Robinson appointed to fill Fiscal Court vacancy

By Keith Taylor
Citizen Publisher

A familiar face will fill the First District Magistrate post. Ben Robinson III was appointed as District 1 Magistrate by Governor Andy Beshear to the position filing the term left vacant due to the passing of Magistrate Paul Reynolds in Executive Order 2021-872.

Robinson was sworn in last Tuesday, Nov. 23, by his wife, Circuit Court Judge Brandy Brown. He will officially take his seat at the Dec. 14 Fiscal Court meeting at Berea City Hall, where he will take a public oath of office.

"Congratulations to Ben on his appointment by Governor Beshear to the Madison County Fiscal Court," Madison County Judge-Executive Reagan Taylor said. "While we continue to be saddened by the loss of our colleague Paul Reynolds, the Fiscal Court and I look forward to working

Twilight parade returns

By Tess McLamb
Citizen Intern

Berea's holiday traditions are returning and lighting up the city for another year.

The Berea Chamber of Commerce annual Twilight Christmas Parade is returning for its 35th year, with this year's theme being inspired by Christmas movies and television shows. Participants are expected to decorate their floats inspired by their choice of any holiday film or show, giving onlookers a chance to possibly see some of their favorite classics from "Home Alone" to the "Grinch" or even the "Elf."

Each float will be entered into a contest and judged with a chance to win a cash prize of $100 to $200 depending on a first or second placing. Two winners will be chosen within four categories: Best Business float, Church float, Non-profit float and Industry float.

Mr. and Mrs. Clause will also be present for guests to interact with during the annual event.

The City of Berea and Berea Tourism had a "Merry Mingling Moment" last Saturday during Small Business Saturday at Old Town. The village was transformed into a Woodland Wonderland and guests could roast marshmallows and enjoy a visit with Santa Claus. Carolers also were present and the annual lighting of the Christmas Tree was held at dark. In top photo, Attie Cates, 5, roasts her marshmallow, while Frances and Elyse Litton, left, share a moment while roasting their Marshmellow in front of an open fire pit.

Food Bank delivers good tidings

By Keith Taylor
Citizen Publisher

The Berea Food Bank took advantage of "Giving Tuesday" and distributed an early Christmas gift to 100 families residing in affordable housing communities in Berea on Tuesday.

"Folks who live in three apartment communities who are members of our ReachOut Initiative usually receive fresh produce twice a month, delivered to their doors," Tony Crachiolo, Coordinator of the Berea Food Bank said. "But during the holidays we like to do something special and that's what went on

Unemployment insurance system needs reform

FRANKFORT (KT) – The General Assembly’s Unemployment Insurance Reform Task Force held what is expected to be its final meeting on Tuesday and approved a document outlining its recommendations for possible action during the 2022 session. The panel was formed due to legislation passed in the wake of a number of issues involving unemployment that were exasperated by the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, including workers not receiving their payments due to an antiquated system that also allowed fraudulent claims. The task force did not draft any legislation but issued their recommendations in the form of bullet points which can be the basis for any lawmakers who wish to propose a bill. Recommendations include:

- Indexing of number of weeks benefits are payable to the state unemployment insurance rate
- Increasing the number of job contacts a claimant must make in a week
- Capping the amount of benefits that can be received if a worker’s regular weekly benefit rate is temporarily increased or supplemented by federal, state, or local funds during a state of emergency
- Change the charging method for employers to a “proportion to base-period wages” method
- Reforming the unemployment insurance tax system
- Implementing a comprehensive job referral program into the unemployment insurance system

- Decrease from three years to one year the period of time for an employer to qualify for an experience rating
- Develop ways to improve workforce participation
- Switch the emphasis of the system from unemployment to reemployment.
- Strengthen internal policies of the Labor Cabinet to insure its employees cannot access their own unemployment insurance claim information
- Improve transparency and access to information at the Labor Cabinet
- Combat unemployment insurance fraud by locking known fraudsters out of the system
- Implementation of the recommendations made by the Auditor in his report

- Increased funding of the unemployment insurance system to implement reforms
- Continued monitoring of the production of a new unemployment insurance system technology upgrade
- Consider the reforms recommended in House Bill 317 from the 2019 General Assembly Regular Session

Sen. Ralph Alvarado, R-Winchester, asked to include the recommendation that any employees of the Legislative Research Commission who wish to be cross-trained to assist unemployment officials during an emergency such as the COVID-19 pandemic do so, as allowed under federal laws and regulations. The provision was adopted.

Christmas spirit alive as holiday season begins

The Christmas spirit has always been a special part of the holidays.

During the past week or so, I have spotted Santa Claus all over the place. It's good to see him out and about again as he makes his rounds taking pictures and filling out his wish list that seems to get longer as Christmas Eve draws closer and closer.

The pandemic took away so much of our holiday spirit that it's almost like starting over and pushing the reset button. I didn't hear as much hype about Black Friday shopping but I did notice that most, if not all, major retailers were closed on Thanksgiving Day.

That's such a good thing and it allows us to give the Thanksgiving holiday its rightful place on the yearly calendar. In the past I've been guilty of abusing the Thanksgiving holiday and standing in line for hours waiting to get into a department store. Of course that was pre-pandemic times and before online shopping became such a big deal.

I did some shopping locally this year on Small Business Saturday and that worked out well. We have some great small businesses in Berea and they need our support to keep the doors open. When you think of buying a gift, seek out the small businesses scattered throughout our city. You would be surprised what you can find in your own back door.

In an effort to help consumers navigate the pandemic, some major retailers, such as Wal-Mart have been creative in their Black Friday campaign this year and spread their special sales over a period of a few weeks ahead of the major splash on the day after Thanksgiving. Clever idea and it's my thinking that will be a shopping trend of the future as well as online shopping.

A year ago, Rhonda and I did most own our shopping online and we bought a lot of gifts for our niece Addisyn. She simply gave us a wish list and through trial and error, Rhonda order what she wanted for Christmas. Prior to her passing last year, my mom even did some shopping from her computer. It's handy and convenient, but I still like to touch, feel and see what I'm going to purchase for myself or someone else.

Now that the shopping season is in full swing, don't forget to take part in Christmas-themed events this year, including the Berea Twilight Christmas Parade sponsored by the Berea Chamber of Commerce. Canceled last year, the parade is set for 6 p.m. Saturday evening. It will be fun to see the creative floats again and I'm looking forward to attending the annual event.

In addition to the Berea Christmas parade, several churches and organizations will be offering Christmas programs and events this year.

If your church or organization has an event planned, we would love to hear from you and let our readers know so they can make plans to attend your event. Also, don't forget to submit your letters to Santa.

Let's start decking the halls again in this most wonderful time of the year.

'Cram the Cruiser' to fight hunger

Governor Andy Beshear and the Kentucky State Police (KSP) encouraged Kentuckians to consider participating in 'Cram the Cruiser' by donating non-perishable food items to help feed Kentucky families in need this holiday season. The collection began Nov. 23 and concludes Dec. 6.

"The holidays can be tough for families, but one area that should not be stressful is having the ability to sit down together and share a meal," said Gov. Beshear. "My administration is committed to fighting hunger and helping to ensure that no family in Kentucky goes to bed hungry. I appreciate KSP for caring for all Kentuckians not just by protecting their lives but serving them so their most basic need is met."

The annual 'Cram the Cruiser' is a statewide effort hosted by all 16 KSP posts, and the collected food is distributed to local food banks, shelters, churches and other organizations.

Throughout the food drive, troopers will be staged at grocery and retail stores accepting items including canned fruit and vegetables, canned meat, macaroni and cheese, cereal, peanut butter, jelly, canned soups, chili or spaghetti sauce, brownie and cake mixes, coffee, water, powdered milk, and juices. Food items may also be dropped off at local post locations.

A simultaneous statewide signature event is planned on Saturday from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. in each post area as the final push for the campaign.

Capt. Paul Blanton, KSP Public Affairs Commander says 'Cram the Cruiser' has become a friendly competition among posts to see who gathers the most food. In 2019, KSP collected 473,235 pounds (236 tons) of food, with Post 16 Henderson topping everyone at 60,925 pounds collected. Due to the coronavirus pandemic, the food drive was canceled in 2020.

"Some of our troopers get creative during these events," said Capt. Blanton. "They partner with their retail store to host hotdog stands, play holiday music and bring in Santa Claus himself to make the day more festive."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Hunger Hurts fund drive under way

Dear Editor,
For 29 years, Berea College students have participated in the annual Hunger Hurts Food Drive, sponsored by CELTS (Center for Excellence in Learning through Service). While the Food Drive looks different than in years past, our traditional collaboration with the Berea Food Bank continues. We're writing because we hope that you, our Berea neighbors, will reach out to participate again this year, as you have done for almost 3 decades!

Like last year, the Hunger Hurts Food Drive is primarily a "Fund" Drive this year. While the shift to a fund drive initially happened in response to the pandemic, we are continuing with this approach because we have learned that it's what helps the Food Bank the most. The Food Bank volunteers have learned that they can purchase and distribute food that best serves our community by using dollars to buy food, rather than by relying on donations of food items. For example, from discounted suppliers that are available to food pantries like the Berea Food Bank, they can turn 50 cents into a jar of spaghetti sauce or one dollar into a jar of peanut butter or four boxes of macaroni and cheese!

The emergency food needs in our community continue, and the Berea Food Bank has increased their collaborations with other local organizations that are serving our community.

Through these collaborations and through using dollars to purchase more food than ever, the Berea Food Bank is able to serve more people in our community by providing food and personal care items when they need it.

We are excited to support these efforts, and we hope that you will be, too. Here's how you can be involved:

- Donate, as you are able, directly to the Berea Food Bank. Every donation helps. You may send a check to the following address: Berea Food Bank, 108 Parkway Avenue, Berea, KY 40403 or make a secure donation at www.bereaoutreach.org. Please add "2021 Hunger Hurts Food Drive" on your check or in the special instructions line on the website.

- Follow CELTS and #hungerhurts2021 on Facebook or Instagram.

- Help get the word out about the Berea Food Bank and the Fund Drive.

We hope you will consider donating to the Berea Food Bank this season. As we reflect with gratitude this week, we hope you know we appreciate you!

Recipe from the heart

My mother had made this cake for years and it is a favorite of our family. It is easy to make and will be a hit with your family as well.
Libby Horn

Cinnamon Cake

Ingredients Cake

1 pbx yellow cake mix
1 package instant vanilla pudding (smaller box)
3/4 cup water
3/4 cup vegetable oil
1 teaspoon butter extract (must be extract)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 eggs

Topping

1/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup chopped pecans
1 stick butter, melted
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Directions

Mix cinnamon, sugar and pecans. Set aside.
In a bowl, mix cake mix pudding, water, oil, butter extract, vanilla, and eggs. Melt stick of butter. Spray a tube or bundt pan well.
Pour 1/2 of the melted butter in the bottom of the pan and top with 1/2 of the pecan, cinnamon and sugar mixture. Pour cake batter in. Top batter with remaining melted butter followed by the cinnamon, sugar, pecan mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 - 50 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean.
Let cool for 15 minutes before removing from pan.

Drizzle Frosting

1 cup confectioner's sugar
2 Tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon butter extract
Mix together until no lumps and drizzle over cooled cake.

Windstream participates in a government benefit program called Lifeline to make residential telephone or broadband service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers are those that meet eligibility standards as defined by the FCC and state commission. Residents who live on federally recognized Tribal Lands may also qualify for additional Tribal benefits if they participate in certain federal eligibility programs.
The program offers a monthly discount limited to one discount per household and can either be applied to wireline or wireless. If applied to wireline the discount can be applied to either your voice or broadband service. The monthly discount is up to $5.25 per month for voice only service or up to $9.25 per month for broadband service.

Windstream's basic local service rates for residential voice lines range from $20 to $32 per month depending on your service location. Specific rates will be provided upon request. For the broadband Lifeline discount to apply, a customer must subscribe to a Windstream service that meets the minimum standard requirements as defined by the FCC.

For the purposes of the Lifeline program a household is defined as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Lifeline service is not transferable, and only eligible consumers may enroll in the program. Consumers who willfully make false statements to obtain Lifeline telephone or broadband service can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from the program. If you live in a Windstream service area, please call 1-800-347-1991 or visit www.windstream.com/Lifeline with questions or to request an application for the Lifeline program.

Share the joy of the Christmas season this year

The countdown to Christmas is on! From now until December 25th every day is another day that I will celebrate the holiday season. Christmas music, candy, lights, the scents, it all just brings so much happiness for many of us.

However, for as many of us that thrive in the holiday season there are just as many who suffer from seasonal depression, depression, or just plain old grief and sadness because of loneliness or a host of other things.

Family is family, yes. But family can also be people that you love enough to make them your chosen family. In the next few weeks, if you are a person who thrives in the holiday season, make sure to spread that joy and extend your family a little more.

This holiday season will look different for many families around the world during the pandemic after the last year and a half of enduring what feels like death after death.

I know it will be different for my family without both of my grandparents.

Someone recently was talking to me about what the weather would hold for us through the Winter season, and I really didn't have an answer. I have always relied on my dad's dad as my weather forecaster. He was always right about the snows we would get, how long winter weather would last, and when we would start to hear birds of Spring again.

Last year, just before he went into the nursing home in October, he predicted a white Christmas. He was exactly right, and it started snowing within just a few moments of his passing on Christmas Eve.

There is something about this older generation of farmers who know the weather better than anyone, and it is such a gift.

While the holidays may look different, spread the joy of the season as much as you can.

Hardships have been plentiful this year, but the joy we can share with each other can help to overcome those.

Reflections

Berea Citizen archives, Dec. 6, 2001

Christmas gathering

The Silver Creek Homemakers met at the Dinner Bell Restaurant to celebrate Christmas. There were 21 members in attendance as well as Scott Powell, editor of The Berea Citizen, as special guest. Everyone was dressed in their Christmas attire. There was a lot of laughter and talking until president, Mabel Bengel, quieted things down for a few announcements and greetings for the season. Rose Brandenburg gave a Christmas devotion on "What Christmas is About." Rose had prayer for the food and for the many accomplishments during 2001. Things got quiet when the food came. Everything was good, and the service was wonderful. When everyone had finished their meal, "Santa" came and handed out gifts. Some members had made crafts for everyone. All in attendance enjoyed sharing with each other. For the Christmas project the club voted to help a Madison County child who was in Cincinnati Children's Hospital. It was hoped that he would be home in time for Christmas.

Libby Horn

math, communications, and technology. It also showed students the relationship between what they learn in school and real life. The students simulated the different facets of work in the mission control center. Last year, Mrs. Carpenter, middle school science teacher at Berea Community School, was approached by Dairy Queen to go with another school to the shuttle simulator. The owner of Dairy Queen thought it would be a great experience. Mrs. Carpenter went by herself to view the simulation. She loved the experience and decided to try to find a way for her students to go. With the help of Dairy Queen, who funded the trip for every student, and instructional supervisor Mike Hogg, the entire sixth grade class was able to participate in the experience. The experience created lots of excitement throughout the school and the community. Mrs. Carpenter commented, "It was a realization for the students, and I am very glad they were able to go."

Commencement at Eastern Kentucky

It was announced that vice chief of staff for the US Army would speak at EKV's fall commencement. General John M. Keane addressed the 913 candidates in a campus-wide ceremony. General Keane, an infantry officer who had commanded at every level, was named the vice chief of staff for the Army in 1999. Prior to assuming the position, he spent 20 years in command and staff assignment in support of operational and joint forces. This command included the 18th Airborne; the 101st Airborne; the Joint Readiness Training Center; the 1st Brigade, 10th Mountain Division and the 3/39th and 2/23rd Infantry. Most recently he had served as deputy commander in-chief of the US Atlantic Command. Keane earned a bachelor's degree from Fordham University and a master's degree from Western Kentucky University. Keane received an honorary Doctor of Public Service during the com-

From the basement hospital laboratory to her quaint workshop inside Old Town's Honey-suckle Vine, Jimmie Lou Jackson was constantly perfecting her craft of creating a world of intricate designs in glass beads. It was that dedication that earned her the 2001 William Goodell and Eleanor Marsh frost Artisan of the Year Award. "I am amazed to be recognized for something I love to do," Jackson said, "and to be recognized in a community of such amazing artists is truly an honor." Jackson said that children were one of her aspects of her craft. "I like to show them how the glass is magic. If I can see one child enchanted by glass, it makes my whole day," she said. Scenarios that involved her interaction with children that earned Jackson the position of lifetime as an exhibitor at the Kentucky Guild Artists and Craftsmen Fair yearly at Indian Fort Theater.

With Thanksgiving over, it's full steam ahead for Christmas.

The town of Berea should be lit up well with the storefront decoration contest going on through December 10. I love the lights on these cold dark nights. It reminds me of the best gift we received. The light of Jesus in the darkness, loving us, and leading us through our lives.

Tammy Whittamore

I wanted to share a thanksgiving Prayer from the Berea Food Bank Facebook page for their fundraiser this year. (You can donate online at www.bereaoutreach.org. 99 cents of every dollar is put toward purchasing food.)

Oh, God, when I have food, help me to remember the hungry. When I have work, help me to remember the jobless. When I have a warm home, help me to remember the homeless. When I am without pain, help me to remember those who suffer. And remembering, help me to destroy my complacency and bestir my compassion. Make me concerned enough to help, by word and deed, those who cry out for what we take for granted. Samuel F. Pugh.

There is something new coming to Berea on December 3. The Crochetmas Tree lighting will be Friday, December 3 at 6:30 p.m. at the corner of Chestnut and Broadway. I know a lot of people have worked very hard to complete the necessary squares. I am excited to see it revealed.

This Saturday, Dec. 4 will be a busy day. There are two events. The Pop-Up Market in Kingston is sponsoring The Local Maker's Market. Then later at 6 p.m. is the Christmas Parade for Berea. The theme is "A TV/Movie Themed Christmas." There should be some clever floats that will take us back in time. It looks like it is supposed to be in the fifties with a chance of rain.

My friend Brenda T. has been ill with pneumonia and in the hospital. I hope to hear she's better soon. I was glad to hear that a long-time neighbor Pete S. is feeling better.

Condolences to my sister-in-law Shirley and her family. Her brother Ronnie lost a long battle with cancer. He came from a large family of four sisters and two brothers. I know this will be a difficult holiday season for them.

Don't get so caught up in yourself this holiday season. Try to call, visit someone, or do a good deed.

Seek the true meaning of Christmas.

Community Calendar

- The Berea Chamber of Commerce 35th annual Twilight Christmas Parade will be at 6 p.m. on Saturday. The theme will be a "TV/Movie Themed Christmas." Pre-registration is encouraged and recommended. Cash prizes will be awarded to floats within the "Best Business," "Best Church," Best Non-Profit" and "Best Industry" categories.

- The City of Richmond Parks and Recreation Christmas Parade will be Friday, Dec. 3 at 7 p.m. and the theme will be "Christmas Around the World. Applications are open and deadline for entry is Nov. 17.

- The Berea Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet will be at Boone Tavern on Thursday, Dec. 2 at 6:30 p.m.

- The Salvation Army is seeking volunteers for its Red Kettle bell ringing campaign. Contact the Richmond Salvation Army at (859) 624-5826 for more information.

- The Battle of Richmond Visitors Center will be collecting new, pre-packaged socks to distribute to the less fortunate through Dec. 19. Items can be dropped off Monday-Friday 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at the visitors center. Athletic Men's, women's and children's socks are recommended.

Damon Rains celebrating 100 years of adventure

I heard the story long ago about the old mountaineer who loved getting into fights. Nothing pleased him more than a good brawl.

As the story goes, the mountaineer would ride into town and ask the mayor to point out the toughest guy there. Then, the old mountaineer would proceed to beat up whoever the mayor pointed to.

This was happening day after day, and it was hurting business in town. So the mayor came up with a plan. He rented a gorilla and put him in a vacant building. When the mountaineer arrived and asked the mayor to point out the toughest guy, the mayor told him, "He just went into that empty building."

The mountaineer walked into the building and closed the door behind him. When the thumps, crashes and screams finally subsided, the mountaineer stepped out of the building and told the mayor, "When that feller comes to, tell him his fur coat is hanging on the door."

When I think of the toughest guys I know, World War II veteran Damon Rains comes immediately to mind. In the Kentucky town where he lives, people respectfully call him Mr. Rains.

Mr. Rains, who turns 100 this week, grew up in the Appalachian Mountains in the years leading up to WWII. When he was grown, he was called into military service to fight the Nazis in Europe. He saw lots of combat. But one of my favorite tales of this good man's heroics came the night that his unit, outmanned and outgunned, was encamped on a mountainside, worried that German troops might overrun them.

But Mr. Rains had several machine gun nests set up on the mountainside, and he spent the night running from gun to gun firing down at the Germans, keeping them hunkered down in their foxholes.

That single mountaineer made it sound like a huge force of Americans on that mountainside, striking fear in the hearts of the enemy.

It reminded me of some of the tactics Israel's soldiers would use in Old Testament times. You may remember the time when the Syrian army had surrounded the Israelites, cutting off their supply route. The Israelites had no food and were literally starving.

Roger Alford

"The Lord made the host of the Syrians to hear a noise of chariots, and a noise of horses, and a noise of a great host: and they said one to another, Lo, the king of Israel hath hired against us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come upon us. Wherefore they arose and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horses, and their donkeys, even the camp as it was and fled for their life" (2 Kings 7:6).

The Lord has shown us in that passage there's more than one way to win a battle. Sometimes, all we need is to try something new, to exercise a little ingenuity.

You've probably noticed that some people get so caught up in doing the same old things in the same old ways that they never seem to accomplish anything.

I'm convinced what this world needs are more mountaineers like Mr. Rains — men who are willing to use their thinkers to come up with winning strategies.

Hardy, Behrendt honored by Saint Joseph Berea

Special to The Citizen

Saint Joseph Berea recently recognized Donny Hardy, MD, as the 2021 Physician of the Year, and Brian Behrendt, as the 2021 Advanced Practice Provider of the Year. Hardy, of Berea, practices with CHI Saint Joseph Medical Group – Internal Medicine in Berea, while Behrendt, also of Berea, works as a physician assistant hospitalist at Saint Joseph Berea. Both were recognized during a virtual ceremony.

The hospital annually recognizes an outstanding Physician of the Year who works to bring well-ness, healing and hope to patients and families, as well as exhibits the core values of reverence, integrity, compassion and excellence.

“Dr. Hardy is an asset to health care in the Berea community,” said a colleague who nominated him. “In his clinical practice setting, he provides excellent care to all of his patients. At Saint Joseph Berea, he provides coverage as a hospitalist on evenings and weekends.

Hardy

“He also demonstrates our CommonSpirit core values in his interactions with everyone – both the patients he cares for and the nursing and ancillary staff he works alongside. He is well regarded by Saint Joseph Berea’s medical staff, as well as the hospital staff. You never see him without a smile – it is a pleasure and a privilege to serve alongside Dr. Hardy in Saint Joseph Berea’s health care ministry.”

Behrendt

This year’s Advanced Practice Provider of the Year recipient, Brian Behrendt, was also nominated by a colleague.

“Each day, Brian displays our core values of compassion, inclusion, integrity, excellence and collaboration while taking care of our acute and swing bed patients,” said Behrendt’s colleague.

“He has impeccable work ethic and strives daily to provide the highest quality of care to our patients. He collaborates with the multidisciplinary team for best outcomes for discharge needs. His documentation is professional, accurate and timely.”

with Magistrate Robinson as we strive to continue to build a better Madison County and serve our citizens. I have no doubt that he will serve the citizens of District 1 well.”

Robinson is no stranger to local politics, public service or Madison County. A lifelong Madison County and Berea resident, he is a graduate of Berea Community School and Eastern Kentucky University. He has previously served on the City Council for the City of Berea, City of Berea Planning and Zoning Commission, and numerous local boards and civic organizations. Robinson has spent most of his professional career working in supply chain and operations for the transportation industry.

“I am very appreciative of the tremendous support I have received in my pursuit of the appointment as Madison County Magistrate, and very excited for the opportunity to continue serving our communities,” Robinson said.

“With the experience I bring from my longtime service on the Berea city council, multiple commissions and the Berea school board, I am confident in my preparation to represent Southern Madison County. I know how to work collaboratively to get things done, and to do so with honesty and integrity. I look forward to hitting the ground running to keep Madison County the greatest place in Kentucky to live.”

Berea Mayor Bruce Fraley applauded Robinson’s appointment to the court.

“Ben will do a fantastic job in representing the citizens of Madison County’s First District,” he said. “He has substantial experience in local government, having served several years on the Berea City Council, our Planning Commission, and the local school board.

“I have known Ben since he was in grade school and can tell you that he is a quality person in all aspects. He is also a quick study and works well in a team environment, which will help him make a positive impact on the Madison County Fiscal Court right away.”

(Tuesday morning).”

Approximately 20 regular volunteers including the Berea College CELTS students and staff, Berea Faith Community Outreach board members and volunteers from every corner of Berea showed up early to greet an 18-wheeler and helped to unload more than 12,000 pounds of food, then stocked, stored, and put the food in brightly colored bags.

“The past two years have been hard, so hard for people it makes me cry,” longtime volunteer Janet Grider said. “But (Tuesday was) another good day because people in Berea donate money to the food bank making all this — and much more possible for us to do.”

Crachiolo said rising prices have been felt within the Food Bank, but added that monetary donations have provided a big boost.

“Folks in Berea are generous so we’ve been able to expand services to meet the needs of Bereans,” he said. “The food bank has doubled the amount of food families can receive, doubled how often they can use the food bank, sustained Initiatives like ReachOut, the Berea Police Emergency Food Box Initiative and partnerships with agencies to supply food for Berea’s homeless population.

“We can buy four times as much food with the same dollar as donors can because of our special relationship with suppliers, so switching to monetary donations last year has made so much possible that we only dreamed of before.”

Dreams came true for the elderly, shut-ins and Crachiolo’s ReachOut Initiative served Tuesday as volunteers drove truck after truck to their neighborhoods, bringing much need food and the caring love of a community united to fight hunger in Berea.

If you would like to support this work, donations are accepted at their website, www.bereaoutreach.org.

Stoops to stay at UK

Mark Stoops is staying put. The Kentucky football coach agreed in principle to a contract extension that will keep him on the Wildcat sidelines through June 2028, the school announced Tuesday. Three days ago UK ended the regular season with a 9-3 record and finished second in the SEC East for the first time since divisions were split in 1992. Stoops will receive a one-year extension with seven wins in a given season and two years will be added with a 10-win campaign. He had been mentioned as a candidate for several coaching vacancies this season but has no plans of leaving Lexington anytime soon.

"I'm excited to continue to build this program to national prominence," Stoops said. "We're on our way and I'm more confident in Kentucky football than I've ever been. I thank President (Eli) Capilouto and Mitch Barnhart for their support. The continuity among us for the last nine years is extremely valuable and I'm looking forward to more success together." Stoops came to an agreement with Barnhart "a week or two ago" and said the deal prior to Kentucky's 52-21 win over rival Louisville Saturday night. "(We) shook hands on it Saturday afternoon," he Stoops said. "This process is a compliment to our relationship."

Under his guidance, Stoops has guided the Wildcats to five consecutive bowl appearances. The Wildcats have won three straight bowl games, including a 23-21 win over North Carolina State in the Gator Bowl last year. Stoops is 58-53 and has compiled a 46-27 mark since opening with a 12-26 in his first 38 contests. He has coached in a school-record 111 games in his nine seasons. "Coach Stoops has done an outstanding job in building the UK football program and we look forward to continued success under his leadership," Barnhart said.

High praise for Cats

Ex-assistant Barbee says UK on same level as Gonzaga

LEXINGTON (KT) — It was a blowout and not even close. Kentucky notched its sixth consecutive victory with an 85-57 rout of Central Michigan Monday night. A month that began with a 79-71 loss to top-ranked Duke in the Champions Classic, the Wildcats racked up a half-dozen victories while dealing with a mixture of injuries and illness.

All six victories — by double digits — provided challenges in their own way, but the No. 9 Wildcats put it all together in the blowout from start to finish over the Chippewas. "There were stretches we were really good," Kentucky coach John Calipari said. One of those stretches came in the first half. Kentucky (6-1) made 11 of its first 12 shots from the field and outscored the Chippewas 23-2 in a span of five minutes, ending any hopes of a potential upset. The Chippewas (1-4) have yet to play a home game this season and appeared homesick and wore down against the Wildcats. "We came out a little nervous," Central Michigan and former Kentucky assistant coach Tony Barbee said. "That attributed a lot to them. We dug ourselves a big hole. I thought we settled down and did some good things in the second half."

"They're on Gonzaga's level. ... They will do a lot of damage this year."

Tony Barbee
CMU coach

Barbee, whose squad has lost to No. 3 Gonzaga (107-54) and Bellarmine (78-69) in back-to-back fashion last week, was impressed with the Wildcats in his return to Rupp Arena, where he spent the previous seven seasons under Calipari. He also played for Calipari at Massachusetts. "They're just as physically imposing as Gonzaga all across the floor," Barbee said. "They're on Gonzaga's level. ... They've got a fantastic team. They will do a lot of damage this year." In Barbee's first live view of the Wildcats, forward Oscar Tshiebwe had a double-double with 20 points and 16 rebounds, while TyTy Washington added 15 points as 10 players entered the scoring column for Kentucky. Barbee praised the performance by Tshiebwe. "He's a coach's dream and he impacts the game without ever having the ball," Barbee said. "He's a load defensively on the defensive end of the floor and obviously what he does in the backboard — it has not been seen in years if not in decades in college basketball." Calipari, now 18-1 against his former assistant coaches, spoke with Barbee prior to the contest and knows what he's going through in the beginning phases of a rebuilding project in Mount Pleasant. "I know it's a process when you're rebuilding, like he is," he said. "We talked about it." The Kentucky coach was more concerned about his team's development as opposed to a potential threat from the Chippewas. "I'm worried about my team playing the right way," Calipari said. "I'm worried about my team fighting, my team being consistent for 40 minutes and how we're going to play and then, we have to figure each other out." Calipari will get that chance this week. Now that November is almost over, Calipari is ready for a much-ended break before playing Southern Dec. 7. "It comes at a great time," Calipari said. "We have been beat and so we need a couple of days (off)."

City eyes changes in emergency radio system

By Andy McDonald
For The Citizen

The Berea City Council adopted a resolution allowing Berea to operate a joint emergency radio system with Madison County and the City of Richmond. The ordinance is in anticipation of 2024, when federal CSEPP funds for the current county-wide emergency radio system will run out.

In a presentation to the council, Madison County Emergency Management Agency/CSEPP Director Dustin Heiser explained that the current nine-antenna emergency radio system will require hardware upgrades in the coming years and that the three governments will bear the costs of those upgrades once the chemical weapons disposal mission at the Blue Grass Army Depot is completed and CSEPP funds cease in roughly two years.

The City of Richmond has passed the same resolution, and the Madison County Fiscal Court will be reviewing the same legislation soon, according to Berea Mayor Bruce Fraley.

Councilman Steve Caudill asked for a projected cost of future operations, which Heiser said is forthcoming. Councilman Ronnie Terrill expressed approval for the fact that three governments are working together to address the costs now.

Virus cases rising again

FRANKFORT (KT) — While saying there are no known cases of the COVID-19 omicron variant in Kentucky yet, Gov. Andy Beshear warned that the delta variant is still ravaging the state, and we are not heading in the right direction. "Every single indication of how much COVID we have in the commonwealth is going up," he said Monday. "Cases, ICU patients, people on a ventilator, demand for monoclonal antibodies. Everything across the board is going up. We are certainly in another escalation."

In Madison County, 470 new cases were reported from Nov. 29-Dec. 5 for an average of 55 cases per day. Beshear said there were 2,350 new cases reported to state public Parade a hit!

(The Citizen/Keith Taylor)

By Keith Taylor
Citizen Publisher

The 35th annual Berea Chamber of Commerce Twilight Christmas Parade was a hit last Saturday.

The annual event was canceled last year because of COVID-19, but returned Saturday with one of the largest crowds in recent years.

Parade chairman Danny Miller was pleased with the overall turnout.

"It was awesome," Miller said. "The crowd was incredible. I've not seen a crowd that big, it was just crazy. That was wonderful."

Miller said the cancellation of last year's event contributed to the success and said "people were ready to get out."

"We didn't have it last year and you've got to give credit to the Lord for the weather. Our marketing had something to do with it and the weather was great and I think that was a major player (in the attendance)."

Parade winners were as follows:

- First place: Madison County Attorney Jennie Haymond, 4-H Saddle Club and Pilot Knob Baptist Church.
- Second place: Kingston Girls Scout Troop 2086, Edge of Darkness Haunted House and Berea Baptist Church.

Maupin, Stallsworth, honored by St. Joseph Berea

Saint Joseph Berea has announced its 2021 Employee of the Year and Leader of the Year award recipients. Gearldine Stallsworth, tech lead, Environmental Services, of Berea, was presented the Employee of the Year Award, and Darcy Maupin, RN, manager, Nursing, of Berea, earned the Leader of the Year award.

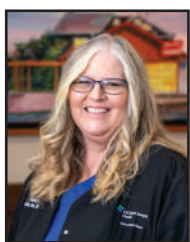

Saint Joseph Berea annually recognizes one outstanding Employee of the Year who demonstrates the core values of compassion, inclusion, integrity, excellence and collaboration.

“Gearldine is very respectful to her fellow employees and our patients,” said Stallsworth’s colleague.

“She always greets you with a smile, and even though she may be busy working, she never fails to say, ‘Good morning.’”

Stallsworth’s colleagues describe her as a hard worker whose work is always on time and completed correctly.

Similarly, Saint Joseph Berea annually presents one employee serving in a managerial position with the Leader of the Year award. Selection criteria include an outstanding demonstration of leadership led by CHI Saint Joseph Health’s core values of compassion, inclusion, integrity, excellence and collaboration.

Stallsworth

“Darcy exhibits compassion by caring for the patients in the emergency department – both COVID and non-COVID patients,” said Maupin’s colleague. “She exhibits integrity and excellence, as she is certified in emergency patient care in nursing, as well as leadership certifications for emergency management in disaster situations.”

Maupin’s colleagues say she is well-respected for her knowledge in many different areas, and has led Saint Joseph Berea through multiple Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program (CSEPP) drills after successfully preparing employees through teaching hazardous materials (HAZMAT) courses. Maupin collaborates with all departments to delegate appropriate members to represent each area in emergency preparedness drills. Her colleagues say she has also led Saint Joseph Berea to achieve Chest Pain Accreditation.

Both award winners were recognized during a virtual ceremony in November.

health officials on Saturday, 1,194 on Sunday and another 1,347 on Monday. There have now been 799,695 total cases, since the first one was reported in March 2020.

There were also 198 new deaths during that three-day period: 67 on Saturday, 68 Sunday and 63 on Monday. Many of them were victims in their 20s, 30s and 40s, unlike during the early part of the pandemic when it was mostly older Kentuckians losing their lives. A total of 11,289 have now lost their lives due to COVID in the state.

The governor noted Kentucky’s positivity rate on Monday had risen to 9.13%. On October 31, it stood at 4.98%, so it has been steadily increasing, during that five-week period.

Despite all the news on the new omicron variant, Beshear said there are still three questions that need to be answered before it can be determined how concerned we should be. “Is it more or less contagious than delta, which is very, very contagious? How sick does it make you? How well do the vaccines work against it?”

“We have more tools to stop this in its tracks than ever before. The great news is, we saw more vaccinations over this last weekend than we have seen in a long time, in every stage of the vaccination process. This is how we fight back against this virus.”

Pallbearers were Terry Murphy, Troy Murphy, Marvin Powell, Mike Powell, Keith Bowles and Gary Lee Stout.

Patricia Lynn Peters

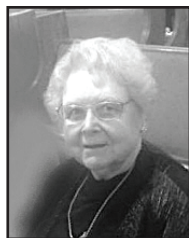

Patricia Lynn Peters fought the good fight, kept the faith, finished her course, and received her glorified body on Monday, December 6, 2021. Patti was born June 11, 1950, in Berea, KY to Rosada Gadd Peters and the late John Sherman Peters. She loved her family, whether they be sisters, nephews, nieces, or cousins that she counted as brothers and sisters. She loved reading Christian fiction, anything about the Royal Family, doing bible studies, and reading her bible. She was a prayer warrior for those she loved and took care of her mother until her accident, which left her unable to care for her and that troubled her deeply. She has overcome so many physical obstacles throughout her life, such as polio at the age of two, which left her on crutches for 69 years and open-heart surgery at almost seven. She was always the life of the party and loved going places with her babies.

In addition to her mother, Patti is survived by two sisters, Paula D. (James) Cobb, Phyllis (Perry) Harding, nieces and nephews, Chris Cobb, Courtney Cobb, Jay Cobb, Kadi Carpenter, Trenton Harding, Ashley Harding, Shella Cobb, Whitney Cobb, Travis Carpenter, great nieces and nephews, Caleb Cobb, Logan Cobb, Layla Cobb, Kashton Carpenter, Audrey Harding, Jessa Harding, and special cousins, Patsy Decker, and Mackie Lamb.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. on Friday, December 10, 2021, at Galilee Baptist Church with Brother Randy McPherson, Brother Lee Abney, and Brother James Hardin officiating. You may view the service live from the funeral home website www.davisandpowellfuneralhome.com Burial will follow in Cobb-Anglin Cemetery. Visitation will be 11 a.m. until service time.

Mary Elizabeth Barnes

Mary Elizabeth Barnes passed away peacefully, with her family at her side, on December 4, 2021. She was born on December 19, 1933, in Columbiana, Ohio, daughter of the late Olive and Chester Delauter. Mary attended the University of California at Davis where she met and married Richard Barnes, who preceded her in death. She worked for the Bank of America before moving to Berea where she worked at Berea College as a key-punch operator and performed field outreach in the Development Office. Mary was a member of First Christian Church and held the position of Clerk there for several years. She was a Kentucky Colonel, loved to play bridge, and enjoyed playing the piano and organ for the church she loved so much. She had many friends that she cared about dearly.

Mary is survived by her daughters, Kathryn Turnbull of Myrtle Beach, SC, Marcia McWilliams (Mike) of Salvisa, granddaughter, Ariel Miller (Tim) of Frankfort, grandson Rich Turnbull (Tamra) of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, stepbrothers, Jim and Leonard Needham, niece, Sherri Brooks, nephews, Bob and Rick Dougherty, and brother-in-law, Ron Dougherty. She was preceded in death by one sister Nancy Dougherty.

A celebration of life will be at 2 p.m. Dec. 11, 2021 at First Christian Church. You may view the service live at www.davisandpowellfuneralhome.com

Memorial contributions are suggested to First Christian Church, General Fund or Building Fund, and Berea College.

Linda Fish

Linda Fish, 75, passed away on Saturday December 4, 2021 at Saint Joseph Berea Hospital. Linda was born in Covington on Nov. 1, 1946 to the late Lonie Mullins and William Grant. She retired from Berea College as a secretary. She was also a member of Calvary Apostolic Church.

Linda is preceded in death by her husband, Arnold Fish. In addition to her husband and parents she is preceded in death by two brothers; David Grant and Billy Grant. Three sisters; Ruth Ann Orme, Janet Honeycut, and Shirley Grant.

She is survived by three brothers; Robert Grant, Roger Grant, and Mark Grant. Four sisters; Della Grant, Reva Eagle, Brenda Schnitzler, Gail Grant.

Funeral services will be at Lakes Funeral Home on Thursday, Dec. 9, 2021. Visitation will be from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Services will be at 1 p.m. with pastor Alan Peevler officiating. Burial will follow at Maret Cemetery.

Martha Ellen Coffey

After a difficult battle with Alzheimer's Mrs. Martha Ellen Coffey passed away peacefully on December 4th, 2021 surrounded by her loved ones in her home.

Born in Greenfield, Indiana to the late John Joseph and Lille Mae Perry, Martha was a beloved wife to her late husband Mike Coffey and a mother to 5 beautiful girls, Tammy (Roy) Cope of Berea and their children, Holly Cope Denny, Michael Cope, and Keith Cope; Deanna (Ronnie Peavler) of Stanford and their children, Matthew Jones, and BreAnna Sargent; Melissa Combs (Donald Gabbard) of Lancaster and their children, Misty Combs and Dalton Gabbard; Jeannie (Emmitt, Jr.) Johnson of Paint Lick and their children, Kristie Cain Lawson, Kevin Cain, and Jessica Johnson; Kristie Rawlins (Danny Rawlins of Richmond) of Berea and their children, Brittany Stone McIntosh and Alex Sizemore. She was also a Nanny/Mamaw to 31 great grandchildren.

Martha was a dedicated mother first and foremost. She treasured her children and embraced every moment with them. She especially loved her role as what many would call her Nanny, or Mamaw. Our family would not be where it is today without her.

In addition to her parents and husband Martha was also preceded in death by her sisters Cindy Bolin and Betty Perry, 2 grandchildren Steven Lee Jones and Brooke Sargent. She leaves 7 brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 14, 2021, at Lakes Funeral Home. Bro. Tommy Sanchez will officiate. Burial will follow in the Isaacs Cemetery in Rockcastle County. Pallbearers will be Roy Cope, Donnie Gabbard, Emmitt Johnson, Donnie Cope, Matthew Jones, and Michael Cope.

Traci Renee Huth Thomas

Traci Renee Huth Thomas, 60, passed away Saturday, Dec. 4, 2021 at St. Joseph Hospital. Traci was born in Pomona, California to the late Norman Huth and Arlene Schwalenburg McGee.

Traci is survived by her loving husband, Donald "Ed" Thomas; her children, Aaron (Donna) Curtis and Ashley (Timothy) Baker; her stepchildren, Donald R. Thomas and Letisha Hoermann; 15 grandchildren; one brother, William Huth; and one sister, Wendi Huth.

Traci was a veteran of the Marine Corps and was a homemaker to her family. She loved spending time with her grandchildren and loved flowers and floral arrangements. Traci will be remembered by her family and loved ones for her smile and laugh. Per her wishes, she will be cremated. Lakes Funeral Home handled arrangements.

Businesses are essential to a thriving community

I was honored when Kristy Napier asked me to give the invocation at the Berea Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet, held last Thursday at Boone Tavern.

The annual banquet was canceled last year because of the pandemic and this year provided a restart for the annual gathering that brings business leaders from the community together to celebrate businesses and individual accomplishments during the previous 12 months. One of those business leaders, Paul Reynolds, passed away last month after a battle with COVID-19 and his presence was missed, as was the absence of another business owner, Don Combs, who passed away just last week. Combs was part owner and owner of several past and present businesses throughout our city.

Prior to giving the invocation, I felt compelled to lead a moment of silence for Paul, who served on the Chamber's board of directors and also was a Magistrate. Sometimes we have to put aside our plan and follow our heart and that's exactly what I did and just followed what God had placed in my heart at the time.

The Chamber serves as the backbone for businesses in Berea, and during the past year or so, I've gotten to know some wonderful business influences in our community. The Chamber's signature event, the Spoonbread Festival, returned this past year and produced record returns, both in attendance and revenue. The balloon glow also is produced by the chamber. The Chamber also is involved in numerous more community events and activities, including Geocaching, which is becoming more and more popular throughout the nation.

The Chamber also is in charge of the annual Twilight Christmas Parade, which made its tour through the city for the 35th year last Saturday night. The parade was a success and the weather played a major role in its success this year. The annual Berea Magazine, which we will be bringing back next year, also is a project the Chamber takes on each year.

The board chose a new manager — Debra Warford — who will serve as the leader of the Chamber as we look ahead to the future. The Chamber took a hit at the start of the pandemic, but made it through the past year with the help of numerous volunteers, many of which were honored last Thursday night.

Napier, who has served as President for the past year, passed the gavel to Mike Parsons who will lead the Chamber for the next 12 months. I was elected to serve as a board member and will be serving for the next three years and I'm looking forward to help move the organization forward following a turbulent period during the past couple of years.

Local businesses are important to a thriving community and we're all in this together.

Tips for toy shoppers

Shopping for gifts for kids makes many shoppers nostalgic for their own childhoods.

Few adults can forget the joy of finding the perfect gift under the tree on Christmas morning. Recreating that magic for a youngster can be as joyous for gift givers as it is for kids. That's especially so when shoppers make it a point to give safe, age-appropriate gifts.

Whether shopping for their own children or their grandkids, nieces or nephews, shoppers can keep these tips in mind to ensure they give toys that are as safe as they are fun.

• Speak to Mom and Dad first.

When buying for a grandchild, niece or nephew, shoppers should first ask Mom or Dad for suggestions. Parents will know which types of toys their children like, and they'll also know the child's level of maturity. Some kids may not be mature enough to play with otherwise age-appropriate toys, while others may be mature beyond their years and enjoy more complex toys than their age would suggest. Parents will know what makes a good toy and what doesn't.

• Learn what to look for on labels. Toy labels are great sources of information, but shoppers must know what to look for. The American Academy of Pediatrics notes that toy labels include information about age-appropriateness (i.e., "Ages 3 & Up") as well as directions regarding how to use the toy. If the instructions seem a bit complex for the child the item will be for, look for something else. Children's toy labels also include additional information that consumers may not be familiar with. For example, toys labeled "ASTM F963" meet the latest safety standards from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. An "ASTM D4236" label indicates the materials associated with the art toy have been reviewed and deemed safe by a toxicologist. More information about toy label requirements can be found at cpsc.gov. The AAP advises that electric toys should only be given to kids if they include the UL label. That means the toy has been certified by the global safety certification company UL, LLC.

• Avoid certain features. The AAP notes that toys that are loud, shoot objects into the air or contain small pieces pose a threat to children. Especially loud toys can damage children's hearing, while projectiles can increase the risk of eye injuries or choking. Toys with small pieces also pose a choking risk to young children who may try to put the pieces into their mouths.

• Err on the side of caution. Consumers who are uncertain about the safety of a given toy, even after reading its label, should err on the side of caution and only give toys they're confident won't pose a safety risk. Even toys that may seem safe could be dangerous to kids who might otherwise seem old enough. For example, the AAP advises against giving kids under 12 hobby kits and chemistry sets. That's because such kits may contain dangerous chemicals that even pre-adolescents are not old enough to handle safely. Shoppers must consider a host of factors when looking for safe toys for kids this holiday season.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Myers: How will Berea keep clean?

Dear Editor,

The last laundromat in Berea closed as of Dec. 1. How will people keep clean? Over 200 people use that laundromat each week. The closest laundromat is in Richmond about 13 miles away, and is an additional amount to the already high $5 a load to do wash, even if you had reliable transportation. I know a lot of you have washers and dryers, but seniors and apartment dwellers do not. What about people going to work at McDonalds and Wendys in dirty clothes? Or students going to school? What about our sports teams playing in dirty uniforms? How will that look?

Maybe someone could buy the building for the million dollars, (I heard they were asking) and reopen very soon.

Maybe River City Foothills could offer one free bus trip each week to the Richmond laundromat.

Maybe the city could purchase a portable trailer for $60,000 that has 10 washers and dryers and put it in a vacant lot in a central location, like the Farmers market.

Maybe Berea College could open one up in their gym building or Berea Community School could add another outbuilding. Maybe the ministerial association which supports the food bank could help support this crucial need too.

Maybe Wal-Mart could put one in their parking lot as a thank you service for all the city and county tax breaks they have received over many years.

Maybe the library could put a couple of washers and dryers in a conference room.

I know one city opened a cafe with washers and dryers for people to eat in while waiting.

Fellow Berea citizens, let's put our minds together and solve this crisis to keep it livable for all people!.....and hurry....clothes keep getting dirty all the time!

Thank you,
Kam Myers

Guidelines: Letters to the editor must contain no more than 500 words. Writers are limited to a maximum of three letters in a three-month period. Letters are published in the order in which they are received as space permits. Letters must not contain libelous materials and all letters must include the author's name, address, a telephone number or e-mail address for verification purposes. Christmas Wreath program honors fallen KSP officers

The Kentucky State Police has 37 fallen officers who have died in the line of duty since 1948, and every year, the families face the holidays without their loved ones. Two women, over 600 miles apart, are continuing a tradition meant to ease the pain of the families by placing wreaths at the gravesite of fallen KSP units. “During the holiday season, this is a meaningful way to honor those who paid the ultimate sacrifice,” said Gov. Andy Beshear. “My family joins with others across the commonwealth to remember the fallen officers who gave everything to protect and serve our citizens.”	The Fallen Heroes Wreath Program was started by the family of Philadelphia police officer John Pawlowski, who was killed in the line of duty on February 13, 2009. Pawlowski’s sister-in-law, Michelle Pawlowski, was inspired by the national ‘Wreaths Across America’ program. With the help of her family, they produced and placed Christmas wreaths at the final resting places of fallen law enforcement officers during the holiday season. Palowski’s inspiration has always been her brother-in-law, but through the growth of this project, she has reached countless fallen officers’ families across the	country. “It means a lot to me that it’s in his memory. A lot was lost that we’ll never get back, and this is something we can do to remember them,” said Ms. Pawlowski. A social media post by Ms. Pawlowski about the wreath program caught the eye of Brenda Tiffany, mother of Trooper Ponder, who died in the line of duty on September 13, 2015. The two women connected online and, since that moment, have worked together to provide Christmas wreaths for KSP’s fallen officers. This is the third year KSP has received Christmas wreaths for fallen officers.

Recipe from the heart

The holidays brings about social events a plenty which leaves us scrambling for easy fixes that taste like you have made a fuss. This cake will do just that.
Libby Horn

Orange Juice Cake

Ingredients Cake

1 - 15.25 ounce boxed yellow cake mix
1 - 3.4 ounce instant vanilla pudding mix
3/4 cup vegetable oil
3/4 cup orange juice
4 large eggs

Glaze

2 cups confectioner's sugar
3/4 cup orange juice
4 Tablespoons, butter

Directions

Preheat oven to 350 degrees and spray a bundt pan with no stick spray.

Cake

Mix all ingredients and beat for 2 minutes. Pour into bundt pan and bake for 35 - 40 minutes or until a toothpick comes out clean. Cool in pan. While the cake is warm poke holes in cake and pour glaze over the bottom. Allow to absorb overnight. The next day, invert pan and remove cake and serve.

Glaze

In a sauce pan mix butter and orange juice. Bring to a boil and boil for 1 minute. Add confectioner's sugar and mix until lumps are gone.

Newby Country Store giving back to community

There are many ways to give back to your community, and Ashlie Hatton is doing a little of it all. Ashlie, a candidate for election as Magistrate in District 2, owns Newby Country Store, and works diligently to ensure that members of her community are heard, valued, and cared for.

From events at Newby Store to coordinating gatherings to getting the bridge at Tates Creek repaired to hosting clean-up events at Jigg Water, Ashlie has shown a great deal of love and support for those around her.

Newby Country Store has been a source of joy through community events for many lately hosting Holiday Market nights, food drives, Sandwiches with Santa and Mrs. Claus, and most recently, the addition of “Cards to Care” for the holidays ahead. All the chances to get together with family and friends, especially at this time of year, have been greatly enjoyed by children and adults alike. The next Holiday Market was scheduled on Wednesday, Dec. 8 from 5-8 p.m., with shopping and gourmet tastings. Most recently, Ashlie has implemented a “Cards to Care” program at Newby Country Store. This program was inspired by her father, who wrote Christmas cards to every elderly person in assisted living and nursing homes in Richmond. Bring a signed holiday card to the store and it will be distributed to the elderly. Alongside “Cards to Care,” the store is also home to “Toys to Share,” where you may bring a toy to the store and it will be distributed to local law enforcement. The canned food drive is also continuing until December 15th.

If you feel inclined to give back to the community during this holiday season, stop in at Newby Country Store where the opportunities to do so are plentiful.

These are little acts of kindness that don’t cost much, but mean everything to someone in our community.

Reflections

Berea Citizen archives, Dec. 7, 2000

THE CITIZEN /Submitted

4-Hers learn new skills at issues conference

Madison County youth got a head start on tackling community issues during the Kentucky 4-H Issues Conference held November 16 – 19, 2000 I at the Kentucky Center near Jabez. During the four-day conference, youth studied contemporary issues that concerned them and learned skills necessary to bring about positive change. Topics addressed included, diversity, media, violence, teen rights, stress/depression and alcohol, tobacco and drugs. Danielle McIntyre, Berea Community; Melissa Roberts, Madison Central; Jamie Your and Amy Turner both from Madison Southern, represented Madison County. They attended sessions on tobacco and drugs. As members of the 4-H and Community Leadership Youth Task Force, the planned to address drug and alcohol use among Madison County teens with the skills learned.

Remembrance tree

Smiling faces amid the hustle and bustle of the holiday season is commonplace this time of year.

The Christmas season is also a time for remembering those who wouldn’t be with us. Grief counselors confirm that the holiday season is one of the peak times for depression, especially for people who have lost loved ones during the year. Lonnie and Geraldine Reppert, in an effort to give a meaningful gift to the entire community, presented a “Remembrance Tree” to the community to the citizens of Berea and the surrounding communities. The tree was to be a tribute to community members who had passed on. The concept originated when the Repperts were discussing ideas for their own family. The decision to include the community as a whole naturally followed. The tree was decorated with personalized ornaments provided by the Repperts. The red enameled papier mache hearts bore the names of family members or friends attendees wished to honor. “We wanted to do something like this for a while.” Lonnie said. “The holiday seemed to us to be a very appropriate time.” Reppert also emphasized the community-wide aspect. “This is not limited to families we have provided services for.” The tree was trimmed on Sunday December 17th at Reppert Funeral Home with an ongoing reception throughout the afternoon with words of encouragement and a remembrance prayer.

Good things

Life was good in Berea. That sentiment was reflected in the tone of the city council meeting. Development was moving at a steady pace according to codes administrator, Dale VanWinkle. He said the city was seeing substantial growth in industry, and commercial development. The North Broadway renovation project was closer to being finalized, according to city administrator Randy Stone. The city had hired someone to survey the old Bonded gas station property at the corner of Chestnut and Boone Streets. A park and/or Tourism and Chamber of Commerce office were possible options for the property. In other city actions, the council approved adding Logan Court to the city’s maintenance program at the request of public works chair, Chester Powell. Street superintendent Tim Taylor said his crew had had a long weekend of dealing with the snow but was commended by the council for a job well done. Councilman Vi Farmer also commended the Berea Chamber of Commerce for a wonderful Christmas parade.

‘Pioneer Christmas’

“Pioneer Christmas in Kentucky” was in its eighth successful season as it was presented by the Kentucky Department of Parks and White Oak Pond Church. It was a special event held at Fort Boonesboro, where everyone participated in a dramatic reenactment of “Hard Winter of 1779.” During the evening guests were served an authentic pioneer dinner and heard 18th Century carols while being visited by Daniel and Rebecca Boon, their family and Cherokee friends. The dinner consisted of hot cider, roasted chestnuts, corn on the cob, soup, green garden relishes, roasted chicken, cheese stuffed potatoes, Indian “Johnny cake” corn bread, fried apple pie and a choice of coffee or tea. As things were primitive in 1779, no flatware was provided. So, participants ate with their fingers and sleeves were used for wiping.

However, hot towels were provided at the end of the meal and paper napkins were hidden around the tables if participants looked “real close.” Proceeds from the event went toward the restoration of the Old Pond Church sanctuary built in 1869.

Small town vibes

I have had so many random conversations with people lately and discovered that they are new to our area. With all the crime and big city problems, I believe Berea is looking like a haven for many fleeing other states. It doesn’t hurt that we have many available industrial jobs.

Wikipedia agrees saying that Berea is one of the fastest growing towns in Kentucky.

I wanted to give a few shout outs to a few local businesses that improve our quality of life.

First, if you have college students, a practical place to shop for furnishings and TVs is Berea Gun & Pawn Shop. I got a weighted blanket for my daughter when she was a freshman in college. It was much cheaper than other box stores. When she needed a TV, we also found a great deal on a big screen. We were even able to borrow some blankets to protect it on the way home.

Your reputation means a lot in a small town. When a car lot owner knows you and your parents, it makes the process much smoother. My husband found a compact SUV on the Near New Auto lot. He had been wanting to trade in my older model car for something with lower mileage. (It had to be a Chevy because he has a Ford aversion.) We were allowed to take a Chevy Equinox home to try out. We ended up purchasing the vehicle. We received a call to come back because of an overpayment. A new bill had been stuck to another. Small town honesty.

Whittaker Bank (It will always be People’s Bank to me.) has been a part of my life since 1987 when I got married. They have provided loans and banking services since then. I like their community involvement. I have fond memories of the picnics at the Harrison Farm. I always looked forward to seeing Woody and Edna. They had such beautiful, magnetic personalities. It was a blessing just to be around them.

Unfortunately, we have lost a couple of dogs in the past. Silver Creek Animal Hospital was so kind and helpful. It was such an emotional time. We were able to have our whole family gathered around our dog Angel. (This was pre-Covid.) Our daughters stroked her fur. The vet explained everything to us and made sure she didn’t suffer. We weren’t rushed at all. We were able to say our goodbyes in peace.

Miller’s Tire in Berea was a huge help to my dad. He had a tractor tire he needed replaced. Miller’s provided fast service with a good price. My brother also appreciated the work they did on his vehicle. He uses it to travel for work. You can’t make a living if you can’t get to your jobs!

Save-A-Lot is a lifesaver sometimes. If you’ve waited until the last minute and can’t find sour cream anywhere, check Save A Lot. Now, frozen shredded hashbrowns are a different story. Buy early because they disappear from all stores if you wait too long. I enjoy seeing Madison Southern kids working in the store. It sure is a step saver, too.

Cocky deputy's badge doesn't impress an angry bull

I've always loved the story about the cocky young sheriff's deputy who pulled in the driveway of an old farmer and informed him he was going to search his farm for a moonshine still.

The old farmer said, "OK, but don't go in that field right over yonder."

The deputy said: "Mister, you see this badge? This badge means I can go wherever I want to go, whenever I want to go, no questions asked."

The old farmer nodded politely and went about his chores.

A few minutes later, the farmer heard screams and saw the deputy sprinting across the field, a huge bull chasing right behind him and gaining ground.

The old farmer yelled to the deputy: "Your badge. Your badge. Show him your badge."

The Bible warns in Proverbs 21:5 that doing things without thinking through the potential consequences is a very bad idea.

You've probably known people who have made very bad decisions on the fly and truly regretted them.

Perhaps you remember Jephthah, the Old Testament judge, who vowed that if God would allow him to win a battle over the Ammonites, he'd make a burnt offering of whatever first came out of his door when he returned home. Turned out, it wasn't a whatever that ran out of the house first. It was a whoever. His only daughter came rushed out to welcome Jephthah home. That beloved little girl, who had been so excited to see her father, ended up being sacrificed.

That's one of the saddest passages in the Bible. It's altogether heartbreaking. It's a complete tragedy. It's impossible to imagine the pain.

The takeaway is that we, too, can inflict heartbreak, tragedy and pain on those around us when we make boneheaded decisions. So, slow down, think things through, and made decisions only after thinking through the ramifications.

Jephthah might have been able to watch his daughter grow up to become an amazing woman, if only he had considered the potential consequences.

The cocky young sheriff's deputy may have avoided a bruising from an angry bull if he had used his brain.

And you and I may have many fewer regrets in life if we use our heads for something other than hat racks.

Fraley speaks to Lions Club

The Berea Lions Club was pleased to have Berea Mayor Bruce Fraley at its meeting as guest speaker on Nov. 22, at the Smoke-house Grill.

Fraley was introduced by Lion Simon Mortimer, who praised the mayor’s assistance at securing a $130 million dollar grant for a recent plant expansion at Berea’s Hitachi location.

Fraley talked about “wanting to become personally involved in our economic & industry efforts...I think business and industry is the backbone of our city - it’s what makes our city go.” He mentioned Hitachi as an example of the type of state of the art, advanced manufacturing type jobs that would be desirable to attract to the area.

“I grew up here in Berea, was raised up on Christmas Ridge Road at the very end, in the woods...so we literally lived back in the woods, lived there for sixteen years...really enjoyed growing up here...went to Community High School.” After graduating, Fraley went on to Eastern Kentucky University graduating Cum Laude with dual degrees in Political Science and Sociology.

Fraley, no stranger to government service, worked 34 years with the Social Security Administration, with the remaining twenty seven years as a District Manager in Richmond. Following retirement, Fraley ran for Berea City Councilman..“I wanted to give something back to the community.” In 2019, Councilman Fraley became Mayor of Berea.

One of the early projects Fraley was involved with was AppHarvest, a 15-acre indoor farm dedicated to growing healthy leafy greens. “They called me on the second month I was in office...they’re going to be in Ag Tech, I think their concept is brilliant...your leafy greens coming out of the Southwest where it’s dry and hot and drought, your tomatoes come from Mexico where there’s child labor...Lord knows what kind of pesticides...and they’re picked green and sent half-way around the country...Here they can reach about 70 percent of the United States within a day.”

Fraley spoke about the importance of personal involvement of a mayor to be successful. “It’s one thing to talk to an economic development person...talk to a city administrator...but when you got a mayor who says ‘We want your here and we’re going to help you’...that makes a difference. We’re competing against Richmond, Lexington.” He spoke about the importance of encouraging small business development in Berea, “People are willing to take a risk now...This year we’ve had 45 new businesses to Berea...last year we had 40 - That’s incredible for a small town like ours...We want to encourage business...help people along...No ‘gotcha - you can’t do that,’...Here are the rules - let’s show you how to proceed.” Fraley also emphasized the importance of commercial business development.

Another of Fraley’s key emphasis, was encouraging tourism development projects. The new Chestnut Street Pavilion was cited as a signature project being the new home of the city farmer’s market. “We didn’t know how to write a grant - but we did!” The pavilion was financed by a state department of agriculture grant. The balance of the project was financed with assistance from the Tourism fund.

A key tourism project mentioned by Fraley was a new state-of-the art mountain bike track. “One of the things the folks at Berea College had told me was that with tourism there was a trend towards outdoor recreation, rock climbing, mountain biking, hiking, bicycling on the road...Covid19 just accelerated that...and now everybody wants that - and we were ahead.” The new mountain bike park opened in August - near J C Chambers Road. “We took a piece of unsuitable industry property, 44 acres in our industrial park, we contracted with a professional designer to design a course for us... That’s another really big accomplishment.”

One of the other outdoor projected mentioned by the Mayor was a new dog park “People love their pets...that’s one of the things people wanted...a dog park and we built one, no frills!...Those are just an example of the ways we’ve invested some of the tourism funds. Fraley also mentioned a parks master plan and the hiring of a consultant firm to help with the planning of future park development for the next decade. “What really matters is what the citizens say, what do the people want, how do they want to see our parks evolve...In a post Covid world we’ll need outdoor activities more than ever.”

Fraley also praised the progressive development of the Berea police and fire department under new leadership. He mentioned the hiring of the first female fire fighter as a first for the city.

Of special mention by the mayor several large area infrastructure projects: The extension bypass - “A really major, major deal for the City of Berea - I was on Council...we found it had fallen off the state’s 6-year plan...I went to Frankfort to try and change that.” When doubt was expressed, Fraley countered, “Are you gonna sit here or just sit here and complain?” A small delegation went to Frankfort and the group explained to state officials the history of the highway project and its importance to Berea. “That’s one of the reasons you have to be present to win.”

The other infrastructure was the Owsley Fork Dam, built as a reservoir by Berea College in the 70’s, bought by the city water and electric utilities - with concern by the college of potential impact to homes below the dam. Federal funding from the NRCS, part of the USDA, suggested raising the height of the dam by 6 feet, increasing the capacity of the dam from 700 million gallons to 1 billion gallons. “That’s been a project I’ve been working on personally...with all the design work that’ not always easy.” Fraley hoped by this time next year for completion of the project.

The mayor, commenting on the state of city finances, said that the city had managed to get through a year and a half period from Covid-related business hardships to the present, “What we feared would happen - didn’t...Actually, we’re in very sound condition.”

Fraley praised the role of quality career and technical programs will help students to pick colleges where they go to work for the city as a fireman and then determine what marketing, computer studies to pursue. (Submitted)

Eagles open season with two victories

By Mike Moore
For The Citizen

The Madison Southern Eagles opened the first week of the 2021-2022 basketball season by going 2-1. The Eagles defeated Danville Christian (67-49) and Casey County (59-36) before falling to Woodford County (54-46) in the BGO Classic held at Lexington Christian Academy. Jay Rose has led the Eagles' charge by averaging 17.3 points and 8.7 rebounds per game. Brett Erslan has averaged 12.7 points and 5.3 rebounds, while Zach Hudson has dropped in an average of 11 points a contest. Rose and Hudson each dumped in 22 points in the win over Danville Christian. Erslan's 17 points paced the Eagles in the win over Casey County. He also led Southern with 15 points in the loss to Woodford County.

Lady Eagles split two games

The Madison

Southern Lady Eagles opened their season with a pair of road games. The Lady Eagles (1-1) knocked off East Jessamine 55-34, but fell to Whitley County, 43-41. Reece Estep averaged 13.5 points and 9.5 rebounds per game, while Hadley French is averaging 10.5 points per game. Estep scored 16 and grabbed 10 rebounds in the win over East Jessamine, while French added 13 points. Tara Wooten added 12 points in the loss to Whitley County.

Lady Pirates topple Central

The Berea Lady Pirates (1-0) opened the season with a hard fought 55-51 win over Madison Central. Madison Howell led Berea with 18 points, while Alexis Newman finished with 13. Mati Stepp also scored in double figures, finishing with 12 points.

- The Berea boys were forced to forfeit their first three games because of COVID-19.

Additionally, Heiser announced that after the first of the year, siren and emergency radio tests will occur at noon on the first Saturday of every month.

In other action, the council unanimously adopted a resolution renaming a portion of Kentucky Highway 21 in honor of a veteran who went missing in action in Vietnam in 1969. Aviator Captain Hugh M. "Mac" Byrd, Jr. went missing and was presumed dead when his plane was lost during the Vietnam War. The city will reimburse the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet for the signs, which will cost $500.

Resident Jimmy Lakes, who suggested the memorial, thanked Mayor Bruce Fraley for making the project happen. The area dedicated will be at bridge on Highway 21.

In other news, the council heard the first reading of an ordinance that will increase the rate of pay for part-time and seasonal workers in the city, such as Berea City Pool employees. During a work session, City Administrator Rose Beverly explained that the city must raise hourly rates to remain competitive with other employers. Councilman Caudill cautioned that the cost of raising pay rates may have to be passed on to citizens who use the pool – something he said could potentially have a disproportional impact on financially disadvantaged families.

Councilman Jerry Little, meanwhile, suggested that while hourly rates are higher now, they may come down in the coming months as the economy adjusts. Caudill asked that the issue be addressed in a future work session of the Audit and Finance Committee.

In other developments, Berea Police Department Chief Eric Scott presented three employees who were recently promoted: Captain Aaron Boycan, Detective Adam Short and Major Jason Hays, who was promoted during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The council also heard a bid recommendation on Tuesday night regarding administrative services for American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 funds. Bluegrass Area Development District was the only entity to submit a bid, asking for one percent of the funds allocated to the city over the life of the program, which will run 3-4 years. The funds going to BGADD would be approximately $41,000 city officials said. Caudill moved to table the motion so that he and others can review the agreement more closely. Council adopted his motion unanimously and the item was postponed.

Also Tuesday, Greg Lakes was appointed by the Berea Planning and Zoning Commission to replace the seat vacated by Ben Robinson III, who was recently appointed to the Madison County Fiscal Court.

The council adopted an ordinance annexing 1628 Menelaus Road into the city. The property is owned by the Berea Industrial Development Authority, covering 1.6 acres. The city adopted the measure in preparation for future development.

Additionally, the council heard the second reading of a zone change at 164 and 136 Neely Street, a property owned by Ruth Baker. Jerry Little, Cora Jane Wilson, Steve Caudill, Jim Davis, Ronnie Terrill and Teresa Scenters voted in favor of the change, which formally rezones the property from residential to mobile home park. Little pointed out the property has been operating as a mobile home park for more than 50 years, but that the land use map did not accurately reflect that fact. John Payne and Katie Startzman cast dissenting votes on the zone change.

The next meeting of the Berea City Council will take place on Dec. 21.

ORDINANCE # 27 - 2021

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEREA, KENTUCKY, CHANGING THE ZONING CLASSIFICATION OF PROPERTY DESCRIBED AS 136 NEELY STREET AND 164 NEELY STREET AND OWNED BY RUTH BAKER HEREIN FROM R-1 (SINGLE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL) TO MP/C (MOBILE/MANUFACTURED HOME/COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT)

WHEREAS, Ruth Baker made application for zone change for property located at 100 Neely Street, 136 Neely Street and 164 Neely Street to change the current zoning classification of R-1 (Single Family Residential) to MP/C (Mobile/Manufactured Home Park/Community District); and

WHEREAS, the application was before the Planning Commission on August 24, 2021, for consideration; and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission reviewed evidence and heard testimony and arguments by the applicant and adjoining land owners and determined the current classification of R-1 (Single Family Residential) continues to be the appropriate classification for the property and the requested classification of MP/C (Mobile/Manufactured Home Park/Community District) is inappropriate; and

WHEREAS, the land owner thereafter filed an appeal of the Planning Commission's recommendation to the City Council, and prior to the Council hearing the appeal, amended her zone change application by removing 100 Neely Street from the zone change application; and

WHEREAS, on November 3, 2021, the City Council considered the appeal of the zone change denial as it pertains to 136 Neely Street and 164 Neely Street and by majority vote determined that the current zoning classification of R-1 (Single Family Residential) is an inappropriate classification for 136 Neely Street and 164 Neely Street and that the zoning classification of MP/C (Mobile/Manufactured Home Park/Community District) is the more appropriate classification for the subject property;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Berea, Kentucky, as follows:

Pursuant to the authority granted in KRS 100, and in Section 401.2 of the Land Management and Development Ordinance, and further pursuant to a hearing held on November 3, 2021 by the Berea City Council following an appeal by the landowner of the Berea Planning Commission's findings of August 24, 2021, and the landowner's amended zoning application, the City Council found after reviewing the application, hearing arguments, findings of the Planning Commission, and having the opportunity to review the testimony and exhibits of the Planning Commission hearing, that the current zoning classification of R-1 (Single-Family Residential) was inappropriate and that the proposal for zoning map amendment from R-1 (Single-Family Residential) to MP/C (Mobile/Manufactured Home Park/Community District) was appropriate, and thereafter on November 2, 2021, by the City Council following the appeal, and further, pursuant to KRS 100.211, the area as hereinafter described on Exhibit "A" hereto and being known and designated as 136 Neely Street and 164 Neely Street, be and the same are reclassified to MP/C (Mobile/Manufactured Home Park/Community District) from R-1 (Single-Family Residential).

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEREA, KENTUCKY, ANNEXING CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY LOCATED NEAR BEREA, MADISON COUNTY, KENTUCKY.

WHEREAS, Berea Industrial Development Authority (hereafter "BIDA"), is the owner of a certain tract of land located at 1628 Menelaus Road, Berea, Madison County, Kentucky, which currently lies outside of the city limits of the City of Berea; and

WHEREAS, BIDA has requested the property located at 1628 Menelaus Road, containing 1.26 acres, more or less, be annexed into the City of Berea; and

WHEREAS, the City of Berea has determined that the annexation would be beneficial to the City; and

WHEREAS, the City will be in the position to extend certain municipal services to said property; and

WHEREAS, the owner of the land agrees to the annexation;

NOW, THEREFORE, the City Council of the City of Berea, Kentucky does ordain as follows:

SECTION I

That the City of Berea, Kentucky, pursuant to KRS 81A.412 and KRS 81A.420, hereby annexes and makes a part of the corporate area certain real property, as more particularly described in the attached Exhibit A, consisting of a plat and a metes and bounds property description.

SECTION II

Pursuant to KRS 100.209(1), after the enactment of this Ordinance, the Planning Commission shall hold a public hearing for the purpose of recommending the zoning classification to be assigned to the property to be annexed.

SECTION III

Upon the enactment of this ordinance, the territory described in Section I is part of the City of Berea for all purposes.

SECTION IV

The City Clerk or any other officer having custody of official maps or records of the City is hereby directed to amend such maps or records to reflect the annexation and zoning classification provided for and assigned herein.

Cats fend off Woods & Jaguars

LEXINGTON (KT) — Texas Southern stunned No. 20 Florida on Monday night in Gainesville. Kentucky coach John Calipari wanted to make sure the Wildcats knew that before tipoff Tuesday.

Southern University, led by former Kentucky guard Sean Woods, walked into Rupp Arena with the same mindset as their Southeastern Athletic Conference counterparts on Tuesday night and gave the No. 10 Wildcats (7-1) all they could handle before Calipari's squad escaped with a 76-64 win over the Jaguars.

"Thank goodness we won," Calipari said. "They played harder than us. Sean did a better of coaching his team than I did. ... of all the tapes I watched, they never stopped, it didn't matter what the score was — just like (they did) today. ... They played today and they competed."

The contest was the first in a sequence of Unity Series games against teams from the SWAC during the next five seasons.

Southern (3-6) was first up for the Wildcats and Calipari was thankful his team didn't encounter a winless Texas Southern squad that had nothing to lose and everything to gain in a win over the Gators, one of Kentucky's top foes in the Southeastern Conference.

Woods knew the Wildcats "would be ready" after Texas Southern stunned the college basketball world with its upset of the Gators on their home court earlier this week.

"He probably got them up in the middle of the night (to let them know)," Woods said.

Like Calipari, Woods took notice of Texas Southern's upset victory, the first SWAC school to beat a ranked school in conference history, and used it as a motivator for his own squad against a program that made Woods "the man and the coach I am today."

Stoops admires Iowa

Kentucky football coach has has 'nothing but fond memories from the Hawkeye experience'

LEXINGTON (KT) - Mark Stoops hasn't forgotten his time at Iowa.

The Kentucky football coach played for the Hawkeyes from 1986-88 and later served as a graduate assistant under legendary and late Iowa coach Hayden Fry. His brothers, Bob and Mike Stoops, also played for the Hawkeyes.

For nearly a decade, a Stoops brother was on the team at Iowa, and they all wore the No. 41, helping Fry build the program from the bottom to the top.

"It's hard to put into words what the Iowa program has meant to us," Stoops said Sunday. "In the early part of our careers, playing and just getting started coaching. I remember (while growing up), playing football games on Friday night, my dad coaching on Friday night, getting in the car, driving 10 hours, arriving in the morning, watching my brothers play, staying Saturday night, getting back in the car and driving for 10 hours back home. ...

"Everybody was just so good to us during our time there and helped shape a lot of what we became. The success we've had has a lot to do with the roots of Iowa. Nothing but fond memories from the Hawkeye experience."

As Stoops was trying to figure out his future plans in Iowa City, he also experienced some of the most difficult times of his life. After finally getting his chance to be a starter at defensive back, he blew out his knee prior to a game against Michigan. The injury occurred during the same time frame he lost his father, Ron Stoops, a legendary high school coach at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio.

Stoops recalled the comfort the entire program provided during the week of his father's passing. Ron Stoops was buried with Mark Stoops' Iowa game jersey "very neatly folded" inside his casket.

Iowa's current coach, Kirk Ferentz, served as an offensive line coach under Fry during Stoops' time with the Hawkeyes. The Kentucky coach said Ferentz hasn't changed during the past three-plus decades and "knew that he would go on to big things."

"What I remember about him is what you see now," Stoops said. "He's just an impressive man and an impressive coach that was always nothing but professional ...

you just saw a man that was going to be successful."

Along with Fry and Ferentz, Stoops was influenced by then-Hawkeyes defensive coordinator Bill Brazier.

"He made an enormous impact on myself and my brothers," Stoops said. "...Just an incredible man, just like very coach that has been through there during our time. He was really the ultimate, really old-school, tough guy, but also very caring (and) very influential person in my life. I have nothing but respect for coach (Brazier)."

Stoops described himself as an "average" player and added that he may break out a few clips to give the Wildcats a few laughs before the first day of 2022.

"I was not very impressive as a player there, that's for sure," he said. "I loved my time there, did the best I could. I'm not going to make excuses but back then, when you when you tore up a knee, it was a little different than it is right now. Still no fun, but I had my fair share of injuries that led to an early knee replacement."

On the flip side, Stoops hasn't given much thought to what it will be like coaching against his alma mater, but is looking forward to the opportunity to lead the Wildcats into a sixth consecutive bowl game.

"I don't know (how I will react) yet, because it's still very fresh in my mind," he said. "It will be different for me."

'What I heard was a tornado'

Buttrys ride out storm as twisters hit close to home in Bowling Green

By Keith Taylor
Citizen Publisher

Shane Buttry had an uneasy feeling when he left practice last Friday night at Bowling Green High School.

"I remember coming out of practice and thinking, 'good gracious, it's warmer (then) than it was (Friday) morning. It was so much warmer and it was just crazy — that's not the way it supposed to be in December around here."

Buttry, former boys basketball coach at Madison Southern High School and a native of Berea, was watching a local news channel (WBKO) when the station went off the air as a tornado hit Warren County, part of a rare December outbreak that tore through five different states.

"When all this started happening at 1 a.m. in the morning, I was watching the live newscast (WBKO) and they went off the air all of the sudden, because they were looking the camera in the town and saw a dark spot (on the radar)," Buttry said. "The next thing you know, their doors were shaking and they went off the air."

Soon after, Buttry heard what he thought was an emergency siren, but discovered it was actual sounds from the wind near

Tourism moves ahead on Tolle Building makeover

By Andy McDonald
For The Citizen

The Berea Tourism Commission voted to field estimates for renovating the Mitchell Tolle building at 633 Chestnut Street, which is to be the city's future welcome center. The vote at last Wednesday's business meeting was unanimous.

In preparation for occupying the building, Commission Chair Patrick Huston noted tourism officials have identified 40 items that need to be addressed, some of which have to do with Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements.

Huston said commission members worked with Berea Mayor Bruce Fraley on how to address the improvements, and that the list of projects will now be used to draft requests for proposals to determine how much the upgrades will cost and which of those improvements should take priority.

"I want everyone to know that we are fully committed to moving forward. We've had multiple conversations about occupying this building. We're getting different ideas and we just want to make sure that we're making the best decisions for everybody in Berea," Huston said.

Huston noted the commission will likely address the most critical items on the list, move into the building, and then pursue the remaining projects. "We're looking to do things in phases. We're not looking to do a multi-million-dollar renovation," Huston continued. "Initially we want to move in at the lowest cost possible, so we're really trying to fix the things that have to be fixed."

Before the vote, Commissioner Richard Thomas stated that while he supports upgrades in the former Tolle building, tourism needs to formulate a city-wide facility plan to determine how all of the department's buildings will be used. Thomas expressed reservations about shifting to occupy the Tolle building without more specific plans for the L&N Train Depot, which currently serves as an anchor for Old Town commerce.

"This committee made a promise that we would not vacate the depot without some plan that would generate traffic that would replace the traffic that is currently going into the depot," Thomas said. "Obviously this building [Tolle building] has been sitting for too long, and we need to get moving, but I think this committee needs to come up with a comprehensive plan of how we're going to use this building."

Huston replied by noting the commission plans to continue using the depot as a welcoming point for motorcoach traffic coming into Berea, a growing sector of tourism industry. Officials said the goal is for Berea to host over 100 buses in a given year. Thomas, however, questioned whether that would be enough foot traffic to sustain the Old Town business district.

Huston emphasized that while Tourism's commitment to Old Town remains the same, it's time to move ahead on the Tolle building.

"I do want to be clear in that we are not abandoning Old Town at all. We are not leaving the train station right now. But I think what we're looking to do with the Tolle Building is very different than the train station...creating a place where families and individuals can come and see more of what is offered in Berea."

Commissioner Laura Carpenter suggested they should tackle one objective at a time.

"If you chase two rabbits, you're not going to get either rabbit," Carpenter said. "To me, the depot is running and it's very effective right now. I think our issue at hand is we need to move forward with this [Tolle building]. We've already got the public asking 'When are you going to do it?' This has been in gridlock for a long time. So, I think we need to move forward on what you all are proposing here to get our bids. Let's do something with this Mitch Tolle building."

"I agree with Laura," said Commissioner Charles Arnold. "It's time to occupy the building and move forward."

Commissioner Kristy Napier stated once the Tolle building can be occupied, it will help solve some of tourism's space problems, whether it concerns storage or the hosting of Tourism's Hands On Workshops.

Currently the Berea Farmer's Market is using the Tolle Building as an indoor venue until it can be upgraded enough to be occupied for use by Berea Tourism. On Saturday, both the Tolle building and the former Ford building next to the pavilion saw significant foot traffic with the farmer's market Annual Holiday Extravaganza, and Winter Cheer, an event sponsored by Berea Parks and Recreation and Berea Kids Eat. The family friendly holiday event featured crafts, food and a visit from Santa Claus.

In related news, the commission unanimously voted to approve the final details of the Chestnut Street Pavilion, including $7,300 for signage.

Stockton Mortgage: 20 Years of Building a Presence and Maintaining a Culture

Stockton Mortgage has reached an exciting milestone as a full-service, independent mortgage bank celebrating 20 years of business in the mortgage industry.

Headquartered in Frankfort, Kentucky, and founded by David Stockton in 2001, Stockton's product offerings have expanded over the last two decades in response to the growing need for affordable housing options in the communities they serve.

"I went into the mortgage business wanting to provide for my family and make a good living, but one of the most surprising things about this industry I had not realized is that you can help people," says President and Owner David Stockton. "You can really make an impact on other people's lives: first time homebuyers, helping people refinance, consolidate debt – whatever it is they need."

Stockton Mortgage is equipped to meet the needs of their customers with their unique in-house approach.

"Having the ability to control our own service allows us to compete with large players in the marketplace but also be small enough to still have a family-feel: that is Stockton Mortgage," explains VP of Strategic Growth and Corporate Development, Jeff Ratanapool.

Stockton's mortgage bankers work alongside the same in-house underwriters and processors to get customers approved quickly, guiding them along the homebuying journey, from application to close.

That flexibility in providing unique mortgage solutions for a variety of borrowers has much to do with the team at Stockton Mortgage, which is now over 275 employees strong. Having started as one man in a small shop and expanding to a mortgage bank with 37 branches across 10 states, and licensed in 21 states", President David Stockton and his team have put great emphasis in maintaining a friendly and personalized approach to service and culture.

"We have loan numbers for every mortgage, but we have always called loan files by the name of the borrower, because we know the people in the communities we serve and that has never changed. It isn't just a loan number – there's a family behind the door," says VP and Director of IT and Marketing, Anthony Whiteside. "Starting small has helped us to realize that when you talk about Mr. Smith down the street, you know he is anxious about his loan and what matters most to him. Keeping the families who are behind these mortgages in mind throughout the process has helped us retain our culture and enabled us to better serve so many over these last 20 years."

Stockton Mortgage has always been on the leading-edge in terms of technology and making home loans easy.

"Our customers can apply online, meet with a home loan expert virtually from the comfort of their home, upload loan documents from their smart phone, and close their loan without having to step foot inside a branch. We wanted our look to reflect the modern approach we take to providing these types of tools and resources," says VP and Director of Sales, Kris Vanzant.

In 2020, Stockton Mortgage unveiled a new logo and refresh of the brand's look and feel, a move that was well-timed as the company saw record growth the same year. In addition to refining their earmark, Stockton Mortgage's presence has been amplified by voices recognizable to many sports fans across the state as the official mortgage provider of Kentucky Sports Radio. Making headlines again among sports fans, Stockton Mortgage also signed standout University of Kentucky wide-receiver

Wan'Dale Robinson to the largest contract for any UK athlete on the heels of the state's NIL legislation, making Robinson Stockton Mortgage's first official athletic spokesperson.

As for future for growth, President Stockton says he is looking forward to the next 20 years.

"We are very focused on maintaining the culture that we started with. Our commitment to the families in our communities will be the driving force through the next twenty years just as they were during the first twenty - and we are excited to see what that future brings for us," says President David Stockton.

OBITUARIES

Stanley B. Whitaker

Stanley B. Whitaker, 81, of Kirksville, passed away at his home on Sunday, December 12, 2021.

He was born in Madison County on Sunday, February 18, 1940, the son of the late Russell and Nell Miller Whitaker. Stanley graduated from Madison Central High School in the Class of 1958, where he played basketball and baseball. His enjoyment of sports through the years led him to serve as a Baseball Umpire for Madison Central High School and he was an avid UK Basketball fan.

Stanley had served as a Volunteer Firefighter with Richmond Fire Department. He was a member of the Kirksville Baptist Church and served on the Kirksville Community Center Board of Directors. He worked in the Maintenance Department of Parker-Seal Company for 40 years and had served as an EMT with Madison County Ambulance Service for over 23 years.

Eleanor Land; special friends, Barbara Spencer and Jimmy Cornelison; 12 Grandchildren, Kathy Broadus, Michael Whitaker, Anthony Whitaker, Christina Buscher, Trevor Hoover, Sarah Robinson, Matthew Robinson, Brandon Hacker and Chase Whitaker, Josh Oliver, Brent Oliver and Megan Oliver; 11 Great-grandchildren, Dylan Broadus, Gavin Broadus, Weston Buscher, Adaleigh Buscher, Tucker Oliver, Ethan Oliver, Jayden Thacker, Kyria Oliver, Sierra Oliver, Ari Barrett and Ava Barrett.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Elmer Masters and a sister, Betty Spears. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Friday, Dec. 17, 2021, at Combs, Parsons & Collins Funeral Home with Bro. Dennis Hisle and Bro. Butch Pennington officiating. Entombment will follow in Madison Memorial Gardens. Visitation will be from 5-8 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home.

Veronica Robbins

Veronica Robbins, 53, wife of Roy Lucas passed away Saturday Dec. 11, 2021 after a brief illness. Veronica was born in Oklahoma to the late Ronald and Julia Gabbard. She had been a firefighter at Sand Gap Volunteer Fire Dept, an LPN and EMT in Rockcastle County and she was currently working at the Bluegrass Army Depot.

Veronica is survived by her husband Roy Lucas, her brother Brad Gabbard, and niece Allison Gabbard, and nephew Sean Gabbard. Funeral services will be Thursday Dec. 16, 2021 at Lakes Funeral Home with Pastor Shannon Franklin officiating. Burial will be in the Berea Cemetery. Pallbearers will be George Clark, Chris Gay, Dylan Hensley, Dustin Cates, Michael Cromer and Gary Miracle. Honorary bearers will be Allison Gabbard, Jennifer Clark, Cheryl Ezle and Anita Barron.

Diane M. Gibbs

Diane M. Gibbs was born August 10, 1969 in Kettering, Ohio to Lloyd Bowles and the late Mary Lee Bowles. Sadly, she passed away at the age of 52 on Wednesday, December 8, 2021 in her home surrounded by her family. She graduated from Miamisburg High School in 1987 and worked at the Terrace Nursing and Rehabilitation Center for the past 8 years.

In addition to her mother, she is preceded in death by her brother Gary Bowles and sister-in-law Barb Bowles. Diane is survived by her sister Tammy (Adam) Holt of Berea, Kentucky; three children: Ashley (Steven) Taylor, Kristan (Cody) Doench, and Matthew Gibbs; and one granddaughter, Ally Doench all from Ohio. She is also survived by three nieces: Taryn (Brian) Sims, Tiffany (Dave) Stangle, and JoAnna (Sam) Smith; one nephew, Dylon (Skylar) Orth; and one great niece, Addie Stangle.

She has joined her new heavenly home and we will miss her smile, laughter and her love she had for her children, family and friends.

A memorial service was held on Saturday, December 11, 2021 from 4-6 p.m. Bro. Darren Slone provided a message at 5:30pm at Lakes Funeral Home, to celebrate her life and remember her along with her family.

Wanda Lee Thiele

Wanda Lee Thiele, 88, of Florence Kentucky, passed away on December 8, 2021. She was born in Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on January 3, 1933, to Charles Everett and Iva Myrtle (Scott) Shelton.

The year following her graduation from Mt. Vernon Township High School, Wanda married Ronald Lee Gowler on January 25, 1952. After Ronald's death in 1990, she was single for ten years before marrying Kurt Robert Thiele on August 23, 2000. Kurt died on January 27, 2021.

Wanda is survived by her children, Steve (Teresa) Gowler of Berea, and Rhonda (Gary) Gowler Greene of Orchard Lake, Michigan; seven grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and many step-children, step-grandchildren, and step-great-grandchildren.

In addition to her parents and husbands, Wanda was preceded in death by six older siblings: Charles Hall Shelton, Hazel Shelton, Gladys (Shelton) Estes, Vera (Shelton) Scott, Raymond Shelton, and Myrtle Mae (Shelton) Lipe.

For the past 50 years Wanda was an active member of Florence Baptist Church in Florence, Kentucky. She participated in Sunday School and the Women's Missionary Union, worked in the nursery, and was always ready to help others through the church's outreach programs.

A homemaker and a successful, self-employed saleswoman, Wanda was a longtime Avon Representative. For several years she served as a Volunteer Ambassador at the International Cincinnati Airport. Wanda loved to travel.

She sometimes flew in the small plane piloted by her husband, Kurt, and she especially enjoyed her travels to Alaska, Hawaii, and Europe.

Beloved wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend, she will be sorely missed.

A memorial service for Wanda was at Union Church on Saturday, December 11 at 2 p.m.

There was a brief graveside service at Mt. Vernon Memorial Gardens in Woodlawn, Illinois, on Tuesday, December 14 prior to interment.

Donations honoring Wanda may be made to Hope Ministries of Northern Kentucky, 263 Main St., Florence, Kentucky 41042 (www.hopenky.org) or to the American Heart Association (www.heart.org).

Time to come together to help our neighbors

Like many of you, I was awakened by a weather alert on Saturday morning. It wasn't one typical for December.

The buzzing sound on Rhonda's cell phone was followed by the sound of the weather alert sirens. That's when I knew something wasn't good and turned on the local news stations, alternating from one to the other to find out what had transpired overnight.

I looked outside our home and didn't notice anything, with the exception that it was eerily calm. I counted one lightening strike and maybe two cracks of thunder all while a tornado warning was in effect for Madison County.

The radar on the television channels indicated rotation all around our county and the same storm system that created a 200-mile path of destruction to the western part of Kentucky and four other states was moving through the rest of the Commonwealth.

In between scanning the radar and keeping track of the news, word quickly spread of towns being wiped out and a trail of destruction that typically occurs along the Midwest during the spring as the weather transitions from winter to spring. A candle factory suffered the biggest loss of life. Possibly 50 or more workers lost their lives during what may be considered the worse tornado outbreak in state history, possibly surpassing the Super Outbreak on April 3-4 1974.

The images and video produced by various media sources after daybreak on Saturday morning were heartbreaking. Two weeks before Christmas, hundreds of people have no home to return to, while the City of Mayfield looks like a war zone, rather than a small town decked out for the holidays. A state economy already struggling to rebound from a pandemic, suffered another blow as many workers will have no place to work this week.

Some areas in Madison County received damage from the storms, but for the most part, nothing like our Western Kentucky counterparts and we pray those families are able to get their feet back on the ground as quickly as possible.

I traveled to South Bend later Saturday to cover the Kentucky-Notre Dame basketball game and couldn't help but think and pray for families and the lives we lost during those rare December tornadoes and thought of ways we, as a community, can pitch in and help.

We have teamed up with Whitaker Bank of Madison County and will be taking donations this week that will be given to help the relief efforts now under way in Western Kentucky. Those donations can be left at all of our Whitaker Bank locations in Berea, Richmond, Waco and Mount Vernon. Make checks payable to the Kentucky Baptist Convention. C/O Disaster Relief.

Overcoming holiday stress

By Michelle Martel

LEXINGTON — Do you feel less than joyful during the “most wonderful time of the year?”

If so, you're not alone.

Michelle Martel, a professor and director of clinical training in the Department of Psychology in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Kentucky, says feeling the pressure of the holidays is fairly common. “In my clinical and personal experience, I would say most, but not all, people report increased stress around the holidays. However, only a subset of vulnerable people experiences clinical problems, such as depression and anxiety, around these times.”

From impeccable wreaths to the tree surrounded by a mountain of gifts — creating the “perfect” holiday can be overwhelming. Now, add the stressors that accompany a global pandemic.

“Holidays often also bring up sad memories for people whose loved ones have passed away,” Martel explained. “These stressors can also increase risk for anxiety and depression.”

The good news? Martel has a few tips and tricks to help you beat the bah, humbug.

Schedule ‘me time’

If running around during the holiday season has you feeling frazzled, try to schedule some “me time.” Adults often forget to take time for themselves. Remember, being irritated can undermine everything you are trying to do for your family. You will be more present and pleasant if you take some time for yourself. Even just 10 minutes after the kids are in bed to have a cup of tea, or taking a few extra minutes in the shower or bath, can give you some added rejuvenation and help you stay more in the holiday spirit.

Stick to your routine

During the holidays, schedules are thrown off and people often travel, which can lead to sleep disturbances, less exercise and activity, and unhealthy eating patterns. To the extent you can, try to maintain the semblance of a routine. That will be soothing for both you and your family. Buying healthy snacks, taking short breaks to stretch or walk and consistent bedtimes can be effective for maintaining good physical health. And encouraging healthy behaviors can have positive downstream effects on mental health and wellness.

Practice self-compassion

Remember, the holidays are difficult for many due to losses/grieving, stress and financial strain. It's ok if you are struggling — it's normal to feel that way, and you are not alone. Take a deep breath, remind yourself you are in good company and you are doing the best you can. Your best is good enough.

Less is more

Often, the things that stress adults out the most are the things that are least important to the rest of the family, including children. I used to become particularly stressed before elaborate holiday dinners, which included endless prep time and clean-up. Turns out, my family is happier with my husband cooking lasagna on Christmas Eve and quick chocolate chip waffles and bacon on Christmas morning. Consider making some changes to your holiday traditions that not only ease your load, but that might actually be a hit with the rest of the family.

Remember it's the thought that counts.

Financial stress is a HUGE source of stress during the holidays. But really, thoughtful gifts count more than the number or the expense of the gift(s). There's no need to break the bank if you can buy, make or write something you know will be sentimental. That will mean more to them than a gift that leaves you stressed about debt for months afterward.

Change it up

For families grieving or going through loss at the holidays, I always recommend changing it up. If you know you can't get through the same old holiday traditions without a loved one, do something different. Go on a trip, go to a different person's house, celebrate at a different time of day or start a new tradition. This will make it easier to get through the first set of holidays until enough time has passed for you to be able to consider a return to the old traditions without too much grief and pain.

Ask for help

You don't have to do it all alone. Ask for help from your partner, close family, extended family, friends or even a mental health professional. Many hands do make light work. And in any case, it is very normal to struggle with anxiety or depression at the holidays, and new telehealth options make therapy more accessible than ever before.

Most popular gift 25 years ago

It's easy for adults to experience a little nostalgia when holiday shopping for their children. The holiday season has long been considered a special time of year, and much of that magic can be traced to the joy kids feel when unwrapping gifts from mom, dad and, of course, Santa Claus. Many parents who now have youngsters at home grew up in the 1990s.

When such moms and dads are shopping for holiday gifts this season, they might wonder what was the must-have item for them back when they anxiously awaited the arrival of Christmas morning? According to Insider.com, who worked in conjunction with the Strong National Museum of Play in Rochester, New York, 1996 was the year of “Tickle Me Elmo.” This ticklish toy was the most sought-after item of the 1996 holiday season, and it was so popular that retailers experienced shortages. Those shortages led to some surprising sales on the secondary market, with figures that will undoubtedly drop some jaws even now, a quarter century after the Tickle Me Elmo craze erupted. Though the Tickle Me Elmo doll retailed for around $30 in 1996, some parents intent on getting their youngsters the most in-demand gift that year reportedly spent more than $1,000 on a single doll. To put that latter figure into perspective, data from the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis indicates that the average price of a new car in 1996 was $18,525. And according to Yahoo! Finance, drivers in the market for a used car in 1996 could have purchased a 1986 four-door Oldsmobile for just over $2,600.

Fight at game brings suspensions; sheriff arrested on assault charge

HAZARD (KT) – A fight between two teams during a girls’ high school basketball game in Perry County last week has led to the suspension of several players and an assault charge against one of the assistant coaches, who is also the Owsley County sheriff.

State Police at the Hazard Post said on Dec. 3, troopers responded to Perry County Central High School on an assault complaint that occurred during a girls’ high school basketball game with Owsley County.

During a fight between players in the third quarter, the KSP alleges Owsley County Sheriff Brent Lynch, who is also part of the coaching staff for Owsley County High School, assaulted one of the players. An arrest warrant was issued by Perry District Court on Tuesday, charging Lynch with fourth-degree assault, which is punishable by up to a year in jail, if found guilty.

He was arrested by the Owsley County Sheriff’s Office on Thursday and was lodged at the Three Forks Regional Jail in Lee County.

The KSP says the incident remains under investigation, and more charges could be forthcoming.

• RECIPE OF THE WEEK •

Recipe from the heart

As an only child, I was afforded the opportunity to do many things with my mom, especially around the holidays. One of the things we did was make cookies. I always looked forward to making this particular cookie because they were and still are my favorites! They are made with cake mix and have a fudgy center.
Libby Horn

Chocolate Crackles

Ingredients

1 (1 lb 2.25 ounce) box of devil's food cake mix
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 Tablespoon water
1/2 cup Crisco or other solid vegetable shortening

Confectioners Sugar

Directions

• Combine cake mix, eggs, water and shortening. Mix with a spoon until well blended
• Shape dough into balls the size of small walnuts. Roll balls in the confectioners sugar
• Place on greased baking sheet and bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes.

Makes approximately 48 cookies

Good news. Rates just got lower.

Im excited to announce auto insurance rates just went down. I can help you find coverage that works for you. LET’S TALK TODAY.

Susie Tussey was a pillar to our community

Every community has those people that everyone knows and loves, and Kirksville certainly has had a few over the years. Susie Tussey was one of those people.

Susie was married to Doug Tussey and was a mother to Jennifer Tussey Ulmer. Susie lived in Kirksville, and ran the Roundhill Store for several years. She was a kind soul that always had a story to tell, a hug to give, and a smile to greet. Our community lost Susie this past week.

Susie has cooked breakfast or lunch for and shared a meal with almost every Kirksville citizen. When I was in college one of my favorite things to do on my shorter days was to go sit at the store during the mid-afternoon lull and chat with Susie. She often told me stories of my grandparents and my dad from years past. Susie was never too busy to sit and talk with me, or anyone else who needed a friend or a listening ear. She always had a kind heart for her community. I was fortunate enough to have her ask me to pitch in and help out at the store from time-to-time, and I, along with many, many others, loved her dearly.

Carrie Grant

Kirksville has suffered several losses in the last year. Susie's passing is one that no doubt has hit many in our community with great significance, none any greater than that of the family that she loved and praised so often with every visit to the store or every encounter in years after. My prayers and thoughts go out to her family and closest friend during this difficult time.

Berea salutes Pvt. First Class Theodore "Coty" West

They came from Berea, Paint Lick and Richmond, Mt. Vernon, Lexington, and McKee, all to honor one of Berea's bravest. Private First-Class Theodore "Coty" West was laid to rest Saturday, December 9, 2006, at Richmond Cemetery after services were conducted at Berea Baptist Church.

West was killed by an improvised explosive device (IED) in Iraq on November 29, 2006. He was assigned to the Bravo Company 2-5 Calvary of the First Calvary Division based at Fort Hood, Texas. West had only been in Iraq for a month prior to the time of his death. Over 500 people lined Chestnut Street in Berea during the ceremony waving flags and paying tribute to the life and service of West.

Libby Horn

in the works was a marathon 36-hour dance at Memorial Park that was to include dancing from as many countries as possible. The Berea Weavers Guild planned to organize weaving, spinning and fiber arts workshops. Sune Fredrickson, one of the steering committee members said Danish events would be included. Fredrickson pointed out that the festival needed to start small and grow. "We are paving the road while we are walking on it. We will make mistakes, but we will learn, and we will succeed." Gwen Childs, director of the Berea Arts Council and Peggy Burgio, assistant director of student crafts at Berea College, suggested inviting all members of the Kentucky Guild, as well as other juried Kentucky artists to come and sell their wares. "We need to please our customers if this is going to be a success." Jackson said, pointing out that Berea had a reputation for top quality, which could be useful in promoting the event.

'Dan-tucky' connection strong in Berea

Berea dancers started Danish dances and Danes and Kentuckians started visiting across the Atlantic sometime in the 1920's. Berea College dance teacher, Ethel Capps, encouraged the exchange. George Bidstrup from Denmark helped found North Carolina's Campbell Folk Center and he came to the Christmas Country Dance School as well. No one was sure just when Berea's Danish connection began, but by the 1970's, John Ramsay was taking students to Denmark to learn Danish traditional dances and to show the Danes Appalachian dancing. Since that time (through press time in 2006), over 2,500 Danes and Bereans had visited each other. In 1993, the Berea Folk Circle invited the first of about 15 Danes to come to Berea and start building a stronger tie. In 2006, Anja Lund and Mathias Larsen were in Berea teaching Danish gymnastics, wellness and dance as a part of the college exchange program called Danish American Exchange (DAE). Lund said one of the biggest differences she had noticed was the American education system. "In Denmark, there would be 100 students to a class. Here it is much smaller. You can relate to the teacher one-on-one." She did point out that Danish government paid for education through college for anyone who made good grades. Larsen says what he had noticed was the diversity within the U.S.

Army Depot replaces munitions pallets

After months of hard work, the employees of the Blue Grass Chemical Activity (BGCA) had safely completed the replacement of some of the aging wooden pallets holding the chemical weapon stockpile stored locally. The stockpile consisted of more than 100,000. Munitions loaded with nerve and blister agents, which had been stored in Central Kentucky for more than six decades. Originally created as a deterrent against any enemies who might use chemical weapons against the United States, changes in military strategy, U.S. policy changes and Presidential direction had rendered the chemical stockpile obsolete. The stockpile was stored in earthen covered igloos at the Blue Grass Army Depot (BGAD). Last year (2005), chemical workers and ammunitions surveillance experts conducted a special study to determine the condition of the wooden pallets holding the chemical munitions. "We found that the time had come to take productive steps with the pallets to ensure the continued safety of the stockpile," said Lieutenant Tom Closs, BGCA Commander. "even our newest munitions, the nerve agent projectiles and rockets have been stored on the same wooden pallets for over forty years."

International Festival could be a new thing this spring

When the Kentucky Guild decided to move its spring crafts fair to Covington, it left a large hole in Berea's calendar. However, a new event was being considered to fill in the hole. A group of Bereans were planning an international festival for May 17 - 20, 2007. "The Arts and Crafts Capital is going international," said Belle Jackson, Berea Tourism director. Jackson was a part of a fairly large group of Berea crafters, educators and businesspeople who were forming the steering committee for the new festival. The festival was receiving enthusiastic support from the college and the city. The plan was for the festival to include traditional arts, food, and music in addition to the international varieties. Already

Be good for goodness sake!

I got sidetracked from my original idea of an article about Christmas memories both good and bad. Everyone started talking about getting in trouble and getting paddled at school. (You can guess the group was all men.) The more they talked, the more they remembered. They all had stories, and some had lots of stories; but they shall remain anonymous.

Tammy Whittamore

The old school punishment was the small circle on the blackboard for your nose. The student had to stand on their tiptoes to reach. The student might have to stand like that for a long time. An unusual punishment mentioned was writing in roman numerals from 1 to 1,000. Another classic punishment was the "Good-nature and good-sense must ever join; To err is human, to forgive, divine." You would have to write this paragraph many, many times. One remembered a friend that was talented enough to use two pencils to double his output. Another unpleasant punishment mentioned was the ruler to your fingers.

The paddling was the ultimate punishment and was to be feared. The paddles were custom made by the industrial department for the teachers. There were different designs and materials (wood or acrylic) used for the paddles. Some had holes to reduce the drag and increase the force. The paddles could be short and wide or long and thin. The paddles might even have a nickname!

A few boys made it their mission to be paddled by each teacher. Then they would compare which one was the worst. Some boys would earn bragging rights by getting paddled the most times in the school year. If there was a choice between detention and paddling, most boys took the paddling. Back in the day if your parents knew you got in trouble at school, you would get another whipping at home.

The teachers had their different techniques. Some would make you grab your ankles. Some might send you to the office to be paddled, while others might paddle you in front of the whole class. It would certainly leave an impression while bringing you to tears and leaving you bruised.

There was a story told about a bully getting a whipping. He was leaning over the seats for his whipping and managed to pull them up from the floor. He had to stand up during class for days afterward.

One guy remembered looking deep into his stocking to check for coal. He half expected to find some, but he never did. So, remember that Santa Claus is watching you and be good for goodness sake!

Those self-help books can get a buy in big trouble

You may remember the story about the husband who had read one of those self-help books called "How to be a Real Man." After finishing the book, he stormed into the kitchen, pointed his finger in his wife's face and said: "From now on, you'd better realize I'm the man of the house and my word is law. I want you to cook three meals a day for me, complete with desert. When I finish my supper, I want you to prepare me a bath so I can relax. And, when I'm finished with my bath, guess who's going to dress me and comb my hair?"

His wife replied: "The funeral director would be my guess."

That husband learned that some of those self-help books can land a fellow in big trouble.

There's one book we can always count on to point us the right direction. That's the Bible. It's the best-selling book of all time with billions of copies in circulation.

Within the Bible is the book of Proverbs, which is an amazing compilation of truths to guide us in our daily lives.

You may have heard that the late evangelist Billy Graham made a habit of reading a chapter of Proverbs every day, along with other scriptures from the Old and New Testaments. He wanted the wisdom of Proverbs to lodge in his heart and mind.

King Solomon, the writer of Proverbs, had asked God for wisdom. God answered that prayer in abundance, and Solomon shared his wisdom in the book of Proverbs so that others could benefit.

Some of the greatest scriptures in the Bible are found there, covering just about issue or situation you might encounter in life.

I love the verses from Proverbs 2:10-11 that says, "When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul, discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee."

Roger Alford

Perhaps you remember those School House Rock TV spots that declared: "It's great to learn, because knowledge is power." Solomon was essentially saying that very thing long, long ago. When we have knowledge and the wisdom to use it, we can deal with whatever life throws at us.

When Solomon said wisdom, knowledge and understanding "shall preserve thee" and "keep thee," he's saying they allow us to make decisions that can save our lives or someone else's.

Newspapers routinely publish articles about people who learned CPR or the Heimlich maneuver and saved lives because they knew exactly what to do when someone collapsed or choked.

So, Solomon was absolutely right: Knowledge is power. But unlike that husband who pointed his finger in his wife's face, we need to make sure we're getting that knowledge from the right book.

“What I heard was a tornado,” he said. “Everybody says it sounds like a train engine or whatever and it did. That’s exactly what I heard. We have some trees in our back yard that are about 30 foot tall. I looked out there and they were leaning over almost sideways and they’re really big trees. I could see debris and limbs and stuff blowing everywhere. ... It didn’t seem like it lasted but maybe a couple of minutes. That wind was gone.”

Buttry and his family safely survived the storm by gathering in the bathroom in the center of the house, but nearly two miles from his residence, the deadly twister damaged several homes in the area. He said the family finally went to bed after 4 a.m. on Saturday morning after storms had passed through the area.

The Buttrys reside about a mile and a half from Nashville Road, where some of the heaviest tornado damage was reported.

“I drove through (the area) the next morning and I couldn’t even recognized the houses,” he recalled. “There were trees everywhere laying on top of houses. There were maybe a few telephone poles that were still standing — lines, in the road, people pulling trees out of the road — we had looked at a house on that road (nearby) when we first moved down here and was trying to look at it driving down that road. I couldn’t event recognize it. It had a tree laying on it, going into the roof. It was unrecognizable.”

Overall, a total of 15 fatalities were reported in Bowling Green, including two infants, five juveniles and the oldest victim listed at 77 years-old. As of Tuesday, 109 Kentuckians were missing, including 22 in Warren County. Buttry said the damage was widespread.

“There was a house that was almost like it was cut in half,” he said. “I could see the living room, but the other part of the house had blown away. I’ve heard people describe it like a war zone. That’s really what it looked like, something that had just blown up — everything you could see around you was ruined.

“There are hundreds of houses that are in no way livable.”

Kentucky Governor Andy Beshear announced Monday afternoon the death toll from the weekend tornado outbreak in western Kentucky has risen to 74. Most of those fatalities were in Mayfield, where the tornado wiped pout most of the city and other outlying areas. A candle factory in Mayfield lost eight of its employees in the early-morning tornadoes.

college years, they stay in touch.”

Coming to Silver Creek Elementary was much to do about state legislation. KERA, or the Kentucky Education Reform Act, was put into place in 1990. Among the changes, was putting school counselors into the elementary schools of every county in the state.

During her time prior, Sowers not only taught in Danville city schools, but coached Danville High School to several state championships in track and field. She continued her coaching of cross country and track for Madison Southern. Her 1994 squad won Madison Southern’s first-ever regional tournament trophy in any sport.

Upon arriving at Silver Creek, Angela settled in to a great work experience. Her principal was Sylvia Powell.

“You always remember your first principal. How lucky was I?” Sowers said. “Sylvia was an innovator, and she would implement initiatives ahead of what KERA would do later. Her ideas and methods made us ahead of our time. From the time I was in the second grade, I knew what I wanted to do. I had a brother who was challenged with severe disabilities and that played a part. Also, having wonderful and engaging elementary teachers, helped form my career very early on.”

Sowers will also always be known to Silver Creek students as the founder of the “Bobcat Club.” Every year, students would clamor to part of the fun and activities. Good grades, attendance, and being an even better person were the hallmarks. Truly, it goes without saying, but, “Once a Bobcat, always a BobCat!”

School staff held a reception at Silver Creek last week, honoring the long time educator and Sandy Freeman. A lot familiar faces, covering many past years, came by wish her well in retirement. Probably more important was that each former student, athlete, and colleague was there to share stories of how their lives were made better, through having Mrs. Sowers.

Natural Gas Furnaces Keep Your Family Warm And Cozy

Keep your family comfortable with the warmth of a natural gas furnace. To heat your home, there’s nothing as comfortable as natural gas heat. Gas is reliable, clean and friendly to the environment. It’s no wonder, so many new homes built across the country are designed to use this efficient, inexpensive energy source.

So choose natural gas for your home. You’ll cozy up to warm heat, affordable energy and a safe abundant resource.

TORNADO DISASTER RELIEF TELETHON

'Incredible night'

Kentucky United for Tornado Relief telethon raises more than $3 million

LEXINGTON (KT) — The University of Kentucky Athletics Department raised more than $3 million during a "Kentucky United for Tornado Relief" telethon Tuesday night.

Through the combined efforts of contributors and matching funds, the four-hour event raised nearly $3.1 million that will be given to the American Red Cross to benefit the victims of last Saturday's tornado outbreak in parts of western and central Kentucky. The telethon was shown on WLEX-TV at the Kentucky Farm Bureau Recruiting Room at Kroger Field.

Every head coach on campus, along with student-athletes and staff, handled phone calls from donors.

"On an incredible night, the Big Blue Nation and all of Kentucky continue to show the special bond that exists throughout the people of the commonwealth," said Mitch Barnhart, UK Director of Athletics. "As relief organizations and volunteers continue to help rebuild the lives of so many, we are thankful to all who contributed to the telethon, the volunteers who made it happen, the American Red Cross, WLEX and JMI Sports.

"When you raise more than $3 million in four hours through the hearts of wonderful people who care so deeply about those who are hurting, it's really special. We will continue to find ways to help rebuild, restore, heal and return stronger than before. Our hearts extend this hope and promise to the people of western Kentucky."

coach John Calipari added the telethon was an "unbelievable success and it took a lot of people to make it happen."

"Money like that is usually raised when there is a huge concert or benefit on national television," he said. "This was us coming together as Kentuckians, Big Blue Nation and others, to make sure people in Western Kentucky know that we care, that we're praying for them and that we're willing to put our money where our mouth is.

I want to thank everyone who played a part. We appreciate the American Red Cross for making sure the funds generated over the last couple of days go straight to people in Western Kentucky, and I want to thank WLEX-18 and the UK Sports Network for all of their support in making tonight happen.

Ohio State coach Chris Holtman, whose Buckeyes play Kentucky in the CBS Sports Classic Saturday in Las Vegas, pledged to make a contribution on his Twitter account prior to the telethon and "encouraged Buckeye Nation to do the same."

Iowa Hawkeyes coach Kirk Ferentz also urged his fanbase to follow suite.

"Hawk fans are a passionate fanbase," he said. "Let's show them how compassionate we can be."

Kentucky basketball junior forward Keion Brooks offered his condolences following the team's loss to Notre Dame last Saturday in South Bend.

"I wish we could do more to help because that's devastating what happened to them," he said. "The best thing we can do for them is prayer and be there for them and let them know that you're not alone and you've got people that care for them and want to help them — thoughts and prayers with them."

"Hopefully we can all come together and do some good to help rebuild that community."

Cats play with heavy hearts in loss to Irish

SOUTH BEND (KT) — The last thing on John Calipari's mind was basketball.

The Kentucky coach spent most of the day Saturday pouring through images and television coverage of a devastating tornado that tore through the Bluegrass, especially the western part of the state in the early morning hours. Calipari spent time at the Grotto in South Bend to pray for "everyone affected" by the rare December twisters that left the state in complete shock.

Prior to a 66-62 loss to Notre Dame, the hosts held a moment of silence for the families and victims of the tornado outbreak, considered one of the worse tornado outbreaks in state history.

"The Commonwealth (of Kentucky) really was dealt an unbelievable blow that is going to take decades to fix with (those tornadoes) that came through — the deaths, the destruction and you see pictures," he said. "Our team knew about it (and) we were tracking it. ... we talked about it after the game. We play basketball, but (there was) someone losing their mother, working in a warehouse, working for Amazon, and all of the sudden this happens."

On the court, the Wildcats fell apart down the stretch and suffered a second straight loss to Notre Dame, which entered the contest with a three-game losing streak. The Irish (4-4) edged Kentucky 64-63 last season in Lexington and made it difficult on the Wildcats from start to finish in South Bend.

Kentucky (7-2) never led by more than five points and struggled to match Notre Dame's intensity and it showed down the stretch.

"We weren't playing well, but I was happy that we were fighting," Calipari said. "And then we hit that stretch (in the second half) where we played not to lose ... I believe that's what it is. I'm coaching to win the whole game to win. Until the horn blows then I know we lost."

Although Oscar Tshiebwe led the Wildcats with a career-high 25 points followed by Fort Wayne native Keion Brooks with 12, Kentucky wasn't successful from long range. The Wildcats made just two shots on 19 attempts from the 3-point line. Calipari hopes his team's shooting performance was a fluke and added lapses on defense played a role in his team's downfall.

Oscar Tshiebwe scored 25 points in Kentucky's 66-62 loss to Notre Dame last Saturday in South Bend. The Wildcats fell to 7-2 on the season and had a seven-game winning streak snapped. (UK Photo)

City hikes pay for pool employees

By Andy McDonald
For The Citizen

The Berea City Council unanimously voted to increase the wages of seasonal employees who work at Berea City Pool. Tuesday's vote was in response to widespread wage increases in the region that have come in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic. Officials said the move is an effort to keep the city competitive this spring when it comes to hiring pool employees.

Because the city raised the pool admission rates by $1 in 2019, it will not have to raise the fee to cover increased labor costs. Councilman Steve Caudill noted the pool will still not operate at a profit, but that the amount the city has subsidized the facility will not change significantly. Additional personnel costs for the pool will be approximately $24,000 a season, officials said.

"Essentially we would have the same deficit that we have budgeted in the last two fiscal years by having this increase in pay rate," Caudill said.

Officials considered whether the city should raise rates to cover additional costs, but that was rejected because the pool might then become too expensive for economically disadvantaged families.

"We recognize it's important that we don't have rates become such that it's a problem for our citizens," Caudill said. "This is a service no different than what we provide with other parts of parks."

Eagle Scout constructs boxes to retire American flags

By Andy McDonald
For The Citizen

If you have ever wondered what to do with an American flag that has become too faded or torn to fly, Richmond resident Carter Sizemore, 17, has provided a solution.

As an Eagle Scout candidate for Boy Scouts of America Troop 2014, Sizemore came up with a plan approximately two years ago to construct boxes where Madison County residents could honorably retire their used-up American flags. As a sign of respect, distressed flags should not be thrown away, but should instead be either be buried or burned. With the addition of the flag collection boxes, residents can now allow the Boy Scouts to take that final step of retiring a flag.

Sizemore said he came up with the idea after hearing a discussion between his parents. That was when he was 15, but then came the COVID-19 pandemic, which delayed the project. On Monday, however, Sizemore's boxes were finally completed, as he and public officials met in the lobby of the Berea Police Department to unveil three of the four boxes he constructed.

Last September, Sizemore unveiled a flag collection box in front of the Madison County Courthouse, while the remaining three were

Man arrested on child porn charge

The Kentucky State Police (KSP) Electronic Crime Branch located and arrested Zachery Nelson Feltner, 21, on charges related to a child sexual abuse material investigation.

Feltner was interviewed and arrested as the result of an undercover Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) investigation. The KSP Electronic Crime Branch began the investigation after discovering the suspect distributing sexually explicit images online.

The investigation resulted in the execution of a search warrant at 1003 Whippor-

will Drive, Berea, on December 21, 2021. Equipment used to facilitate the crime was seized and taken to KSP's forensic laboratory for examination. The investigation is ongoing.

Feltner is currently charged with one count of distribution of matter portraying a minor under the age of 12 in a sexual performance. This charge is a Class-C felony punishable by five to ten years in prison. Feltner was lodged in the Madison County Detention Center.

The Kentucky Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force is comprised of more than twenty-six local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies.

The mission of the ICAC Task Force, created by the United States Department of Justice and administrated by the Kentucky State Police, is to assist state and local law enforcement agencies in developing a response to cyber enticement and child sexual abuse material investigations.

2 tornadoes confirmed

Two tornadoes were confirmed in Madison County by the National Weather Service on Monday.

Damage occurred in the Kirksville area and northern Madison County and both tornadoes were confirmed as EF-1 by the National Weather Service.

The first storm produced a tornado at 4:31 a.m. along I-75 and Colonel Road in Richmond produced win speeds of 90 miles per hour.

The wins in the second tornado in the Kirksville area also produced 90 MPH winds.

Gloria Jean Watkins

Gloria Jean Watkins (bell hooks) of Berea, transitioned to her final chapter on December 15, 2021 after an extended illness. The family honored her wish to be at home surrounded by family and friends. Gloria was born on September 25, 1952 in Hopkinsville to Veadis and Rosa Bell Watkins. Although she embraced some Buddhist beliefs she remained a member of the Virginia Street Baptist Church, Hopkinsville.

She was a 1970 graduate of Hopkinsville High School and went on to earn a B.A. from Stanford University in Palo Alto, CA; M.A. from University of Wisconsin Madison; and PhD in Literature from University of CA at Santa Cruz. She gained international fame as an author, feminist, intellectual, and cultural critic. After traveling the globe Gloria returned to KY as distinguished professor at Berea College and made her home

there since 2004. She published over 40 books and 5 children's books under the pen-name bell hooks which she adopted from her maternal great-grandmother Bell Blair Hooks. To date her books are published in over 15 different languages.

Her awards and accolades are too numerous to list but the family wanted to highlight the following:

- 2001.....International Literary Hall of Fame Inductee
- 2015..... The bell hooks Institute was established at Berea College
- 2018..... KY Writers Hall of Fame Inductee
- 2020....."All About Love :New Visions" made top 10 for paperback of New York Times Best Seller List
- 2021.....Berea College -Women & Gender Studies Dept was renamed the bell hooks Center

King. Survivors include brother Kenneth Watkins- Atlanta, GA; sisters Sarah Chambers-Hopkinsville, KY; Valeria Watkins-Berea, KY; Gwenda (Dennis) Motley Hopkinsville, KY; Angela Malone-Tampa, FL; 5 nieces 1 nephew; great nieces and nephews; and 3 great-great nieces

Because Gloria's love for reading began as a child, we felt she would want contributions and memorials to be made to the Christian County Literacy Council (https://www.paypal.com/donate/?hosted_button_id=CGQPNACBYNRZA) which promotes reading for children or the Museums of Historic Hopkinsville Christian County (<https://www.museumsofhopkinsville.org/contact/>) where a biographical exhibit is on display.

Arrangements for cremation will be handled by Lakes Funeral Home.

A Celebration of life service for our beloved sister, and aunt Gloria Jean Watkins will take place at a later time.

Leah Massey-Epling

Mother and Activist Leah Massey-Epling's passion for life will be remembered with love long after her passing.

Leah passed away on December 17, 2021, at the age of 60 after a long battle with diabetes, surrounded by loved ones who will strive to keep her light-hearted, quirky spirit alive.

Leah enjoyed making cute nicknames for everything, playing with her dogs, buying more plants than she needed, baking cookies for loved ones, and was passionate about social justice. Along with the numerous sacrifices she made to put her daughters first, she also opened her arms to all those around her who needed a hand no matter her health struggles.

Leah left this world to join her late father Doug Massey, mother and stepfather Joyce and Carl Kesner, and her nephew Christopher Head in Heaven. She is survived by her two daughters, Lauren and Lyndsey Epling; her sister and brother-in-law Amy and Jon Chas-

Bobbie Ruth Dulaney Helton

Bobbie Ruth Dulaney Helton, 74, of Guynn Road, passed away Monday, December 20, 2021, at her home after a long illness.

Bobbie was born in Dayton, Tennessee to the late John and Mary Ruth Hall Dulaney. She retired from Phillips-Westinghouse in Richmond and continued to work beside her husband running their business, Madison Termite. She was a member of the Church of God faith.

In addition to her parents, she was also preceded in death by her siblings, John Dulaney, Aubrey Dulaney, Floyd Dulaney, and Shirley Abel.

She is survived by her loving husband of more than 52 years, Larry Helton, their daughters, Jennifer Parsons and her husband, Junior, and Tamara Robinson and her husband Rockie; four grandchildren, Ragen (Colton) Sensabaugh, Britten Robinson, Mallory Robinson, and Emily Parsons; and two brothers, Freeman Dulaney and

David Collins; and two special caregivers, Angel Gibson and Raynikkia Hopkins. She is also survived by several nieces, nephews, and a very special aunt and uncle, Ruby and Melvin Hall.

Funeral services will be 1 pm, Thursday, December 23, 2021, at Lakes Funeral Home with Bro. Kenneth Bush officiating. Burial will follow in the Helton Family Cemetery. Visitation will be from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. on Thursday at the funeral home. Pallbearers will be Britten

Robinson, Colton Sensabaugh, Todd French, Aaron Bush, David Bush, Logan Frazier, and Derek Carpenter. Honorary bearers will be Jason Dulaney, and Scott Dulaney.

Facial coverings will be required.

The family would like to thank the staff of Hospice Care Plus for their kindness and gratitude.

Christmas week dream a gift from above

I didn't want to wake up Sunday morning. It's not because I was tired or took lazy to crawl out bed, but rather because I had a dream that I knew was an early gift from above as we usher in the Christmas holiday season.

The holidays, specially Christmas, are a little more tougher, especially after you lose a parent and Saturday will mark two years since we celebrated with mom. Of course it was just all of us family being together, having fun, fellowshiping, laughing and cutting up like most families do this time of the year.

In years past, my uncle

Mike dressed up as Santa Claus occasionally for the kids and we always had fun just being around each other. My favorite thing was mom's country ham, and if you know me, that's one of the items I order off the menu at Cracker Barrel and Dinner Bell. It's hard to beat a good, ole country ham and all of the trimmings and mom certainly knew how to make it taste just right every single time.

Keith Taylor

I got to see mom again and it was during a dream I had Sunday morning, one of the best gifts that I could have ever received this year or any year for that matter. I'm not sure were we were, but mom was cooking up a storm and as she did while she was with us, she cooked the food for others to enjoy more than herself.

During those few hours in deep sleep last Sunday morning, I could smell the country ham, the home-made gravy and biscuits and eggs being prepared for those if use at the kitchen table. Mom made gravy the old-fashioned way and it was hard to beat her gravy.

I couldn't tell you where we were but it all seemed so real and vivid. At the kitchen table was my late papaw Bill May and I turned and there sat my late uncle Jack May right next to him, eating, while mom was cooking away and making sure everyone got what they needed from the kitchen table.

Not knowing whether I was dreaming or in reality, I remember standing there in awe and just soaking it all it since I haven't seen my grandfather and Jack in nearly more than two decades. I remember telling mom I wanted country ham on my plate, and then that was it. I woke up and tried to go back to sleep and step back into the dream, but it didn't happen and that was perfectly fine with me, although I was yearning for more time in dreamland.

That was the perfect Christmas gift and one that I needed from above this year.

As we celebrate in our way Saturday, we are planning to resume our family dinner that mom prepared each Christmas. I'm hoping someone will fry up some country ham so I won't be dreaming about food instead of a white Christmas.

A white Christmas would be nice, too.

Dr. Glenn Mollette

We had difficulties when we were growing up in Martin county, Kentucky but overall, we thought we were doing okay. President Lyndon Johnson came to Inez, Kentucky in 1964 to let us know we weren't doing very well. He began his campaign in our community and we became the poster child for American poverty. We hadn't really thought of ourselves as poor until we started hearing about ourselves in the news.

I had numerous friends who didn't get much for Christmas. Often it was one or two small gifts or nothing at all.

Several classmates at my elementary school in Tomahawk, Kentucky were fortunate if they had a coat to wear in the winter. Ragged looking shoes on a kid's feet during the winter was a common sight.

Several classmates came to school to wash their faces and hands in the boys' bathroom. The school lunch was the only decent meal some of the kids ate during the week.

It was a while before President Johnson's 1964 promises started helping our area. Even with the roll out of government assistance many families subsisted until the coal boom of the seventies which has almost died. Today our county is reinventing itself with agriculture, a service center to aid bitcoin mining, tourism and small businesses.

I don't remember every Christmas, but I remember one. My dad broke his back falling off a barn when I was a child. He was out of work for several months and in those days, we didn't have government safety nets to see us through tough financial times. Christmas came as usual and we did put up a tree. Our family gathered on Christmas Eve and we had food, fellowship and laughter. We always raised a garden and my parents stored food so it came in handy

I expected nothing for Christmas that year because the heaviness of family financial pressure was obvious even as a child. Surprisingly, my mother handed me a small wrapped box that Christmas Eve and said Merry Christmas. I was shocked because I expected nothing that year. Opening the box, I found a watch that had numbers that glowed in the dark. It may have cost $5 but it was priceless to me. I was thrilled and wore it every night to just look at the glowing numbers.

Dad was recuperating that Christmas. His temporary disability and our financial stress made life gloomy for us that year. Yet, here I am remembering that Christmas as one of the best of all. It was during that Christmas that I remember the presence of family. Mom and dad were alive. We had food to eat. We had a roof over our heads and our family had each other.

This may not be your best Christmas, but maybe, just maybe you can still have

Christmas.

The empty chair is painful. Depression is real. Financial or other personal difficulties may have disabled you. Millions have died from COVID-19. Thousands are suffering from horrific tornadoes and loss of life. Hurricanes have pounded us in the East and fires have incinerated our West. In the midst of all this inflation eats away at America's paychecks like an unchecked malignancy.

The message of Christmas is the story of peasant parents, enduring difficult travel, taxes to be paid and no place to sleep but a barn and a cow's trough for their newborn baby.

Somehow, they found strength in each other and in God who brought them and their baby through a very difficult time. We never forget their story and their plight, it's truly a Christmas worth remembering.

We are going to remember this Christmas, no doubt. Somehow, someday, with God's help and each other, may this be a Christmas worth remembering.

Carol history: 'Silent Night'

In 2018, the popular Christmas carol "Silent Night" celebrated the 200th anniversary of its first performance. The lyrics to "Silent Night" were written by Austrian Roman Catholic priest Joseph Mohr in 1816.

Over the years, the melody has been credited to the likes of legendary composers such as Mozart and Beethoven.

However, a manuscript handwritten by Mohr and discovered in 1995 revealed that the Austrian composer Franz Xaver Gruber composed the music to this beloved song.

"Silent Night"

*Silent night! Holy night!
All is calm, all is bright
Round yon Virgin
Mother and Child,
Holy infant so tender
and mild,
Sleep in Heavenly peace!
Sleep in Heavenly peace!*

*Silent night! Holy night!
Shepherds quake at the sight;
Glories stream from Heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing
Alleluia,
Christ, the Saviour,
is born!
Christ, the Saviour,
is born!*

*Silent night! Holy night!
Son of God, Love's pure light
Radiant beams from Thy
Holy face,
With the dawn of redeeming grace,
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth,
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth.*

Recipe from the heart

The Christmas tradition for our family has always been to have brunch after we enjoy the exchange of presents on Christmas morning instead of a big meal. It makes for a much more relaxed day and allow us to enjoy the day.

Christmas Breakfast Sausage Casserole

Ingredients

1 pound ground pork sausage
1 teaspoon mustard powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 eggs beaten
2 cups of milk
6 slice white bread cut into cubes
8 ounces shredded cheddar cheese

Directions

- Crumble sausage into a medium skillet and cook over medium heat until completely cooked.
- In a medium bowl, mix together mustard powder, salt, eggs and milk. Add sausage, bread cubes and cheese and coat evenly.
- Pour into a greased 9 x 13" baking dish.
- Cover and chill in the refrigerator for 8 hours or overnight.
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees F.
- Cover and bake 45 to 60 minutes. Uncover and reduce temperature to 325 degrees F. Bake for an additional 30 minutes or until set.

Manger Visitor Center & Shoppe

SUMMARY

Under the direction of the Director of Business Development and Guest Relations, this position will manage all operations of the Visitor Center & Shoppe, providing high level of service to all its customers. The Manager of the Visitor Center & Shoppe oversees day-to-day operation of the retail store including the sales floor, inventory management, the smoothie bar, and the call center. The manager is responsible for training, supervising, and evaluating students.

RESPONSIBILITIES

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform each essential duty satisfactorily. The requirements listed below are representative of the knowledge, skill, and/or ability required. Regular and predictable attendance is essential. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

- Accountability for meeting the P&L, business planning and execution tactics, daily financial reports, and daily operations for the BC Visitor Center & Shoppe.
- Work with the Director of Business Development and Guest Relations to assure common platforms of service, operations and policy across the retail stores and warehouse
- Prepare, review and report progress on budget and business development plans, as well as monthly financial reports and metrics to Director of Business Development and Guest Relations.
- Maintain and develop business relationships with internal constituents as well as outside partners.
- Manages inventory levels based on current and projected sales trends and utilizes best practices to minimize loss.
- Collaborates with Purchasing and Visual Display Manager to ensure floor is stocked with in-demand merchandise in order to maximize sales and profits.
- Assures operations are up to date with best practices in the campus and retail bookstore industries.
- Responsible for personnel administration of students including but not limited to hiring, training, scheduling, evaluating, and developing.
- Provide and serve as a model for outstanding customer service.
- Understanding of simple food operations in order to operate the campus Smoothie Bar (includes, food safety regulations, food prep, and ordering)
- Manage both the ordering of college regalia and nursing uniforms.
- In support of Berea College's great commitments this position requires student supervision. The fourth great commitment is to promote learning and serving in community through the student labor program, honoring the dignity and utility of all work, mental and manual, and taking pride in work well done. The Supervision would include scheduling, assigning and approving work performed. Developing students about common workplace acumen and giving them tangible work experience is an expected outcome. To learn more about the student labor program and requirements on this position see: Labor Program Goals

Other roles/duties will be assigned as necessary to assist the College in the attainment of the goals set forth and the enhancement of a positive, respectful learning environment for all staff, faculty and students.

Girl Scouts hold court of awards

On Sunday afternoon, approximately 125 friends, family, parents, and leaders gathered in the sanctuary of Union Church for the Girl Scout Court of Awards and Rededication Services. Mrs. John Barton and Mrs. Richard Drake served as ushers for the event. A small exhibit of Junior Girl Scout badge work was arranged for viewing in the vestibule. Mrs. Gordon Ross played a march for the procession of troops following the flag bearers and color guard members that was made up of Cadets under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond VanWinkle. A Girl Scout song was led by Mrs. William Hamilton, who had charge of vesting three Junior Girl Scouts: Teresa Caudill, Cheryl McCauley, and Donna Smith. During the court of Awards ceremony, the first badges earned in the new Girl Scout program were presented to Juniors.

Consolidation set for 2 Army Depots

The Department of the Army announced plans to consolidate the Lexington Army Depot and the Blue Grass Army Depot under one command by June 30, 1964. No adverse economic affect was expected to be felt by the installation, community nor employees. The consolidated depot will retain the same mission as before consolidation with the consolidation principally being applied to financial management, administration, services, and support functions. The intent of the consolidation was to increase the efficiency of the Army's supply program and was consistent with keeping with the Army's economy program. There were to be no operational interruptions. It was anticipated savings would come from attrition and would not result in forced reduction in staff. Employees were to be transferred with the movement of their positions or placement in other jobs at either the Lexington or the Blue Grass facility. There was to be a realignment in the number of reassignment of positions at both depots. The headquarters for the consolidation would be maintained at the Lexington Army Depot. As of press time in 1963, a new name for the combined installation had not been decided.

City takes delivery of new fire truck

The city had accepted delivery of a new of a new fire truck the previous week from the Peter Pirsch Company of Kenosha, Wisconsin. The City of Berea and Berea College footed the $15,000 cost of the new apparatus which sported an enclosed cab, the latest in firefighting equipment and ladders that could react to the third story. The then current rig would remain in possession and operation.

Nursing program gains accreditation

Berea College received news via telegram announcing that the College's Department of Nursing had been given initial accreditation for its Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing, including public health nursing. The accrediting organization bestowing the distinction was the National League of Nursing (Department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Program). Dr. Beulah Miller, department chairperson, said the accreditation followed the report of the visiting committee that was on campus back in October of 1963.

Forest Service to build headquarters

The U.S. Forest Service announced preliminary plans for the construction of administrative headquarters for the Berea Forest Research Center and the Berea District of the Cumberland National Forest. Berea College, through its board of trustees and President Francis S. Hutchins, had given the Forest Service a 99-year lease on a 17-acre building site at the corner of Short Line Pike and Big Hill Road.

According to Regional Forester R.F. Droege of the Eastern Region and R.D. Lane of the Central States Forest Experiment Station, the gift of the lease would permit the U.S. Forestry Service to move forward in effectively carrying on the forestry research and action program in Eastern Kentucky. The building site, in the foothills of the Cumberland Plateau, was adjacent to the Berea College Forest.

Preliminary site plans included an office-laboratory building, greenhouse, equipment storage building, workshop, and a warehouse. It was anticipated that approximately 50 people would conduct the work of the local Cumberland National Forest district and conduct the forestry research program to solve problems in timber management, strip-mine rehabilitation and marketing of forest products. M.J. Williamson, project leader for the research program said that plans called for the building of a workshop and garage in 1964. A $40,000 appropriation had been made for this project by the Accelerated Public Works program. Williams said he thought it would take four to five years before the remaining planned buildings would be completed.

Celebrate the season with tidings of Joy

The way many celebrate Christmas has changed greatly over the years. However, Appalachian culture has encouraged the keeping of many practices and traditions from generation-to-generation. From fruitcake to candles in the windows to deeply held superstitions to the Christmas Story to charitable ways, Appalachia continues to feel like home for holidays and encourages embedding yourself into years past.

Carrie Grant

Christmas is the time of year that I like to bask in memories of yester-year, and take pride in knowing that I am doing things the way one of my great-grandparents did it, or wearing something a grandmother wore, or continuing a tradition my own family started during my early childhood. Though these traditions may adapt in small ways to fit our current situations, there is something comforting about connections to the past, especially when some of those we love have ended their journey with us in this life.

While many in Appalachia enjoy fruitcake as the sweet ending to their holiday meals, my family was always a little different. My nana makes her mother's banana pudding, a treat which many (to no avail) seek the recipe for. The recipe really doesn't read like a recipe would- it's just "a pinch of" or "a dab of" or "a fruit cup of". My granny made a few different sweet treats, but none as great to me as her cherry delight. Growing up I loved being in the kitchen with them both to pick up on the little tips and tricks that they used in their baking. Each of them had their own unique way of doing things, adding to holiday memories that I replay as I bake my own Christmas meals.

As a child, I can remember seeing candles (battery operated of course) in windows of homes often. Now, it is fewer and farther between, but some folks still display these in their home. This tradition stems from Appalachian culture by way of Irish tradition (not simply at Christmas either) as a way of alerting guests that homes were welcoming guests. The tradition was adapted throughout the years to meet modern needs, but has remained a staple in many homes- whether anyone truly knew why they placed them in their window or not.

Around the region, as many sit down to eat their meals, open gifts, or simply gather to celebrate Christmas, the Christmas story is told. One of my favorite traditions from my dad's family is sitting in my grandparents' formal living room around the tree that my granny and I so delicately decorated, listening to my uncle read the Christmas Story from my granny's Bible. On this first Christmas without my paternal grandparents, I would give almost anything to sit at their feet to listen to this story with them one more time. Though much has changed throughout the years, the constant tradition of recognizing the reason for the season has never halted in either side of my family.

Christmas is a favorite holiday for many, but I am always amazed at the folks that we have in our community who have giving hearts and have taken care of Christmases for families in the area without so much as a peep to anyone about their good deed- only known to the few who saw them in the act. Giving to others, for some, is much a tradition as the fruitcake many eat or the candle in the window. As I reflect this holiday season, I realize that many of the examples set for me by family and friends (some of whom have passed this life) have been deeply rooted in their own raising and passing that along to other friends and family in a meaningful way is part of what this holiday is all about- because it's another way to show Christ's love through our own example.

This holiday season, take a moment to reflect on something that maybe your family did that you've missed the last few years, fellowship with loved ones, or do something that will bring light to someone else's life, but no matter what tradition you choose- celebrate the tidings of joy and the love of the one true Heavenly King.

Treasured Christmas Memories

My aunt remembered pressing her face against the glass at the Porter Moore Drugstore. She was nine-years-old, and there was a piano with a black seat that she desperately wanted displayed inside. The rice was $9.99. She said that might not seem like a lot now but back then it was. She didn't know how her parents managed it, but she got that piano for Christmas. She played it until she wore the legs out.

My husband's special gift in the late sixties was an orange Krate Schwinn bike. He remembered seeing it in the big glass window at Britt's Dept Store in the University Shopping Center in Richmond. He just had to have it. He said it really stood out compared to the other regular bicycles. It had a skinny tire on the front and a big slick on the back.

Tammy Whittamore

Other features were a Sissy bar, a banana seat, and a stick shift on the frame. He had the coolest ride for several years. (according to hemmings.com, the price debuted around $86.95 which translates today to around $657!)

Some memorable gifts from my childhood were the EZ Bake oven and a baby doll that ate special food and messed its diaper. The EZ Bake oven output couldn't keep up with us three girls. It was a long wait for a cookie-sized cake! We ran out of the special food mix that came with the baby doll pretty quickly.

Then we just fed it other things which clogged it up. No more diaper changes. When we are kids, we appreciate the presents the most. When we grow older, we appreciate the person who gave us the gift the most. We realize the time our loved one put in searching for the gift. We realize the saving, the sacrifice, and even the making of payments for our gifts. Not to mention, the wrapping and hiding of the gifts. I don't know how my parents managed to provide everything that they did for us kids. I hope you can make special memories this Christmas. Don't expect perfection like the Hallmark movies.

Just embrace reality and have a sense of humor. Put down your phones and be in the minute. Spend time with your family. Be so incredibly grateful if you haven't lost any family members this year. Reach out to those who have and let them know that you care. Gather around the Bible with candlelight and stillness to read Luke's accounting of Jesus' birth. Let Christmas have some meaning.

Religion

Scripture talks about people who are big babies

A man making his first skydive was falling through the air, unable to get his parachute to open. Try as he might, it wasn't budging. In a panic, he yelled to a fellow who was flying up toward him: "Hey buddy, do you know anything about parachutes?"

"No," the fellow responded. "Do you know anything about propane stoves?"

Sounds like the fellows in that old joke needed to read the instructions before they strapped on the parachute or struck the match to light that stove.

Too often, we want to ignore instructions and do things our way, even when we have no idea whatsoever what we're doing. Remember when your kids were small, and you dumped that box of nuts and bolts and pipes and chains and various other parts onto the driveway and set about putting together a swing set, ignoring the instructions altogether.

Then, when you had gotten thoroughly stumped as to what to do next, you finally reached for the instructions.

At times like those, we can feel like what we really need isn't written instructions but a teacher to walk us through the project step by step.

The toughest of life's challenges are easier when we have someone to provide needed guidance and helpful insights. That's especially true when it comes to spiritual challenges. That's when solid Bible teachers are worth their weight in gold.

According to Scripture, solid Bible teachers aren't easy to find. In fact, the Apostle Paul said we have too many people in our churches who are big babies, instead of teachers.

"For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat" (Hebrews 5:12).

Did you get that? The Apostle Paul said these men and women need baby food, not solid food. He was saying, in essence, that they're big babies.

I'm guessing you may have encountered people like that. What they need is someone who can challenge them to grow up. Good teachers will challenge us. Good teachers will even anger us at times at times. But good teachers are so very necessary.

In matters of eternity, nothing can get us into deeper trouble than not knowing the Bible. The truth is, understanding the basics of the Bible can mean the difference between Heaven and Hell.

If people aren't taught that the gift of salvation is available free to whosoever will ask, they will never receive it. If they aren't taught that Jesus is the way, the truth and the life, they may look for another.

That's why it's vital that big babies grow up, that they put aside their milk bottles and move on to solid foods. That's why it's vital that they reach maturity and take their rightful positions in this world as capable teachers.

That way, they can impart to others the good sense they need to stay out of the kind of trouble the skydiver and the propane stove user got themselves into.

Berea College honors 90 seniors

Berea College recognized 80 students last week during its Mid-Year Ceremony. Alumnus and former Berea College Trustee Robert Yahng addressed the seniors, who represented 20 states and five different countries.

Yahng, who was introduced by Board of Trustees Chair Stephanie Zeigler, spoke to the graduates of the importance of their achievement during what he called “extraordinary uncertainties.”

“When making decisions, it’s important to weigh your options and think strategically about the next step,” Yahng told students. “Identify your current options, and then look ahead at what position each option would put you in. Imagine what options you will have so that you will know in advance what you would do if it works out, or if it doesn’t work out. Try always to put yourself in a position where you have a choice. If you haven’t figured it out already, you already know that the probability of success in life improves when you have options.”

A native of China, Yahng received his bachelor’s degree from Berea College in 1963, and his J.D. from the University of Kentucky College of Law in 1967. Yahng grew up in Berea, where his grandfather, father and mother all worked and taught for a number of years at Berea College.

Following his graduation from law school, Yahng served in the United States Air Force from 1967-1972 and was honorably discharged with the rank of Captain.

Yahng was the Chairman of American Bridge (AB) from 1998-2013, a company known for its construction of complex steel structures, especially bridges, such as the Tappan Zee Bridge in New York, and the Mackinac Bridge in Michigan.

From 1999 to 2002, Yahng was a public governor of the Pacific Stock Exchange, which was reorganized and served as a business model for other exchanges.

Prior to his involvement with AB, Robert was a capital partner in the Law Firm of Baker & McKenzie, retiring in 1998. He joined the firm’s San Francisco office in 1976, founded the Taipei Office of the firm, and assisted in the start-up of the firm’s office in Shanghai. In the 1980s and 1990s, he served several terms as the managing partner of the San Francisco/Palo Alto offices of Baker & McKenzie. He also served several terms on the firm’s policy committee. Robert has been a member of the Kentucky Bar Association and the State Bar of California.

During his legal career, Robert wrote articles for various publications and newspapers and has conducted seminars and given speeches for the American Management Association, the American Electronics Association, the Asia Society and other business organizations on legal aspects of doing business internationally. Additionally, he has co-authored several texts concerning U.S. history and U.S. government for the state of Florida.

Robert resides in San Francisco, California with Tina, his wife of 49 years. They have a son and a daughter.

In other news, the council unanimously voted to accept a bid from the Blue Grass Area Development District (BGADD) to administer American Rescue Plan Act funds for the city. Under the contract, the BGADD would receive approximately one percent of the funds given to the city from the federal allocation. Officials estimate BGADD will receive approximately $40,000 over three-years.

In other news, Mayor Fraley revealed the city is responding in various ways to help the victims of the tornados in western Kentucky.

Close to home, the Berea Cares project, sponsored by the Berea Police Department, has set up a collection trailer for people to donate goods to the relief effort. A full list of items needed can be found on the city’s website.

Additionally, the Berea Police Department has committed three officers to the relief effort, including officers Brent Bradley, James Hampton, Cody Ocelli, who left their families to help people in need, Fraley said.

They joined officers from other agencies from central Kentucky who are assisting in the recovery as part of a statewide mutual aid agreement.

Fraley noted other Berea city departments are pitching in as well. The codes offices pledged to send three inspectors to distressed cities, Berea Municipal Utilities has volunteered to send a three-man crew with a pickup truck, a digger truck and a bucket truck after the first of the year, while Parks and Recreation has two maintenance employees who have volunteered to go to aid in recovery efforts.

The city is coordinating with the Kentucky League of Cities to facilitate the donations.

Fraley noted the most prominent need for the recovery effort is money, which can then be directed toward communities affected by the devastation. Fraley suggested making an online donation through the Kentucky Public Protection Cabinet at Teamwkyreliefund.ky.gov

Those needing to coordinate help for friends and relatives in the affected area can reach out to FEMA at Disasterassistance.gov or by calling 1-800-621-3362.

Several officials said they were encouraged buy the response of people who want to help the tornado victims.

“Just seeing the response, not just in Berea but statewide and nationwide, gives me a renewed sense of hope for humanity,” Fraley said. “I think you’re seeing the best in people and it’s really my hope that when the disaster is done that we can keep up that spirit of helping each other, working together and getting along.”

In other action, Karen Todd was appointed to fill a slot on the Berea Human Rights Commission vacated by Randy Dinsmore. Fraley thanked Dinsmore for his service on the commission. Fraley also noted another vacancy will have to be filled with the recent death of Robert “P-Nut” Johnson.

During council comments, Cora Jane Wilson urged citizens to donate to local entities that are aiding the homeless and economically disadvantaged, such as Room in the Inn and the Berea Food Bank.

Wilson expressed concern that giving money to so-called panhandlers near McDonald’s and Wal-Mart diverts money away from programs designed to aid those in need.

Wilson urged people to give to local charities to help the homeless, and she thanked for city for the electronic sign near McDonald’s that encourages people to donate instead of giving money to individuals on the street.

“I feel like the people that really need help would not be standing at the corner. Maybe I’m wrong, and I don’t ever want to lose compassion, and I help people if I can and feel the need, but I thank you for the sign,” Wilson said.

Giving back

The brothers of Kingston Masonic Lodge No. 315 have been busy shopping and wrapping Christmas gifts and purchasing groceries for several families within the community. PROJECT

revealed Monday. Two of the boxes were once newspaper boxes, one of which was donated by the Madison County Public Library. Those boxes were modified and refurbished with four coats of paint, Sizemore said, while the final box was constructed from scratch for use in Berea City Hall.

“I’d like to thank Mayor [Bruce] Fraley. It’s a great location with lots of traffic, and I think this thing is going to fill up pretty quickly,” Sizemore said. “This project had been a long time coming, with a total of 272 hours put into this – that’s 11 consecutive days. It has been a great experience for me to learn just how much you have to put into a project like this.”

Sizemore drew praise from county and city officials who were on hand for the unveiling ceremony. Berea Mayor Fraley spoke of Sizemore as a young man with a maturity and wisdom beyond his years, while Madison County Judge/Executive Reagan Taylor praised Sizemore’s determination to serve all residents of Madison County. First District Magistrate Ben Robinson III, who was once an Eagle Scout candidate, congratulated Sizemore for his perseverance. “I think it’s a fantastic accomplishment, and now you’ll be an Eagle Scout your whole life,” Robinson said.

During his remarks, Sizemore was quick to give credit to all of the people who helped him with the project, including his immediate family, his grandparents who donated tools, his scoutmaster, as well as those who provided financial support, such as staffers and management at Richmond Lowe’s, who provided nearly $1,000 in materials for the project, as well as generous donors who helped make the flag collection boxes possible.

While the culmination of the project means Sizemore will have completed his requirements to become an Eagle Scout, he noted there was a deeper motivation to get the project done. Said Sizemore: “I’m grateful to have the chance to give back to my community but also to give back to veterans who served our country. This project is dedicated to them and I appreciate everything they have done for America.”

Gilliam touts successes within school system

By David Shew
For the Citizen

Dr. David Gilliam, the Superintendent of the Madison County School System since August 2018, addressed the Richmond Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber monthly breakfast series on Thursday, December 9.

Gilliam proudly stated the Madison County School System is largest employer in Madison County and the salary dollars paid to the employees of the school system are reinvested in our local community. He also reiterated that 80 percent of the school system’s $160 million budget went to salaries of the over 2,000 full-time and part-time employees of the district. Dr. Gilliam discussed the new Ignite Academies being built in Richmond and Berea and happily stated that both career centers were an excellent addition to the expansion of the school district. Finally, he addressed the shortage of educators graduating from the secondary education universities and colleges across the county.

- The evening of Thursday, Dec. 9, the Richmond Area Arts Council hosted a musical presentation where Shirley Baechtold and her grandson, Ethan, presented some beautiful songs on the piano. It was quite a blessing to see the smile on the grandmother’s face as her grandson filled the room with his playing. In addition, Shirley was selling her latest book of memories entitled “The Pandemic Chronicles.” Looking forward to reading this book when a friend returns it to me. Thanks Shirley and Ethan for a truly special evening of music.

- On Dec. 13, my fellow Leadership Madison County associates and I were emersed in government day. First, Berea Mayor Bruce Fraley explained to us how the city of Berea operates under the City Council with eight council members. Our group also heard from Rose Beverly and Donna Angel. After a quick breakfast from the Native Bagel Company, we witnessed Ben Robinson III being sworn into his magistrate seat by his wife, Judge Brown. Next, we sat through the Fiscal Court meeting and learned about the many appointments that the Fiscal Court makes throughout the year. The highlight of the meeting was when the Fiscal Court honored Dr. Delbert Fritz for his service to Madison County and the Emergency Medical Service. Dr. Fritz has served as the Medical Director of the Madison County EMS for 44 years. Our team was entertained by County Clerk Kenneth Barger after lunch at Apollo’s Pizza. Mr. Barger explained the role of the Madison County Clerk, and Judge Reagan Taylor complimented Mr. Barger on the efficiency of the clerk’s office. After lunch, our group traveled back to Richmond and took a tour of the Emergency Operation Center on South Keeneland Drive where we learned about the 911 program and the Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program. We also toured the Madison County Fire Station located on South Keeneland Drive and after hearing from Judge Reagan Taylor, Chief Information Officer Chris Iseral, and Road Superintendent Scott Shepherd. Finally, we met with Mayor Robert Blythe and watched a nice Power Point presentation about Richmond. If anyone is interested in learning more about Leadership Madison County, please contact Mendi Goble at the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

Eagles fall to Indians

By Mike Moore

The Madison Southern Eagles went 1-1 last week, losing to Madison Central 70-55 and beating Danville 73-57. Against Central, Braden Hudson recorded a double-double, finishing 19 points and 10 rebounds. Jay Rose added 17 points, while Nate Turner added 13 points. In the win over Danville, Rose led Southern (5-2) with 18 points, while pulling down six rebounds. Turner added 17 points and eight boards, while Brett Ersland finished with 16 points and seven rebounds. Blake Simpson dropped in 10 points and four rebounds.

- The Berea Pirates (0-6) are still searching for the elusive first win of the 2021-2022 basketball season after losing to Lewis County, 61-53. Quentin Morgan led Berea with 27 points. Trenton Wilson finished with 16 points and six rebounds.
- The Berea Lady Pirates improved to 7-0 as they picked up a pair of wins (70-41 win over Raceland and a 54-41 win over Pleasure Ridge Park) in the Berea Holiday Classic. Alexis Newman led Berea with 17 points against Raceland. Chesney Lovins added 12 points, while Madison Howell finished with 10. Against PRP, Howell paced the Lady Pirates with 19 points. Mati Stepp added 14, while Newman finished with 12.

- It was a tough week for the Madison Southern Lady Eagles (4-4) as they dropped three games (55-43 to North Laurel, 53-48 to Menifee County and 53-45 to Floyd Central). Hadley French lead Southern against North Laurel with 11 points. Ashlan Estep finished with nine points, while Macie Daniels added eight points in the loss. French scored 10 points in the loss to Menifee County, while Tara Wooten and Bella Moberly scored eight points, respectively. Moberly and French scored 12 points against Floyd Central, while Morgan Flannery finished with eight points.

‘Older and busier’

It feels extremely cliché to start a December column with a “this year has flown by” sentiment but truly - where has 2021 gone? Several years ago a colleague told me time moves faster the older and busier you become, and perhaps that is why I truly feel like February was only last week.

“Older and Busier” could be the title of my 2021 memoir. I started my new position as director of the Madison County Public Library at the beginning of the year and operated at what feels like warp speed ever since. Over the past 11 months, our incredible staff has worked diligently to return the library’s operations and services to pre-pandemic levels. We resumed our regular hours in May, reopened our meeting rooms and restored in-person programs in June. Our Bookmobile was back on the road in time for Summer Reading. Branch staff continued popular material delivery services offered during the pandemic - curbside and secure locker pickup as well as home drop off - while also welcoming people back to browse our stacks and check out materials in person.

Safely restoring full access to the library was our number one priority for the first half of 2021. Access to a library, its services and materials is truly critical to many of those in our community who might otherwise lack sufficient resources or internet, or simply need a place to be and connect with other people. To me, what’s truly beautiful about the public library is everyone has equal access to

Established, consistent library access plays an essential role in community building, civic engagement, lifelong learning, and early literacy. A June 2021 Brookings article about the effect of public libraries on student learning indicated that children’s reading abilities were consistently aligned with their community’s library visits, circulation and program attendance. High numbers of library use correlated to better reading scores. Busy, open, accessible libraries create a solid foundation for student achievement and community advancement.

In Madison County, our library is certainly busy, and I am truly grateful for its level of use everyday. From January through November 2021, 159,938 people have visited our libraries in Berea and Richmond. We issued 3,340 new library cards in eleven months. Library users have checked out 194,911 books - actual, physical, printed books! Over 96,000 of these were books for children and young adults.

Our online services remain robust - since January, we loaned 89,551 downloadable books and audiobooks on Overdrive and the Libby app. Our users have streamed thousands of hours of content on Hoopla and Kanopy, accessed Consumer Reports and Ancestry.com through the library’s membership in the Kentucky Virtual Library.

Access to meeting space also proved to be in high demand: 744 groups have used a library meeting room since January. Our meeting spaces also host library programs, which saw 12,393 participants from June through November. Another 9150 people attended a library outreach program, held at a number of venues throughout the county.

As we celebrate another year and look ahead to 2022, I am elated to continue providing library access and service to our community. We have major projects on the horizon, such as further development of our Maker Labs in both libraries and on-site GED testing. I look forward to sharing and celebrating those initiatives with you next year!

Millers Celebrate 60th

Bob and Joy Miller will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary on December 23rd. They were married in Danforth Chapel with Alfred Gilman (missionary in Hankow China from 1902 - 1948) officiating. The Millers have resided in Berea since 20000 and have two sons and 2 grandchildren. Warren Brunner took the photograph when he was working for Mattson Studio.

Levis to return

University of Kentucky quarterback Will Levis is coming back in 2022.

The graduate transfer from Penn State was among a handful of Wildcats seeking an evaluation from the NFL for a basic draft assessment.

He tweeted a hint about the announcement by using the iconic clip from "The Terminator" where Arnold Schwarzenegger famously tells a police officer, "I'll be back." It included only four letters of text - #BBN.

Levis was fifth in total passing in the Southeastern Conference with 2,593 yards. He threw 23 touchdowns, good for sixth in the SEC, and ran for nine touchdowns which was second in the league. Levis started all 12 games after beating out Joey Gatewood in fall camp.

• Kentucky wide receivers Josh Ali and Isaiah Epps won't be available to play in the Citrus Bowl on New Year's Day after being involved in an automobile accident. Both are receiving treatment and are OK. Ali was Kentucky's second-leading receiver with 601 yards and three touchdowns in 10 games. Epps had 11 receptions for 171 yards and a touchdown. (KT)

Wheeler a leader

Sahvir Wheeler stole the show as Kentucky rolled to an easier-than-expected 98-69 win over North Carolina in the CBS Sports Classic Saturday in Las Vegas.

Wheeler scored a season-high 26 points to lead the Wildcats to a 29-point victory over the Tar Heels as Kentucky (8-2) bounced back from a disappointing 66-62 setback to Notre Dame last week in South Bend. North Carolina (8-2) had a five-game winning streak and suffered the largest margin of defeat in the series between the storied programs.

After his team's poor showing last Saturday, Kentucky coach John Calipari changed his team's offensive approach. He said the outing was "by far the best we've played and we're still trying to figure it out."

"The focus on our offense was a little bit different — how we were going to play," Calipari said. "We were going to go back to my old-school, dribble-drive stuff. ... You've got to get to 75 or 80 (points). If you're not getting to 75 or 80 (points) you're not going to go on a run at the end of the year — you're not."

Kentucky was scheduled to play Ohio State in the four-team event, but the Buckeyes canceled because of COVID-19 restrictions. UCLA, which was supposed to take on North Carolina, also withdrew from the event because of virus protocols, resulting in the lone encounter between the Wildcats and Tar Heels. Calipari said his team didn't have time to prepare for the Tar Heels in such a short amount of time.

"I'm glad it was North Carolina," he said. "We needed to go against a good team to figure out what we are."

What he figured out was his point guard knows more about his dribble-drive scheme than he previously thought, and requested that Wheeler lead the Wildcats to victory.

"Sahvir, lead us," Calipari told

his squad prior to the contest.

In his last outing, Wheeler struggled and scored just three points — all on free throws — in the loss to the Irish. Wheeler was nearly unstoppable against North Carolina. He made 12-of-15 shots and set the tone early by scoring 14 points in the opening half. He finished with eight assists and added four steals and three rebounds. He simply wanted to "flip the page" and look ahead following last week's performance.

"Everybody is going to have a bad game and it so happened it was that game (Notre Dame) and we lost," Wheeler said. "I'm a confident kid ... I play for the big lights and (that's) why I came here to play against the best and be challenged every day in practice by my teammates and my coaches. ... This opportunity, I was really looking forward to it, whether it was Ohio State or North Carolina."

Kentucky hosted Western Kentucky Wednesday night. (KT)

Goodwin's signature puts exclamation point on recruiting class

LEXINGTON (KT) — Kentucky football coach Mark Stoops had his press conference nearly completed when he received the news he had been waiting for since Wednesday when Kiyaunta Goodwin added his name to the school's list of early signing period signees.

Goodwin, a heralded five-star offensive lineman from Charlestown, Indiana, chose the Wildcats over Michigan State in a recruiting battle that went down to the wire.

He played his prep career at Ballard High School in Louisville and Charleston High School in Indiana.

Goodwin was considered the No. 1 recruit in the state of Indiana by many analysts.

In addition to Michigan State, he was recruited by Alabama, Clemson and Ohio State.

"Here's a young man that could truly play anywhere in the United States, any college in the country would take his signature today, and so for us to land him, again, it says a lot about him and staying committed to us," Stoops said. "I felt good about it the whole time. That doesn't mean you count it in the bag, but you continue to work and answer questions and do the best you can."

"Again, it's a credit to Coach (Vince) Marrow and the countless hours that he has put in recruiting this young man and our whole staff. But that's who we are."

Despite the team's recent success, Stoops said the recruiting process hasn't gotten any easier, but instead more competitive.

"It's always a battle and a fight," he said. "To the best of my recollection and information I have in front of me, since I've been here, we've never been ranked in the SEC, even though we may have been nationally ranked in the Top 25."

"I've never by the experts been ranked ahead of ninth, but yet we continue to seem like we out-perform that, so it would be nice to continue to raise the talent level and see what we can do with it."

including four players from Kentucky.

Key won the prestigious Paul Hornung Award, given to the Kentucky Player of the Year. Key's father, Donte' Key, played at Kentucky from 1992-95 and his brother, Devon Key, played at Western Kentucky and currently plays for the Kansas City Chiefs.

Kentucky also signed instate standout lineman Grant Bingham from Johnson Central in Paintsville, Boyle County kicker Jackson Smith and Pleasure Ridge Park defensive back Elijah Reed.

Love, Kilah Kimberly Mills 5th grade Berea Community Dear Santa, All I want for Christmas is a blessing for my mom, my dad, and granny. I need a blessing for my mom not to be sad. She is very sad right now because my granny is going to die soon. I need a blessing for my granny to live longer. And I need a blessing for my dad to sell his company, and to not to be stressed about my mom. think I deserve this because it's not for me. A.D. Dear Santa, Crash, boom! That was the sound of me knocking one of my Elf on the Shelf over, but that doesn't make me a bad	kid. This year for Christmas all I want is for everyone to get what they asked for because they deserve it. You can find a nice person in everyone. Even if you think someone might not deserve a present, they do because maybe they are just having a bad day. Every day you have a new chance. Maybe someone had a bad day yesterday, but maybe that person will have a great today. So don't judge a book by its cover. A. M. Dear Santa, School has been going well, my grades have improved, and I have made two new friends. This year for Christmas, I want one thing for my family, a bigger home. This will be a dream come true. J.V. Dear Santa, I would like to tell you how much I would love some purple fluffy socks!!! (and an elf!) Socks are so fluffy and comfy. They are warm and cozy. I just love them! I DESERVE them because I have been a good girl ;)) For example I helped out my friend with a hump foot (she's on crutches) So I DESERVE purple fluffy socks. Dear Santa, I want an Infuze water bottle. I think I deserve it because I am a good boy. And what is your favorite kind ofcookie? Am I on your naughty or nice list this Christmas? I.S. Dear Santa, Have you ever seen something so cool that you think you need it right now? That's what this is. This year for Christmas I want one thing: an ejecting cartridge nerf gun. It is a fake gun that resembles a real gun with a magazine that holds the fake ammo in a plastic shell that when you pull the load the shell comes out the side. That's what I want. I deserve this item because I do good in school, and I donated to a food shelter. N.R. Dear Santa, Have you ever seen something so cool that you think you need it right now? That's what this is. Sincerely, L.T. Dear Santa, Do you treat the elves well? How much do you pay them? Do they get breaks? Do they have families that never see them?! DO THEY EVEN GET PAID!? How many hours do they work a day, and how much work are they doing! Now secondly, how are the reindeer! How much do they train, and do they still have to fly if they're hurt?What do you feed them? Do you really feed them that glitter and oat mix- THAT GLITTER ISN'T FOOD GLITTER! Santa, those reindeer could be seriously hurt. Lastly, could you please bring me fabric, thread, and a book about sewing? I love sewing and I think I could make extra clothes for the elves, if not that then blankets. They must be cold up in the North Pole, so I hope you at least give them an unwending supply of hot co-coa. I have a request, please don't be too hard on the elves making my presents. (or any other elves) Merry Christmas to all the hard workers in the north pole, and of course, Santa! Sincerely, K.P. Dear Santa, Santa I would like to say thank you for giving toys to little kids. I would like a soccer ball or soccer related thing like soccer cleats for Christmas.Thank you Santa and Merry Christmas! Sincerely, J.P.

By Andy McDonald
For The Citizen

The Berea City Council unanimously voted to increase the wages of seasonal employees who work at Berea City Pool. Tuesday's vote was in response to widespread wage increases in the region that have come in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic. Officials said the move is an effort to keep the city competitive this spring when it comes to hiring pool employees.

Because the city raised the pool admission rates by $1 in 2019, it will not have to raise the fee to cover increased labor costs. Councilman Steve Caudill noted the pool will still not operate at a profit, but that the amount the city has subsidized the facility will not change significantly. Additional personnel costs for the pool will be approximately $24,000 a season, officials said.

"Essentially we would have the same deficit that we have budgeted in the last two fiscal years by having this increase in pay rate," Caudill said.

Officials considered whether the city should raise rates to cover additional costs, but that was rejected because the pool might then become too expensive for economically disadvantaged families.

"We recognize it's important that we don't have rates become such that it's a problem for our citizens," Caudill said. "This is a service no different than what we provide with other parts of parks."

Eagle Scout Carter Sizemore constructed four boxes that will be placed within Berea and Richmond where county residents can retire their faded or distressed American flags. (The Citizen/Keith Taylor)

Eagle Scout constructs boxes to retire American flags

By Andy McDonald
For The Citizen

If you have ever wondered what to do with an American flag that has become too faded or torn to fly, Richmond resident Carter Sizemore, 17, has provided a solution.

As an Eagle Scout candidate for Boy Scouts of America Troop 2014, Sizemore came up with a plan approximately two years ago to construct boxes where Madison County residents could honorably retire their used-up American flags. As a sign of respect, distressed flags should not be thrown away, but should instead be either be buried or burned. With the addition of the flag collection boxes, residents can now allow the Boy Scouts to take that final step of retiring a flag.

Sizemore said he came up with the idea after hearing a discussion between his parents. That was when he was 15, but then came the

COVID-19 pandemic, which delayed the project. On Monday, however, Sizemore's boxes were finally completed, as he and public officials met in the lobby of the Berea Police Department to unveil three of the four boxes he constructed.

Last September, Sizemore unveiled a flag collection box in front of the Madison County Courthouse, while the remaining three were

Man arrested on child porn charge

The Kentucky State Police (KSP) Electronic Crime Branch located and arrested Zachery Nelson Feltner, 21, on charges related to a child sexual abuse material investigation.

Feltner was interviewed and arrested as the result of an undercover Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) investigation. The KSP Electronic Crime Branch began the investigation after discovering the suspect distributing sexually explicit images online.

The investigation resulted in the execution of a search warrant at 1003 Whippor-

will Drive, Berea, on December 21, 2021. Equipment used to facilitate the crime was seized and taken to KSP's forensic laboratory for examination. The investigation is ongoing.

Feltner is currently charged with one count of distribution of matter portraying a minor under the age of 12 in a sexual performance. This charge is a Class-C felony punishable by five to ten years in prison. Feltner was lodged in the Madison County Detention Center.

The Kentucky Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force is comprised of more than twenty-six local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies.

The mission of the ICAC Task Force, created by the United States Department of Justice and administrated by the Kentucky State Police, is to assist state and local law enforcement agencies in developing a response to cyber enticement and child sexual abuse material investigations.

2 tornadoes confirmed

Two tornadoes were confirmed in Madison County by the National Weather Service on Monday.

Damage occurred in the Kirksville area and northern Madison County and both tornadoes were confirmed as EF-1 by the National Weather Service.

The first storm produced a tornado at 4:31 a.m. along I-75 and Colonel Road in Richmond produced win speeds of 90 miles per hour.

The wins in the second tornado in the Kirksville area also produced 90 MPH winds.

Gloria Jean Watkins

Gloria Jean Watkins (bell hooks) of Berea, transitioned to her final chapter on December 15, 2021 after an extended illness. The family honored her wish to be at home surrounded by family and friends. Gloria was born on September 25, 1952 in Hopkinsville to Veedis and Rosa Bell Watkins. Although she embraced some Buddhist beliefs she remained a member of the Virginia Street Baptist Church, Hopkinsville.

She was a 1970 graduate of Hopkinsville High School and went on to earn a B.A. from Stanford University in Palo Alto, CA; M.A. from University of Wisconsin Madison; and PhD in Literature from University of CA at Santa Cruz. She gained international fame as an author, feminist, intellectual, and cultural critic. After traveling the globe Gloria returned to KY as distinguished professor at Berea College and made her home

there since 2004. She published over 40 books and 5 children's books under the pen-name bell hooks which she adopted from her maternal great-grandmother Bell Blair Hooks. To date her books are published in over 15 different languages.

Her awards and accolades are too numerous to list but the family wanted to highlight the following:

- 2001.....International Literary Hall of Fame Inductee
- 2015..... The bell hooks Institute was established at Berea College
- 2018..... KY Writers Hall of Fame Inductee
- 2020....."All About Love :New Visions" made top 10 for paperback of New York Times Best Seller List
- 2021.....Berea College -Women & Gender Studies Dept was renamed the bell hooks Center

King. Survivors include brother Kenneth Watkins- Atlanta, GA; sisters Sarah Chambers-Hopkinsville, KY; Valeria Watkins-Berea, KY; Gwenda (Dennis) Motley Hopkinsville, KY; Angela Malone-Tampa, FL; 5 nieces 1 nephew; great nieces and nephews; and 3 great-great nieces

Because Gloria's love for reading began as a child, we felt she would want contributions and memorials to be made to the Christian County Literacy Council (https://www.paypal.com/donate/?hosted_button_id=CGQPNACBYNRZA) which promotes reading for children or the Museums of Historic Hopkinsville Christian County (<https://www.museumsofhopkinsville.org/contact/>) where a biographical exhibit is on display.

Arrangements for cremation will be handled by Lakes Funeral Home.

A Celebration of life service for our beloved sister, and aunt Gloria Jean Watkins will take place at a later time.

Leah Massey-Epling

Mother and Activist Leah Massey-Epling's passion for life will be remembered with love long after her passing.

Leah passed away on December 17, 2021, at the age of 60 after a long battle with diabetes, surrounded by loved ones who will strive to keep her light-hearted, quirky spirit alive.

Leah enjoyed making cute nicknames for everything, playing with her dogs, buying more plants than she needed, baking cookies for loved ones, and was passionate about social justice. Along with the numerous sacrifices she made to put her daughters first, she also opened her arms to all those around her who needed a hand no matter her health struggles.

Leah left this world to join her late father Doug Massey, mother and stepfather Joyce and Carl Kesner, and her nephew Christopher Head in Heaven. She is survived by her two daughters, Lauren and Lyndsey Epling; her sister and brother-in-law Amy and Jon Chas-

Bobbie Ruth Dulaney Helton

Bobbie Ruth Dulaney Helton, 74, of Guynn Road, passed away Monday, December 20, 2021, at her home after a long illness.

Bobbie was born in Dayton, Tennessee to the late John and Mary Ruth Hall Dulaney. She retired from Phillips-Westinghouse in Richmond and continued to work beside her husband running their business, Madison Termite. She was a member of the Church of God faith.

In addition to her parents, she was also preceded in death by her siblings, John Dulaney, Aubrey Dulaney, Floyd Dulaney, and Shirley Abel.

She is survived by her loving husband of more than 52 years, Larry Helton, their daughters, Jennifer Parsons and her husband, Junior, and Tamara Robinson and her husband Rockie; four grandchildren, Ragen (Colton) Sensabaugh, Britten Robinson, Mallory Robinson, and Emily Parsons; and two brothers, Freeman Dulaney and

David Collins; and two special caregivers, Angel Gibson and Raynikkia Hopkins. She is also survived by several nieces, nephews, and a very special aunt and

uncle, Ruby and Melvin Hall.

Funeral services will be 1 pm, Thursday, December 23, 2021, at Lakes Funeral Home with Bro. Kenneth Bush officiating. Burial will follow in the Helton Family Cemetery. Visitation will be from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. on Thursday at the funeral home. Pallbearers will be Britten

Robinson, Colton Sensabaugh, Todd French, Aaron Bush, David Bush, Logan Frazier, and Derek Carpenter. Honorary bearers will be Jason Dulaney, and Scott Dulaney.

Christmas week dream a gift from above

I didn't want to wake up Sunday morning. It's not because I was tired or took lazy to crawl out bed, but rather because I had a dream that I knew was an early gift from above as we usher in the Christmas holiday season.

The holidays, specially Christmas, are a little more tougher, especially after you lose a parent and Saturday will mark two years since we celebrated with mom. Of course it was just all of us family being together, having fun, fellowshiping, laughing and cutting up like most families do this time of the year.

In years past, my uncle

Mike dressed up as Santa Claus occasionally for the kids and we always had fun just being around each other. My favorite thing was mom's country ham, and if you know me, that's one of the items I order off the menu at Cracker Barrel and Dinner Bell. It's hard to beat a good, ole country ham and all of the trimmings and mom certainly knew how to make it taste just right every single time.

Keith Taylor

I got to see mom again and it was during a dream I had Sunday morning, one of the best gifts that I could have ever received this year or any year for that matter. I'm not sure were we were, but mom was cooking up a storm and as she did while she was with us, she cooked the food for others to enjoy more than herself.

During those few hours in deep sleep last Sunday morning, I could smell the country ham, the home-made gravy and biscuits and eggs being prepared for those if use at the kitchen table. Mom made gravy the old-fashioned way and it was hard to beat her gravy.

I couldn't tell you where we were but it all seemed so real and vivid. At the kitchen table was my late papaw Bill May and I turned and there sat my late uncle Jack May right next to him, eating, while mom was cooking away and making sure everyone got what they needed from the kitchen table.

Not knowing whether I was dreaming or in reality, I remember standing there in awe and just soaking it all it since I haven't seen my grandfather and Jack in nearly more than two decades. I remember telling mom I wanted country ham on my plate, and then that was it. I woke up and tried to go back to sleep and step back into the dream, but it didn't happen and that was perfectly fine with me, although I was yearning for more time in dreamland.

That was the perfect Christmas gift and one that I needed from above this year.

As we celebrate in our way Saturday, we are planning to resume our family dinner that mom prepared each Christmas. I'm hoping someone will fry up some country ham so I won't be dreaming about food instead of a white Christmas.

A white Christmas would be nice, too.

Dr. Glenn Mollette

We had difficulties when we were growing up in Martin county, Kentucky but overall, we thought we were doing okay. President Lyndon Johnson came to Inez, Kentucky in 1964 to let us know we weren't doing very well. He began his campaign in our community and we became the poster child for American poverty. We hadn't really thought of ourselves as poor until we started hearing about ourselves in the news.

I had numerous friends who didn't get much for Christmas. Often it was one or two small gifts or nothing at all.

Several classmates at my elementary school in Tomahawk, Kentucky were fortunate if they had a coat to wear in the winter. Ragged looking shoes on a kid's feet during the winter was a common sight.

Several classmates came to school to wash their faces and hands in the boys' bathroom. The school lunch was the only decent meal some of the kids ate during the week.

It was a while before President Johnson's 1964 promises started helping our area. Even with the roll out of government assistance many families subsisted until the coal boom of the seventies which has almost died. Today our county is reinventing itself with agriculture, a service center to aid bitcoin mining, tourism and small businesses.

I don't remember every Christmas, but I remember one. My dad broke his back falling off a barn when I was a child. He was out of work for several months and in those days, we didn't have government safety nets to see us through tough financial times. Christmas came as usual and we did put up a tree. Our family gathered on Christmas Eve and we had food, fellowship and laughter. We always raised a garden and my parents stored food so it came in handy

I expected nothing for Christmas that year because the heaviness of family financial pressure was obvious even as a child. Surprisingly, my mother handed me a small wrapped box that Christmas Eve and said Merry Christmas. I was shocked because I expected nothing that year. Opening the box, I found a watch that had numbers that glowed in the dark. It may have cost $5 but it was priceless to me. I was thrilled and wore it every night to just look at the glowing numbers.

Dad was recuperating that Christmas. His temporary disability and our financial stress made life gloomy for us that year. Yet, here I am remembering that Christmas as one of the best of all. It was during that Christmas that I remember the presence of family. Mom and dad were alive. We had food to eat. We had a roof over our heads and our family had each other.

This may not be your best Christmas, but maybe, just maybe you can still have

Christmas.

The empty chair is painful. Depression is real. Financial or other personal difficulties may have disabled you. Millions have died from COVID-19. Thousands are suffering from horrific tornadoes and loss of life. Hurricanes have pounded us in the East and fires have incinerated our West. In the midst of all this inflation eats away at America's paychecks like an unchecked malignancy.

The message of Christmas is the story of peasant parents, enduring difficult travel, taxes to be paid and no place to sleep but a barn and a cow's trough for their newborn baby.

Somehow, they found strength in each other and in God who brought them and their baby through a very difficult time. We never forget their story and their plight, it's truly a Christmas worth remembering.

We are going to remember this Christmas, no doubt. Somehow, someday, with God's help and each other, may this be a Christmas worth remembering.

Carol history: 'Silent Night'

In 2018, the popular Christmas carol "Silent Night" celebrated the 200th anniversary of its first performance. The lyrics to "Silent Night" were written by Austrian Roman Catholic priest Joseph Mohr in 1816.

Over the years, the melody has been credited to the likes of legendary composers such as Mozart and Beethoven.

"Silent Night"

*Silent night! Holy night!
All is calm, all is bright
Round yon Virgin
Mother and Child,
Holy infant so tender
and mild,
Sleep in Heavenly peace!
Sleep in Heavenly peace!*

*Silent night! Holy night!
Shepherds quake at the sight;
Glories stream from Heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing
Alleluia,
Christ, the Saviour,
is born!
Christ, the Saviour,
is born!*

*Silent night! Holy night!
Son of God, Love's pure light
Radiant beams from Thy Holy face,
With the dawn of
redeeming grace,
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth,
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth.*

Manger Visitor Center & Shoppe

SUMMARY

Under the direction of the Director of Business Development and Guest Relations, this position will manage all operations of the Visitor Center & Shoppe, providing high level of service to all its customers. The Manager of the Visitor Center & Shoppe oversees day-to-day operation of the retail store including the sales floor, inventory management, the smoothie bar, and the call center. The manager is responsible for training, supervising, and evaluating students.

RESPONSIBILITIES

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform each essential duty satisfactorily. The requirements listed below are representative of the knowledge, skill, and/or ability required. Regular and predictable attendance is essential. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

- Accountability for meeting the P&L, business planning and execution tactics, daily financial reports, and daily operations for the BC Visitor Center & Shoppe.
- Work with the Director of Business Development and Guest Relations to assure common platforms of service, operations and policy across the retail stores and warehouse
- Prepare, review and report progress on budget and business development plans, as well as monthly financial reports and metrics to Director of Business Development and Guest Relations.
- Maintain and develop business relationships with internal constituents as well as outside partners.
- Manages inventory levels based on current and projected sales trends and utilizes best practices to minimize loss.
- Collaborates with Purchasing and Visual Display Manager to ensure floor is stocked with in-demand merchandise in order to maximize sales and profits.
- Assures operations are up to date with best practices in the campus and retail bookstore industries.
- Responsible for personnel administration of students including but not limited to hiring, training, scheduling, evaluating, and developing.
- Provide and serve as a model for outstanding customer service.
- Understanding of simple food operations in order to operate the campus Smoothie Bar (includes, food safety regulations, food prep, and ordering)
- Manage both the ordering of college regalia and nursing uniforms.
- In support of Berea College's great commitments this position requires student supervision. The fourth great commitment is to promote learning and serving in community through the student labor program, honoring the dignity and utility of all work, mental and manual, and taking pride in work well done. The Supervision would include scheduling, assigning and approving work performed. Developing students about common workplace acumen and giving them tangible work experience is an expected outcome. To learn more about the student labor program and requirements on this position see: Labor Program Goals

Other roles/duties will be assigned as necessary to assist the College in the attainment of the goals set forth and the enhancement of a positive, respectful learning environment for all staff, faculty and students.

Girl Scouts hold court of awards

On Sunday afternoon, approximately 125 friends, family, parents, and leaders gathered in the sanctuary of Union Church for the Girl Scout Court of Awards and Rededication Services. Mrs. John Barton and Mrs. Richard Drake served as ushers for the event. A small exhibit of Junior Girl Scout badge work was arranged for viewing in the vestibule. Mrs. Gordon Ross played a march for the procession of troops following the flag bearers and color guard members that was made up of Cadets under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond VanWinkle. A Girl Scout song was led by Mrs. William Hamilton, who had charge of vesting three Junior Girl Scouts: Teresa Caudill, Cheryl McCauley, and Donna Smith. During the court of Awards ceremony, the first badges earned in the new Girl Scout program were presented to Juniors.

Consolidation set for 2 Army Depots

The Department of the Army announced plans to consolidate the Lexington Army Depot and the Blue Grass Army Depot under one command by June 30, 1964. No adverse economic affect was expected to be felt by the installation, community nor employees. The consolidated depot will retain the same mission as before consolidation with the consolidation principally being applied to financial management, administration, services, and support functions. The intent of the consolidation was to increase the efficiency of the Army's supply program and was consistent with keeping with the Army's economy program. There were to be no operational interruptions. It was anticipated savings would come from attrition and would not result in forced reduction in staff. Employees were to be transferred with the movement of their positions or placement in other jobs at either the Lexington or the Blue Grass facility. There was to be a realignment in the number of reassignment of positions at both depots. The headquarters for the consolidation would be maintained at the Lexington Army Depot. As of press time in 1963, a new name for the combined installation had not been decided.

City takes delivery of new fire truck

The city had accepted delivery of a new of a new fire truck the previous week from the Peter Pirsch Company of Kenosha, Wisconsin. The City of Berea and Berea College footed the $15,000 cost of the new apparatus which sported an enclosed cab, the latest in firefighting equipment and ladders that could react to the third story. The then current rig would remain in possession and operation.

Nursing program gains accreditation

Berea College received news via telegram announcing that the College's Department of Nursing had been given initial accreditation for its Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing, including public health nursing. The accrediting organization bestowing the distinction was the National League of Nursing (Department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Program). Dr. Beulah Miller, department chairperson, said the accreditation followed the report of the visiting committee that was on campus back in October of 1963.

Forest Service to build headquarters

The U.S. Forest Service announced preliminary plans for the construction of administrative headquarters for the Berea Forest Research Center and the Berea District of the Cumberland National Forest. Berea College, through its board of trustees and President Francis S. Hutchins, had given the Forest Service a 99-year lease on a 17-acre building site at the corner of Short Line Pike and Big Hill Road.

According to Regional Forester R.F. Droege of the Eastern Region and R.D. Lane of the Central States Forest Experiment Station, the gift of the lease would permit the U.S. Forestry Service to move forward in effectively carrying on the forestry research and action program in Eastern Kentucky. The building site, in the foothills of the Cumberland Plateau, was adjacent to the Berea College Forest.

Preliminary site plans included an office-laboratory building, greenhouse, equipment storage building, workshop, and a warehouse. It was anticipated that approximately 50 people would conduct the work of the local Cumberland National Forest district and conduct the forestry research program to solve problems in timber management, strip-mine rehabilitation and marketing of forest products. M.J. Williamson, project leader for the research program said that plans called for the building of a workshop and garage in 1964. A $40,000 appropriation had been made for this project by the Accelerated Public Works program. Williams said he thought it would take four to five years before the remaining planned buildings would be completed.

Celebrate the season with tidings of Joy

The way many celebrate Christmas has changed greatly over the years. However, Appalachian culture has encouraged the keeping of many practices and traditions from generation-to-generation. From fruitcake to candles in the windows to deeply held superstitions to the Christmas Story to charitable ways, Appalachia continues to feel like home for holidays and encourages embedding yourself into years past.

Carrie Grant

Christmas is the time of year that I like to bask in memories of yester-year, and take pride in knowing that I am doing things the way one of my great-grandparents did it, or wearing something a grandmother wore, or continuing a tradition my own family started during my early childhood. Though these traditions may adapt in small ways to fit our current situations, there is something comforting about connections to the past, especially when some of those we love have ended their journey with us in this life.

While many in Appalachia enjoy fruitcake as the sweet ending to their holiday meals, my family was always a little different. My nana makes her mother's banana pudding, a treat which many (to no avail) seek the recipe for. The recipe really doesn't read like a recipe would- it's just "a pinch of" or "a dab of" or "a fruit cup of". My granny made a few different sweet treats, but none as great to me as her cherry delight. Growing up I loved being in the kitchen with them both to pick up on the little tips and tricks that they used in their baking. Each of them had their own unique way of doing things, adding to holiday memories that I replay as I bake my own Christmas meals.

As a child, I can remember seeing candles (battery operated of course) in windows of homes often. Now, it is fewer and farther between, but some folks still display these in their home. This tradition stems from Appalachian culture by way of Irish tradition (not simply at Christmas either) as a way of alerting guests that homes were welcoming guests. The tradition was adapted throughout the years to meet modern needs, but has remained a staple in many homes- whether anyone truly knew why they placed them in their window or not.

Around the region, as many sit down to eat their meals, open gifts, or simply gather to celebrate Christmas, the Christmas story is told. One of my favorite traditions from my dad's family is sitting in my grandparents' formal living room around the tree that my granny and I so delicately decorated, listening to my uncle read the Christmas Story from my granny's Bible. On this first Christmas without my paternal grandparents, I would give almost anything to sit at their feet to listen to this story with them one more time. Though much has changed throughout the years, the constant tradition of recognizing the reason for the season has never halted in either side of my family.

Christmas is a favorite holiday for many, but I am always amazed at the folks that we have in our community who have giving hearts and have taken care of Christmases for families in the area without so much as a peep to anyone about their good deed- only known to the few who saw them in the act. Giving to others, for some, is much a tradition as the fruitcake many eat or the candle in the window. As I reflect this holiday season, I realize that many of the examples set for me by family and friends (some of whom have passed this life) have been deeply rooted in their own raising and passing that along to other friends and family in a meaningful way is part of what this holiday is all about- because it's another way to show Christ's love through our own example.

This holiday season, take a moment to reflect on something that maybe your family did that you've missed the last few years, fellowship with loved ones, or do something that will bring light to someone else's life, but no matter what tradition you choose- celebrate the tidings of joy and the love of the one true Heavenly King.

Treasured Christmas Memories

My aunt remembered pressing her face against the glass at the Porter Moore Drugstore. She was nine-years-old, and there was a piano with a black seat that she desperately wanted displayed inside. The rice was $9.99. She said that might not seem like a lot now but back then it was. She didn't know how her parents managed it, but she got that piano for Christmas. She played it until she wore the legs out.

My husband's special gift in the late sixties was an orange Krate Schwinn bike. He remembered seeing it in the big glass window at Britt's Dept Store in the University Shopping Center in Richmond. He just had to have it. He said it really stood out compared to the other regular bicycles. It had a skinny tire on the front and a big slick on the back.

Tammy Whittamore

Other features were a Sissy bar, a banana seat, and a stick shift on the frame. He had the coolest ride for several years. (according to hemmings.com, the price debuted around $86.95 which translates today to around $657!)

Some memorable gifts from my childhood were the EZ Bake oven and a baby doll that ate special food and messed its diaper. The EZ Bake oven output couldn't keep up with us three girls. It was a long wait for a cookie-sized cake! We ran out of the special food mix that came with the baby doll pretty quickly.

Then we just fed it other things which clogged it up. No more diaper changes. When we are kids, we appreciate the presents the most. When we grow older, we appreciate the person who gave us the gift the most. We realize the time our loved one put in searching for the gift. We realize the saving, the sacrifice, and even the making of payments for our gifts. Not to mention, the wrapping and hiding of the gifts. I don't know how my parents managed to provide everything that they did for us kids. I hope you can make special memories this Christmas. Don't expect perfection like the Hallmark movies.

Just embrace reality and have a sense of humor. Put down your phones and be in the minute. Spend time with your family. Be so incredibly grateful if you haven't lost any family members this year. Reach out to those who have and let them know that you care. Gather around the Bible with candlelight and stillness to read Luke's accounting of Jesus' birth. Let Christmas have some meaning.

Scripture talks about people who are big babies

A man making his first skydive was falling through the air, unable to get his parachute to open. Try as he might, it wasn't budging. In a panic, he yelled to a fellow who was flying up toward him: "Hey buddy, do you know anything about parachutes?"

"No," the fellow responded. "Do you know anything about propane stoves?"

Sounds like the fellows in that old joke needed to read the instructions before they strapped on the parachute or struck the match to light that stove.

Too often, we want to ignore instructions and do things our way, even when we have no idea whatsoever what we're doing. Remember when your kids were small, and you dumped that box of nuts and bolts and pipes and chains and various other parts onto the driveway and set about putting together a swing set, ignoring the instructions altogether.

Then, when you had gotten thoroughly stumped as to what to do next, you finally reached for the instructions.

At times like those, we can feel like what we really need isn't written instructions but a teacher to walk us through the project step by step.

The toughest of life's challenges are easier when we have someone to provide needed guidance and helpful insights. That's especially true when it comes to spiritual challenges. That's when solid Bible teachers are worth their weight in gold.

According to Scripture, solid Bible teachers aren't easy to find. In fact, the Apostle Paul said we have too many people in our churches who are big babies, instead of teachers.

"For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat" (Hebrews 5:12).

I'm guessing you may have encountered people like that. What they need is someone who can challenge them to grow up. Good teachers will challenge us. Good teachers will even anger us at times at times. But good teachers are so very necessary.

In matters of eternity, nothing can get us into deeper trouble than not knowing the Bible. The truth is, understanding the basics of the Bible can mean the difference between Heaven and Hell.

If people aren't taught that the gift of salvation is available free to whosoever will ask, they will never receive it. If they aren't taught that Jesus is the way, the truth and the life, they may look for another.

That's why it's vital that big babies grow up, that they put aside their milk bottles and move on to solid foods. That's why it's vital that they reach maturity and take their rightful positions in this world as capable teachers.

That way, they can impart to others the good sense they need to stay out of the kind of trouble the skydiver and the propane stove user got themselves into.

Berea College recognized 80 students last week during its Mid-Year Ceremony. Alumnus and former Berea College Trustee Robert Yahng addressed the seniors, who represented 20 states and five different countries.

Yahng, who was introduced by Board of Trustees Chair Stephanie Zeigler, spoke to the graduates of the importance of their achievement during what he called “extraordinary uncertainties.”

“When making decisions, it’s important to weigh your options and think strategically about the next step,” Yahng told students. “Identify your current options, and then look ahead at what position each option would put you in. Imagine what options you will have so that you will know in advance what you would do if it works out, or if it doesn’t work out. Try always to put yourself in a position where you have a choice. If you haven’t figured it out already, you already know that the probability of success in life improves when you have options.”

A native of China, Yahng received his bachelor’s degree from Berea College in 1963, and his J.D. from the University of Kentucky College of Law in 1967. Yahng grew up in Berea, where his grandfather, father and mother all worked and taught for a number of years at Berea College.

Following his graduation from law school, Yahng served in the United States Air Force from 1967-1972 and was honorably discharged with the rank of Captain.

Yahng was the Chairman of American Bridge (AB) from 1998-2013, a company known for its construction of complex steel structures, especially bridges, such as the Tappan Zee Bridge in New York, and the Mackinac Bridge in Michigan.

From 1999 to 2002, Yahng was a public governor of the Pacific Stock Exchange, which was reorganized and served as a business model for other exchanges.

Prior to his involvement with AB, Robert was a capital partner in the Law Firm of Baker & McKenzie, retiring in 1998. He joined the firm’s San Francisco office in 1976, founded the Taipei Office of the firm, and assisted in the start-up of the firm’s office in Shanghai. In the 1980s and 1990s, he served several terms as the managing partner of the San Francisco/ Palo Alto offices of Baker & McKenzie. He also served several terms on the firm’s policy committee. Robert has been a member of the Kentucky Bar Association and the State Bar of California.

During his legal career, Robert wrote articles for various publications and newspapers and has conducted seminars and given speeches for the American Management Association, the American Electronics Association, the Asia Society and other business organizations on legal aspects of doing business internationally. Additionally, he has co-authored several texts concerning U.S. history and U.S. government for the state of Florida.

Robert resides in San Francisco, California with Tina, his wife of 49 years. They have a son and a daughter.

In other news, the council unanimously voted to accept a bid from the Blue Grass Area Development District (BGADD) to administer American Rescue Plan Act funds for the city. Under the contract, the BGADD would receive approximately one percent of the funds given to the city from the federal allocation. Officials estimate BGADD will receive approximately $40,000 over three-years.

In other news, Mayor Fraley revealed the city is responding in various ways to help the victims of the tornados in western Kentucky.

Close to home, the Berea Cares project, sponsored by the Berea Police Department, has set up a collection trailer for people to donate goods to the relief effort. A full list of items needed can be found on the city’s website.

Additionally, the Berea Police Department has committed three officers to the relief effort, including officers Brent Bradley, James Hampton, Cody Ocelli, who left their families to help people in need, Fraley said.

They joined officers from other agencies from central Kentucky who are assisting in the recovery as part of a statewide mutual aid agreement.

Fraley noted other Berea city departments are pitching in as well. The codes offices pledged to send three inspectors to distressed cities, Berea Municipal Utilities has volunteered to send a three-man crew with a pickup truck, a digger truck and a bucket truck after the first of the year, while Parks and Recreation has two maintenance employees who have volunteered to go to aid in recovery efforts.

The city is coordinating with the Kentucky League of Cities to facilitate the donations.

Fraley noted the most prominent need for the recovery effort is money, which can then be directed toward communities affected by the devastation. Fraley suggested making an online donation through the Kentucky Public Protection Cabinet at Teamwkyreliefund.ky.gov

Those needing to coordinate help for friends and relatives in the affected area can reach out to FEMA at Disasterassistance.gov or by calling 1-800 621-3362.

Several officials said they were encouraged buy the response of people who want to help the tornado victims.

“Just seeing the response, not just in Berea but statewide and nationwide, gives me a renewed sense of hope for humanity,” Fraley said. “I think you’re seeing the best in people and it’s really my hope that when the disaster is done that we can keep up that spirit of helping each other, working together and getting along.”

In other action, Karen Todd was appointed to fill a slot on the Berea Human Rights Commission vacated by Randy Dinsmore. Fraley thanked Dinsmore for his service on the commission. Fraley also noted another vacancy will have to be filled with the recent death of Robert “P-Nut” Johnson.

During council comments, Cora Jane Wilson urged citizens to donate to local entities that are aiding the homeless and economically disadvantaged, such as Room in the Inn and the Berea Food Bank.

Wilson expressed concern that giving money to so-called panhandlers near McDonald’s and Wal-Mart diverts money away from programs designed to aid those in need.

Wilson urged people to give to local charities to help the homeless, and she thanked for city for the electronic sign near McDonald’s that encourages people to donate instead of giving money to individuals on the street.

“I feel like the people that really need help would not be standing at the corner. Maybe I’m wrong, and I don’t ever want to lose compassion, and I help people if I can and feel the need, but I thank you for the sign,” Wilson said.

Giving back

The brothers of Kingston Masonic Lodge No. 315 have been busy shopping and wrapping Christmas gifts and purchasing groceries for several families within the community. PROJECT

revealed Monday. Two of the boxes were once newspaper boxes, one of which was donated by the Madison County Public Library. Those boxes were modified and refurbished with four coats of paint, Sizemore said, while the final box was constructed from scratch for use in Berea City Hall.

“I’d like to thank Mayor [Bruce] Fraley. It’s a great location with lots of traffic, and I think this thing is going to fill up pretty quickly,” Sizemore said. “This project had been a long time coming, with a total of 272 hours put into this – that’s 11 consecutive days. It has been a great experience for me to learn just how much you have to put into a project like this.”

Sizemore drew praise from county and city officials who were on hand for the unveiling ceremony. Berea Mayor Fraley spoke of Sizemore as a young man with a maturity and wisdom beyond his years, while Madison County Judge/Executive Reagan Taylor praised Sizemore’s determination to serve all residents of Madison County. First District Magistrate Ben Robinson III, who was once an Eagle Scout candidate, congratulated Sizemore for his perseverance. “I think it’s a fantastic accomplishment, and now you’ll be an Eagle Scout your whole life,” Robinson said.

During his remarks, Sizemore was quick to give credit to all of the people who helped him with the project, including his immediate family, his grandparents who donated tools, his scoutmaster, as well as those who provided financial support, such as staffers and management at Richmond Lowe’s, who provided nearly $1,000 in materials for the project, as well as generous donors who helped make the flag collection boxes possible.

While the culmination of the project means Sizemore will have completed his requirements to become an Eagle Scout, he noted there was a deeper motivation to get the project done. Said Sizemore: “I’m grateful to have the chance to give back to my community but also to give back to veterans who served our country. This project is dedicated to them and I appreciate everything they have done for America.”

By David Shew
For the Citizen

Dr. David Gilliam, the Superintendent of the Madison County School System since August 2018, addressed the Richmond Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber monthly breakfast series on Thursday, December 9.

Gilliam proudly stated the Madison County School System is largest employer in Madison County and the salary dollars paid to the employees of the school system are reinvested in our local community. He also reiterated that 80 percent of the school system’s $160 million budget went to salaries of the over 2,000 full-time and part-time employees of the district. Dr. Gilliam discussed the new Ignite Academies being built in Richmond and Berea and happily stated that both career centers were an excellent addition to the expansion of the school district. Finally, he addressed the shortage of educators graduating from the secondary education universities and colleges across the county.

- The evening of Thursday, Dec. 9, the Richmond Area Arts Council hosted a musical presentation where Shirley Baechtold and her grandson, Ethan, presented some beautiful songs on the piano. It was quite a blessing to see the smile on the grandmother’s face as her grandson filled the room with his playing. In addition, Shirley was selling her latest book of memories entitled “The Pandemic Chronicles.” Looking forward to reading this book when a friend returns it to me. Thanks Shirley and Ethan for a truly special evening of music.

- On Dec. 13, my fellow Leadership Madison County associates and I were emersed in government day. First, Berea Mayor Bruce Fraley explained to us how the city of Berea operates under the City Council with eight council members. Our group also heard from Rose Beverly and Donna Angel. After a quick breakfast from the Native Bagel Company, we witnessed Ben Robinson III being sworn into his magistrate seat by his wife, Judge Brown. Next, we sat through the Fiscal Court meeting and learned about the many appointments that the Fiscal Court makes throughout the year. The highlight of the meeting was when the Fiscal Court honored Dr. Delbert Fritz for his service to Madison County and the Emergency Medical Service. Dr. Fritz has served as the Medical Director of the Madison County EMS for 44 years. Our team was entertained by County Clerk Kenneth Barger after lunch at Apollo’s Pizza. Mr. Barger explained the role of the Madison County Clerk, and Judge Reagan Taylor complimented Mr. Barger on the efficiency of the clerk’s office. After lunch, our group traveled back to Richmond and took a tour of the Emergency Operation Center on South Keeneland Drive where we learned about the 911 program and the Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program. We also toured the Madison County Fire Station located on South Keeneland Drive and after hearing from Judge Reagan Taylor, Chief Information Officer Chris Iseral, and Road Superintendent Scott Shepherd. Finally, we met with Mayor Robert Blythe and watched a nice Power Point presentation about Richmond. If anyone is interested in learning more about Leadership Madison County, please contact Mendi Goble at the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

Eagles fall to Indians

By Mike Moore

The Madison Southern Eagles went 1-1 last week, losing to Madison Central 70-55 and beating Danville 73-57. Against Central, Braden Hudson recorded a double-double, finishing 19 points and 10 rebounds. Jay Rose added 17 points, while Nate Turner added 13 points. In the win over Danville, Rose led Southern (5-2) with 18 points, while pulling down six rebounds. Turner added 17 points and eight boards, while Brett Ersland finished with 16 points and seven rebounds. Blake Simpson dropped in 10 points and four rebounds.

- The Berea Pirates (0-6) are still searching for the elusive first win of the 2021-2022 basketball season after losing to Lewis County, 61-53. Quentin Morgan led Berea with 27 points. Trenton Wilson finished with 16 points and six rebounds.
- The Berea Lady Pirates improved to 7-0 as they picked up a pair of wins (70-41 win over Raceland and a 54-41 win over Pleasure Ridge Park) in the Berea Holiday Classic. Alexis Newman led Berea with 17 points against Raceland. Chesney Lovins added 12 points, while Madison Howell finished with 10. Against PRP, Howell paced the Lady Pirates with 19 points. Mati Stepp added 14, while Newman finished with 12.

- It was a tough week for the Madison Southern Lady Eagles (4-4) as they dropped three games (55-43 to North Laurel, 53-48 to Menifee County and 53-45 to Floyd Central). Hadley French lead Southern against North Laurel with 11 points. Ashlan Estep finished with nine points, while Macie Daniels added eight points in the loss. French scored 10 points in the loss to Menifee County, while Tara Wooten and Bella Moberly scored eight points, respectively. Moberly and French scored 12 points against Floyd Central, while Morgan Flannery finished with eight points.

It feels extremely cliché to start a December column with a “this year has flown by” sentiment but truly - where has 2021 gone? Several years ago a colleague told me time moves faster the older and busier you become, and perhaps that is why I truly feel like February was only last week.

“Older and Busier” could be the title of my 2021 memoir. I started my new position as director of the Madison County Public Library at the beginning of the year and operated at what feels like warp speed ever since. Over the past 11 months, our incredible staff has worked diligently to return the library’s operations and services to pre-pandemic levels. We resumed our regular hours in May, reopened our meeting rooms and restored in-person programs in June. Our Bookmobile was back on the road in time for Summer Reading. Branch staff continued popular material delivery services offered during the pandemic - curbside and secure locker pickup as well as home drop off - while also welcoming people back to browse our stacks and check out materials in person.

Safely restoring full access to the library was our number one priority for the first half of 2021. Access to a library, its services and materials is truly critical to many of those in our community who might otherwise lack sufficient resources or internet, or simply need a place to be and connect with other people. To me, what’s truly beautiful about the public library is everyone has equal access to everything, regardless of any socioeconomic indicator, background, or belief system. We serve everyone.

Established, consistent library access plays an essential role in community building, civic engagement, lifelong learning, and early literacy. A June 2021 Brookings article about the effect of public libraries on student learning indicated that children’s reading abilities were consistently aligned with their community’s library visits, circulation and program attendance. High numbers of library use correlated to better reading scores. Busy, open, accessible libraries create a solid foundation for student achievement and community advancement.

In Madison County, our library is certainly busy, and I am truly grateful for its level of use everyday. From January through November 2021, 159,938 people have visited our libraries in Berea and Richmond. We issued 3,340 new library cards in eleven months. Library users have checked out 194,911 books - actual, physical, printed books! Over 96,000 of these were books for children and young adults.

Our online services remain robust - since January, we loaned 89,551 downloadable books and audiobooks on Overdrive and the Libby app. Our users have streamed thousands of hours of content on Hoopla

and Kanopy, accessed Consumer Reports and Ancestry.com through the library’s membership in the Kentucky Virtual Library.

Access to meeting space also proved to be in high demand: 744 groups have used a library meeting room since January. Our meeting spaces also host library programs, which saw 12,393 participants from June through November. Another 9150 people attended a library outreach program, held at a number of venues throughout the county.

As we celebrate another year and look ahead to 2022, I am elated to continue providing library access and service to our community. We have major projects on the horizon, such as further development of our Maker Labs in both libraries and on-site GED testing. I look forward to sharing and celebrating those initiatives with you next year!

Levis to return

University of Kentucky quarterback Will Levis is coming back in 2022.

The graduate transfer from Penn State was among a handful of Wildcats seeking an evaluation from the NFL for a basic draft assessment.

He tweeted a hint about the announcement by using the iconic clip from “The Terminator” where Arnold Schwarzenegger famously tells a police officer, “I’ll be back.” It included only four letters of text - #BBN.

Levis was fifth in total passing in the Southeastern Conference with 2,593 yards. He threw 23 touchdowns, good for sixth in the SEC, and ran for nine touchdowns which was second in the league. Levis started all 12 games after beating out Joey Gatewood in fall camp.

• Kentucky wide receivers Josh Ali and Isaiah Epps won’t be available to play in the Citrus Bowl on New Year’s Day after being involved in an automobile accident. Both are receiving treatment and are OK Ali was Kentucky’s second-leading receiver with 601 yards and three touchdowns in 10 games. Epps had 11 receptions for 171 yards and a touchdown. (KT)

Sahvir Wheeler stole the show as Kentucky rolled to an easier-than-expected 98-69 win over North Carolina in the CBS Sports Classic Saturday in Las Vegas.

Wheeler scored a season-high 26 points to lead the Wildcats to a 29-point victory over the Tar Heels as Kentucky (8-2) bounced back from a disappointing 66-62 setback to Notre Dame last week in South Bend. North Carolina (8-2) had a five-game winning streak and suffered the largest margin of defeat in the series between the storied programs.

After his team’s poor showing last Saturday, Kentucky coach John Calipari changed his team’s offensive approach. He said the outing was “by far the best we’ve played and we’re still trying to figure it out.”

“The focus on our offense was a little bit different — how we were going to play,” Calipari said. “We were going to go back to my old-school, dribble-drive

stuff. ... You’ve got to get to 75 or 80 (points). If you’re not getting to 75 or 80 (points) you’re not going to go on a run at the end of the year — you’re not.”

Kentucky was scheduled to play Ohio State in the four-team event, but the Buckeyes canceled because of COVID-19 restrictions. UCLA, which was supposed to take on North Carolina, also withdrew from the event because of virus protocols, resulting in the lone encounter between the Wildcats and Tar Heels. Calipari said his team didn’t have time to prepare for the Tar Heels in such a short amount of time.

“I’m glad it was North Carolina,” he said. “We needed to go against a good team to figure out what we are.”

What he figured out was his point guard knows more about his dribble-drive scheme than he previously thought, and requested that Wheeler lead the Wildcats to victory.

his squad prior to the contest.

In his last outing, Wheeler struggled and scored just three points — all on free throws — in the loss to the Irish. Wheeler was nearly unstoppable against North Carolina. He made 12-of-15 shots and set the tone early by scoring 14 points in the opening half. He finished with eight assists and added four steals and three rebounds. He simply wanted to “flip the page” and look ahead following last week’s performance.

“Everybody is going to have a bad game and it so happened it was that game (Notre Dame) and we lost,” Wheeler said. “I’m a confident kid ... I play for the big lights and (that’s) why I came here to play against the best and be challenged every day in practice by my teammates and my coaches. ... This opportunity, I was really looking forward to it, whether it was Ohio State or North Carolina.”

Kentucky hosted Western Kentucky Wednesday night. (KT)

Goodwin’s signature puts exclamation point on recruiting class

LEXINGTON (KT) — Kentucky football coach Mark Stoops had his press conference nearly completed when he received the news he had been waiting for since Wednesday when Kiyaunta Goodwin added his name to the school’s list of early signing period signees.

Goodwin, a heralded five-star offensive lineman from Charlestown, Indiana, chose the Wildcats over Michigan State in a recruiting battle that went down to the wire.

He played his prep career at Ballard High School in Louisville and Charleston High School in Indiana.

Goodwin was considered the No. 1 recruit in the state of Indiana by many analysts.

In addition to Michigan State, he was recruited by Alabama, Clemson and Ohio State.

“Here’s a young man that could truly play anywhere in the United States, any college in the country would take his signature today, and so for us to land him, again, it says a lot about him and staying committed to us,” Stoops said. “I felt good about it the whole time. That doesn’t mean you count it in the bag, but you continue to work and answer questions and do the best you can.”

“It’s always a battle and a fight,” he said. “To the best of my recollection and information I have in front of me, since I’ve been here, we’ve never been ranked in the SEC, even though we may have been nationally ranked in the Top 25.”

“I’ve never by the experts been ranked ahead of ninth, but yet we continue to seem like we out-perform that, so it would be nice to continue to raise the talent level and see what we can do with it.”

Overall, Stoops and his staff added 22 players to the roster,

including four players from Kentucky.

The biggest in-state prize was Frederick Douglass wide receiver Dane Key, who is considered the top prospect in the state.

Key won the prestigious Paul Hornung Award, given to the Kentucky Player of the Year. Key’s father, Donte’ Key, played at Kentucky from 1992-95 and his brother, Devon Key, played at Western Kentucky and currently plays for the Kansas City Chiefs.

Kentucky also signed instate standout lineman Grant Bingham from Johnson Central in Paintsville, Boyle County kicker Jackson Smith and Pleasure Ridge Park defensive back Elijah Reed.

Love, Kilah Kimberly Mills 5th grade Berea Community Dear Santa, All I want for Christmas is a blessing for my mom, my dad, and granny. I need a blessing for my mom not to be sad. She is very sad right now because my granny is going to die soon. I need a blessing for my granny to live longer. And I need a blessing for my dad to sell his company, and to not to be stressed about my mom. think I deserve this because it's not for me. A.D. Dear Santa, Crash, boom! That was the sound of me knocking one of my Elf on the Shelf over, but that doesn't make me a bad	kid. This year for Christmas all I want is for everyone to get what they asked for because they deserve it. You can find a nice person in everyone. Even if you think someone might not deserve a present, they do because maybe they are just having a bad day. Every day you have a new chance. Maybe someone had a bad day yesterday, but maybe that person will have a great today. So don't judge a book by its cover. A. M. Dear Santa, School has been going well, my grades have improved, and I have made two new friends. This year for Christmas, I want one thing for my family, a bigger home. This will be a dream come true. J.V. Dear Santa, I would like to tell you how much I would love some purple fluffy socks!!! (and an elf!) Socks are so fluffy and comfy. They are warm and cozy. I just love them! I DESERVE them because I have been a good girl ;)) For example I helped out my friend with a hump foot (she's on crutches) So I DESERVE purple fluffy socks. Dear Santa, I want an Infuze water bottle. I think I deserve it because I am a good boy. And what is your favorite kind ofcookie? Am I on your naughty or nice list this Christmas? I.S. Dear Santa, Have you ever seen something so cool that you think you need it right now? That's what this is. This year for Christmas I want one thing: an ejecting cartridge nerf gun. It is a fake gun that resembles a real gun with a magazine that holds the fake ammo in a plastic shell that when you pull the load the shell comes out the side. That's what I want. I deserve this item because I do good in school, and I donated to a food shelter. N.R. Dear Santa, Have you ever seen something so cool that you think you need it right now? That's what this is. Dear Santa, I want a Hulk Buster Lego set, it is just a machine that is super powerful like the Hulk. I also want a bike with training wheels so I can learn how to ride my bike without crashing. The last thing I want is one billion dollars so I can give it to the homeless people. Sincerely, S.Z. Dear Santa, How have you been this past year? Everything has been so strange. Half the stuff going on is so overwhelming and I wonder how you have been dealing with it. I would like a phone, but I know that's not happening anytime soon as long as my parents are in touch with "santa". I'd like more fidgets since they are all the rage and I'd also like to have some more money so I can buy christmas presents for my cousins. Sincerely, R.R. Dear Santa, What I would like for Christmas is a dog, an Xbox, and Legos. I also want time with family and friends and snow on the ground. That is all I want. Sincerely, N.D. Dear Santa, Hey Ssanta I what a Dell 144Hz Gaming Monitor FHD 24 Inch Monitor - 1ms Response Time, LED Edgelight System, AMD FreeSync Premium, VESA, Gray - S2421HGF its all 1 thing and venom let there be carnage on bluerray and venom let there be carnage poster. Sincerely, L.T. Dear Santa, Do you treat the elves well? How much do you pay them? Do they get breaks? Do they have families that never see them?! DO THEY EVEN GET PAID!? How many hours do they work a day, and how much work are they doing! Now secondly, how are the reindeer! How much do they train, and do they still have to fly if they're hurt?What do you feed them? Do you really feed them that glitter and oat mix- THAT GLITTER ISN'T FOOD GLITTER! Santa, those reindeer could be seriously hurt. Lastly, could you please bring me fabric, thread, and a book about sewing? I love sewing and I think I could make extra clothes for the elves, if not that then blankets. They must be cold up in the North Pole, so I hope you at least give them an unwending supply of hot cocoa. I have a request, please don't be too hard on the elves making my presents. (or any other elves) Merry Christmas to all the hard workers in the north pole, and of course, Santa! Sincerely, K.P. Dear Santa, Santa I would like to say thank you for giving toys to little kids. I would like a soccer ball or soccer related thing like soccer cleats for Christmas.Thank you Santa and Merry Christmas! Sincerely, J.P.
