes to a new career path. I loved working with community leaders to create a forum of transparency between the government and its citizenry. When it came time to make a decision about graduate school, I chose to earn my Masters in Mass Communication so that I could expand on my experience as a journalist. In my M.A. program, I was afforded the opportunity to teach undergraduate classes as part of my assistantship, which I needed to afford the program. I fell in love with teaching and knew that my calling was to use the experiential learning model from Berea to help students realize they can be both learners and advocates for social change. To accomplish my goal of becoming a college professor who could teach journalism, ethics, community building, and other passions, I knew I would need a PhD, which I later earned at the University of Kentucky. Set with the tools necessary to become a college professor, the world was open to me. I could have gone anywhere, but I chose to accept a position at Berea College because of the mission of the College and the love of a community and city that embraced and nurtured me as a teenager. My love for Berea has led me to incorporate service work into every facet of my life, especially my job. Almost every class I teach has a service component built into the course structure – meaning my students and I are not only in the classroom, but we are out in the community working with local non-profits by designing media campaigns, holding fundraising events, raising awareness for various causes, etc. This is the model by which I was raised – teach through service. By job as a professor has privileged me to work with such local organizations as the Berea Food Bank, Lloyd Jordison and the Madison County Safety Coalition, Madison County's Safety City, Bereans United for Utility and Rent Relief, Berea Faith Community Outreach, Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, and the New Opportunity School for Women, an organization for which I have served for 21 years. Because of my passion for service, I was able to grow from a student tutor at the New Opportunity School for Women in 1995 to the President of its Board of Directors from 2012-2016, and I still volunteer today.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

I decided to run for city council after seeing how many of the current council's decisions have negatively impacted Bereans. From hearing the hurtful and often fallacious reasons why some of our council persons could not support fairness, seeing the inaction of the council to address our growing drug problem, seeing some important development negotiations fall through because of the inability or willingness to compromise and negotiation, to seeing how dysfunctional the council has become during the electricity contract discussions, I think it is time for a change.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

Many of the issues I see that we must address sooner than later are: diversifying business in Berea; creating a safer and more diverse Berea addressing Berea's drug and crime problems and revisiting the fairness ordinance. I also think the city needs to be more proactive in developing a stronger and healthier sense of community for young Bereans.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

In terms of development, I believe we can bolster and improve our arts and crafts infrastructure and retail while also improving our industrial and non-artisan retail options. In fact, the two can and should feed each other. I support healthy business competition, not to the detriment of small business, but only with the stability of small business in mind. Berea must address the concept of anchor retail in our community: anchor retailers who have researched and determined that Berea has a thriving market to sustain such retail. Research shows that small businesses perform better and have more stability with the presence of anchor retailers. For example, research on positive externality shows that anchors provide a reliable clientele for the municipality that will inevitably spillover to local small businesses. For example, if one shops at Wal-Mart for groceries or toilet paper, he or she might stop at Gondolier to eat or travel up the road to Noodle Nirvana or stop in Old Town to purchase art or stop at the local Farmer's Market to buy locally made bagels from Native Bagel. With proper planning, anchor stores can stabilize small businesses, increase their sales, and help increase a city's tax revenue and tourism. It has been suggested by some Bereans that small businesses cannot co-exist with chains or anchor stores. When I go to Lowes to buy a faucet I see a lot of Bereans. But, when I go to Ace Hardware in Berea to buy a furnace filter or weed-eater cord, I also see a lot of Bereans. Those who choose to buy locally will continue to do so, and those who straddle both will also continue to do so. That's the nature of the free market system and the power of choice I believe consumers deserve.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

We saw much polarization after the fairness ordinance debate and the alcohol vote. Our City is divided on issues that many link to religion and morality, and perhaps this division cannot be stopped. However, we can encourage more constructive debates and forums where citizens can share their thoughts and come to some sort of mutual understanding. It seems as if too many decisions in Berea are made by a select few without much transparency. We need to create more opportunities for Bereans to become informed, share their stories and beliefs, and these opportunities need to be moderated in an effective way. During the fairness ordinance debates, the forums held were a free-for-all with hurtful comments made on all sides, but there was little understanding that occurred beyond the hurt. No one was present to synthesize the comments and create a plan to unify. We were only left divided.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on the city council?

First, I am very concerned about the future of Berea, our state and the nation. Friends, family and several of Berea's business into the issues of fairness and gender equality.

2. What specifically prompted you to seek a position on city council?

Berea is a wonderful place to live. My wife and I came here in 1978 and raised our family here. I am a firm believer in public service, and I feel that this is a good way for me to give back to my community. As a rural route postman and a Berea citizen I have had opportunity to talk with a lot of Bereans and to hear their concerns about our city. I want to help address those issues and put Berea first in central Kentucky for quality of life.

3. What are the issues, both current and long-term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

We appear to be stag-leaders have encouraged me to run each of the last three terms based on my diverse background (college professor, economic development leader and first-hand knowledge of our business community). Back in August, I decided that our community needs strong leaders that are willing to make difficult decisions. Consequently, I filed as a candidate for Berea City Council.

3. What are the issues, both current and long term, that most concern you about the City of Berea?

A. Planning for growth – Given our location, Berea will grow with or without a plan. Consequently, we can plan for the growth and develop our infrastructure accordingly or just take whatever comes our way.

B. Expanding our watersheds needs to be one of our highest priorities. Without the clean pristine natural resource that we nant in terms of economic growth. We are unprepared to grow. Our remaining acres in the industrial park are undeveloped and unready for new business. We appear to have done well in tourism and the arts, but the proof of that advancement is lacking. Our infrastructure is suffering under the pressure of everyday use and population expansion. I don't want to see Berea turned into a "bedroom city" for Lexington.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

I will work toward:

- The expansion of our industrial park to include new, diverse industries.
- A full and impartial evaluation of the tourism tax and its benefits.
- A solution to storm take for granted, we will be hard pressed to address our residential and commercial needs in the near future as we grow our local economy.

C. An escalating drug problem, that affects families, employers, local crime rates, health care costs and fills up our jails.

4. How would you like to see Berea develop economically?

We need a targeted approach to retail and industrial development. Exit 77 is a prime location for retail development. However, our proximity to the Richmond Centre and Hamburg make it difficult to recruit new retail establishments and buy local. We have a 400-acre industrial park located on a major north/south corridor and within a 500-mile radius of 2/3 of the US markets. It is imperative that we diversify our efforts to recruit new sustainable jobs and to do so we water flooding.

- The construction of a community / convention center.
- The promotion of economic growth for private businesses and corporations.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

A great many factors can cause division. Not being a current member of the council, I could conjecture but I can't speak to actual causes.

How to solve this problem? Only complete transparency will do. The administration must stop making unilateral decisions without consulting the council. All commission and committee appointments should avoid need to have our industrial park shovel ready. It is time to begin a critical review of the tourism initiatives that have been made possible through the local restaurant tax. Given the popularity of adventure tourism, we may need to begin a more diversified approach to tourism by promoting the Pinnacles, Owsley Fork and the new Geocaching Tour as hard as we do arts and crafts.

5. Why do you think Berea has become so divided? How could you as a city council member encourage more civility?

Berea tends to reflect the same division that we see at the state and national levels. While most of us live in the middle and mind our own business. Others have become polar opposites (extremely liberal or ultra conservative). Our "community activists" have become "community agitators" and take great pride in stirring the even the appearance of being illegal or unethical. Live stream every council meeting and every commission meeting – especially planning and zoning, tourism, and human rights. More conscientious oversight of committees and commissions. Make financial documents available online. Allow the council to have a free and open exchange of ideas, with civility on both sides.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more openness, more respect for others, more kindness and understanding and less suspicion, less willingness to believe the worst, and less hostility. Be willing to work hard and create solutions. BERA FIRST – BERA FORWARD!

mud. In my lifetime, I have never seen anything divide our community like the effort of Mayor Connelly and others to pass the fairness ordinance, which was thankfully voted down by the City Council. Going forward, we need to remind ourselves, from time to time, that we live in America, the greatest country in the world and thank our veterans, who have fought for the freedoms that we enjoy. We also need to learn to respect fellow citizens, who may have different beliefs and ways of life.

6. Fill in the blanks: Berea needs more _____ and less _____.

Berea needs more leadership with better communication among council members and the taxpayers and less catering to special interest groups.

Russel Acton Folk Center. The goals of the meeting, as set out by the Bell Engineering representatives, were to inform Bereans of the current status of the dam project, discuss the Environmental Assessment efforts, and to identify any concerns or questions people may have.

The City of Berea has been working to simultaneously solve two issues -- the high hazard rating of the Owsley Fork Dam and the need to increase the amount of water available to the City of Berea. The high hazard status does not reflect on the dam's structure, engineer Ron McMaine said, but on the chances of spillover flooding with the number of people who live downstream.

McMaine reported that Berea was projected, if usage stays constant, to use five million gallons of water a day in 50 years based on population estimates. Currently, the City of Berea uses three million gallons, which includes the water that the Southern Madison Water District purchases. The current reservoirs are only handling current usage.

"When looking at this amount of usage, we thought that demand could be reduced," McMaine said. "So we think that Berea can reduce its usage so that in 50 years, they are using four million gallons a day."

Those 50 years, McMaine pointed out, would give people time to adapt to using less water, and also give the city time to work with their largest consumer of water -- the industries.

Bell Engineering considered different options for both increasing the amount of water for the City of Berea, and decreasing the chances of flooding to change the hazard status of the dam. Options they explored included purchasing water from Richmond, pumping from the Kentucky River, indirect potable reuse, and modifying or renovating the dam. They also considered building a new reservoir, but that would be one of the most expensive options, as well as difficult because of EPA regulations.

While grants and other sources of funding will be pursued for the water project, the City of Berea will be responsible for some of the cost. The cost for Berea in purchasing water from Richmond was $19.5 million; pumping from the Kentucky River was estimated at $14.1 million; indirect potable use was estimated at $8.8 million; and modifying the reservoir was estimated at $3.7 million. In each of these cost estimates, the Owsley Fork Dam would also be brought into compliance.

Bell Engineering is currently recommending that the City of Berea raise up the water level by six feet, by building up the dam. This would both increase the amount of water available to four million a day, and would also bring the dam into compliance. It would be the least expensive, McMaine said, and would have the lightest carbon footprint of all the options.

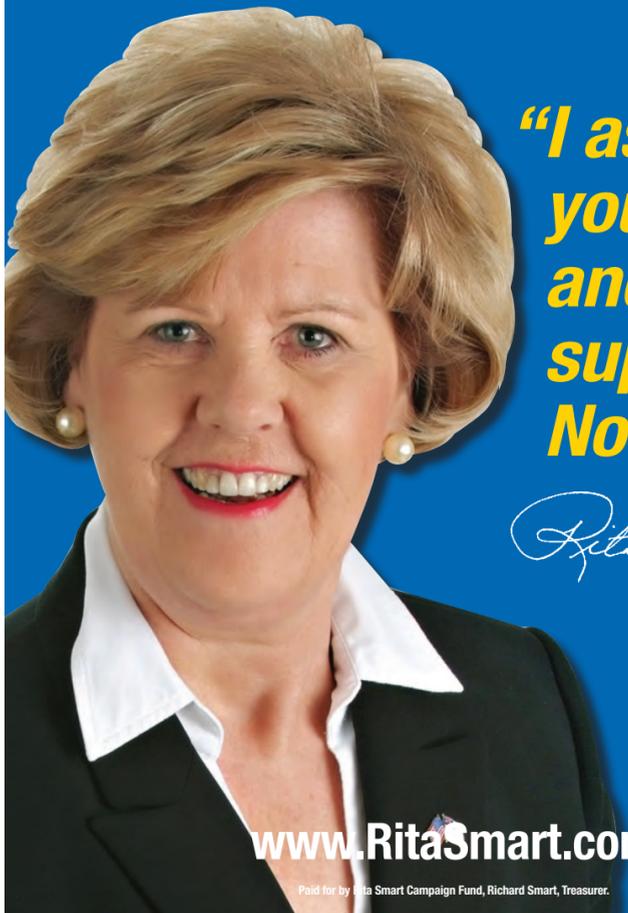

A new spillway would also be built, which could handle the 100 year flood. This would decrease the likelihood of spillover resulting in flooding.

The tentative time line for the Owsley Fork Dam project is to have the supplemental plan approved early in 2017, with a preliminary design to follow. By 2018, the design will be complete, and by 2018/2019 the construction will be complete.

This will all depend, McMaine said, on the availability of funding by the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

Haunted History of Street Side Cafe

Linda Isaacs, owner of Street Side Cafe, has done some research on her building on Chestnut Street, and discovered some interesting history, as well as some reasons for why the place has more than a few things that go "bump" in the day. When Linda has been in the basement, left, she has heard footsteps from above and other noises that sound like someone moving around. She and her friend, Carolyn Wilder, right, bake small Derby pies with bourbon for the Industrial Appreciation Lunch on Tuesday; the kitchen is another location where staff sense someone moving around and exiting and entering the building. Linda says the feelings aren't scary, however, and the building has always felt safe.

By Beth Myers
 Citizen Editor

At first, Linda Isaacs' research pointed to Samuel E. Welch getting killed in her building on Chestnut Street, where her restaurant, Street Side Cafe, currently resides.

"Sam wasn't really liked," Linda said. "Now it looks like he was actually killed in one of the buildings next to this one, in the pharmacy that used to be there."

Samuel Welch was an early entrepreneur in the City of Berea, and built up Chestnut Street in the late 1800s. The line of businesses, that include Street Side, Mayor Steve Connelly's office, and the Mt. Vapors Shop, was called the "Welch block." Welch lived in the building where Repperts Funeral Home is now housed.

"When we hear the footsteps, or see the light that signals someone walking around, we'll say 'that's just Sam visiting,'" Linda said.

Linda reported that she and her staff will often look up while working in the kitchen, seeing the play of light that usually signifies someone walking by. But in several instances, there is no one visible.

"I'm always thinking that someone else is here," Linda said.

Linda, who opened Street Side around five months ago, did extensive renovation to the building before opening. During this process, she unearthed some of the original building such as the wooden floor and the brick walls. While researching her deed, she discovered that the building was a post office in 1914. There was a fire in 1924, however, that burned through. It was reported that the firefighters thought the brick wall would stop the fire, but it didn't. Linda is very certain that the north brick wall, however, is from the 1914 building. The wooden floor shows signs of having been rebuilt after the 1924 fire.

The Chestnut Street building remained the post office until it became Buckley's Pharmacy, then McGuire's Pharmacy, and then Upton's Pharmacy. Following that, Linda discovered, it became a library and then two different antique shops.

Sam's story, however, ended early in the 1900s. He was shot by his son-in-law, Grover Fish, and there are different tales as to why. Linda said she was told that Grover felt Sam had interfered in his marriage. Fish walked through the door in 1907, Linda reported, and shot Sam as he was pulling a cigar out of the box.

Ford Brothers Auctioneers Celebrates 50 Years

Ford Brothers Auctioneers are celebrating their 50th anniversary this year, since Sam Ford started the business.

For Brothers Auctioneers now has four offices in London, Richmond, Somerset, and the original office in Mount Vernon. Today there are a total of over twenty auctioneers and apprentice auctioneers on staff at Ford Brothers.

Ford Brothers are specialists in Simulcast, Online Only and Onsite Auctions using the latest technology to reach the largest buying audience. Auctions are promoted using a calculated blend of traditional and digital

Ford Brothers has been actively involved with the Kentucky Auctioneers Association and the National Auctioneers Association. Sam Ford has been inducted into the National Auctioneers Association Hall of Fame and also served as the President National Auctioneers Association from 1983 through 1984. Judy Ford was also inducted into the National Auctioneers Hall of Fame.

Danny Ford won a lifetime achievement award and has been inducted into the National Auctioneers Association Hall of Fame. Devin Ford currently serves on the Board of Directors of the National Auctioneers Association. Danetta Ford Allen was the first female to serve as the Kentucky Auctioneers President and Matt Ford was inducted into the Marknet Alliance Hall of Fame.

Over the past fifty years Ford Brothers Auctioneers has conducted over 6,000 auctions, and now with the online and simulcast auctions, the number of auctions are increasing at a rapid pace. Ford Brothers Auctioneers offices are open Monday through Friday, and always open on line 24/7/365 on www.fordbrothersinc.com.

Berea Rotary Hosts District Governor

The Berea Rotary heard from District Governor Keith Key at their last meeting.

Key spoke of the "winds of change" technologically, socially, economically, and politically as they affect the plans of Rotary International. Basically, the theme has not changed—"Rotary, Serving Humanity."

It was in the 1986 Roses Day Parade that Rotary rolled out its goal of eradicating polio. Since October 24 is designated as World Polio Day, it is fitting to note that this year there have been less than 35 cases worldwide. Rotary has played a significant part in this effort through the support of inoculations and the dissemination of information. Also in attendance was the Assistant District Governor, Willie Walker-Thompson of Richmond.

Berea Rotary will serve a Pancake Breakfast Nov. 8, Election Day, at the Berea Church of God on Rash Road between 7 and 10 a.m. Tickets will be available from Rotary members or at the door for $5 per person. Proceeds are for scholarships to seniors at Madison Southern and Berea Community High Schools.

Volunteer to Fill Christmas Child Shoeboxes

For Madison County residents, the spirit of giving is not limited to a specific time or holiday. That's why, whether it's October or December, generous volunteers are rallying to participate in the largest Christmas project of its kind, Operation Christmas Child.

Throughout the year volunteers are transforming empty shoeboxes into gifts of hope filled with school supplies, hygiene items, and other items. Operation Christmas Child, a project of Samaritan's Purse, delivers these shoebox gifts to children overseas living in poverty or affected by war, disease and natural disaster. These gifts are meant to be tangible expressions of God's love.

Madison and surrounding counties hope to contribute 31,227 shoebox gifts toward the 2016 global goal of reaching 12 million children.

To join the effort, local residents can:

• Pack a Shoebox Gift

Fill shoeboxes with toys, school supplies, hygiene items and notes of encouragement. By going online at samaritanspurse.org/occ to give the suggested shipping donation of $7 per shoebox gift, participants can print a shoebox label to affix to the top of their box and then later receive an email to discover where in the world it will be delivered.

• Drop Off a Gift

National Collection Week is Nov. 14-21. Berea Shoebox Collection will take place at Westside Baptist Church on Prince Royal Dr. at the following times: Nov. 14 from 5-7 p.m.; Nov. 15 from 10 a.m.-12 p.m.; Nov. 16 from 5-7 p.m.; Nov. 17 from 5-7 p.m.; Nov. 18 from 5-7 p.m., Nov. 19 from 10-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-3 p.m., Nov. 20 from 1-5 p.m., and Nov. 21 from 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

• Join a Volunteer Team

Year-round volunteer opportunities are available in our area.

• Spread the Word

Enlist families, friends and groups to take part in this life-changing project.

For more information on how to participate in Operation Christmas Child, call local volunteer, Terri Bradley, at 895-986-4359 or 606-375-6561.

Operation Christmas Child is a project of Samaritan's Purse, an international Christian relief and evangelism organization.

Free Health Screening on November 5

A free health screening will be held on Nov. 5 at Berea Baptist Church from 8 a.m. to noon.

Health screenings to be offered are cholesterol, glucose, blood pressure, body mass index, stroke risk and flu shots. After the screenings are complete, participants will have the opportunity to discuss their results with a licensed health professional.

Participants should not eat 12 hours prior to their screening if they would like to have the blood test that gives them a full lipid panel. People should call 986-4389 for an appointment, but walk-ins are welcome.

Despite the loss to Bishop Brossart, spirits were high at the game, as Berea crowned its Homecoming King and Queen. Unlike Spring Homecoming, the Fall Homecoming Court nominations are limited to Seniors only. Each class, Freshman through Senior, chose four nominees for King, and four for Queen, for a total of 32 candidates. Those nominated were, Senior Class Representatives: Katie Okumu, Vanessa Patel, Chloe Skeese, Tamara Worley, Kaleb Conley, Sam House, Levi Saderholm, and Andrew Szewczyk. Junior Class Representatives: Teresa Kidwell, Mackenzie Perry, Jordan Sandefur, Elizabeth Tapley, Caleb Clowers, Austin Jennings, Wynn McDonald, and Billy Richmond. Sophomore Class Representatives: Alex Horn, Mallory Lakes, Edye Roberts, Olivia Reyes, Malcolm Davis, Chandler Goins, Ty Robinson, and Roy Smith. Freshman Class Representatives: Jordan Adams, Candace Elam, Elvia Rojas, Ruth Ramos, Jared Kilgore, Kamadri Santiago, Cody Warford, and Thomas Weckman.

Alex Horn shared that she loves the parade as well: "It's just something that's always been around. I looked forward to it when I was a kid."

Candace Elam said her favorite tradition was the game, and getting ready with her friends. Answers as to who they would invite to Homecoming, living or dead, were varied and amusing. Ty Robinson said he would take Bernie Sanders; Mallory Lakes shared that her dog would be her dream date, while both Alex Horn and Candace Elam chose singers, with Alex saying she'd bring Frank Sinatra, and Candace saying that Justin Bieber would be her pick. Jared Kilgore was at a loss as to who his dream date would be.

Once the votes were tallied, the 2016 Fall Homecoming Royalty were King Sam House and Queen Katie Okumu.

Sam said, "I'm really honored and excited. Riding in the parade was probably my favorite moment. It was a lot of fun. I really enjoyed getting to see everybody in the crowd watching [the parade]."

Katie said, "I feel really honored. It's really exciting. I love my school and the people in my school, so it feels nice to feel that love in return... my most memorable moment was probably walking down the field with my great grandmother. That was a really special moment."

The remainder of the court consisted of First Runners Up Tamara Worley and Andrew Szewczyk, Second Runners Up Elvia Rojas and Cody Warford, and Third Runners Up Mallory Lakes and Kamadri "KQ" Santiago. Memories of homecoming week will last a lifetime. Congratulations to our winners and all of those who were nominated!

"Highly anticipated" homecoming parade showcases student pride

By Virginia Deaver
Pirate Managing Editor

As part of one of Berea Community High School's most festive weeks of the year, the annual Fall Homecoming Parade was held on Thursday, October 20.

In the past, Berea's Homecoming weather has not been the best. The conditions looked as if they were to be the same this year as well: Thursday began as cloudy, cold, and wet, with a large storm threatening to hit just as the Homecoming Parade was scheduled to commence. But, after a whole morning of light showers, the autumn day grew to be crisp and dry.

Berea's Guidance Counselor, Mr. Eef Fontanez, stated, "[The] Homecoming Parade is very important [in order to] show school pride and school spirit, and lets the community know about our homecoming festivities. It's a great way for the students to interact with each other, to build the floats, [and] interact with their class sponsors."

Nearly 30 parade units began their procession from the High School through Berea's Main Street. The Berea Pep Band and Majorettes led with an animated march; Homecoming candidates cheerily waved from their convertibles; sports teams crammed together in the backs of pickups and trailers exuded spirit; Berea Community High School's highly-anticipated class floats were displayed. This year, the Fall Homecoming theme was determined to be "Around the World".

Each class chose an area or country from all over the globe to use as inspiration in their float construction. As the school exhibition prepared to roll out of Berea's parking lot, class floats were evaluated by anonymous members of the community for the high school's annual Homecoming Class Float Competition.

The Senior Class chose to add extra zest to their float theme by choosing ancient Rome, featuring the Pirate mascot as a Roman Gladiator reigning in Bishop Brossart's horse mascot; the Junior Class selected the United States, displaying the Pirate mascot as the Statue of Liberty surrounded international flags that represented the various ethnic demographics within the class; the Sophomore Class displayed a Canadian theme of a Moose defeating [team name's] horse, and the Freshman Class provided a very festive Irish float, filled to the brim with glowing green balloons. At the Homecoming Football Game, the 2016 float winners were announced: the Senior Class was awarded 1st place, and the Junior Class was awarded 2nd.

The Berea Homecoming Parade has always served as a way to display heightened school pride and pep in anticipation of the Homecoming Game the next day; the parade exudes spirit in all of the aspects which make Berea the school it is today: its students, their creative class communities, and the programs, athletic and artistic, that Berea Community High School takes such pride in.

A selected group of candidates were in agreement that their favorite Homecoming tradition was the annual parade. Ty Robinson: "I talk to a lot of kids around the state with Governors Scholars, and a lot of them haven't heard of shutting down the main streets for a parade."

Mallory Lakes said, "I really enjoy the parade because it brings the community together." Jared Kilgore added, "[The parade]. I think it's cool because this year instead of marching with the band, I get to ride in a convertible."

Spirit Week: "Around the World" theme inspires creativity

October brings many things like cooler weather, falling leaves, Halloween and, best of all, Fall Homecoming! This year, Berea Community High School's theme was: "Around the World", giving students the opportunity to explore other cultures. During Spirit Week, students showcased their Pirate Pride as well as their creativity.

On October 17, Berea Community was filled with red, white, and blue for "Merica Monday". Many students dressed up, showing their pride in America in very individual ways. Junior Rider

Next, on October 18, the school participated in "Tacky Tourist Tuesday". Khaki shorts and floral shirts marked the school, with the occasional fannypack making an appearance.

Berea Community's students got very creative with their costumes on October 19th for "Where in the World Wednesday", as they dressed as their favorite characters from around the globe. From Rapunzel to greasers, the students really took it to the next level. October 20 brought back a flood

Pirate football team falls short of homecoming win

On Friday, October 21, the Berea Pirates (0-9) lost 42-20 to the Bishop Brossart Mustangs (7-2) in their annual Homecoming football game.

Within the first minute of the game, the Mustangs scored. By halftime, they lead the Pirates 28-0. But Berea rallied back. Running back Whaylen Connor ran the ball to score the Pirates' first home points of the season near the end of the third quarter. And in the fourth quarter, running backs Austin Downs and Jelani McCray scored a touchdown each. Kicker Karmadri Santiago, a new addition to the team, scored two out of three extra points, helping the Pirates give Bishop Brossart a run for their money in the second half.

According to McCray (senior), who sprinted more than half the field to score Berea's final touchdown, "This [was] the best game we've played so far. It was a little rough in the beginning, but I'm happy with the outcome." He says that scoring their first touchdown brought the crowd into the game, which encouraged the team and helped propel the Pirates to their following two touchdowns.

Head coach Michael Tate also praised the home crowd: "The fans were fantastic, and the cheering helped energize the team. We really felt the support from the fans." Tate spoke equally highly of the Pirates, stating, "I am proud of the players for never quitting and continuing to fight. I thought after the first quarter that the defense played one of their best games of the season."

Berea has yet to win a game, but despite its loss, the team still accomplished a notable feat. The Pirates scored their first home points of the season on Friday, against a Mustang team with almost twice as many players. Indeed, that has been the story of Berea football this year - they just don't have enough players to compete with many of the teams they face.

But Coach Tate is optimistic. "The players can use this game as momentum," he said. "We will continue to look forward, to watch film and prepare, and to work on executing our game to the best of our ability. We will look to improve on the success we had this week when we face Estill County on Senior Night."

The Pirates will end their season at home against Estill County this Friday, October 28, at 7:30.

Fall Sports wrap up: the end of a season Girls soccer places 2nd at district competition

By Levi Saderholm
Pirate Staff Reporter

The Berea Community High School girls soccer team had an amazing 2016 fall season, placing second in their district and attending the regional competition.

In the district tournament, the girls team beat Madison Southern 3-1 in the first of two rounds, and lost to Madison Central 3-0 in the second, placing them second in the district, and qualifying them for regionals. Unfortunately, in their first game of regionals, they lost to Lexington Catholic 11-1.

Despite a rough end to their season, one of the team's star players, Hannah Wallhauser, commented positively on the season as a whole, saying, "The team did really well. We had a winning record this year. It was twelve and seven. As the season went on, we really started working together and recognizing our weakness and strengths and we used those to our advantage."

Although the team may have lost their first game of regionals, they are still proud that they attended and represented Berea Community.

On September 29th, the Berea Community High School's boys soccer team played against Paris at the Berea Skate Park, resulting in a 2-0 loss. Despite the defeat, it was a big night for the Pirates as they celebrated senior night during halftime. The seniors recognized that night were: Cody Warford, Wynn McDonald, Levi Saderholm, Sam House, and Karmadri Santiago.

"I did not coach last year, but this year the boys were a more technical, aggressive, and dangerous team... This was actually the best season of the [Berea High School] boys soccer program since 2011 and they should be extremely proud of that," stated Nicholas Reed, the high school boys head soccer coach.

With the soccer season coming to a close, many have spent their time reminiscing the past few months. Some of the teammates shared their favorite memories with the seniors, and with each other. Senior Karmadri Santiago commented, "Just like playing the game, y'know? That's what it's all about; we have a lot of fun doing that."

The team went on to play in districts resulting in a 9-0 loss against Central. Contrary to the defeat, players are excited to see what the next season will bring.

"I'm honestly going to miss my coaches," explained senior Levi Saderholm. "We just got our two new coaches this year; Nick Reed and Noah McGraw. They were so good, I'm sad I'm not going to be able to play with them again next year."

The Pirate Community is sad to see the senior soccer players' high school careers end, but is eager to see what next year will bring.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Robotics Club

By Wynn McDonald
Pirate Managing Editor

This year, there are many new programs and organizations in the Berea Community Elementary School. But one in particular stands out as unique.

The BCES Robotics Club, sponsored by Mrs. Robin Burr, has been a new sensation among students. Funded by GearUp, the club gives its young members - 4th and 5th-graders - the opportunity to work first-hand with advanced robotics technology, the likes of which is employed by many professional scientific organizations.

"The same technology that is used in those robots is used in medical science, on the space stations, solving real-world problems every day," says Mrs. Burr, an experienced math teacher in her first year at Berea. "... we've got 9- and 10-year-olds doing that. So that's pretty exciting."

Before coming to Berea Community, Mrs. Burr had sponsored similar programs at the middle and high school level in Corbin, Kentucky, where they competed nationally. She's very passionate about the program, and hopes to have similar success in Berea.

Upon its initiation, the club was so popular that they had to turn kids away, according to Mrs. Burr: "We have a lot of kids that are interested... we probably had 30 sign up, [so] we went from teacher recommendation." The limited supplies only allowed for around 15 participants; this allows for each student to really get involved, and showcase their own creativity.

In this way, the activities in the Robotics Club are primarily self-driven. Mrs. Burr provides them with the materials, and they learn new ways to build and use the robots, using resources such as YouTube. One student even learned how to control a robot from her phone, said Mrs. Burr: "She had it talking... she's named it, and it follows her around. She's able to drive it around the school."

Another feature of the club allows students to bring home a robot and "adopt them" for the weekend, with parent permission. "They learn how to program it, and they come back, and they do it on their own," said Mrs. Burr. "I mean, they build [the robots] without plans, you know."

In the future, the club is hoping to participate in two competitions in Lexington, where they'll use their robots to solve real-world problems. They will have the opportunity to compete against other kids their age, promoting the principles of STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math). Until then, they will continue to meet after school on Thursdays, as well as most days in the morning.

Golf teams compete at Regionals

By Sam House
Pirate Managing Editor

On September 26, Berea's boys' and girls' golf teams competed in the Region Six tournament at Juniper Hills Golf Course. Alexandria Horn, Mallory Lakes, Cherish Simpson and Madalyn Dodson represented the girls' team, and Ty Robinson, David Gadd, Blake Maupin, and Zane Brown competed for the boys. No Berea golfers were able to overcome the tough regional competition to advance to the state level.

Prior to the tournament, the team, "practiced four days a week," and, "played a practice round at Juniper Hills to prepare." One thing that they couldn't prepare for was the inclement weather. Midway through the day, it began to rain and the temperature dropped, hurting overall strong performances.

Senior Cherish Simpson was pleased overall with how the team performed, but said that the rain and cold weather were very detrimental to her game. On the day, she shot a 107. Cherish was also happy with how the season went as a whole, saying that the team, "won a lot of matches and only lost just a few." She hopes to continue her golf career at the college level.

Alexandria Horn and Mallory Lakes, both seniors, were also happy with the team's performance throughout the season. They both emphasized that sophomore Madalyn Dodson had shown real improvement this year, and helped the team a lot. Mallory was happy to say that Madalyn, "will be an excellent golfer in the coming years."

Looking forward to next year, the boys' team will need strong performances from its returning members, such as junior David Gadd and sophomores Blake Maupin and Zane Brown. David improved his average score from a 42 to a 39 by the end of the season, and Blake held the top spot for many matches.

of memories as the school took part in "Throwback Thursday." Some students, like senior Adam Johnson, dressed as early as the aughts. Johnson described his outfit, a flat brimmed hat covered in "Benjamins," as something that, "...back then was all the rage." Other students looked back farther for inspiration. Hazel Traw dressed in Victorian era attire, complete with a hoop skirt. On the final day, October 21, students engaged in "Fan Frenzy Friday". They were asked to wear white, gold and black to show their pirate pride. Most students wore pirate t-shirts but there were a few students dressed much more extravagantly: freshman Luke Shehe dressed head to toe in pirate garb.

Altogether Berea Community's spirit week was a success, with many different students participating.

Senior Renewal Center Offers Support, Therapy for 50+

Beth Clark, a licensed counselor, and Olivia Hayes, psychologist, addressed the Berea Lions Club on their program, the Senior Renewal Center at St. Joseph Berea Hospital. The presentation took place on Sept. 26 at the Smokehouse Grill for the Lions bi-weekly meeting. Senior Renewal Center started in March 2010 at the Berea Hospital, and is one of 21 special facilities designed to meet the needs of seniors 50 and above. The center specializes in the treatment of mental health issues for patients, families, and caregivers. "We take a lot of people who live independently, but also take people who live in a nursing home... we treat all kinds of ailments from 'I'm getting older and losing my independence' to grief issues, depression, anxiety... other more difficult issues for your generation [older] to address and talk about than the younger generation. One in four adults will have a mental diagnosis at one point in their life," one of the Renewal Center representatives said. "People think of going to a psychologist or a psychiatrist as the more extreme cases of people who are psychotic and not in touch with reality... not normal per se, but it actually encompasses a lot more... such as my wife passed away... my child is trying to take my car keys away and I can't drive anymore." The point was made that severe cases of psychosis are relatively rare - but treated. Referrals to Senior Renewal are through patients themselves, or through family doctor referrals. The center accepts Medicaid, Medicare and private insurance. Fifty is the minimum age to be considered for the program. An important tool in treating mental issues is through group therapy, although the center also offers individual therapy. "Emotional support is a very big factor in getting well... they can identify... they know they're not alone," the Renewal Center staff said. Among the other resources the center has to offer are access to a psychiatrist specializing in geriatrics, and a nurse. Renewing Seniors does non-profit support groups in the community for anyone with a mental illness, or caregivers, and workers in the mental health field. Olivia is president of the local chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), which meets each second Tuesday of the month at Berea Hospital. Different topics are discussed and advertised in Berea and Richmond newspapers. The group welcomes individuals with mental illness, family members, and anyone wanting to learn more. The next meeting will be October 11.

One Mississippi State, Two Mississippi State

By John Huang

Admit it! After Mississippi State scored to go up by one with just over a minute to go in the ballgame, you thought our goose was cooked. Don't feel bad because almost everyone familiar with the rancid history of Kentucky Football thought the very same thing. Fortunately for Big Blue Nation, Austin MacGinnis' 51-yard kick nestled gently through the uprights as time expired to give Kentucky a thrilling 40-38 win. The improbable victory was not only a "must-win" for the team but perhaps a "program changing win" for the current coaching regime. I don't think I ever remember a football season with so many legitimate "must-win" games. Ever since Kentucky choked away the Shannon Dawson homecoming to begin the year, the Cats have been chasing their tails in hopes of salvaging a season with bowl eligibility. So, when on this chilly autumn evening, the Mississippi State Bulldogs came rolling into Commonwealth Stadium hoping to steal a victory, kill Kentucky's bowl chances and effectively end UK's season, the Cats didn't flinch. The fear was that with the 1976 Peach Bowl Champs, Tim Tebow and the Bobby Perry Band looking on, another devastating loss would have sent all the many fickle football fans over the edge, looking for ways to conveniently abandon ship.

Not me—I was sticking with the Cats through thick or thin and tonight in Commonwealth Stadium, the rewards of loyalty were thick and abundant. The atmosphere was electric as "blacked-out" UK fans—many having spent the day earlier at Keeneland—experienced the elation of a rare UK game winning drive. Big plays including a Marcus McWilson 45-yard interception return, a Benny Snell 34-yard touchdown run and two long Stephen Johnson-to-Jeff Badet touchdown passes helped Kentucky and their shiny chrome helmets snap a seven-game losing streak to Dan Mullen's Bulldogs. On a night that began with both the UK quarterback having trouble hitting open receivers and with open receivers having trouble catching the football, Kentucky's offense finally found its groove in the second half—putting enough points on the board to survive a potentially disastrous Bulldog 4th quarter scoop and score. Kentucky thus improves its record to 4-3 and currently sits in second place in the SEC eastern division. I've said all along that a good dose of confidence and momentum are what this team needs. With this win, they have an abundance of both and much of the credit for the turnaround should go to the coaching staff. Just last month, "For Sale" signs were being crafted for Mark Stoops' front yard and the internet was abuzz with rumors of his impending demise. But just as another famous Mark once said, the rumors of this demise have been greatly exaggerated. Heading into the Missouri game, the Cats are on the cusp of real bowl eligibility and a win against the Tigers will essentially seal the deal. However, remember that SEC road wins have been few and far between, so don't bet the farm just yet. I'm savoring the victory tonight for just a little bit longer. At the very least, the upcoming road trip to Columbia just got a whole lot shorter. This blog posting was originally submitted as a UK Football Column for Nolan Group Media publications. Reflections

There were 15 senior girls competing for the honor of being the 1986 Berea Community High School Football Homecoming Queen. They were, in the first row, l-r, Samantha Lee Spillman, Michelle Devere, and Amy Gabbard; second row, Roxanna Presley, Cathy Carraway, and Tonya Fain; third row, Robin Palmer, Kim Spillman, and Stephanie Chadwick; fourth row, Nikki Layne, Janenne Stanifer, and Rhonda Michelle Andrews; and fifth row, Courtney Wierwille, Teresa Johnson, and Tracy Lamb. The girls were presented at halftime of the Berea vs. MMI ballgame.

Madson County Fiscal Court considered construction of a regional jail in October 1986, after discovering that between $1.5 and 2 million in state funds may be available. The court favored the construction of a new jail, but a study in May 1985 estimated the cost at $4 million.

Fifth graders on the Silver Creek Honor Roll in the first nine weeks were Stephanie Allen, Julie Bevins, Sandra Bowles, Ben Davidson, Brad Johnson, Matthew Kelly, Stephanie Newman, Kristofer Robinson, Crystal Settles, Richard Sowder, and Jason Speaks. Sixth graders on the honor roll were Jonathan Van Winkle, Charity Williams, Paula Reed, and Tamara Sanders.

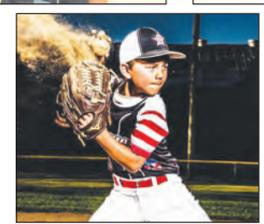

Berea Youth Chosen for Elite Youth Team

Three of Berea's youth were chosen to be part of the 2016 Baseball Youth Elite 9U team, above (l-r) Brady Resor, Aiden Lilly, and Abram Howard.

The teams were formed after a three-week tryout with 50 total kids from all over Kentucky, working hard to make the team. The two teams formed will represent baseball youth from December 28-31 at Disney's New Year's Classic at the Wide World Sports Complex in Florida. In addition, five others from the Berea based travel team, Southern Kentucky Sluggers, were also chosen for the team, below, clockwise from top left, Justin Parsons, Blaine Melton, Jaxson Mason, Brady Wasik, and Korbyn Edwards.

CORA JANE TODD WILSON

for Berea City Council

You May Not Know Me, but my Dad or any one of my Siblings can tell you how much I love Berea!Cora Jane

- ✿ I believe it's important to treat people like we want to be treated.
- ✿ I am a 4th generation Berean, born and raised here. My husband & I chose to raise our children in Berea and now they are raising our grandchildren here too.
- ✿ I retired from the City of Berea, where I was office manager for the utilities. My grandparents & my parents were Berea business owners and now my husband & children also have businesses in Berea. I understand the importance of government and business working together for the betterment of all of Berea's citizens.
- ✿ A transparent government is a must and would help to eliminate ill feelings between the council, mayor and citizens.
- ✿ We need to address the drug issue with our youth. Take some of the money we spend wastefully and invest in them.

Berea has been good to my family and me. Now it's time for me to give back. I seek your prayers and appreciate your support.
